KARL DORRELL

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

(FIRST SEASON)

UCLA '87

One of the rising stars in the coaching profession, former Bruin wide receiver Karl Dorrell is in his first season as the 15th head football coach in UCLA history.

Dorrell was hired on December 18 and introduced as the Bruins' new head coach the following day.

"Obviously, I am privileged and honored to be the new head football coach at UCLA," Dorrell said at the time of his hiring. "It has always been a dream of mine to someday return to campus as the head coach at this great university. I can't wait to get started."

"Karl Dorrell is an outstanding fit for UCLA," said athletic director Dan Guerrero, who made the selection of Dorrell. "Everyone with whom I spoke held Karl in high regard in the areas of leadership, coaching, relating to players, recruiting and dealing with media and alumni."

"He has worked for some outstanding coaches, such as Terry Donahue and Mike Shanahan, and he has taken the best of their philosophies and organizational skills and blended them into his own."

"Karl is a man of high principles whom I feel is well suited to the college game. The fact that he enjoyed an outstanding career as a Bruin player gives him an appreciation for what a special place UCLA is."

"I believe that Karl is the man who can build UCLA football to the elite level and we are excited to begin that process. I know our alumni and fans will rally in support of Karl and our program"

Dorrell came to UCLA from the Denver Broncos, where he was in his third year as the coach of the wide receivers. His receivers played very well during his time with the club.

In 2001, Dorrell faced the challenge of replacing Pro Bowl veteran Ed McCaffrey after a season-ending injury in Week 1, and not only saw Rod Smith catch a franchise-record 113 passes, but also implemented many young players into the Broncos scheme while working through a variety of other injuries that affected playing time.

Though it was a trying season in that regard, Dorrell's tutelage allowed the club to glimpse the young talent it had assembled, as those players gained experience that will pay future dividends. Smith earned his second Pro Bowl invitation, and led the NFL in receptions while ranking sixth in receiving yards.

In Dorrell's first season in Denver (2000), his receiving corps played an integral role in elevating the overall offensive unit to franchise records in total yards, passing yards and first downs. McCaffrey and Smith took their performance to new levels that year, as Smith earned the first Pro Bowl selection of his six-year career while shattering the franchise record with 1,602 receiving yards and tying the previous record with 100 receptions. McCaffrey had the most productive season of his 10-year career by catching a franchise-record 101 passes for 1,317 yards, now third best behind Smith's 1,602. Both finished in the NFL's top four in receptions and in the top 10 in receiving yards.

Smith's 1,602 yards tied for the eighth-highest single-season total in NFL history, while the duo became just the second pair from the same team ever to post 100 more catches in the same season. Smith and McCaffrey were virtually unstoppable with 13 100-yard games between them.

Prior to his arrival in Denver Dorrell coached 12 years on the collegiate level, including seven seasons as an offensive coordinator. In his career as a player and coach, Dorrell has participated in 12 bowl games, including three Rose Bowls, two Fiesta Bowls and two Cotton Bowls.

Dorrell spent the 1999 season at the University of Washington, serving as offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. In his one season at the school, the Huskies led the Pac-10 in time of possession with an average of 32:57 per game, and scored 28.3 points per game.

He assisted the Broncos coaching staff during training camp in both 1993 and '99 through the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship program, and was offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach at the University of Colorado from 1995-98, after a previous stint as wide receivers coach from 1992-93.

During his first tenure at CU, two of Dorrell's wide receivers, Charles Johnson and Michael Westbrook, became just the fourth pair of receivers on the same team in NCAA history to accumulate more than 1,000 yards in the same season. Johnson and Westbrook are two of the six collegiate receivers Dorrell has coached who have gone on to play in the NFL — three of who were first-round draft choices.

A former wide receiver himself, Dorrell began his coaching career in 1988 as a graduate assistant at UCLA. The Bruins were 10-2 that season, winning the Cotton Bowl. His other coaching stops include Central Florida (1989; receivers), Northern Arizona (1990-91; offensive coordinator/receivers) and Arizona State (1994; wide receivers). In his first experience as an offensive coordinator, Dorrell made his mark at NAU, directing the Lumberjack offense to a school record for first downs in a season, and the second-highest total offense figure in school history.

Dorrell earned his bachelor's degree from UCLA following the 1986 season. He completed his playing career ranked second (tied) in school history in receptions (108) and fourth in receiving yards (1,517). His 108 receptions still rank ninth (tied) on that career list while his 1,517 yards rank 12th. He also played on teams that won three Rose Bowls — following the 1982, 1983 and 1985 seasons — and the 1986 Freedom Bowl.

As a true sophomore in 1983, he made 26 receptions for 390 yards and six touchdowns. In the 45-9 Rose Bowl victory over Illinois, he made five catches for 61 yards and two touchdowns (15 and 16 yards). He missed most of the following season due to a shoulder injury and was granted an additional year of eligibility. As a junior in 1985, he led all Bruin receivers with 39 receptions for 565 yards and one touchdown. As a senior, he was second to Flipper Anderson with 35 receptions for 451 yards and two touchdowns.

He had a brief professional career, spending part of the 1987 season with the Dallas Cowboys before being placed on injured reserve.

Dorrell, who was born in Alameda, CA on Dec. 18, 1963, is a graduate of San Diego's Helix High School, where he was a two-time all-league selection and honorable mention All-America as a senior. He led Helix to the CIF San Diego Section title in 1980 and to second place in 1981.

Karl and his wife, Kim, have two children, Chandler (7) and Lauren (4).

ASSISTANT COACHES

Steve Axman (C.W. Post '69) - Offensive Coordinator / Quarterbacks

Steve Axman, a former Bruin assistant who served as quarterbacks coach at the University of Washington the past four years and as assistant head coach the past three, was hired as UCLA's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach on January 9, 2003.

Axman has a reputation for developing young quarterbacks. This past season, Washington's Cody Pickett became the first quarterback in Pac-10 history to pass for over 4,000 yards in a season, finishing with 4,458. He also set a Pac-10 record with 4,273 yards of total offense. On the year, Pickett completed 365 of 612 passes (59.6%) for 4,458 yards and 28 touchdowns. The Washington pass offense was rated fourth in the nation with an average of 346.2 yards per game in 2002.

The first Husky quarterback whom Axman worked with, Marques Tuiasosopo, finished his outstanding career by being named the Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Year and then the MVP of the Rose Bowl. In 1999, Axman's first year at the UW, Tuiasosopo became the first player in NCAA history to rush for 200 yards and pass for 300 yards in one game. Washington's offensive coordinator that season was current Bruin head coach Karl Dorrell.

Steve joined the Husky program after serving as the quarterbacks coach at the University of Minnesota in 1998. Axman served as head coach at Northern Arizona from 1990-97. During his eight years with the Lumberjacks and he guided his teams to a 48-41 record. His 1996 Lumberjack squad set or tied 14 national records and averaged 43.2 points per game while leading the nation in total offense (522.8 yards per game) and ranking third in passing (311.3 yards per game). The Lumberjacks became the first college football team to produce a 2,000-yard rusher (Walter Payton Award winner Archie Amerson) and a 3,000-yard passer (Travis Brown) in the same season. In 1990 and 1991, Axman's offensive coordinator at Northern Arizona was coach Dorrell.

In 1989, Axman served as quarterbacks coach at the University of Maryland. Axman spent two seasons as offensive coordinator at UCLA in 1987 and 1988, coaching the quarterbacks the first year and the offensive line the second. In 1987, junior Troy Aikman ranked second in the NCAA in passing efficiency and the Bruins finished No. 9 in the final AP poll. In 1988, Aikman finished third in the Heisman Trophy race, leading UCLA to a No. 6 ranking. UCLA's total of 5,252 yards of offense in 1988 is the third highest in school history while the 1987 total of 5,107 ranks seventh. In 1987, UCLA scored 426 points, No. 4 in school history and in 1988, the Bruins scored 392 points to rank No. 6.

Prior to UCLA, Axman coached at Stanford (1986), with the Denver Gold of the United States Football League (1985) and at the University of Arizona, where he also served as offensive coordinator (1980-84). He also spent a year at Illinois, three seasons at Army and one season at Albany State. Prior to that, Axman's first collegiate coaching job was at East Stroudsburg (PA) State in 1974.

Gary Bernardi (Cal State Northridge '76) - Tight Ends, Offensive Line, Recruiting

Gary Bernardi who has been an assistant coach in the Pacific-10 Conference since 1980, is in his 10th season as a member of the UCLA staff. He is in charge of the tight ends, works with the offensive line and also oversees UCLA's recruiting efforts.

Last season, tight end Mike Seidman was named first-team all-conference and one of three finalists for the John Mackey Award as the nation's best tight end. His average receiving yards per game mark of 52.6 ranked second in the nation. Bryan Fletcher earned second-team All-Pac-10 honors in 2001, tight end Mike Grieb was selected first-team All Pac-10 in 1998 and in 1996, Jamal Clark was an honorable mention All-Pac-10 selection.

Bernardi also coached at USC for six seasons (1987-92) and was in charge of the tight ends and offensive tackles, as well as serving as coordinator of the Trojan special teams. He tutored several All-Americans and two NFL first-round draft choices during his tenure. In 1993, he was head coach at Burroughs High in Burbank. Bernardi began his collegiate coaching career in 1980 as a part-time coach (tight ends) and administrative assistant to Larry Smith at Arizona. After working as an administrative assistant the following season, he coached tight ends from 1982-84, wide receivers in 1985 and tight ends in 1986. He also served as the Wildcats' recruiting coordinator.

Eric Bieniemy (Colorado '01) - Running Backs

Eric Bieniemy joined the Bruin staff in January of 2003 as running backs coach after spending the last two seasons as running backs coach at his alma mater, Colorado. He also handled the kickoff coverage unit on special teams.

In the 2002 season, Colorado ranked ninth in team rushing in the NCAA with 232.8 yards on the ground per game. Tailback Chris Brown ranked third in the nation with a 153.4 yards per game average. Bieniemy had a tremendous impact right from the start in his first year on the Colorado staff, as the Buffs finished eighth in the nation in rushing, averaging 228.5 yards per game. The tailbacks and fullbacks combined for 2,620 yards, the most yards out of all the running back positions in college football for 2001.

Bieniemy's footprints are still all over the CU record book, as he remains the school's all-time leader in rushing (3,940 yards), all-purpose yards (4,351), touchdowns (42) and scoring (254 points). He was the nation's second leading rusher in 1990 with 1,628 yards, when he finished third in the Heisman Trophy balloting that year. His most memorable game was at Nebraska in 1990, as he overcame five fumbles in the first three quarters to score four fourth quarter touchdowns in leading CU to a 27-12 win that put CU in the driver's seat for a second straight Big Eight title as well as on the road to the school's first national championship in football.

In 1990, he earned unanimous All-America honors and was a two-time first-team all Big-Eight performer, in 1988 and in 1990, earning the conference's offensive player-of-the-year honor as a senior. As a junior, he was named to CU's prestigious 25-member "All-Century Football Team," the only active player at the time to be selected to the group honoring the first 100 years of Buffalo football.

Gary DeLoach (Howard Payne '76) - Defensive Backs

Gary DeLoach, who has served as defensive coordinator for the last three years at North Texas and the secondary coach for the last five, was hired as an assistant coach at UCLA on January 14, 2003 and will coach the Bruin defensive backs.

During the 2002 regular season, North Texas State led the Sun Belt Conference in total defense, rushing defense, passing defense and scoring defense. Nationally, North Texas was third in scoring defense (14.8 points), ninth in total defense (290.6 yards), 12th in passing defense (171.7) and 26th in rushing defense (118.9). The Mean Green allowed over 310 yards total offense just three times all season.

In addition, six North Texas defenders were selected first-team All-Sun Belt Conference, including defensive backs Don McGee and Craig Jones. In his five years as the secondary coach, six different defensive backs earned first team all-conference. In 2001, Jonas Buckles earned first-team all-conference honors after ranking fifth nationally and first in the Sun Belt Conference in interceptions. In 2001, the Mean Green defense led the Sun Belt in rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense.

DeLoach went to North Texas in 1998 after serving as defensive coordinator for national JUCO champion Trinity Valley of Athens, TX and coaching in the World League with the Frankfurt Galaxy in 1997. He previously worked as an assistant coach (defensive coordinator, 1990-94) at New Mexico State for seven years from 1990 to 96, spent three seasons as secondary coach at Texas A&M (1980-82) and seven years at Stephen F. Austin (defensive coordinator and secondary coach, 1983-89). He began his college coaching career as a graduate assistant and then part-time assistant at Stephen F. Austin (1976-78).

Jon Embree (Colorado '87) - Assistant Head Coach/Wide Receivers

Jon Embree, a former standout player and then coach at the University of Colorado, was hired as assistant head coach and receivers coach at UCLA in January of 2003. He had been a member of the Colorado coaching staffs for the last 10 seasons.

Embree coached the tight ends his first two seasons at CU, before moving to defense to work with the ends in the first year of Rick Neuheisel's tenure as head coach in 1995. He returned to coaching tight ends under head coach Gary Barnett in 1999. In January of 2001, Embree took charge of the wide receiver position and also coordinated the practice routine for the placekickers. He also played a pivotal role in many of CU's outstanding recruiting successes over the years.

Embree, 36, lettered four seasons (1983-86) as a tight end at Colorado. He ended his career in the top five in both career receptions (80) and yards (1,116) along with scoring five touchdowns. His 1,116 yards rank as the second most by a tight end in CU history, while his 80 catches are still fourth among all ends.

He was first team All-Big Eight and set school records with 51 receptions for 680 yards in 1984. Even though CU abandoned a passing offense for the wishbone in his junior year, he was a sixth-round draft choice by the Los Angeles Rams in the 1987 NFL Draft. He spent two years with the Rams (1987-88), playing in 13 games, and concluded his career in 1989 with the Seattle Seahawks, as an injury ended his pro career.

He has coached several top players, including all-Big Eight performer Christian Fauria, now with the National Football League's New England Patriots. Several others have gone on to the NFL, including Daniel Graham, who he tutored his sophomore and junior seasons and watched break several of his own CU tight end records in 2001.

Don Johnson (Jersey City State '76)-Defensive Line

Don Johnson is in his fourth season with the Bruins and his third being in charge of the entire defensive line. In his first year at UCLA, he coached the defensive tackles. In 2002, end Dave Ball had a breakout season in which he totaled 15 tackles for loss and 11.5 sacks and went on to earn second-team all-conference honors. In 2001, end Kenyon Coleman became the first UCLA defensive lineman to win the Morris Trophy, presented to the top lineman in the Pac-10, and UCLA ranked third in the league in rushing defense.

Prior to coming to UCLA in February of 2000, Johnson spent the previous five seasons (1995-99) as an assistant at Nevada. His responsibilities included coaching the defensive ends as well as handling kickoffs and punt returns for the special teams. During that time, he also did an NFL summer internship for two years with the San Francisco 49ers. Prior to moving to Nevada, he spent eight years coaching at three different colleges in southern California. In 1987, he became an assistant at Riverside Community College for two years before being hired at Nevada.

Johnson played football at Jersey City (NJ) State. A linebacker, he earned a free agent tryout with the New York Jets and also spent times as a member of the USFL's New Jersey Generals. Johnson graduated from Jersey City State in 1976 with a degree in physical education. He began his coaching career at Santa Ana Valley High School, working as an assistant from 1976-1982. In 1984, he moved to his alma mater, coaching linebackers at Jersey City State for three years. He returned to Santa Ana Valley High in 1986 and moved to Riverside Community College the following year.

Larry Kerr (San Jose State '75) - Defensive Coordinator/ Inside Linebackers

Larry Kerr, who spent the last 10 seasons as defensive coordinator at Colorado State University, was hired as UCLA's defensive coordinator / inside linebackers coach on January 10, 2003.

During Kerr's 10 years at CSU, the Ram defense led the conference in total defense twice, was second once and third in another season. The Rams played in seven bowl games and won six conference championships.

In 2002, CSU compiled a record of 10-4, won the Mountain West Conference, played in the Liberty Bowl and ranked fourth in the league in total defense. Four CSU defenders were selected All-Mountain West Conference first or second team. He was also a nominee for the Frank Broyles Assistant Coach of the Year Award. In 2000, linebacker Rick Crowell was named Conference Defensive Player of the Year, the second time a Rams' player had been so honored during Kerr's tenure. Overall, Kerr coached seven first-team all-conference players. In addition, Eric Pauly was named a second-team Academic All-American in 2001.

Kerr, 49, went to Colorado State after having spent three seasons (1990-92) as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at Northern Arizona. During those first two years, Karl Dorrell was the Lumberjacks' offensive coordinator and new Bruin offensive coordinator Steve Axman was the head coach during Kerr's entire time at NAU.

In 1989, Kerr served as inside linebackers coach and special teams coordinator at UCLA under Terry Donahue. He spent the six previous seasons (1983-88) serving in that same capacity at Stanford. Prior to coaching with the Cardinal, he served as the inside linebackers coach at San Jose State (1980-83).

Brian Schneider (Colorado State '94) - Outside Linebackers / Nickel Backs

Brian Schneider will coach outside linebackers and nickel backs at UCLA after serving the past six seasons as tight ends and special teams coordinator at Colorado State. During his tenure at CSU, the Rams excelled in special teams play. He coached eight all-conference special teams or tight end performers.

In 2002, Dexter Wynn ranked fifth nationally in punt returns and 12th in kickoff returns. In 2001, Wynn and Pete Rebstock both ranked among the national leaders in returns while Joey Huber was among the national leaders in punting average. Place kicker Kent Naughton had one of the top field goal percentage marks in 2001 in school history. In 1998, place kicker Derek Franz set the school's season scoring record and the record for most field goals in a season. Franz ranked first in the league and fifth nationally in field goals per game. In 1999, punter Deone Horinek ranked eighth nationally.

Schneider, 31, spent three seasons (1994-96), as a graduate assistant coach at Colorado State, working with the team's defensive unit and special teams prior to moving to full-time status in 1997. He was a three-year starter as a linebacker from 1990-93 at Colorado State. As a senior in 1993, he was named first-team all-conference and was an honorable mention All-American. He was a second-team all-league choice in 1992. Schneider still ranks among the school's career leaders in total tackles.

Mark Weber (Cal Lutheran '80) - Offensive Line

Mark Weber is in his seventh season as UCLA's offensive line coach, joining the staff in March of 1997. This past season, Mike Saffer (first team), Eyoseph Efseaff (second), Bryce Bohlander (second) and Steven Vieira (honorable mention) each earned all-conference honors. Saffer was also selected second-team All-America and Mike McCloskey was a second-team Freshman All-American. In addition, the line played a large part in amassing 625 yards of total offense in the win over Oregon State. In 1998, tackle Kris Farris was awarded the Outland Trophy as the nation's top lineman, center Shawn Stuart was selected first-team Academic All-American and guard Andy Meyers was named first-team All-Pac-10. In his first season (1997), tackle Chad Overhauser earned first-team All-America acclaim.

Weber, who has been associated with some of the nation's top passing offenses, came to UCLA from UNLV, where he spent three seasons as assistant head coach and offensive line coach. UNLV ranked ninth in Division IA passing offense last year. He coached at Nevada-Reno for two years (1993 and 1993) and the Wolfpack led the nation in passing and total offense in 1993. He has also served as defensive line coach at Missouri Western State College (1991), offensive line coach at Oregon State (1987-90), and offensive line and strength coach at West Texas State (1985-86), Eastern New Mexico University (1983-84) and Snow College (1982). As a player, he earned Small College All-America honorable mention as an offensive guard.

2003 UCLA SEASON OUTLOOK

There is a new excitement surrounding UCLA football. Former wide receiver Karl Dorrell has returned to Westwood as the Bruins' head coach and optimism is high.

UCLA returns 14 starters from last season's 8-5 team — seven on offense and six on defense — to form the nucleus of Dorrell's first Bruin team. On offense, the returnees include split end Craig Bragg, an All-America candidate who led the Bruins with 55 receptions a year ago; flanker Tab Perry, an honors candidate who averaged a Pac-10 best 19.9 yards per reception; tailback Tyler Ebell, who earned second-team Freshman All-America honors while rushing for 994 yards; fullback/tailback Manuel White, the team's second-leading rusher; guards Eyoseph Efseaff, a second-team All-Pacific-10 Conference performer, and Steve Vieira, a Pac-10 honorable mention selection; and center Mike McCloskey, a second-team Freshman All-American. On defense, the returnees include tackle Rodney Leisle, a 2002 pre-season All-American before suffering a broken foot; end Dave Ball, who made 11 quarterback sacks en route to second-team All-Pac-10 honors; linebackers Brandon Chillar and first-team Freshman All-American Spencer Havner; cornerback Matt Ware, a 2001 first-team Freshman All-American; and safeties Ben Emanuel, who tied for the team lead in interceptions, and first-team Freshman All-American Jarrad Page.

Other key returnees include sophomore quarterbacks Drew Olson, who started the final five games of the year, and Matt Moore, who helped rally the team to a victory in the SEGA Sports Las Vegas Bowl; wide receivers Junior Taylor and Ryan Smith; tailback Akil Harris; fullbacks J.D. Groves and Pat Norton; offensive linemen Ed Blanton, Paul Mociler and Shane Lehmann; defensive linemen Ryan Boschetti, who started five games a year ago, Mat Ball and Asi Faoa; linebackers Dennis Link and Justin London; safety Jibril Raymo and Kevin Brant; and cornerbacks Matt Clark, Keith Short and Glenn Ohaeri.

Key losses from last season include tight end Mike Seidman, quarterback Cory Paus, offensive tackles Mike Saffer and Bryce Bohlander, defensive linemen Steve Morgan and Rusty Williams, linebacker Marcus Reese, cornerback Ricky Manning, Jr., and kickers Nate Fikse and Chris Griffith.

"Spring Practice will be a learning process for the players and the coaches," said Dorrell. "The players will be learning new systems on both offense and defense and most of the coaches will be seeing the players on the field for the first time after watching them on tape. Since the players are starting out even in terms of the system and the coaches' knowledge of them, I would expect the competition for playing time to be at a very high level during Spring drills.

"It appears from watching tapes of last year's practices and games that we have a talented group of players. It will be our job as coaches to identify those who we think can best help the team be successful and to teach our new systems as quickly and effectively as possible.

"Offensively, our system will be balanced. Our goal is to run the ball effectively, throw efficiently and strike with the big play. Defensively, (defensive coordinator) Larry Kerr's package is modeled on the principles of attacking opposing offenses. Our defense will scheme blitzes coming from anywhere and everywhere. It's the coaches' job to make sure our personnel can run these systems and to make the adjustments necessary to make our players as effective as possible," said Dorrell.

UCLA will again face a challenging schedule, playing 12 regular-season games for the second straight year. The Bruins open the season at Colorado, where Dorrell coached on two occasions and where assistants Jon Embree and Eric Bieniemy coached last season. Following the home opener against Illinois, the Bruins face 2000 national champion Oklahoma on the road and San Diego State at the Rose Bowl.

In Pac-10 play, the Bruins will host Washington, California, Arizona State and Oregon and travel to Arizona, Stanford, Washington State and USC. Overall, UCLA will face seven schools that played in bowl games and eight with winning records.

OFFENSE

Seven starters, plus several other performers who have started games, give the Bruins excellent experience in many key areas. However, everyone will be learning a new offensive system, so the Spring should be educational for the coaches as well as the players.

QUARTERBACK

UCLA has three sophomores who will be competing for playing time at the quarterback position — all with game experience.

Sophomore DREW OLSON (6-2, 223) enters Spring drills with the most experience of the trio, having started the final five games of last season. He served as the primary backup for the first half of the year and became the starter following a season-ending injury to senior Cory Paus, although his first start was delayed a week due to a sprained right shoulder in the same contest in which Paus was injured (California).

In his first start, he quarterbacked the Bruins to a road victory over Washington, completing 13 of 27 passes for 189 yards in Seattle.

On the year, he completed 53 of 104 passes for 702 yards with three touchdowns and four interceptions. He appeared in 10 of 13 games, including the final five as the starter.

Sophomore MATT MOORE (6-4, 181) also gained important experience during the latter half of the 2002 season. Until the injuries to Paus and Olson at California, Moore was scheduled to redshirt. Instead, he started against Stanford in the Rose Bowl the following week and led the Bruins to a 28-18 victory, completing seven of 19 passes for 142 yards and one touchdown.

Moore played in each of the last four games and came off the bench in the SEGA Sports Las Vegas Bowl to help the Bruins defeat New Mexico by completing nine of 16 passes for 80 yards.

In his five games, Moore completed 33 of 62 passes for 412 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions.

Redshirt sophomore JOHN SCIARRA (6-1, 216) will also compete for the quarterback job during Spring Practice. A year ago, Sciarra appeared in five games. Against California, he was pressed into service for the first time (he had previously played just one game (five handoffs) when Paus and Olson were both injured but could not help the Bruins into the end zone. Later in the year, he engineered UCLA's final touchdown drive against USC.

In addition, redshirt freshman walk-on BRIAN CALLAHAN (5-11, 191) will also compete for playing time.

"The quarterback position is a key component of our offensive scheme," said head coach Karl Dorrell. "We believe the young men we have at this position possess the talent and skill to develop into outstanding quarterbacks. Our job is to develop them with a fundamental base and teach an offensive system that will enhance their development.

"I feel it is a plus that all three already have some game experience and we will build upon that experience during the Spring."

RUNNING BACK

This is an area of strength for the Bruins, both in quality and quantity. The candidates for playing time have all contributed in game situations, yet there is only one senior among the group.

Redshirt sophomore tailback TYLER EBELL (5-9, 171) burst onto the scene at Oregon State a year ago and finished the season just six yards shy of becoming the third freshman in Pacific-10 Conference history to rush for 1,000 yards.

Ebell, who came off the bench to rush for 203 yards against the Beavers, ran for at least 100 yards in six consecutive games, one shy of the school record, and rushed for 994 yards to rank fourth in the Pac-10. A second-team Freshman All-American, the powerful Ebell runs as well between the tackles as he does to the outside despite his size. In addition to leading the Bruins in rushing, he also led the team with 10 touchdowns, averaged 11.4 yards on 24 punt returns and led the team with 1,382 all-purpose yards, the 10th-highest total in UCLA history.

Redshirt junior MANUEL WHITE (6-3, 247) is a big, tough back with speed who has the versatility to play both fullback and tailback. In 2002, he started the first four games at fullback before starting at tailback against Oregon State. He strained his left hamstring in the first quarter of that contest and missed the next four games. When he returned to action, he played at both positions for the final four games, starting once at fullback.

On the year, White, who also catches the ball well and has seen a lot of action in one-back sets, ranked second on the team in rushing with 381 yards. He also ranked fourth on the team with 17 receptions for 238 yards and scored seven touchdowns -- five rushing and two receiving.

Fifth-year senior AKIL HARRIS (6-0, 213) has made significant contributions throughout his career and should do so again in 2003. He started the first four games a year ago, leading the Bruin ground attack against Colorado State (94 yards and the go-ahead touchdown) and Oklahoma State (83 yards). He also had some important runs off the bench and finished the year as the team's No. 3 rusher with 323 yards and three scores.

In 2001, he was the team's No. 2 rusher with 375 yards and his average of 4.9 yards per attempt ranked second only to DeShaun Foster among backs. He started two of the final three games and recorded a career-high 138 yards against Arizona State and 79 versus Oregon, scoring a touchdown in each contest.

Third-year sophomore WENDELL MATHIS (6-0, 193), who appeared in nine games a year ago, will also have a chance to impress the coaches with his abilities. In spot duty, he rushed for 50 yards on 18 carries and also earned some time on the kickoff return team. Mathis, who earned 2000 prep All-America honors while rushing for 2,027 yards and 21 touchdowns at Merced (CA) High, possesses outstanding potential.

JASON HARRISON (5-10, 194), another talented tailback, will miss Spring Practice while recovering from two ligament surgeries on his right knee. His status for the 2002 is undetermined at publication time.

The fullback position is wide open when White mans the tailback slot. Sophomore J.D. GROVES (6-2, 240) earned the bulk of the playing time a year ago and did a good job blocking for the tailbacks. Fourth-year junior PAT NORTON (6-1, 253) added depth to the position after missing the year's first two games due to a sprained ankle. RAY CASSADAY (6-1, 238), another fourth-year junior, will also compete for playing time during the Spring.

"We have a great amount of experience among our running backs," said Dorrell. "We want to be able to control the football in key situations and I feel our ability to run the football is enhanced by the experience at this position.

"From watching films of last year's games, it's obvious that Ebell and White did a fine job. Both have the ability to gain yards between the tackles and the speed to take the ball outside. In addition, Manuel has a size to move the pile.

"That being said, I think the other tailbacks and fullbacks have some special talents unique to themselves and it will be the staff's job to identify those strengths and make sure we take advantage of them in our game plans. It should be interesting to watch these players compete during Spring Practice."

WIDE RECEIVER

This is another area in which the Bruins are experienced, returning four of their top five receivers from a year ago. Several of them could be in line for post-season honors.

Leading the way is redshirt junior CRAIG BRAGG (6-2, 189). In just two seasons, this deep threat has made 84 receptions for 1,297 yards and 10 touchdowns. Nine of his 10 scoring receptions and 14 of his 15 career scores of any kind have measured at least 33 yards. No Bruin has ever entered his junior season with more receptions or receiving yards. In 2002, his 55 receptions ranked seventh on UCLA's single season list and his 889 yards ranked eighth and both totals set school sophomore records.

Against Oregon, Bragg enjoyed one of the best afternoons in UCLA history, making nine receptions for 230 yards and three touchdowns -- all career highs. The 230 yards rank second-only to J.J. Stokes' 263 yards versus USC in 1992 and the nine catches tied for eighth on that single-game list.

In addition, he also led the Pac-10 with his 16.0 average on punt returns and was named the Most Valuable Player of the SEGA Sports Las Vegas Bowl after returning a punt 74 yards for the go-ahead touchdown in UCLA's 27-13 victory.

Senior TAB PERRY (6-3, 215) gives the Bruins one of the best wide receiver combinations in the West, if not the nation. A year ago, the versatile senior averaged a Pac-10 best 19.9 yards on his 35 receptions. In addition, he also led the Pac-10 with his average of 25.0 on kickoff returns and set a UCLA record for kickoff return yardage (626). His 1,329 all-purpose yards ranked 13th on UCLA's single-season list and his average of 110.8 all-purpose yards per game ranked seventh in the Pac-10 (he missed one game due to an ankle sprain).

He enjoyed the best game of his career at Oregon State, making a career-high seven receptions for a career-high and team-high 145 yards and five first downs. Against Oregon, he tied his career high with seven receptions and accounted for 126 yards, giving him back-to-back 100-yard games for the first time in his career. He gave the Bruins an early lead with his 55-yard touchdown on UCLA's first offensive play.

Sophomore JUNIOR TAYLOR (6-2, 197) will push Bragg and Perry for playing time at both wide receiver positions. This youngster with great speed scored a touchdown the first time he touched the football as a Bruin on a 49-yard reverse. On the season, this youngster with great potential made 14 receptions, including four in each of his last two games, both of which he started.

Redshirt senior RYAN SMITH (6-3, 213) will add quality depth to the rotation if he has fully recovered from ankle surgery. In 2001, Smith ranked fourth on the squad with 18 catches for 272 yards and scored UCLA's only touchdown in the 13-6 win over Ohio State. Last season, hampered by an ankle injury from the previous year, he made just five receptions, including a 25-yard touchdown at Oklahoma State, and did not play in the final five games of the year.

GARRETT LEPISTO (6-2, 197), a fifth-year senior, will again compete for playing time. This former walk-on, who has also served as the holder on place kicks for the past two years, made two receptions in 2002. Third-year sophomore JACQUES LAZARUS (6-2, 184) and redshirt freshman IDRIS MOSS (5-11, 162) are two youngsters who will have a chance to impress the staff during Spring ball. Lazarus accounted for 2,500 yards of offense as a senior at Pacific Palisades (CA) High in 2000. Moss, who earned prep All-America honors as a cornerback, receiver, quarterback and safety at Rialto (CA) Eisenhower High, spent last Fall learning the nuances of the receiver position.

Freshman ANTWUAN SMITH (5-11, 185), who enrolled in January, has the potential to break into the rotation and should gain valuable experience during Spring Practice. In 2001, he earned prep All-America honors at Buchanan High in Clovis, CA after making 41 receptions for 543 yards and five touchdowns and rushing for 475 yards and eight touchdowns.

"As a former receiver, I like what I have seen on tape in regards to the young men at this position," said Dorrell. "Craig is a special player. He has the speed to score anytime he touches the ball and certainly established himself as a go-to receiver last season. Tab is blessed with great size to go with his other abilities and has certainly made significant contributions the past two years. Both Craig and Tab have the ability to make defenses compensate for them.

"We also have good depth at the position. Junior is only going to get better as he gains experience and Ryan has proved to be a dependable receiver when healthy. Spring Practice will also give us the chance to coach some of the younger players such as Jacques, Idris and Antwuan."

TIGHT END

Despite the loss of Mackey Award finalist and first-team All-Pac-10 performer Mike Seidman, the Bruins have several quality performers returning at this position. The depth is important because one or more of these player might be utilized as an 'H-back' or in multiple tight-end formations.

Third-year sophomore KEITH CARTER (6-4, 246) is the most experienced of the group. Carter earned extensive playing time in each of the last 10 games (four starts) a year ago as both a second tight end and fullback/h-back. On the year, he made five receptions but also aided the running back with his blocking skills. As a senior at Dowingtown (PA) High in 2000, he earned prep All-America honors while making 33 receptions for 420 yards and six touchdowns.

Sophomore MARCEDES LEWIS (6-6, 250) appeared in every game a year ago, starting twice, making six receptions for 51 yards and one touchdown. This season, he appears ready to contend for the starting position. An outstanding all-around athlete (he played with the basketball team following the football season), he has great size, speed, strength and soft hands and figures to make a significant contribution this season. In 2001, Lewis was regarded as the top high school tight end in the nation and made 44 receptions for 710 yards and 11 touchdowns for the CIF Division I champions from Long Beach Poly.

Fifth-year senior BLANE KEZIRIAN (6-6, 241) figures to add depth at the position. Last season, he saw action as a backup tight end in eight of 13 games, mostly in blocking situations.

Redshirt freshman J.J. HAIR (6-5, 241) will also have the opportunity to catch the eyes of the coaching staff during Spring Practice. In his last two seasons at Capistrano Valley High, he totaled 43 receptions for over 700 yards and three touchdowns.

"Despite the loss of Mike Seidman, we have two outstanding young players with experience in Keith and Mercedes," Dorrell said. "Both have different strengths but both are well-rounded tight ends who will have an impact within our scheme. Both Blane and J.J. will also have the opportunity to compete for playing time at this deep position."

OFFENSIVE LINE

Three starters from a year ago — fourth-year junior guards EYOSSEPH EFSEAFF (6-3, 305) and STEVE VIEIRA (6-6, 305) and redshirt sophomore center MIKE McCLOSKEY (6-5, 272) — return in 2002. As the three middle positions on the line, they will be the nucleus of what figures to be an athletic and experienced unit.

Efseaff has developed into one of the top offensive linemen in the West. A tough, aggressive performer who has started 23 of his 24 career games at left guard, he has played virtually every snap during his two-year career. In 2002, he earned second-team All-Pacific-10 acclaim after being selected a second-team

Freshman All-American in 2001. Vieira moved into the starting job at right guard midway through the 2001 season and started all 13 games a year ago, earning All-Pac-10 honorable mention in the process. Vieira, who can also play tackle, is a consistently solid performer who is often overlooked and underappreciated.

McCloskey earned the starting center job in Fall camp and never let it go, starting all 13 games. The youngster played virtually every snap a year ago and earned second-team Freshman All-America honors for his efforts. He is probably UCLA's most athletic center since Mike Flanagan of the Green Bay Packers.

Redshirt junior PAUL MOCILER (6-5, 301) and third-year sophomore ED BLANTON (6-9, 325) are the top candidates to replace tackles Mike Saffer and Bryce Bohlander. Blanton, the largest of the Bruins, flashed his tremendous potential in 2002 when he gained valuable experience playing behind Saffer at right tackle. He also started and played the entire San Diego State contest when Saffer was sidelined. The versatile Mociler, who appeared in half the games in 2002, can contribute at tackle, guard and center. Third-year sophomores MATT MOSEBAR (6-8, 294) and ROBERT CLEARY (6-7, 304) and redshirt freshmen ALEX POTASI (6-6, 294) and ELLIOT VALLEJO (6-7, 269) figure to battle Blanton and Mociler for the starting jobs and playing time. Mosebar saw limited duty behind Bohlander on the left side a year ago while Cleary earned some playing time at guard. Both should benefit with a full Spring of workouts. Potasi and Vallejo are both good athletes who should gain valuable experience during their first Spring Practice, although Potasi will be limited while continuing to rehab from last season's knee surgery.

Fifth-year seniors SHANE LEHMANN (6-5, 297) and TYSON CLAYTON (6-2, 272) figure to compete for playing time at the guard positions. Lehmann, who appeared in several games a year ago, started six games during the 2001 season. Clayton, a non-scholarship performer, earned some playing time a year ago at center and guard.

Redshirt freshman ROBERT CHAI (6-3, 277), who will be participating in his first Spring Practice, will provide depth at center behind McCloskey.

"The offensive line is where it all starts and we are fortunate to have three quality starters returning in the interior of that unit," said Dorrell. "Eyoseph and Steve are an outstanding pair of guards and Mike was very impressive as a first-year starter. All three are very athletic with quick feet and that will enable us to do some things schematically that we might not otherwise do. We will take a long look at all of the tackle candidates. I feel it is a plus that whomever plays at tackle will be working next to experienced guards. In addition, we have some experienced depth at the interior. Overall, I feel this has the potential to be a fine offensive line."

DEFENSE

New coordinator Larry Kerr and the defensive coaches are installing a package that attacks offenses and features numerous blitz packages. Making that job a bit easier will be seven returning starters, including two defensive linemen, two linebackers, two safeties and one cornerback. Many of the returnees earned post-season honors in 2002 and will be in line for more in 2003.

DEFENSIVE LINE

The unquestioned leader of this unit is fifth-year senior right tackle RODNEY LEISLE (6-3, 288). A candidate for All-America honors in 2002, he had his junior season disrupted by a broken foot that caused him to miss five games. Back at full strength, this dominating performer figures to be one of the best players nationally at his position. Leisle had started every game of his career prior to his injury (he started seven in 2002) and his return is a huge plus for the defense. In 2002, he made 36 tackles, including two sacks and five behind the line of scrimmage. He made seven stops against both Alabama and USC.

The other returning starter along the front line is fifth-year senior rush end DAVE BALL (6-6, 268). This aggressive performer enjoyed a spectacular junior campaign, earning second-team All-Pac-10 honors for his efforts. Ball led the Bruins with 11 quarterback sacks and 15 tackles for losses and finished the year with 36 tackles. Only three players in school history — all future NFL stars — ever recorded more sacks in a single season. His efforts should be enhanced this season with the new scheme, which will allow him to line up opposite the weak side of the opponent's formation.

Twin brother MAT BALL (6-6, 275), another fifth year senior, is the leading candidate at the strong side defensive end position. A year ago, M. Ball appeared in every game and finished the year with 18 tackles, including two sacks and six tackles for loss. This season, he and his brother figure to cause problems for opposing offenses.

Senior RYAN BOSCHETTI (6-4, 291) is the top candidate for the tackle position opposite Leisle. Last season, his first at UCLA after transferring from San Mateo College, he started five game after Leisle's injury. Another aggressive performer, he finished the year with 23 tackles, including 1.5 sacks. In 2001, he was rated the nation's No. 2 junior college prospect after making 21 quarterback sacks during his two-year career.

Several experienced performers will be competing for playing time, and possibly starting berths, during Spring drills. Fifth-year senior ASI FAOA (6-4, 265) has been a dependable reserve throughout his career and will compete at both end positions. A year ago, his strong senior made 24 tackles, including two sacks. Redshirt senior DAVID TAUTOFI (6-2, 260), who made five tackles, including two sacks, in limited duty, will also compete at the strong side end position.

Sophomore C.J. NIUSULU (6-2, 300) figures to compete for playing time at the tackle positions. The most advanced of last year's freshmen linemen, he was pressed into service after the fifth game a year ago due to Leisle's injury. He was effective in a reserve roll until his season ended with an emergency appendectomy, making two sacks in his five games. As a prep senior in 2001, Niusulu made 90 tackles in just seven games at Barstow (CA) High.

The coaching staff will also be looking at several young performers to provide quality depth, including redshirt freshman KEVIN HARBOUR (6-4, 244) at end, redshirt freshman THOMAS PATTON (6-3, 263) at tackle and third-year sophomore JAMES JESSEN (6-4, 227) at end. In 2001, Harbour was credited with 72 tackles and 14 sacks at Los Angeles (CA) Loyola High while Patton registered 78 tackles, including 14 sacks and four fumble recoveries, at Oakland (CA) Technical High. In addition, redshirt freshman KIRBY JOSEPH (6-2, 241) may also get a look at rush end when he recovers from off-season knee surgery (he will not participate in Spring drills) Joseph, who redshirted as a linebacker last season after shoulder surgery, accounted for 60 tackles and eight quarterback sacks as a senior in 2001 at Lake Charles, LA Washington/Marion High.

"Rodney Leisle's decision to play his senior season was a huge positive for our defensive unit," said Dorrell. "He is the type of player who creates opportunities for his teammates because opponents must pay so much attention to him. He is a dominating performer who will excel in this scheme."

"Dave Ball had an outstanding junior year and we expect him to build upon that this season. We feel playing him at the weak side all of the time will give him more opportunities to create havoc in the opponent's backfield."

"We have a nice blend of experience and youth along the front four. We could start four seniors, including Mat, Ryan or Asi, and we have some young players who can build for the future by gaining some valuable experience this year."

LINEBACKER

UCLA returns two starters, both of whom figure to contend for post-season honors after enjoying productive seasons a year ago.

Senior BRANDON CHILLAR (6-3, 233) is the leader of this unit. A fine all-around performer who possesses the size and strength to take on tight ends and the quickness to rush the quarterback or cover pass routes, he ranked third with 74 tackles. His 5.0 quarterback sacks were second to D. Ball while his 11 tackles for loss ranked third. He started all 13 games on the strong side in 2002.

Redshirt sophomore SPENCER HAVNER (6-4, 229) was one of the year's pleasant surprises. A very athletic linebacker, he ranks first among returnees with his 96 tackles, which also rank second on UCLA's all-time freshman tackle list. A first-team Freshman All-America selection, he ranked second on team with his 12 tackles for loss and returned two of his three interceptions for touchdowns to tie an NCAA record for linebackers.

Redshirt senior DENNIS LINK (6-2, 215) and sophomore JUSTIN LONDON (6-1, 235) are the top candidates to fill the vacated inside linebacker spot. Link, a quick all-around athlete, was a dependable reserve behind Marcus Reese a year ago, made 10 tackles in 2002. London saw limited action on defense as a true freshman but has the potential to develop into a fine collegiate linebacker. In 2001, he was regarded as one of the top linebackers on the East Coast after recording 120 tackles as a senior at Northside High School in Roanoke, VA.

Fourth-year junior TIM WARFIELD (6-2, 251) will compete for playing time at middle linebacker at middle linebacker. The top reserve behind Chillar on the strong side a year ago, he appeared in six games on defense and 11 overall, finishing with six tackles.

Sophomore WESLEY WALKER (6-2, 222) and redshirt freshman XAVIER BURGESS (6-2, 243) figure to compete for playing time behind Chillar on the strong side. As a true freshman a year ago, Walker appeared in six games on defense and 12 on special teams, finishing with six tackles. A youngster with outstanding linebacking skills, he earned prep All-America honors in 2001, making 120 tackles and eight sacks at LaPuente, CA Bishop Amat High. Burgess, another talented youngster, was a prep All-American at Grant Union High School in Sacramento, CA in 2001, making 85 stops, including 14 sacks.

Redshirt junior PATRICK PIERRE-LOUIS (6-0, 216) figures to compete for playing time behind Havner. Pierre-Louis, a talented transfer from Glendale Community College, redshirted last season. At Glendale in 2001, he made 97 tackles.

"Brandon and Spencer are two of the best linebackers in the Pac-10 and we are going to do whatever we can to take advantage of their skills," said Dorrell. "Linebackers play an important role in this defensive scheme and we will feature these two individuals as much as possible. Overall, I think this is a talented group of linebackers. The goal in the Spring is to establish a starter in the middle so we will take a long look at Dennis and Justin, and to solidify the reserve spots on the outside."

SECONDARY

The Bruins have three returning starters in the secondary, all of whom have at least two seasons of eligibility remaining. The key will be replacing three-time All-Pac-10 cornerback Ricky Manning, who started the final 45 contests of his 47-game Bruin.

Leading the way is junior MATT WARE (6-3, 201), who has started all 24 games of his career. A great athlete with the talent to play any position in the secondary, he is pencilled in at cornerback. A year ago, he opened the season at free safety but shifted to cornerback, the position at which he starred as a freshman, after the third game of the season. On the year, he made 51 tackles to rank fifth on the squad. In 2001, he became the first true freshman in school history to start every game, earning first-team Freshman All-America honors at cornerback. He led the team with five interceptions, the most by a Bruin since 1997, made 32 tackles and recovered two fumbles.

Fourth-year junior BEN EMANUEL II (6-3, 203) started 12 of 13 games a year ago, shifting from strong safety to free safety prior to the fourth game of the season. He flourished in the new position and finished the year as the Bruins' fourth-leading tackler, making 58 stops. He also tied for the team lead with four interceptions, including one for a touchdown.

The development of sophomore strong safety JARRAD PAGE (6-1, 200) made all the shifting in the secondary possible. Page, who earned first-team Freshman All-America honors, became a starter in his fourth game as a Bruin. He started the final 10 games of the season, becoming the first UCLA true freshman safety since Kenny Easley to start that many games. He finished the year with 43 tackles and two interceptions, one of which he returned for a touchdown in the SEGA Sports Las Vegas Bowl. Page will miss Spring Practice while playing with the Bruin baseball team.

Four other talented safeties will compete against Emanuel and Page for playing time and starting positions. Redshirt senior free safety KEVIN BRANT (6-0, 190) has been a capable reserve and special teams standout throughout his career. He made 13 tackles a year ago, started once as a sophomore and played virtually the entire USC contest that year. Redshirt freshman strong safety ERIC McNEAL (6-2, 211), one of the top prep players at his position in 2001, will get a chance to display his talents in Spring Practice after redshirting last season. As a high school senior, McNeal made 80 tackles and seven interceptions at Serra High in Gardena, CA.

Junior strong safety JIBRIL RAYMO (6-3, 203), one of just three true freshmen to letter in 2001, appeared in eight games defensively a year ago, starting once in place of Emanuel. On the year, this physical performer made 18 tackles. He also recovered a blocked punt for a touchdown. Another redshirt freshman, JOE GARCIA (6-0, 185) will open Spring drills at strong safety. In 2001, he earned prep All-America honors while making 68 tackles, three interceptions and 13 pass break-ups at Los Alamitos (CA) High.

There are five candidates for the open cornerback position opposite Ware — sophomore GLENN OHAERI (5-9, 199), redshirt sophomore MARCUS CASSEL (6-0, 174), junior MATT CLARK (5-9, 171), senior KEITH SHORT (5-10, 178) and redshirt freshman JEBIAUS BROWN (6-0, 179). All will get the opportunity to compete for the starting job and to add depth on both sides.

Clark, who possesses outstanding quickness, was one of just three true freshmen to letter in 2001. Last season, he was one of the top reserves at cornerback, appearing in nine games and making seven tackles. Ohaeri earned playing time last season as a true freshman, mostly on special teams. He is aggressive and possesses the athletic ability to play corner or safety. As a senior at San Bernardino, CA Aquinas High, he earned All-America honors while rushing for over 2,000 yards on offense and starring in the secondary. Cassel is another fine prospect whose action has been limited thus far to special teams. As a senior in 2000, he made 60 tackles and two interceptions at St. John Bosco High in Bellflower, CA.

Short has been a dependable reserve throughout his career. In addition, he is a special teams standout, participating on the kickoff and punt coverage teams as well as the punt return unit. In 2002, he made 15 tackles. Brown, who redshirted in 2002, possesses good coverage skills. He made 55 stops and three interceptions in his senior season at Milpitas, CA High.

“This is an area at which I feel we have a nice combination of experience and youth,” Dorrell said. “We have three returning starters who each have at least two years remaining to help us raise our level of performance in the secondary. We also appear to have some talented youngsters and reserves to compete against the starters and fill the open cornerback spot. I think the competition at these positions will be interesting to watch during Spring Practice.”

SPECIALISTS

For the first time since the 1998 season, Nate Fikse will not be part of the Bruin kicking unit. Last season, not only did he handle the punting and kickoff chores, he assumed the field goal duties midway through the season.

Redshirt freshman JUSTIN MEDLOCK (6-0, 193) enters the Spring as the top candidate to replace Fikse on the field goal and kickoff teams. This youngster possesses a very strong leg which he demonstrated time and time again during practice a year ago. As a prep senior in 2001, he earned All-America honors, making four of six field goals, including a long of 48 yards, and averaging 43.1 yards per punt. Eighteen of his 20 kickoffs went for touchbacks

Redshirt junior CHRIS KLUWE (6-5, 212) is the top candidate for the punting job Fikse performed for four seasons. Last year, he kicked once for 44 yards but worked on developing more consistency in practice. As a prep senior in 1999, Kluwe was both a punter and place kicker, earning first-team All-America honors at the former position. He averaged 46.6 yards as a punter and made 16 of 22 field goal attempts as a place kicker.

Wide receiver GARRETT LEPISTO (6-2, 197), a fifth-year junior, will serve as the holder for the third straight year but the Bruins will have to find a new long snapper for the second consecutive season. Junior college transfer JOE TOMASELLO (6-2, 210) could be the answer, but he will miss Spring Practice due to off-season shoulder surgery.

The Bruins have a wealth of experienced punt and kickoff returners, making this an area of strength for the team.

Redshirt junior CRAIG BRAGG (6-2, 189) led the Pac-10 with his punt return average of 16.0 yards on 16 attempts and was named the Most Valuable Player of the SEGA Sports Las Vegas Bowl after breaking a 6-6 tie with a 74-yard scoring return. In addition, redshirt sophomore TYLER EBELL (5-9, 171) ranked fifth in the league with his average of 11.4 yards on 24 returns.

Senior TAB PERRY (6-3, 215) set a new school record with 626 kickoff return yards, breaking the mark he set in 2000. Perry, who ranked third in the Pac-10 with his 25.0 average, figures to conclude his career at the top of the kickoff return and kickoff return yardage charts. Junior cornerback MATT CLARK (5-9, 171) has some experience returning kicks, as does redshirt sophomore tailback JASON HARRISON (5-10, 194), who averaged 23.4 on nine returns a year ago.

“Special teams are an extremely important part of any football team,” Dorrell said. “One of our primary goals during Spring Practice is to evaluate our kickers and long snappers, since they have virtually no game experience, and our coverage units. We do have some very talented return specialists and the staff will watch them, as well as several other candidates so we can put our best weapons on the field.”

#43 DAVE BALL

DEFENSIVE END

6-6, 268, SR.**

DIXON, CA

DIXON HS

UCLA — This aggressive performer enters his senior season as a candidate for All-America honors ... A two-year returning starter, he enjoyed a second straight productive year ... During the season, he showed improved strength and quickness ... Dave really focused on his pass rush technique and closing off the edge ... He possesses fine speed and pursues the football very well ... He will have a chance to move into the all-time career Top 10 in tackles for loss and sacks with another big season.

2002 — Named second-team All-Pac-10 after an outstanding season in which he started in 12 of the 13 games ... Led the team with 11.5 sacks and 15 tackles for loss ... His 11.5 sacks rank fourth on UCLA's single-season list and are the most by a Bruin since Donnie Edwards recorded 12.5 in 1994 ... His 11.5 sacks total ranked sixth in the Pac-10 ... His 15.0 tackles for loss rank seventh (tied) on the school single-season list ... In the season-opener against Colorado State, he was credited with three tackles, including one for loss ... At Oklahoma State, he made one tackle and recovered a fumble that ended a Cowboy scoring threat and led to a Bruin touchdown ... In the Colorado game, he made four tackles, including one sack ... At San Diego State, Dave made two stops and had one sack ... At Oregon State, he started for the 16th straight game and made two tackles, including a sack for the third consecutive week ... His starting streak was snapped against Oregon, as he was forced to sit out the first half of the game after being ejected from the OSU game, but still managed to record a sack for the fourth straight week ... At Cal, he had two sacks among his three tackles ... He had a season-high six tackles against Stanford and one sack ... At Washington, he recorded three sacks and five tackles ... At Arizona, Dave had two tackles, including 0.5 sacks and another for loss ... It marked his eighth straight game with a sack ... Against USC, he made three tackles ... He had one tackle for loss in the Washington State game ... He made three stops, including one sack, in the bowl win over New Mexico ... Named the winner of the Jerry Long "Heart" Award for a defensive player.

2001 — Started every game at right end and earned All-Pac-10 honorable mention ... Against Alabama, he did a good job on his assignments, just missing a quarterback sack late in the game ... Against Kansas, he made three tackles ... In the win over Washington, he made three tackles, including a 14-yard sack and a second stop behind the line ... His sack also created a fumble at the Bruin 13-yard line to halt a scoring threat in the third quarter ... He was credited with two tackles versus California and one at Stanford ... At Washington State, he made a season-high six tackles (two solos), including two for losses, and added one assist and a pass defense versus Oregon ... He finished the year with 18 tackles, including four stops behind the line of scrimmage ... On the field for at least 40 plays in nine games last season with a high of 69 in the game at Washington State.

2000 — Ball made his first start in the road win at Arizona and had three tackles, including one for loss ... He tipped a pass that Rodney Leisle intercepted with 10 seconds remaining to seal the win ... Ball became the eighth different defensive linemen to start a game, and the fourth at strong-side defensive end ... Against Stanford, he made five tackles and recovered one fumble ... At Washington, he came off the bench to make a career-high eight tackles, including one sack on which he forced a fumble, and a second for loss ... He added one tackle against USC ... Ball started against Wisconsin in the Sun Bowl and made two stops ... On the year, he played in all 12 games, starting three, and played at least 40 snaps in each of the last five games, including 73 at Washington, 71 versus Stanford, 66 versus Wisconsin and 60 at Arizona.

1999 — Did not play in his first season in the program and has one season of eligibility remaining.

HIGH SCHOOL — Earned three varsity letters in football as a defensive end for coach Tom Crumpacker at Dixon High in Dixon, CA ... PrepStar All-American and rated the No. 12 defensive lineman in the Western Region by PrepStar ... # #87 CRAIG BRAGG

SPLIT END

6-2, 189, Jr.*

SAN JOSE, CA

BELLARMINE PREP

UCLA — This big-play performer enters his junior season as a candidate for All-America honors after leading the Bruins in receiving for the second year in a row ... Earned All-Pac-10 honorable mention during a season in which he climbed in the UCLA record books ... Bragg will enter the 2003 season with 84 receptions (17th on the all-time school list) and 1,297 yards (16th on the all-time school list) ... No Bruin has ever entered their junior season with more receptions or receiving yards ... Craig set a class record with 55 receptions in 2002 and his 889 receiving yards also set a sophomore record ... The most consistent of the receivers, he possesses excellent speed, is very quick and elusive and runs very good routes ... He is also a talented kick returner ... Craig has big play potential and teams with Tab Perry to give UCLA an outstanding tandem of wide receivers.

2002 — Bragg led the team in receptions, receiving yards and touchdowns and produced 34 first downs ... He finished his sophomore season ranked No. 1 on the all-time school list for receiving yards (889) for the class, breaking J.J. Stokes' mark of 728, set in 1992 ... That total ranked No. 8 on the school single-season receiving yard list ... His 55 receptions were the most ever by a sophomore, surpassing Mike Sherrard's total of 48 in 1983 ... The mark ranks No. 7 on that single-season list at UCLA ... His nine touchdowns measured 74 (punt return), 41, 33, 5, 37, 53, 71, 46 and 33 yards — an average of 43.6 yards per play and his career touchdown average is 44.1 (42.0 on receptions) ... He ranked ninth in the Pac-10 in receiving yards (68.4), 10th in receptions (4.23) and first in punt returns (16.0) ... Bragg tied for the team lead with four catches versus Colorado State for 49 yards ... At Oklahoma State, he led the team with 89 yards on his three receptions ... He also scored his first touchdown of the season on a 41-yard strike from Cory Paus ... He also gained 35 yards on two rushing plays ... In the Colorado game, Bragg grabbed seven balls for 70 yards and two touchdowns ... His first score came on a pass from receiver Jon Dubravac and measured 33 yards ... His other scoring play came on a five-yard toss from Paus ... At San Diego State, he made four catches for 60 yards, including a 37-yard touchdown on a third-and-28 play ... At Oregon State, he had two catches for 22 yards ... He enjoyed one of the best afternoons in UCLA history when he caught nine passes for 230 yards for three touchdowns against Oregon ... The 230 yards rank second-only to J.J. Stokes's 263 yards versus USC in 1992 ... The nine catches tied for eighth on the all-time school list and were the most by a Bruin since Freddie Mitchell made nine versus Wisconsin in the 2000 Sun Bowl ... The three receiving touchdowns were the most by a Bruin since Stokes scored four against Washington in 1993 ... His first touchdown against the Ducks came on a 53-yard toss from Dubravac, who had lined up in the backfield ... Score number two came on a 71-yard aerial from Paus ... The final score came on an inside screen and produced a 46-yard touchdown ... At California, he broke the 100-yard receiving barrier for the second straight game, finishing with seven catches for 113 yards ... Against Stanford, he made three catches for 19 yards in Matt Moore's first start at quarterback ... At Washington, he made two catches for 22 yards and returned three punts for 63 yards, including a 48-yarder which set up a Bruin score ... At Arizona, he caught three balls for 64 yards and had one rush for four yards ... He raced 33-yards with an inside screen for a touchdown, becoming No. 1 on UCLA's single-season sophomore receiving yardage list in the process ... Against USC, he tied for the team lead with five catches for 91 yards ... He caught two passes in the Washington State game ... In the bowl game win over New Mexico, he caught four balls for 38 yards and broke a 6-6 tie when he returned a punt 74 yards for a touchdown ... He was selected Most Valuable Player in the SEGA Sports Las Vegas Bowl ... Named the winner of the Paul I. Wellman Award for All-Around Excellence.

2001 — Bragg concluded his first season of action on a high note, making 13 receptions in the final two games ... On the year, he led the team with 29 receptions, averaging 14.1 yards per catch ... He was the first freshman to lead UCLA in catches since Danny Farmer in 1996 ... He ranked third on the squad with 408 yards and tied for the team lead with two receiving touchdowns ... His 62 yard touchdown vs. Arizona State was the team's longest reception of the year ... He was also the team's No. 4 rusher with 100 yards (12.5 average) and two touchdowns ... He also averaged a team-high 8.4 yards on 14 punt returns and ranked seventh in the Pac-10 ... He ranked second on the squad with his four total touchdowns ... Saw action in all 11 games and made four starts on the year, three at flanker and one at split end ... Bragg saw the first action of his career in the Alabama game and had a 27-yard kickoff return, a 21-yard punt return and two runs for 23 yards, including one for 22 yards ... At Kansas, he ran a reverse for a 37-yard touchdown and made the first reception of his career (five yards) ... Against Ohio State, he made one catch for 15 yards and had a 14-yard punt return ... At Oregon State, he made his first career start (three wideouts) and made two catches for 21 yards, ran one reverse for five yards and returned two punts 13 yards ... Against Washington, he averaged 10.0 yards on four punt returns, including one for 26 yards, made one reception for 10 yards and gained four yards on a reverse ... In the win over California, he scored UCLA's first touchdown on a 42-yard double reverse run, laid out for a 58-yard catch to set up a score and added one eight-yard punt return ... At Stanford, he made three receptions for 32 yards and averaged 19.5 yards on four kickoff returns ... At Washington State, he started at split end and led the team with four receptions (36 yards) ... Against Oregon, he made three receptions for 64 yards, including a great over-the-shoulder catch between two defenders for 54 yards ... Against USC, he made six receptions for 29 yards ... Received the George W. Dickerson Award for Outstanding Offensive Player in the USC game at the team banquet ... In the regular-season finale against Arizona State, he made a career-high seven receptions for 138 yards and two touchdowns of 62 and 39 yards.

2000 — Did not appear in a game during his first year with the program and has two seasons of eligibility remaining ... Offensive winner of UCLA's Charles Pike Memorial Award for Outstanding Scout Team Player.

#2 TYLER EBELL

TAILBACK

5-9, 171, So.****

VENTURA, CA

VENTURA HS

UCLA — Tyler was one of the success stories of the 2002 season and established himself as an exciting performer ... He came off the bench at Oregon State, in the fifth game of the season after carrying just 13 times in prior games, to enjoy one of the greatest days in UCLA history ... He went on to approach the 1,000 yard rushing mark for the season and earn second-team All-Pac-10 acclaim ... He possesses a lot of tools, including outstanding speed and quickness ... He figures to contribute on special teams again after ranking among the conference leaders in punt returns.

2002 — Earned second-team freshman All-America honors from The Sporting News ... Selected second-team all-conference by vote of the league coaches ... Led the Bruin team in rushing with 994 yards ... Leading scorer on the Bruin team with 10 touchdowns (60 points) ...

Ranked fourth in the Pac-10 in rushing (76.5), fifth in punt returns (11.4), ninth in all-purpose yards (106.3) and 13th in total offense despite not earning much playing time until the season's fifth game ... In eight Pac-10 games, he carried 197 times for 876 yards and eight touchdowns (108.3 yards per game average) ... Ebell ended the season just six yards shy of becoming only the third freshman in Pac-10 history to rush for 1,000 yards ... His 994 yards ranked 17th on the school single-season list, while his 1,382 all-purpose yards ranks No. 10 on the UCLA list ... Ebell ranked seventh nationally among freshman rushers ... He became the first freshman (true or redshirt) in school history to rush for at least 100 yards in six games (the old record was two, held by several players), all consecutive ... He also set a new school freshman rushing record, breaking Eric Ball's old mark of 703 yards, set in 1985 ... Ebell was the first freshman since DeShaun Foster in 1998 to lead the team in rushing ... His streak of six straight 100 yards games was the second-longest one-season streak in school history (Gaston Green did it seven times in 1986) ... On October, 5 at Oregon State, Ebell came off the bench in the second quarter following an injury to Manuel White to enjoy one of the greatest days in UCLA history ... He rushed for 203 yards and one touchdown on 29 carries ... His 203 yards ranked 14th on UCLA's single-season game (second on UCLA's single-game freshman list) list ... He ran for 45 yards on 12 attempts in the second quarter, 34 yards on eight carries in the third quarter and 124 yards on nine carries in the fourth quarter ... His 73-yard fourth quarter rush to the one-yard line was the second longest ever by a Bruin freshman (83 yards by Derek Ayers vs. BYU in 1993) ... Ebell made the first start of his career against Oregon and ran for 119 yards (89 on 15 attempts in the second half) on 26 attempts ... He also returned five punts for 64 yards ... At Cal, he started and broke the 100-yard barrier for the third straight week, finishing with 102 yards on 28 attempts ... He scored UCLA's only touchdown on an 11-yard run ... Against Stanford, he rushed for 160 yards (fourth straight game over 100 yards) and the go-ahead touchdown on 39 carries, three shy of the school record for carries ... In the second half, he carried 25 times for 118 yards ... He carried the ball on 25 of UCLA's 33 offensive snaps (excluding two kneel downs at the end of the contest) in the second half of the game ... In the fourth quarter, he carried on the final 12 snaps ... At Washington, Ebell reached the 100-yard plateau for the fifth straight game, finishing with 102 yards and three one-yard touchdowns on 31 attempts ... He had three double-figure runs, including rushes of 23 and 22 yards ... At Arizona, he became only the second UCLA player in history to rush for over 100 yards in six consecutive games in the same season ... Ebell finished with 124 yards and two touchdowns on 22 carries ... He had four runs of at least 19 yards in the game ... Against USC, he led the Bruins with 56 yards on 12 attempts. He had runs of 11 and 13 yards on UCLA's first possession of the second half, but carried just twice more with the Bruins facing a 35-7 deficit ... He also made two receptions for 29 yards ... ## #1 TAB PERRY

FLANKER

6-3, 215, Sr.

MILPITAS, CA

MILPITAS HS

UCLA — Tab is a big, physical wide receiver who has the potential to become a dominant player ... He and Craig Bragg give the Bruins an outstanding tandem at wide receiver and he should contend for post-season honors ... His career receiving totals are now 62 catches for 1,172 yards and three touchdowns ... He ranks 17th in UCLA history in career yardage and 23rd in receptions ... He has shown the ability to perform well in all aspects of wide receiver play, including route running and blocking ... He possesses very good speed and big-play capability ... Has experience as both a slot receiver and flanker ... An outstanding kickoff returner who has sent many Bruin records in this area ... Enters his senior year ranked second in career kickoff returns (56) and kickoff return yardage (1,262 yards).

2002 — Saw action in 12 games, missing the Washington State contest ... Started 10 times, coming off the bench against Colorado and New Mexico ... He ranked second on the team with his 698 receiving yards and third with his 35 receptions and produced 24 first downs ... His average of 19.94 yards per reception led the conference

... Ranked 13th in the Pac-10 with his average of 58.2 yards per game ... His 1,329 all-purpose yards ranked 13th on the all-time school list ... His 25 kickoff returns ranked second all-time behind his own record of 29, set in 2000 ... His 626 kickoff return yards set a school record, breaking his own old mark of 598, set in 2000, and his 25.0 kickoff return average ranked third in the conference ... He ranked seventh in the Pac-10 with his average of 110.8 all-purpose yards and his average of 21.68 yards per play was the highest in the league ... Had two catches for 43 yards in the season-opener against Colorado State ... Made three catches for 77 yards at Oklahoma State, producing first downs on all three grabs ... In the Colorado game, he made three catches for 23 yards and averaged 29.7 yards on three kickoff returns ... At San Diego State, he made two grabs for 25 yards ... He had the best game of his career at Oregon State, making seven catches for 145 yards and five first downs ... Three of his catches measured at least 25 yards and two helped sustain long scoring drives ... In addition, he also recovered Oregon State's inside kick to help seal the victory ... He also returned three kickoffs for 51 yards ... Against Oregon, he tied his career high with seven catches and totaled 126 yards, giving him back-to-back 100-yard receiving games for the first time in his career ... He gave the Bruins an early lead with his 55-yard scoring grab on UCLA's first offensive play from scrimmage and produced four first downs on the day ... He returned three kickoffs for 88 yards, including one of 38 yards ... Made one catch for 13 yards at Cal and returned two kickoffs for 43 yards ... Against Stanford, he had receptions of 38 yards on UCLA's first touchdown drive and a spectacular 49-yard catch to set a field goal late in the second quarter ... At Washington, he made four catches for 64 yards and two first downs ... He had a 23-yard catch on UCLA's first touchdown drive and a 24-yard catch that led to a touchdown ... At Arizona, he made three catches for a team-high 89 yards ... He made a great 40-yard catch to set up a touchdown and also had a 37-yard catch-and-run on UCLA's first field goal drive ... Against USC, he sprained an ankle in the first quarter and was limited to one catch for six yards ... He averaged 31.0 yards on four kickoff returns ... He sat out the Washington State game due to the ankle injury ... He did not make a catch in the bowl game win over New Mexico, but did return two kickoffs for a total of 50 yards ... That yardage moved him into first place on UCLA's single-season kickoff return yardage list.

2001 — Saw action in nine games with eight starting assignments ... Missed the Oregon and USC games due to a rib injury suffered in the Washington State game ... On the year, Perry led the team with 416 receiving yards and was third with 21 receptions ... He tied for the team lead with two receiving touchdowns ... He made one reception of at least 40 yards in four of his nine games ... In his first career start at Alabama, he made five receptions for 113 yards and one touchdown ... ## BRUINS SIGN 18 HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS TO FOOTBALL LETTERS-OF-INTENT Running back Maurice Drew, defensive linemen Kevin Brown, Bruce Davis and Junior Lemau'u and safety Dennis Keyes head the list of 18 high school seniors who have signed football letters-of-intent to attend UCLA.

Drew, the SuperPrep Far West Offensive Player of the Year, rushed for 1,457 yards and 20 touchdowns and was selected to the Parade Magazine All-America team. Brown, who starred on both defense and offense; Davis, who made 65 tackles, including 12 quarterback sacks; Lemau'u, who made 89 tackles; and Keyes, who made 88 tackles and four interceptions, all made several All-America squads.

"We are very pleased with the young men of this recruiting class," said new head coach Karl Dorrell. "Not only are they quality players, they are quality people who will represent the University very well."

"Last month, our staff identified areas of need in terms of recruiting and I feel we did very well, especially considering the late start. It has been my experience that it usually takes two or three years to really be able to assess the quality of a recruiting class, but I feel that the young men who decided to be a part of this first class will be the beginning of something special here at UCLA."

Seven of the new Bruins were named PrepStar All-Americans, including defensive lineman Kevin Brown, defensive end Bruce Davis, running back Maurice Drew, wide receiver Alex Ghebreselassie, offensive lineman P.J. Irvin, safety Dennis Keyes and defensive lineman Junior Lemau'u, who was also named to PrepStar's Dream Team.

Six of the new Bruins were named to SuperPrep's All-America team, including K. Brown, Davis, Drew, Ghebreselassie, Keyes and running back Derrick Williams.

Sixteen of the signees were named to SuperPrep's All-Region teams, including cornerback Trey Brown, K. Brown, wide receiver Joe Cowan, Davis, offensive lineman Nikola Dragovic, Drew, defensive lineman Ghebreselassie, safety Chris Horton, Irvin, Keyes, Lemau'u, fullback Michael Pitre, defensive lineman William Snead, defensive lineman Noah Sutherland, defensive end Aaron Whittington and Williams.

Thirteen of the signees were named to PrepStars All-Region teams, including K. Brown, Cowan, Davis, Drew, Ghebreselassie, Horton, Irvin, Keyes, Lemau'u, Pitre, Sutherland, Whittington and Williams.

Davis was named a Tom Lemming All-American. Nine more new Bruins — T. Brown, Cowan, Dragovic, Drew, Ghebreselassie, Irvin, Keyes, Whittington and Williams — were named Lemming All-Region choices.

The Bruins also signed defensive back Milvon James and 'athlete' Jimmy Stephens.

UCLA's members of the Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West team include Cowan, Keyes and Williams.

UCLA's members of the Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 include K. Brown, Cowan, Drew, Ghebreselassie, Irvin, Keyes, Lemau'u and Williams.

Five new Bruins — K. Brown, Davis, Drew, Irvin and Lemau'u — earned six stars from Max Emfinger. K. Brown, Drew, Keyes and Lemau'u earned four stars from The Insiders.com while K. Brown, Drew, Ghebreselassie, Irvin and Lemau'u earned four stars from Rivals.com.
