THE COMPLETE PACKAGE

- The Nation's No. 1 Combined Academic, Social and Athletic Program — Located just a few miles from the beaches of the Pacific Ocean; rated among the nation's top research universities; winner of the most NCAA team championships (97) — when you add it up, UCLA provides the best of all worlds for the student-athlete.
- Sports Illustrated's No. 1 Athletic Program — "UCLA has the most complete athletic program in the country" states Sports Illustrated on Campus (April 05). In the April 28, 1997 issue of Sports Illustrated, the Bruins were easily selected the best athletic school in the country. The article proclaims that at UCLA, "athletes from all sports thrive on the nation's most jock friendly campus."
- An Outstanding Head Coach — The 2002 consensus National Coach of the Year, Ben Howland enters his third season as the Bruin head coach. He's one of only 28 coaches in NCAA history to guide three teams to the NCAA Tournament - UCLA (2005), Pittsburgh (2002-03) and Northern Arizona (1998).
- A Diligent, Talented Staff — A youthful, enthusiastic group of coaches who believe in this program and are committed to developing great basketball players and even better people. Howland's UCLA assistants, all entering their third season are — Donny Daniels, who was the head coach at CS Fullerton from 2001-03; Ernie Zeigler, who was on Howland's Pittsburgh staff for two years (2001-03); Kerry Keating, who spent two seasons (2001-03) at Tennessee and Director of Operations Chris Carlson, who for two years (2001-03) was Howland's operations director at Pittsburgh.
- Academic Support — Providing the student-athlete with the assistance and guidance to succeed in the classroom and society is a top priority! Coach Howland, his staff and the athletic administration provide the best in general assistance, counseling and tutoring available at any university.

- The Bruin Family — Located in Westwood and bordered by Los Angeles, Beverly Hills and Hollywood, UCLA provides a prosperous outlook for the future with internships, workshop mentoring programs and access to one of the world's meccas of business, entertainment, media and networking like no other major college program.
- Media Rich — USA Today, Fox Sports and ESPN have offices in Los Angeles. There are seven local television stations and 13 newspapers which provide regular coverage of UCLA. A 70,000-watt radio station (XTRA Sports 570AM), satellite radio (SIRIUS) and the internet are the broadcast homes for Bruin basketball.
- The Next Step — Since 1948, UCLA has produced more NBA selections (98) than any other college in the nation. Twelve UCLA players have been drafted in the last nine consecutive seasons, including two in the first round. Recent selections include - 2005, Dijon Thompson was a second round choice (NY Knicks and traded to the Phoenix Suns); 2004, Trevor Ariza (NY Knicks) was a second round choice; 2003, Jason Kapono (Cleveland Cavaliers) was a second-round choice; 2002, Dan Gadzuric (Milwaukee Bucks) and Matt Barnes (Cleveland Cavaliers) were second round selections; 2001, Earl Watson (Seattle SuperSonics) was a second round pick; 2000, Jerome Moiso was a first round choice of the Boston Celtics and in 1999, Baron Davis (Charlotte Hornets) was the No. 3 selection in the NBA Draft.

- Tradition of Success — With a record 11 NCAA Championships, the UCLA men's basketball program's tradition for success is unmatched. The Bruin men are represented by six individuals in the Basketball Hall of Fame. Among them are coaching legend John Wooden and two of the greatest centers ever to play the game — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Bill Walton.

UCLA—THE BEST IN COLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

1995 Sears Men's Basketball Championship Trophy presented to UCLA for its 11th NCAA championship.

Over the last three decades, UCLA has established itself as the nation's finest all-around athletic program.

The Bruins now rank No. 1 with a total of 97 NCAA team championships, 69 by the men and 28 by the women. Overall, UCLA has won a nation-leading total of 118 collegiate championships - 97 NCAA crowns and 21 other titles. In the last 36 years, the Bruin men have won 54 NCAA crowns, the highest total in the nation.

In 2004-05, UCLA placed third nationally in competition for the annual NACDA Directors' Cup. UCLA has placed amongst the top six schools in each of the 12 years of the Directors'

Cup (the cup recognizes the school with the best overall sports performance each year and awards points based on finishes in NCAA competition). This past year, the Bruins won three NCAA titles (men's water polo, men's tennis and women's water polo).

UCLA has produced nearly 450 Olympians in its history, including 56 in 2004, 58 in 2000 and 52 in 1996. In the last six Olympiads (1984, '88, '92, '96, '00, '04), Bruin athletes and coaches have earned 134 medals, including 72 gold. At the 2004 Olympic Game in Athens, Bruin athletes won 19 medals (8 gold/3 silver/8 bronze).

NELL & JOHN WOODEN COURT IN PAULEY PAVILION

On Dec. 20, 2003 when UCLA defeated Michigan State 64-58 in Pauley Pavilion, the floor in Pauley Pavilion was named after legendary Bruin head coach John Wooden and his late wife Nell - "Nell and John Wooden Court." To celebrate the occasion, there was a reception/luncheon before the game and a pregame ceremony. More than 60 of Coach Wooden's players attended to honor the Coach and his wife.

UCLA BASKETBALL REUNION

On August 11, 2003, UCLA Head Coach Ben Howland and his staff hosted a reunion for former Bruin players, coaches and student managers in the UCLA Athletic Hall of Fame. Many former players attended, along with legendary UCLA head coach John Wooden.

On Aug. 6 a Bruin reunion was held at Coach Howland's home and attended by such Bruin greats as Coach Wooden, Bill Walton, Michael Warren, Lucius Allen and Lynn Shackelford.

Athletics Endowment Program/ Men's Basketball

UCLA's 1956 All-American center Willie Naulls, and his wife Anne, along with three-time (1987-89) All-Pac-10 Bruin point guard Jerome 'Pooh' Richardson have endowed athletic grants-in-aid. A minimum gift of $100,000, payable over three to five years, is required to endow a scholarship. An endowment generates income to the University in perpetuity. By investing the gift principal and using just the interest earned to help meet the cost of a grant-in-aid assures the UCLA Athletic Department of on-going funds to maintain the quality and diversity of its program.

Naulls was a three-year starter and letterman from 1954-56. A first-team All-American in 1956, he was also a two-time (1955-56) All Conference performer and holds the school record for most rebounds (28, 1956) in a game. When his UCLA career ended, he was the school's all-time scorer (1,225 points, now No. 29) and rebounder (900, now No. 6). Following his Bruin career, Naulls played 10 years in the NBA, appearing in the NBA All-Star game four times. His final three seasons (1964-66) were with the Boston Celtics, winning three World Championship rings. Naulls was inducted into the UCLA Athletic Hall of Fame in 1986.

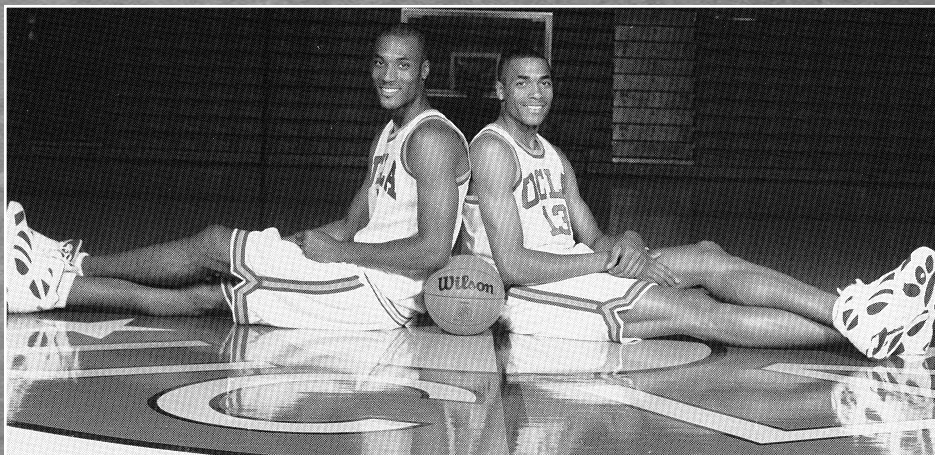

During his four years (1986-89) as the Bruins' point guard, Richardson earned All-Pacific-10 honors for three consecutive seasons (1987-89) and ended his career as the school's all-time leader in assists (833), steals (189, now No. 4), three-point field goal percentage (46.4, 52-112) and games played (122, now No. 13). Following his collegiate career, Richardson had a 10-year career in the NBA, last playing with the Los Angeles Clippers. Pooh was inducted into the UCLA Athletic Hall of Fame on Oct. 3, 2003.

THE O'BANNON LEGACY

From 1990-91 through the 1996-97 season, Ed and Charles O'Bannon dominated the Bruin basketball scene.

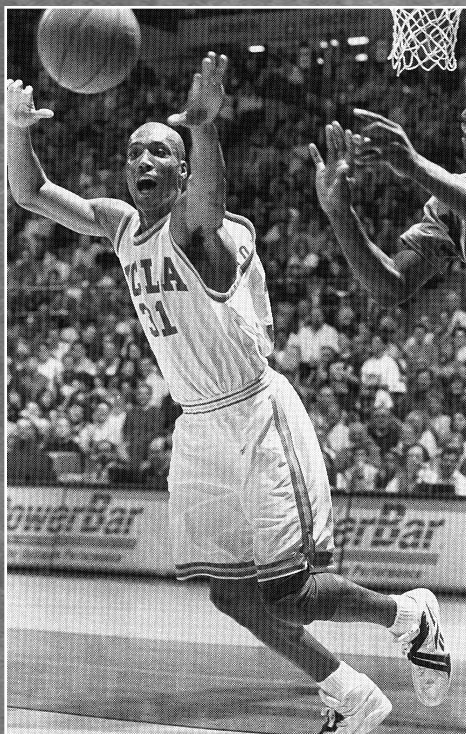

Ed missed all of 1990-91 with a severe left knee injury that required surgery, came back for the 1991-92 season and was a three-year starter from 1993-95. Charles came in as a true freshman in 1993-94 and was a four-year starter.

During their tenure, UCLA won one NCAA Championship (1995), advanced to two other NCAA Elite Eights (1997, '92) and won four Pacific-10 titles (1997-96-95-92). Their overall won-loss record was 150-40 (78.9), an average of 25 wins a season.

Ed (l) and Charles O'Bannon

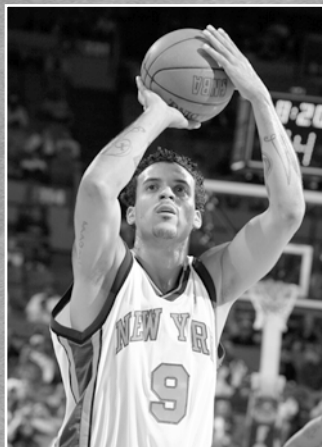

As a senior in 1995, Ed O'Bannon led the Bruins to the NCAA Championship, the 11th in school history. In UCLA's 89-78 win over Arkansas in the NCAA final, Ed scored 30 points with 17 rebounds and was named the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player. At the conclusion of the season, he received the Wooden Award as the National Player of the Year. In 1995 he was an NBA first round selection by the New Jersey Nets. Ed, who also played professionally in Europe, is a 2005 inductee into the UCLA Athletic Hall of Fame.

A sophomore starter on UCLA's 1995 NCAA Championship team, Charles O'Bannon as a senior in 1996-97 led the Bruins to their third consecutive Pacific-10 title and to the NCAA Midwest Regional championship game. At the conclusion of the 1996-97 season, he was named to the Wooden All-American team. In the 1997 NBA Draft, Charles was a second-round choice of the Detroit Pistons. He has been playing professionally in Japan the last several years. Charles returned to UCLA in summer 2002 and completed his degree.

UCLA BRUINS IN THE NBA

In the 2005 NBA Draft, Dijon Thompson was a second round selection by the NY Knicks and then traded to the Phoenix Suns. Among the nation's major conferences the Pac-10 ranked second with five players drafted.

In the 2004 NBA Draft, Trevor Ariza was chosen in the second round, selected by the NY Knicks.

In the 2003 NBA Draft, Jason Kapono was a second round selection by the Cleveland Cavaliers (now with the Miami Heat).

In the 2002 NBA Draft, UCLA had two players taken in the second round - Dan Gadzuric (Milwaukee Bucks) and Matt Barnes (Memphis Grizzlies, now with the New York Knicks).

In the 2001 NBA Draft, Earl Watson was selected in the second round by the Seattle Supersonics (now with the Denver Nuggets).

In all, 11 Pacific-10 players were selected, the most from the conference since the NBA began limiting its draft to two rounds in 1988.

In the 2000 NBA draft, for the second year in a row, the first player chosen from the Pac-10 was from UCLA. Jerome Moiso was the 11th overall selection in the first round, going to the Boston Celtics.

In the 1999 NBA draft, the first Pac-10 player taken was UCLA sophomore guard Baron Davis, the No. 3 pick in the draft by the Charlotte Hornets (now the Golden State Warriors).

UCLA and the Pac-10 Conference led the way in the 1998 NBA Draft. The Bruins tied with Arizona and North Carolina for the most players drafted (the Bruins had three second round selections--Jelani McCoy, Seattle; Toby Bailey, Phoenix; J. R. Henderson, Vancouver) and the Pac-10 had a total of eight players drafted, the highest of any conference in the U. S.

From 1986-96, UCLA sent more players (26) into the NBA than any school in the country. In 1995-96, UCLA's 11 former players on NBA rosters ranked second to North Carolina.

Reggie Miller retired at the end of the 2004-05 season after 18 years (1988-05) with the Indiana Pacers. On the NBA career charts, he is No. 1 in three-pointers (2,560-6,486/695), No. 6 in minutes played (47,619), No. 7 in free-throw percentage (.888/6,237-7,026) and No. 12 in points scored (25,279).

Baron Davis, the No.3 selection in the 1999 NBA Draft by the Charlotte Hornets, with NBA Commissioner David Stern.

Jerome Moiso, the No. 11 selection in the 2000 NBA Draft by the Boston Celtics, with NBA Commissioner David Stern.

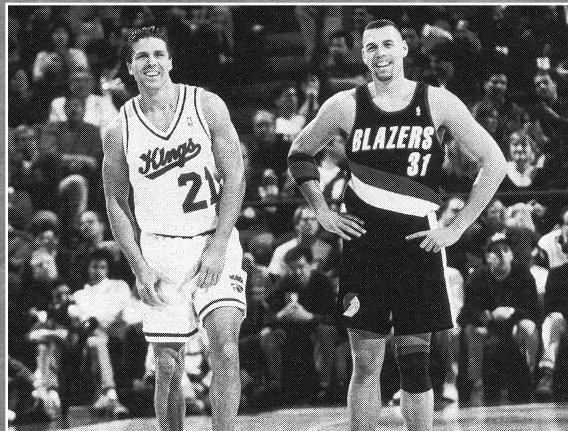

Ed O'Bannon, the No. 9 selection in the 1995 NBA draft by the New Jersey Nets, with NBA Commissioner David Stern.

UCLA BRUINS — A LOOK BACK

During a span of 14 years (1989-2002), under head coaches Jim Harrick (1989-96) and Steve Lavin (1997-2003), UCLA men's basketball was one of the most successful programs in the country.

In 1995 the Bruins won their 11th NCAA Championship, an NCAA record, behind the senior leadership of forward Ed O'Bannon, the Wooden Award National Player of the Year, point guard Tyus Edney and center George Zidek.

From 1989-2002, UCLA continued its NCAA record 54 consecutive winning seasons, recorded 14 straight 20+ victory campaigns and earned 14 consecutive NCAA Tournament bids.

Along with the 1995 NCAA Championship, UCLA had two other NCAA "Elite Eight" appearances (1997-92) and five additional NCAA "Sweet 16" advancements (2002-01-00-98-90).

The Bruins also won four Pacific-10 titles (1997-96-95-92).

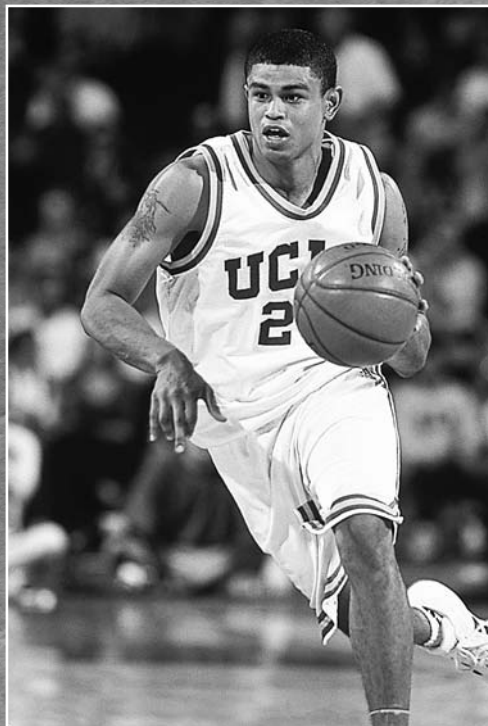

Jason Kapono (2000-03) is UCLA's No. 3 all-time scorer (2,095 points, tied with Reggie Miller) and the school's all-time three-point scorer (317-710, 44.6). He's in his third NBA season and first with the Miami Heat.

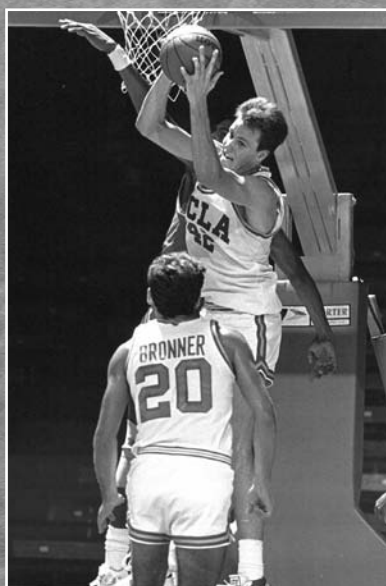

A four-year starter (1999-02) at center, Dan Gadzuric is in his fourth season with the Milwaukee Bucks.

Earl Watson (1998-2001) is the only UCLA player to start every regular season and NCAA Tournament game during his Bruin career (129 games). He's in his fifth NBA season and first year with the Denver Nuggets.

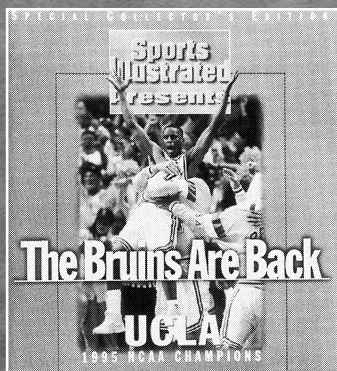

A four-year starter (1989-92), Don MacLean is the all-time scorer in UCLA and Pac-10 history (2,608 points). MacLean had a nine-year NBA career.

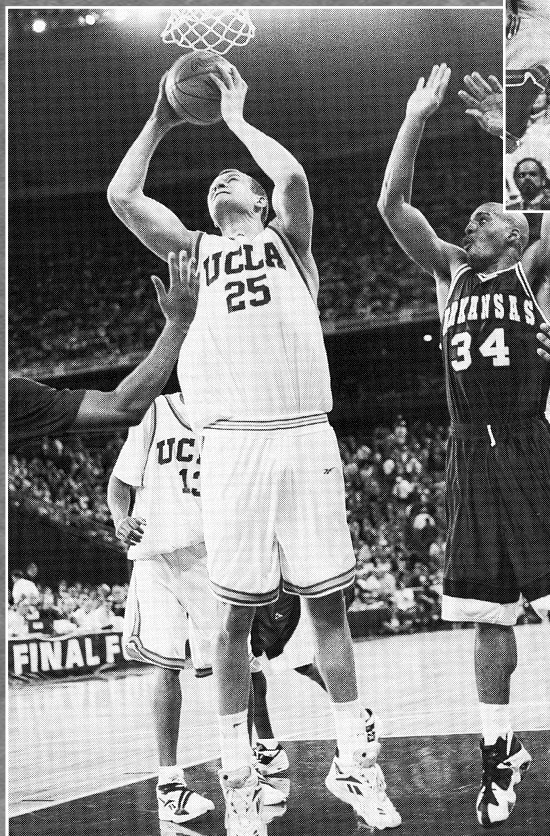

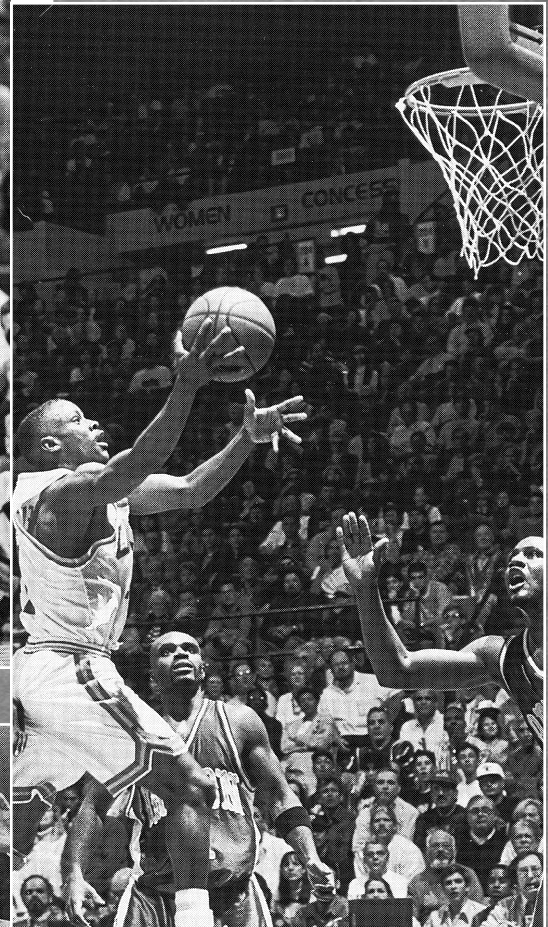

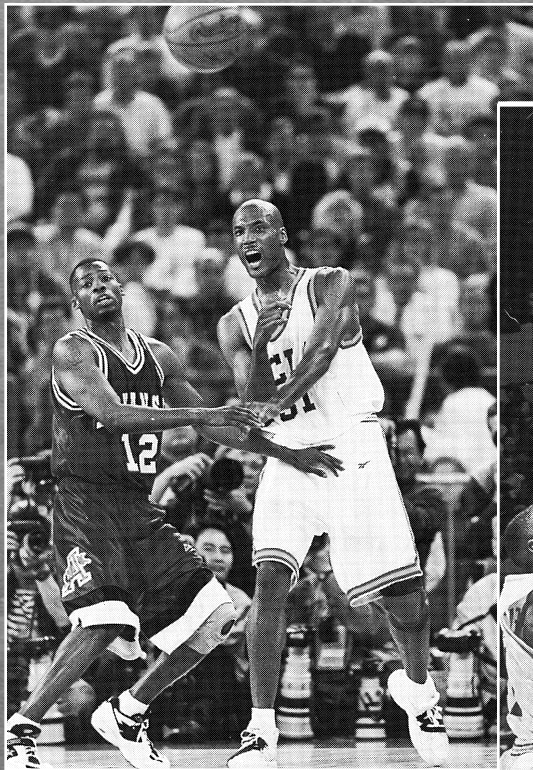

Jerome Moiso was a two-year starter (1999-00) for the Bruins at forward. In the 2000 NBA Draft, he was a first-round (No. 11 pick) selection by the Boston Celtics

A two-year UCLA starter (1998-99), Baron Davis is now one of the NBA's top point guards with the Golden State Warriors.

BRUIN BASKETBALL SALUTES

The 1996 Summer Olympic Games in Atlanta marked the 50th anniversary for basketball as an Olympic sport. In 1936, the U.S. team, featuring five UCLA Bruins, led by captain Frank Lubin, along with Sam Balter, Carl

Knowles, Don Piper and Carl Shy, won a gold medal

In all, 11 Bruins have participated in the Olympics, including three women, Coach Billie Moore, Ann Meyers-Drysdale and Denise Curry, along with current Indiana Pacer star Reggie Miller. Miller, who led the Bruins to the 1985 NIT title and the 1988 Pacific-10 championship, won a gold medal in Atlanta on the 1996 U.S. squad.

- Fifteen NCAA Champions (by five different schools, led by UCLA's record-setting 11 national titles).
- Three National Champions in the last 11 years (UCLA 1995 NCAA, Arizona 1997 NCAA, California 1999 NIT).
- Seven different Pac-10 teams have been to the "Sweet 16" the last nine years (including UCLA in five of the last nine years — 2002-01-00-98-97).
- Three different Pac-10 schools have reached the 'Final Four' in five of the last 12 years (1994 Arizona, 1995 UCLA, 1997 Arizona, 1998 Stanford, 2001 Arizona).

Pac-10 All-Americans

- 15 players have earned All-America honors in the '90s (including UCLA's Charles O'Bannon in 1997, Ed O'Bannon in 1995 and Don MacLean in 1992).
- Since 1990, four players from the Pac-10 have been tabbed National Player of the Year (including UCLA's Ed O'Bannon in 1995).
- Following three of the last 10 seasons, a Pac-10 freshman was honored as National Freshman of the Year (in 2005, Jordan Farmar was the Rivals.com National Freshman of the Year. In 2000, Jason Kapono was the CBS SportsLine National Freshman of the Year).

Pac-10 and the NBA

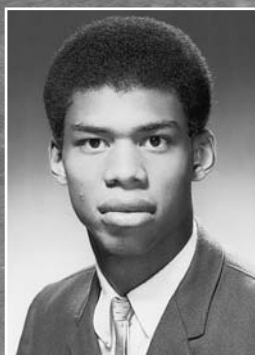

- A total of 65 Pac-10 players have been selected over the past 11 NBA drafts. All 10 league schools have had at least one player drafted during that span. (From 1995-2005, UCLA had 15 players drafted, including Jerome Moiso, the No. 11 pick in the 2000 draft by Boston and Baron Davis, the No. 3 selection in the 1999 draft by Charlotte).
- In 2005, the Pac-10 had five players drafted (second among major conferences), including UCLA's Dijon Thompson (NY Knicks/second round/traded to Phoenix Suns). In 2004, the Pac-10 had four players drafted, including UCLA's Trevor Ariza (NY Knicks/second round). In 2003, the Pac-10 had four players drafted (second-highest conference total), including UCLA's Jason Kapono (Cleveland Cavaliers/second round). In 2002, the Pac-10 had seven players drafted (second-highest conference total), including two UCLA second-rounders — Dan Gadzuric (Milwaukee Bucks) and Matt Barnes (Cleveland Cavaliers). The Pac-10 had more players selected in the 2001 (11) NBA Draft, including UCLA second-rounder Earl Watson (Seattle) and in the 1998 (8) Draft, including UCLA second-rounders — Jelani McCoy (Seattle), Toby Bailey (Phoenix) and J. R. Henderson (Vancouver), than any other conference.

BRUIN ACADEMIC STANDOUTS

The UCLA Athletic Department is very proud of the Bruin men's basketball team and its commitment to academics.

George Zidek (left), UCLA's starting center for two seasons (1995 and '94) and one of the driving forces behind the Bruins' 1995 NCAA championship, is one of the most academically honored players in UCLA history.

Zidek had a career gpa of 3.76 in economics. As a senior in 1995, he was a first-team GTE Academic All-American and also earned an NCAA post-graduate scholarship. A two-time first-team Academic All-Pacific-10 performer, Zidek was awarded a 1995 Pac-10 Medal, based on the greatest combination of performance and achievement in scholarship, athletics and leadership.

Zidek, from Prague, Czech Republic, in the 1995 NBA Draft was selected in the first round by the Charlotte Hornets.

In 1997, Bob Myers had the team's highest GPA (3.44) and earned first-team Academic All-Pacific-10 honors. Myers is a 1998 UCLA graduate with a degree in economics and a 2003 graduate of the Loyola Marymount School of Law.

GTE ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICA HALL OF FAME

On May 17, 1994 in Washington, D.C., UCLA's legendary basketball coach John Wooden and Hall of Fame Bruin center Bill Walton highlighted the list of inductees into the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

Wooden, who led the Bruins to an unprecedented 10 NCAA championships and was the first individual in the Basketball Hall of Fame as both a player and coach, was inducted into the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame as an honorary member.

Walton, now a basketball commentator for ABC-TV/ESPN, led the Bruins to two NCAA titles (1972-73) and was a three-time NCAA Player of the Year selection. Wooden and Walton joined three other Bruins who are in the GTE Academic Hall of Fame — Jamaal Wilkes, who was an All-American forward with Walton, inducted in 1990, the Rev. Donn Moomaw, a two-time (1950 and '52) All-American linebacker at UCLA who was one of the charter inductees in 1988 and John Fowler, Bruin linebacker who in 1978 earned an NCAA Postgraduate scholarship and in 1977 was a first-team Academic All-American.

To be eligible for the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame, an athlete must have been a GTE Academic All-America team member with a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 on a 4.00 scale. In addition, his/her class must have been graduated for at least 10 years. Walton and Wilkes were three-time Academic All-Americans from 1972-74.

A Hall of Fame selection committee chose the class of 1994 after examining its career in community achievements since graduation from college. In 1988, GTE and the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) established the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame to honor former Academic All-America team members who have attained high achievements in their chosen professions and have made substantial contributions to their communities.

At right is Jamaal Wilkes, who was inducted in 1990.

UCLA IN THE NAISMITH MEMORIAL

UCLA is represented in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA by nine of the greatest names in college basketball: John Wooden, Bill Walton, Ann Meyers-Drysdale, Denny Crum, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Gail Goodrich, Denise Curry, Billie Moore and 2002 inductee Larry Brown.

A three-time (1930-32) All-American at Purdue, John Wooden was head coach at UCLA for 27 seasons. During that time, he guided the Bruins to an overall record of 620-147 (.808), a record setting 10 NCAA championships and 19 conference titles. Wooden was the first individual inducted into the Hall of Fame as both a player and coach. In 2002, he was a charter member of the Pac-10 Hall of Honor.

John Wooden

1960 as a player and 1972 as a coach.

Larry Brown has been a successful college and professional basketball coach for the last 30+ years. He was UCLA's head coach for two seasons (1979-81) and in 1980, led the Bruins to the NCAA Championship game vs. Louisville. At Kansas in 1988, he directed the Jayhawks to the NCAA title. A 1963 graduate of North Carolina where he was also a star player, Brown has coached eight different teams in the NBA and in 2001 led the Philadelphia 76ers to the NBA Finals and was named the NBA Coach of the Year. In 2004, Brown became the first coach to win an NBA (Detroit Pistons) and NCAA Championship (Kansas 1988) and he was the 2004 U. S. Olympic head coach (bronze medal).

Larry Brown
Inducted 2002

Denny Crum
Inducted 1994

A two-year letterman (1958-59) at UCLA under John Wooden, Denny Crum was a starting guard as a senior. He was also an assistant coach under Wooden at UCLA from 1968-71, when the Bruins won three NCAA championships. At the end of the 2000-01 season, Crum retired after 30 seasons as head coach at Louisville, where he guided the Cardinals to two NCAA crowns (1980 and '86) and six Final Fours.

A 1965 All-American, Gail Goodrich helped lead UCLA to NCAA titles in 1964 and '65. In the 1965 title game, his 42 points vs. Michigan was a collegiate record. Finished his career as UCLA's top scorer (1,690; now No. 12). A 14-year NBA veteran, he was on the Lakers' 1972 World Championship team and played in five NBA All-Star games. In 2004-05, Goodrich had his Bruin jersey number retired (25) and was inducted into the Pac-10 Hall of Honor.

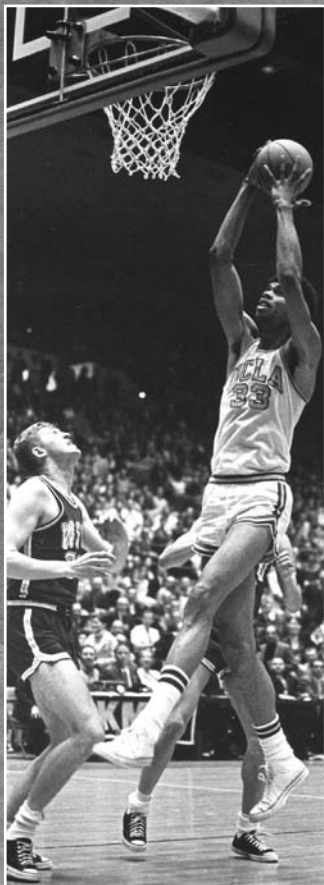

Gail Goodrich
Inducted 1996

Billie Moore
Inducted 1999

During her 24 years as a head coach, Billie Moore guided UCLA (1978) and CS Fullerton (1970) to national championships. In 1976, she was the head coach for the U.S. Olympic team, leading the American squad (with Ann Meyers) to a silver medal. Moore is the winningest coach in UCLA women's history (16 years, 296-181). Moore, Meyers and Denise Curry are charter members (1999) of the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

BASKETBALL HALL OF FAME

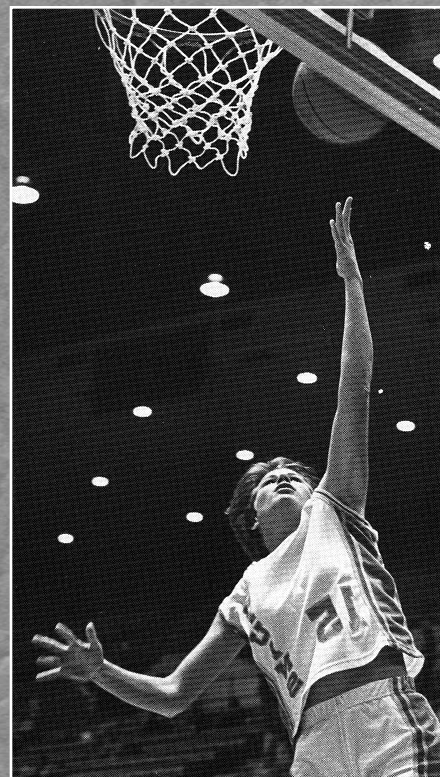

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar
Inducted 1995

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is the greatest offensive player in basketball history. As Lew Alcindor at UCLA from 1967-69, he was named College Player of the Year three straight seasons and led the Bruins to three consecutive NCAA titles. In the NBA, he is the league's all-time leading scorer with 38,387 points. In 2003, he was inducted into the Pac-10 Hall of Honor.

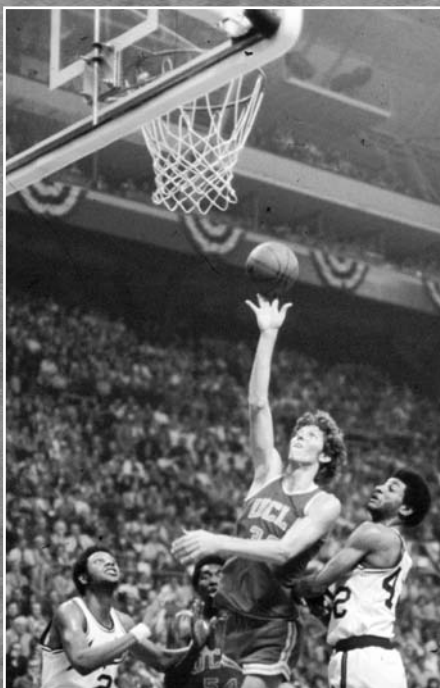

Ann Meyers-Drysdale became the first four-time (1975-78) women's basketball All-American during her days at UCLA. In 1976, she earned a silver medal as a member of the U.S. Olympic team and in 1978, she was named College Player of the Year and winner of the prestigious Broderick Cup. Meyers, who was married to the late Don Drysdale, is a television basketball commentator. She joins Denise Curry and Billie Moore as charter members (1999) of the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame. At the 2001 Wooden Awards, Meyers-Drysdale was honored as a Wooden All-Time All-American. In 2003, she received the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award.

Bill Walton and the Bruins won two NCAA crowns (1972-73) and he earned All-American honors and College Basketball Player of the Year three straight seasons. As a professional, he led the Portland Trail Blazers to the NBA title in 1977 and helped the Boston Celtics to another title in 1986. He is now a basketball commentator for ABC/ESPN.

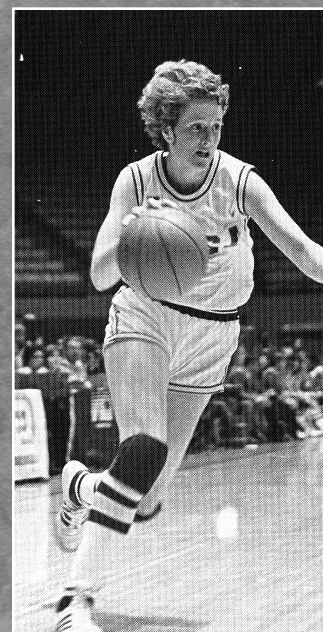

A three-time All-American, Denise Curry set a collegiate record by scoring in double-figures in each of the 130 games she played for the Bruins and set 14 school records in her career (1978-81) at Westwood. Prior to her gold medal-winning performance on the 1984 U. S. Olympic team, she had previously been selected to the 1980 team. Curry joins Ann Meyers-Drysdale and Billie Moore as charter members (1999) of the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

BASKETBALL SUPPORT PERSONNEL

Student Athlete Counseling

Mike Casillas
(UCLA, '89)

Mike Casillas in August, 2005, was named Interim Director of Academic Services.

He begins his eighth year in the Athletic Department after being promoted to Director of Student-Athlete Counseling in 2000. He oversees College of Letters & Science counseling (and full-time counselors) in the Morgan Center and is the student-athlete academic counselor for men's basketball.

Before coming to the Morgan Center, Casillas for three years worked with the UCLA Orientation Program and served five years at the UCLA Graduate School of Education and Information Studies.

Publicity

Marc Dellins
(UCLA, '76)

Marc Dellins has been Sports Information Director at UCLA since 1984. Named an associate athletic director in 2000, Dellins has been in the Bruin sports information office for 33 years. UCLA Associate SID Bill Bennett, in his 22nd season at UCLA and 32nd in the college sports information profession (also worked at UNLV and Nebraska), handles the publicity for the men's basketball team, with Dellins assisting.

Through the various guides and releases produced by the office, as well as its many Pacific-10, regional and national media contacts, Bruin athletes annually earn All-America, All-West Coast and All-Conference honors.

Recruiting

Michael Sondheimer
(UCLA, '77)

An associate athletic director for the Bruin athletic department since 1980, Michael Sondheimer is in his 21st season coordinating the recruiting efforts of Bruin basketball along with 20 other UCLA sports.

Beginning his 29th year in the UCLA athletic department, Sondheimer organizes the recruiting section at all home basketball games in Pauley Pavilion, is responsible for the materials mailed to recruits and plans all campus recruiting visits.

Strength & Conditioning

E. J. "Doc" Kreis
(Clemson, '76)

E. J. "Doc" Kreis is in his third year as the Bruins' head strength and conditioning coach.

Prior to arriving at UCLA, Kreis spent over 10 years as an assistant athletic director and the head coach for speed-strength and conditioning at the University of Colorado.

On June 1, 2003, Kreis was inducted into the USA Strength and Conditioning Coaches Hall of Fame.

A 1976 graduate of Clemson, where he was a three-year football letterman at linebacker, Kreis earned his M. S. degree from Middle Tennessee State University in 1987 and received a Doctor of Arts degree from MTSU in 1989.

Academic Coordinator

Kenny Donaldson
(UCLA, '97)

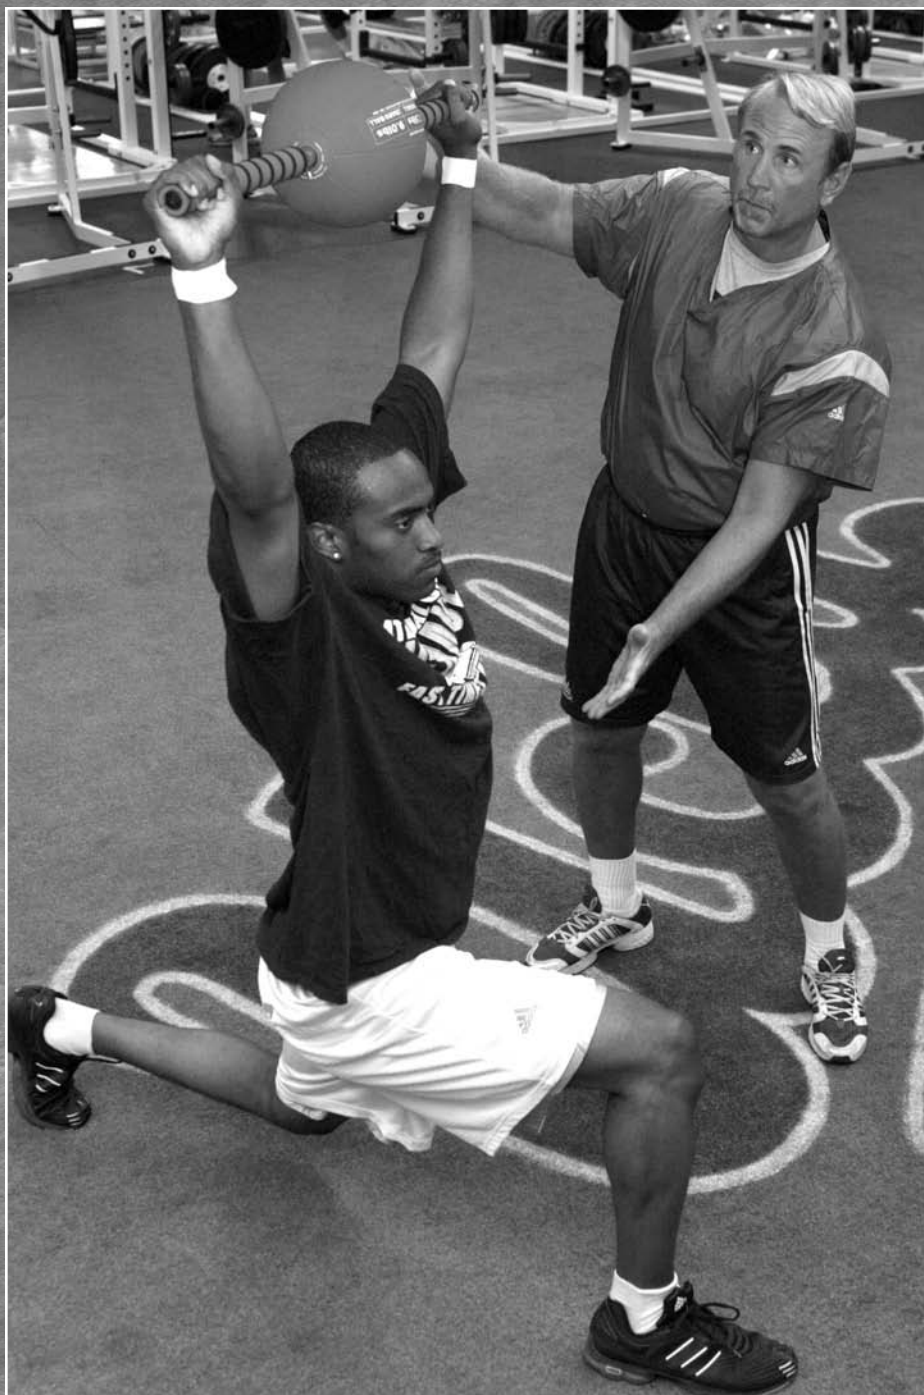

In his second season, Kenny Donaldson's duties include — working together with the student-athletes, the basketball staff and the athletic-academic staff to coordinate successful academic progress; meeting with athletes weekly to document and ensure academic progress; coordinating study hall and counseling student-athletes with personal as well as academic issues.

His other UCLA counseling experience includes two years as a Peer Counselor in the UCLA Academic Advancement Program and as a Volunteer Counselor in the Academic Support Program for three years.

Donaldson earned his BS in physiological sciences (pre-med) from UCLA in 1997 and he is currently working on his MA in sports psychology at Long Beach State.

THE SPEED-STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING FACILITY

2005 senior Janou Rubin and Doc Kreis (l)

UCLA's new Speed-Strength and Conditioning Facility located in the Acosta Training Center has doubled in size to 15,000 square feet and is directed by Hall of Fame speed-strength and conditioning coach E. J. "Doc" Kreis, who was hired in June 2003.

Kreis, a two-time strength and conditioning Coach of the Year, will oversee the athletic development of more than 700 student-athletes. He is joined by a highly accredited staff, including associate head coach Kerri Barrett Husbands, first assistant coach Troy Jorgensen and assistant coaches Karl Jordan and Jon Fussell.

An athlete's development requires a comprehensive plan that maximizes all physical components of competition. UCLA's Acosta Speed-Strength and Conditioning Facility and the program developed by the Speed-Strength and Conditioning staff are instrumental in equipping all UCLA athletes with the physical tools required to successfully compete in the national spotlight. Each athlete receives individual attention from the staff in developing all facets of athleticism, such as strength, force production and power.

The Acosta Speed-Strength and Conditioning Facility is composed of 27 weight lifting platforms, a state of the art dumbbell area, thirty upper and lower body weight machines and a variety of cardiovascular equipment. The room is highlighted by the Athletic Performance Area, a specialized space dedicated to enhancing acceleration/deceleration capabilities, foot speed, balance and coordination, vertical jump and flexibility for all Bruin athletes.

UCLA's Speed-Strength and Conditioning program is designed to produce and improve the four fundamentals of speed-strength — reaction strength, explosive strength, absolute strength and starting strength. The ultimate goal is to transfer the gains made as a result of hard and consistent work into the competitive environment. The transfer of the four fundamentals to the field, court or pool allows UCLA athletes to compete successfully at the highest level of their sport.

Ultimately, UCLA athletes are expected to work day in and day out to improve upon their athleticism. There are no secret training methods - just hard work, consistency, effort and attitude. The pride and tradition behind UCLA Athletics is expected to be upheld by every athlete in the Acosta Speed-Strength and Conditioning Facility.

FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

UCLA's Basketball Team Room is equipped with cable television, stereo and other comforts. It is located in Pauley Pavilion.

The Bruin Training and Rehabilitation Center provides the latest health facilities and training techniques for UCLA athletes.

The new two-story Acosta Sports Training and Conditioning Center is home for Sports Medicine, Athletic Training, Speed-Strength and Conditioning, Varsity Lockerrooms and the Knapp Football Center.

THE PRIDE OF THE UCLA BRUINS

Pauley Pavilion is the centerpiece of UCLA's basketball facilities. A multi-purpose campus arena opened in June, 1965. While calling the 12,819-seat Pavilion home, the Bruins have won nine NCAA championships and 19 Pacific-10 titles. In 1996-97, the Bruins broke the Pauley Pavilion attendance record twice — 13,478 vs. Duke and 13,382 vs. USC. On Dec. 20, 2003, the floor in Pauley was dedicated "Nell and John Wooden Court".

The campus offers plenty of scenic places to relax between classes.

UCLA's John Wooden Sports & Recreation Center, along with the newly renovated Men's Gym, are the area's No. 1 summer basketball locations. NBA stars compete daily against Bruin team members in the best "pick up" games in Los Angeles.

UCLA STUDENT LIFE AND ACTIVITIES

Watching UCLA's nationally-competitive teams, such as track and field (top) and basketball (middle) are exciting activities for students. Right: The Sunset Canyon Recreation Center pool offers a peaceful retreat for students.

A CAMPUS FILLED WITH RECREATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

WESTWOOD

UCLA is located in Westwood, a suburb of Los Angeles, in one of America's most beautiful residential areas.

Activity surrounds UCLA. Westwood Village, directly south of the campus, offers a wide variety of shops, restaurants, including In-N-Out Burger, movie theaters and entertainment centers.

To the west are the popular beaches of Malibu and Santa Monica, to the north are the picturesque Santa Monica Mountains and the luxurious community of Bel-Air. To the east is famous Beverly Hills and Hollywood.

The beautiful and compact UCLA campus offers an ideal setting for education, athletics, recreation and business contacts.

LOS ANGELES

The city of Los Angeles is internationally recognized as America's leader in the entertainment and communications industries as well as tourism and recreation. It also is one of the nation's leaders in high technology, finance, law and medicine.

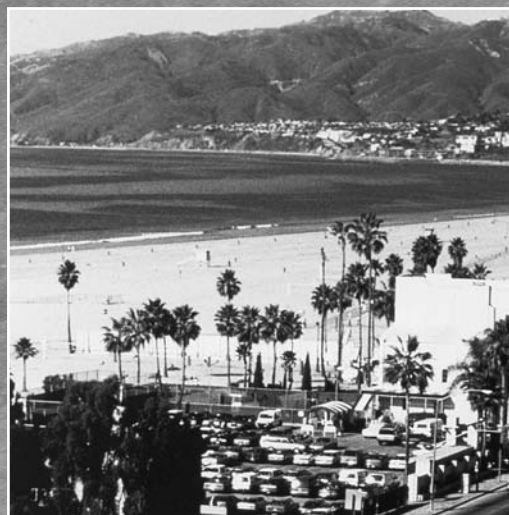

Los Angeles is one of the top high-tech centers in the U.S. with companies in computer and data processing, electronics and medical technology. In the motion picture, television, communications and advertising industries it sets the standard.

The Southern California sports market includes ten major professional teams: baseball's Dodgers and Angels, basketball's Lakers, Clippers and Sparks, hockey's Kings and Mighty Ducks, soccer's Galaxy and Chivas USA and football's Avengers. Los Angeles also has hosted many major sporting events, including the Super Bowl and World Cup (women-2003,1999/men-1994). On Feb. 16, 2004, the Staples Center hosted the NBA All-Star Game.

Los Angeles' recreation areas are unparalleled and internationally renowned — a perfect combination of climate and opportunity. Mountains, deserts, lakes and stunning beaches are just a short drive from UCLA's campus. In addition, Southern California is the home of several world-famous tourist attractions, including Disneyland and Universal Studios.

NCAA SILVER ANNIVERSARY AWARD

The prestigious NCAA Silver Anniversary Award honors former student-athletes who have distinguished themselves since completing college athletic careers 25 years ago. UCLA men's basketball has three award winners — Bill Walton in 1999, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (Lew Alcindor) in 1994 and Willie Naulls in 1981.

Bill Walton

During Walton's three (1972-74) seasons as a starter, the Bruins won two NCAA crowns (1972-73) and had an NCAA record 88-game winning streak. His many collegiate honors included—three-time (1972-74) College Player of the Year, winner of the Sullivan Award in 1973, as the nation's top amateur athlete and Walton was also a three-time Academic All-American. Following his UCLA career, Walton played 14 seasons in the NBA and played on two (Portland 1977, Boston 1986) World Championship teams and was the NBA MVP in 1978. Walton was enshrined into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1993 and into the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 1994. He is currently a sports analyst for ABC/ESPN. His many charity activities include Bank of America Jammin' Hoops Camps (free basketball camps in inner cities), YMCA and The Boys and Girls Club.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar

A three-time NCAA Player of the Year, Abdul-Jabbar led UCLA to three consecutive (1967-69) NCAA basketball championships. Abdul-Jabbar went on to star in the NBA for the Milwaukee Bucks and the Los Angeles Lakers, becoming the NBA's all-time leading scorer (38,387 points) and he was a member of six NBA Championship teams. In 1995, Abdul-Jabbar was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and in 2003 into the Pac-10 Hall of Honor. Among his civic contributions, Abdul-Jabbar established "Kareem's Kids" in 1989, a program designed to motivate youth to stay in school. He also has conducted basketball clinics for children in such countries as Turkey, Australia, Taiwan, Germany, Italy and Saudi Arabia. An author, he has written "The Epic Story of the 761st Tank Battalion, WWII's Forgotten Heros", about an African American tank command fighting in Europe and "A Season on the Reservation: My Soujourn with the White Mountain Apaches", about his 1999-00 season as an assistant coach at Alchesay HS (Whiteriver, AZ) on the Fort Apache Native American Reservation.

Willie Naulls

At the end of his three-year (1954-56) Bruin career, Naulls was UCLA's leading scorer (1225 points, now No. 29) and rebounder (900, now No. 6) and earned All-American honors in 1956. He has the school record for most rebounds (28, 1956) in a game. He played 10 years in the NBA, including his last three seasons (1964-66) winning NBA titles with the Boston Celtics. Naulls, who earned a Master's degree in theology and was ordained a minister from Fuller Seminary in Pasadena, is the founder of Willie Naulls Ministries and The Church of Common Ground and heads the nonprofit organization Concerned Parents of America.

THE LEGACY OF UCLA'S JACKIE ROBINSON

- The first African-American to play major league baseball (April 15, 1947). Born Jan. 31, 1919 in Cairo, GA.
- His widow Rachel, a UCLA alumna, founded the Jackie Robinson Foundation, which has funded college scholarships for deserving African-American students.
- The first four-sport letterman in UCLA history — football (1939 and 1940), basketball (1940 and 1941), track and field (1940) and baseball (1940).

UCLA Football

- Led the nation in punt return average in both 1939 (16.5 yards) and 1940 (21.0 yards). His career average of 18.8 yards ranks fourth in NCAA history.
- As a senior in 1940, he led UCLA in rushing (383 yards), passing (444 yards), total offense (827 yards), scoring (36 points) and punt returns (21.0 average). In his two-year career, he rushed for 954 yards (5.9 average) and passed for 449 yards.

UCLA Basketball

- Led the Southern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference in scoring in both 1940 (12.4 average in 12 league games) and 1941 (11.1 average in 12 league games).

UCLA Track and Field

- Missed most of the 1940 season while playing with the Bruin baseball team but won the NCAA title in the broad jump (24-10 1/4) after winning the Pacific Coast Conference meet with a leap of 25-0.

UCLA Baseball

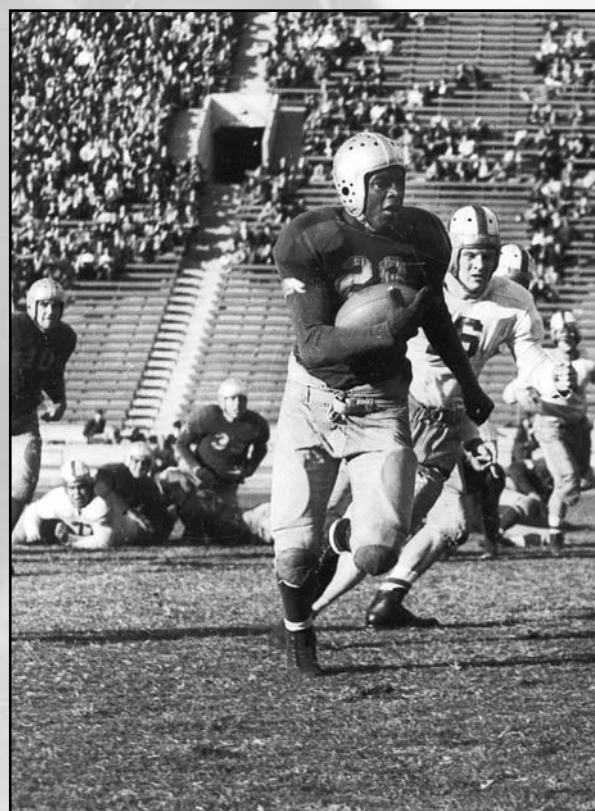

- In 1940, batted just .097 during the California Intercollegiate Baseball Association season. In his first game (March 10, 1940), he had four hits and stole four bases, including home once.

Major League Baseball

- Played for the Brooklyn Dodgers from 1947 to 1957.
- Selected National League Rookie of the Year in 1947 (the award is now named in his honor).
- Selected National League Most Valuable Player in 1949.

Post-Baseball Career

- Became Vice-President at Chock Full O'Nuts in 1957.
- Served as a member of the national board of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

- 1984 Charter member of UCLA's Athletic Hall of Fame
Presidential Medal of Freedom
- 1999 Time Magazine "100 Most Important People of the Century"
- 2005 Congressional Gold Medal
Los Angeles Coliseum Memorial Court of Honor

A SALUTE TO DON BARKSDALE

From Berkeley HS, Barksdale was UCLA basketball's first African-American All-American (1947), the first African-American All-American named by the Helms Foundation, the first African-American to win a gold medal in basketball at the Olympic Games (1948), one of the first African-Americans to break the NBA color line in 1951 and the first African-American to make an NBA All-Star team (1953). In March 2006, Barksdale will be UCLA's fifth inductee into the Pac-10 Hall of Honor.

During a three-year stint in the U. S. Army, he won the 1944 National AAU triple jump. WWII limited this outstanding all-around athlete's UCLA career to five games (1943), one basketball season (1946-47) and a single track campaign (1946-47).

UCLA Basketball

- In 1943, his 18-point effort helped end USC's 42-game win streak over the Bruins.
- In 1946-47, he led the PCC Southern Division in scoring to become the Bruins' third All-American and helped lead UCLA to its second division championship and first conference playoff.

UCLA Track & Field

- In 1947, he competed in three jumping events and the javelin.

Olympics

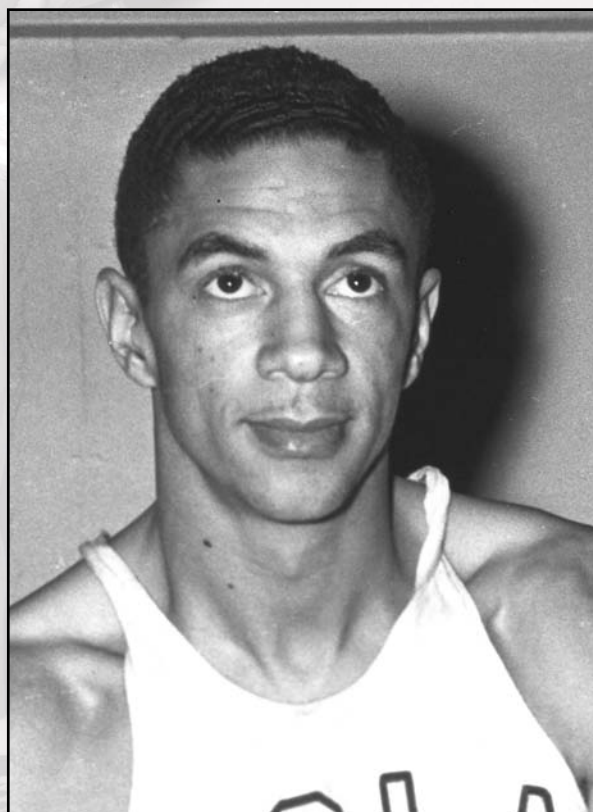

- In 1948 at the Games in London, Barksdale was a member of the U. S. team that won all 12 games and the gold-medal.

NBA

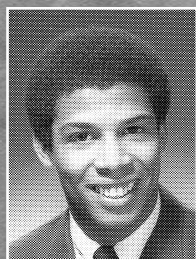

- He played for four years (1952-53, with the Baltimore Bullets and 1954-55, with the Boston Celtics), was among the league's top scorer each season and was named All-NBA (1953).

Post Basketball Career

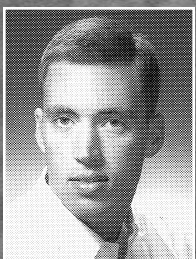

- Well-known jazz DJ in the Bay Area, "K-D-I-A, Lucky 13, Soul of the Bay."
