

INOKE BRECKTERFIELD

DEFENSIVE LINE - 1ST SEASON
OREGON STATE '07

Inoke (pronounced ee-NO-kay) Breckterfield, an All-Pac-10 defensive lineman as a player, is in his first season as defensive line coach.

"Inoke is an outstanding young talent who I feel will have a great impact on our defensive linemen," said head coach Rick Neuheisel at the time of the hire. "(Oregon State head coach) Mike Riley and (Montana head coach) Robin Pflugrad were both effusive in their praise of Inoke and he really impressed me, Joe Tresey and the other defensive assistants during his interview. You can tell by listening to him that he is a real people person who will connect with our linemen and will be an outstanding recruiter as well."

Breckterfield, 33, coached the defensive line at Montana in the 2010 season. The Grizzlies ranked first in the Big Sky and 14th in the BCS in tackles for loss (7.64 per game) and second in the league and 18th nationally in sacks per contest (2.64). Montana ranked 103rd and 88th in those categories, respectively, in 2009.

The new Bruin coach tutored the defensive line at Weber State in 2009. Following that season, he moved to Portland State but was hired at Montana two months later.

Prior to his stint in Ogden, UT he spent three seasons under coach Riley at his alma mater, Oregon State. He was a graduate assistant coach for the Beavers in 2008 and 2007 and was a volunteer coach in 2006, working with the defensive line.

As a player, he was a standout defensive lineman for the Beavers, and was coached by Riley in his final two years (1997-98). As a senior in 1998, he was named first-team All-Pac-10 and third team All-American (Associated Press) at defensive end. In addition, he was voted team MVP, was the defensive winner of the Morris Trophy Award (the best defensive lineman in the league as voted on by Pac-10 offensive linemen), selected to play in the Hula Bowl (named the game's "Outstanding Lineman") and named Oregon State's "Male Athlete of the Year."

As a junior at OSU, he was named second team All-Pac-10, team MVP and honorable mention All-American. He was honorable mention all-league as a sophomore and chosen OSU's "Rookie of the Year" on defense as a freshman. Breckterfield left OSU as the school's career leader in tackles for loss (55.5) and sacks (19.5) and is currently ranked second in both categories at the school.

Following his college career, he played in the Canadian Football League for five seasons for the Toronto Argonauts (1999-2000) and the Winnipeg Blue Bombers (2001-03). He worked in the private sector in Aiea, Hawaii, from 2003-06 and then returned to OSU to attend school and serve as a volunteer assistant coach.

TIM HUNDLEY

SECONDARY - 3RD SEASON
WESTERN OREGON STATE '74

Tim Hundley, who has a long association with head coach Rick Neuheisel, rejoined the Bruin staff in February of 2009 as secondary coach, in charge of safeties. Hundley had served seven seasons on Neuheisel's staffs at Colorado and Washington and both were assistants at UCLA for four seasons.

In 2010, Hundley tutored an outstanding safety duo of Rahim Moore (2nd rd. selection in NFL Draft), who earned first-team All-America honors, and Tony Dye, the team's top tackler. In 2009, Moore led the nation with 10 interceptions, the second-highest total in school history, from his free safety spot and earned first-team All-America and first-team All-Conference honors. The Bruins led the Pac-10 in turnovers gained, with 30, were ranked second in pass defense and third in total defense.

In '08, Hundley served as Assistant Head Coach/Defense at SMU. He spent the previous four years ('04-'07) as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at the University of Texas-El Paso. In '07, UTEP ranked 17th in the nation in turnover ratio at plus-nine and placed two players on the All-Conference USA squad. During his four-year stint, his Miner players captured a total of 10 All-Conference honors and one Defensive Player of the Year award. In '05, Hundley was recognized by Scouts, Inc., as one of five coordinators nationally with the "best head-coaching potential."

Hundley has coached in 14 bowl games, including two Rose Bowls, and groomed 21 players who moved on to the National Football League, including Marquis Cooper (Seattle), Thomas Howard (Oakland), Michael Lewis (49ers), Quinton Demps (Eagles), Kenny Taylor (Bears) and UCLA alums Rahim Moore (Denver), Ryan Neufeld (Buffalo), Donnie Edwards (Chiefs, Chargers) and Tommy Bennett (Cardinals). In addition, Hundley recruited six players who garnered collegiate All-America honors - David Kilson (Nevada), Andre Gurode (Colorado), Michael Lewis (Colorado), Cade McNown (UCLA), Sam Merriman (Idaho) and Jamir Miller (UCLA). He has also served as coordinator for two Coach-of-the-Year selections - Dave Kragthorpe of Oregon St. (Pac-10) in '89 and Mike Price of UTEP (AFCA Region Four) in '04.

Hundley's coaching resume includes 18 years as a defensive coordinator - two at Clackamas Community College ('75-'76), one at Idaho ('79), six at Oregon State ('84-'89), five at Washington ('99-'03) and four at UTEP.

Hundley served as the defensive coordinator at Washington, under Neuheisel from '99-'02, and as co-defensive coordinator for the Huskies in '03. He tutored the outside linebackers from '99-'02 before overseeing the entire linebacking corps in '03. He also supervised the punt coverage unit during his final season with the Huskies.

He began his coaching career in '74 as a graduate assistant at Western Oregon State, his alma mater. He went on to stints at Clackamas Community College ('75-'76), Idaho ('77-'79) and Nevada ('80-'81). In '78, he coached the running backs at Idaho, marking the only time in his coaching career that he has spent time on the offensive side of the ball. In '82, he began a long-running association with the Pac-10 Conference. He worked at Oregon State for eight years before enjoying six seasons ('90-'95) at UCLA as inside linebackers coach and, in the latter three years, special teams coordinator. The '93 Bruin staff also included Neuheisel, offensive line coach Bob Palcic and running backs coach Wayne Moses. After three years on Neuheisel's staff at Colorado ('96-'98), he followed him to Washington.

Hundley was inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame after an All-America football career at Western Oregon State. He was a three-time All-Conference selection in college. He earned his bachelor's degree in education from Western Oregon State in '74, and added a master's degree in education from Idaho in '78. MIKE JOHNSON

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR / WIDE RECEIVERS - 1ST SEASON
AKRON '90

Mike Johnson, who has 10 years of NFL coaching experience and three at the collegiate level, at Oregon State, is set to begin his first year with the Bruin program. He was hired on January 20, 2011 to be the offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach after serving on the staff of the San Francisco 49ers in the 2009 and 2010 seasons.

Johnson finished the 2010 season as the offensive coordinator (took over on Sept. 27, 2010) for the 49ers. He was originally hired in 2009 as the team's quarterbacks coach. Johnson played a significant role in the development of San Francisco quarterbacks Shaun Hill and Alex Smith. The two combined for 23 touchdown passes in the 2009 season, marking the highest total in a single season by a 49er since 2003. After Hill started the first six games, Smith earned his way back into the starting lineup after not having played a regular season game in over two years due to injury. Under Johnson's guidance, Smith stepped in and recorded the best 10-game stretch of his career, setting personal bests in touchdown passes (18), completion percentage (.605) and quarterback rating (81.5).

Prior to joining the San Francisco staff, Johnson served as the wide receivers coach with the Baltimore Ravens from 2006-2007. With the Ravens, he helped veteran receiver Derrick Mason record his sixth 1,000-yard season in 2007. Mason totaled 1,087 yards on 103 catches with five touchdowns, leading the team in all categories. In 2006, receiver Mark Clayton developed into the team's top playmaker, posting three scoring plays covering 62 yards or more.

Johnson spent the three previous seasons as the quarterbacks coach with the Atlanta Falcons, tutoring three-time Pro Bowl quarterback Michael Vick. In 2005, Vick passed for 2,412 yards and 15 touchdowns, while ranking second on the team with 597 yards rushing. Vick became the first NFL quarterback to throw for more than 250 yards and run for more than 100 yards in a single game at Denver during the 2004 season.

In 2003, interim head coach Wade Phillips asked Johnson to call the Falcons offensive plays for the final two games of the season. In those two contests, Vick compiled his second-highest quarterback rating of the year (119.2 at Tampa Bay and 93.0 at Jacksonville). In 2002, Johnson tutored a young Falcons wide receiver group that included Brian Finneran, who had the best year of his career, recording 833 yards on 56 receptions and six touchdowns.

From 2000-2001, Johnson served as the quarterbacks coach for the San Diego Chargers (coach Mike Riley). Under Johnson, quarterback Doug Flutie compiled career highs with 3,464 yards passing (four 300-yard passing games) and 294 completions in the 2001 campaign. Flutie's passing yards that season were the most for a Chargers quarterback since Dan Fouts threw for 3,638 yards in 1985.

After completing his professional playing career, Johnson joined Mike Riley's staff at Oregon State. He coached the quarterbacks in 1999, after serving as the Beavers wide receivers coach from 1997-1998.

Johnson played five pro seasons as a quarterback, beginning his career as a rookie free agent in 1990 with the Arizona Cardinals. After being released as part of the team's final cuts, Johnson went on to play two seasons for the San Antonio Riders (coach Mike Riley) of the World League. Johnson moved to the Canadian Football League in 1992 and quarterbacked the British Columbia Lions for two seasons. From 1994 to 1995, he quarterbacked the CFL's Shreveport Pirates for his final two pro playing years.

Johnson was a backup signalcaller at Arizona State from 1985 to 1986, but transferred to Mesa Community College, where he became a junior college All-American in 1987. He then went on to play two seasons (1988-89) at the University of Akron and was named school's Athlete of the Year in 1990.

Three of his top four linebackers will return for 2011. Akeem Ayers will take his talents to the NFL (Rd. 2 of 2011 Draft) after earning All-America honors and first-team all-conference accolades, but Sean Westgate (90 tackles), Patrick Larimore (41 tackles) and Jordan Zumwalt (32 tackles) are back. In the '09 season, Lea coached the linebackers as a second-year graduate assistant.

JIM MASTRO

TIGHT ENDS/F-BACKS - 1ST SEASON
CAL POLY '94

Jim Mastro, who enjoyed great success the past 11 years as the running backs coach at the University of Nevada, Reno, joined the UCLA football staff in February, 2011. Mastro will coach the tight ends and F-backs at UCLA and also play a key role in the continued development of the running component of UCLA's offense that incorporates elements of the "Pistol" schemes.

"Jim has a wealth of knowledge and experience with the Pistol and will be a great asset as we incorporate many of its run-game principles into our offense," said head coach Rick Neuheisel at the time of his hire. "He has enjoyed great results in the running game and I feel he will work well alongside Mike Johnson (offensive coordinator/ wide receivers coach), Wayne Moses (running backs coach) and Bob Palcic (offensive line coach) to give us a very cohesive offensive staff."

COACHES & STAFF

Mastro, 45, helped build one of the top running attacks in the nation at Nevada. In five of the last 10 seasons, a Wolf Pack running back led the Western Athletic Conference in rushing. In the last four years, he helped Nevada running backs produce five 1,000-yard seasons. In 2010, senior Vai Taula recorded his third consecutive 1,000-yard rushing season, finishing seventh nationally with an average of 123.9 yards per contest. As a team, Nevada ranked No. 3 nationally with an average of 292.2 yards per game. The Wolf Pack led the nation in 2009 and ranked third nationally in 2008.

Mastro's 1,000-yard rushers at Nevada included --- Taula (2008, 2009, 2010), Luke Lippincott (2007, 2009), B.J. Mitchell (2005); Chance Kretschmer (2001, 2003); and Matt Milton (2002). Five of those running backs also led the WAC in rushing: Taula (2008 and 2010); Lippincott (2007); Mitchell (2005); and Kretschmer (2001).

The success in the Nevada backfield began in Mastro's second season (2001), when he developed Kretschmer, a walk-on redshirt freshman, into the nation's leading rusher. The following year, with Kretschmer out with injury, Mastro guided Milton to a 1,000-yard season.

The creation of the Pistol offense by Nevada head coach Chris Ault began the latest onslaught by Nevada backs. Beginning with Mitchell in 2005, Nevada has had at least one 1,000-yard rusher and a first-team All-WAC selection in each season since, with the exception of the 2006 campaign. That year, Robert Hubbard came up four-yards shy of the 1,000-yard mark.

Mastro also served as Nevada's recruiting coordinator and oversaw several top recruiting classes in Reno. He enjoyed tremendous success recruiting the Bay Area during most of his tenure and had recently been focusing on Orange County.

Before joining the Nevada program, Mastro was on the staff at the University of Idaho for two years (1998-99). During his tenure in Moscow, he coached the 1998 Big West Player of the Year and Idaho's career rushing leader, Joel Thomas. The Vandals posted a 9-3 record while winning the Big West championship and defeating Southern Mississippi in the Humanitarian Bowl. In 1999, Idaho went 7-4 and finished second in the Big West. Prior to that, Mastro was a linebackers and special teams coach at San Jose State in 1995 under head coach John Ralston. He spent one season (1994) as the defensive run game coordinator at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo. He was the running backs coach for the five previous years (1989-93) at his alma mater.

Mastro embarked on his coaching career at Cal Poly in 1989, while he was completing his undergraduate degree (Physical Education in 1994). He earned two letters while playing running back in 1987-88. Prior to that, he was a starting running back at San Jose City College (1985-86), earning honorable mention All-America honors as a sophomore.

RECRUITING RESPONSIBILITIES — Arizona, Orange County, Reno.

PERSONAL — Education: Bachelor's in Physical Education from Cal Poly SLO, 1994; At UCLA: First year (joined the staff in February of 2011); Born: October 14, 1965 in Fremont, CA; Family: Mastro has one son, Mike, and his wife Terri has two children - one daughter, Cheryl, and one son, Ronnie.

In addition, McClure has served as a guest coach in several NFL camps over the years, including the Buffalo Bills (2007, 2006), San Francisco 49ers (2002, 2000, 1999, 1998, 1997, 1996), Seattle Seahawks (1998) and San Diego Chargers (1997).

A graduate of Sacramento State, where he played football from 1987-91, McClure also served as a member of the faculty there from 1997-2004. He was on the 1988 Hornet team that advanced to the NCAA Division II championship semifinals with an offense which averaged 486.0 yards per game. While working at USC in '01, he helped the Trojans finish 5-3 in the Pac-10 (6-6 overall) and advance to their first post-season bowl game after a two-year absence.

From '97-'00, Moses was the running backs coach at his alma mater, Washington. The Huskies led the Pac-10 in rushing in '00 (16th nationally) and went on to play in a bowl game each year ('97 Aloha Bowl, '98 Oahu Bowl, '99 Holiday Bowl, '01 Rose Bowl).

He spent the '96 season handling the running backs at Cal, helping the Golden Bears to their first bowl appearance in six years. Under head coach Steve Mariucci, Cal finished the regular season 6-5 and played Navy in the Aloha Bowl.

Moses was running backs coach at UCLA under Terry Donahue for six seasons ('90-'95) and worked with coach Neuheisel for the first four. Abdul-Jabbar and Williams led the Pac-10 in rushing under Moses' tutelage, while Hicks went on to earn All-America honors later in his career. In '95, Abdul-Jabbar set UCLA's single-season rushing record and was named first-team All-America. The Bruins played in the '91 Sun Bowl, '94 Rose Bowl and '95 Aloha Bowl with Moses on staff. Five Bruin backs coached by Moses were selected in the NFL draft (Maury Toy, Kevin Smith, Williams, Abdul-Jabbar and Hicks).

He spent the 2010 season as defensive backs coach for the Omaha, NE Nighthawks of the United Football League.

"Joe has had outstanding success at both Cincinnati and South Florida and I know he is going to be successful here at UCLA," said Bruin head coach Rick Neuheisel at the time of his hire. "He has an aggressive style that forces turnovers and negative-yardage plays and I feel our players, especially our youngsters, will benefit greatly from his style of play. He is a fine teacher."

In 2009, South Florida ranked 24th nationally in total defense (321.8 yards) and 19th (tied) in scoring defense (19.8 points) while compiling a record of 8-5, including a regular season win over Florida State and a victory over Northern Illinois in the International Bowl. Tresey spent two seasons (2007-08) as defensive coordinator at Cincinnati under current Notre Dame head coach Brian Kelly. In 2007, he authored a Bearcat defense that led the nation in turnovers gained (42) and interceptions (26) while posting a 10-3 record and winning the PapaJohns.com Bowl over Southern Mississippi. A pair of Bearcat defenders earned All-America honors (DB Mike Mikens-2008 3rd team AP; DL Terrill Byrd-2007 2nd team AP) and two others (DB Haruki Nakamura-6th rd. Ravens; DL Angelo Craig-7th rd. Bengals) were selected in the 2008 NFL Draft. UC finished 13th nationally in scoring defense (18.8) and 19th in rush defense (114.2) and put five of 11 defensive starters on the All-Big East team. In 2008, Cincinnati (11-3) ranked 31st nationally in total defense (321.9 yards), 19th in rushing defense (115.0) and 25th in scoring defense (20.1 points) while winning the Big East championship and advancing to the Orange Bowl against Virginia Tech. Three Bearcat defenders earned first-team All-Big East honors: DE Connor Barwin, DB Mike Mikens, S Brandon Underwood. Four UC defensive players were chosen in the 2009 NFL draft: Barwin (rd. 2-Texans); DeAngelo Smith (rd. 5-Cowboys); Underwood (rd. 6-Packers) and Mikens (rd. 7-Cowboys).

The 52-year-old Tresey joined Kelly's staff at Central Michigan in 2006 and quickly implemented a style that forced 29 turnovers and 31 sacks in 14 games. His Mid-American Conference Championship defense registered four players with all-league plaudits. The Chippewas posted a 10-4 record that season, including the program's first bowl win at the Motor City Bowl.

For two seasons (2004-05) prior to joining the CMU staff, Tresey was defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Georgia Southern. SCOTT MITCHELL
ASST. ATHLETIC DIRECTOR-MARKETING & NEW REVENUES - 28TH YEAR
UTAH '81

Scott Mitchell oversees the UCLA Marketing Department which consists of approximately 25 staff members (five full-time employees, 12 undergraduate student interns and a telemarketing staff of 10 to 15).

Mitchell's areas of responsibility include UCLA ticket sales, alternative revenue generation, brand marketing, advertising and promotion for 24 Bruin sports teams. He is responsible for website overview, digital strategy, liaison with the UCLA licensing and apparel divisions, spirit support and the band. He has oversight of UCLA's community relations programs: "I'm Going To College", "Athletics For Youth", "Adopt A Classroom" and "Read to Succeed". Mitchell works closely with the UCLA Central Ticket Office, the IMG sales team in increasing corporate support for UCLA's athletic program and with the Sport Information Department in furthering UCLA's brand presence throughout Southern California and the nation.

Football attendance, ticket sales and corresponding revenue have increased dramatically during Mitchell's tenure as Director of Marketing. 2009 marked a year of record football revenue. The 2008 season marked the first time in UCLA history that over a half-million fans watched the Bruins play at the Rose Bowl. The three best years in UCLA history for average annual attendance have occurred under Mitchell's leadership. UCLA reached 60,000 in average attendance six times in their first 58 years of existence. The Bruins have surpassed that figure in 10 of the past 12 years.
