

UCLA ON RADIO/TELEVISION

This season, UCLA's football games will be broadcast on AM 570 (KLAC). This is the 15th year of UCLA's association with Clear Channel Radio and its fifth on AM 570.

The games will again be produced by IMG College, UCLA's corporate and media rights holder. IMG College is also building a network on the West Coast and KLAC serves as the flagship station of the UCLA Sports Network from IMG.

The game broadcasts are also available on the Bruin web site at www.uclabruins.com.

Chris Roberts will be in his 20th year as the play-by-play voice of the Bruins. A four-time Golden Mike winner, he also handles the play-by-play duties for men's basketball. He has been nominated four times for the Southern California Sports Broadcasters Assn. "Play-by-Play Broadcaster of the Year" award. He has also authored two books, Stadium Stories, UCLA Bruins and The Football Vault, UCLA, co-authored with Bill Bennett. Prior to joining the Bruin crew in 1992, he served as the voice of the Long Beach State 49ers for 10 years. During that time, he was the sports director at KFI/KOST 103 FM. Over the last 29 years, no one has done more Division I radio play-by-play in Southern California.

Former Bruin quarterback Matt Stevens ('83-'86) will be in his 15th season as a member of the broadcast team and his 11th as the analyst following four years as the sideline reporter. He will also serve as co-host of the pre-game show.

Wayne Cook ('91-'94), another former Bruin quarterback, will be in his 10th year as a sideline reporter and pre-game show host.

In addition, the home games are broadcast in Spanish on www.uclabruins.com.

UCLA's complete television plans were not definite at press time.

ABC has selected the Texas (national) game while ESPN will televise the Arizona contest on a national basis. ABC/ESPN may select other Bruin games 12 days prior to kickoff in accordance with its contract with the Pac-12 Conference.

Fox Sports Net and sub-licensees FX and Versus will telecast a total of 24 Pac-12 home football contests throughout the nation on its cable network for the 12th consecutive year. FSN has selected the Houston and USC games for national telecasts thus far. The three entities are expected to select other Bruin games during the season.

DAN GUERRERO

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
10TH YEAR :: UCLA '74

On April 25, 2002, Daniel G. Guerrero was named UCLA's eighth Director of Athletics. A former Bruin baseball player, Guerrero, who assumed his duties on July 1, 2002, has enjoyed great success and exudes the pride of a student-athlete who is in charge of the program at his alma mater.

Guerrero is one of the most respected administrators in all of intercollegiate athletics. He is the current president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and a member of the NACDA Executive Committee and served as president of the Division I Athletic Directors Association in 2010-11.

In Guerrero's nine years as Athletic Director, he has clearly established a pattern of "image and substance" that few in his profession can match. UCLA stands as the No. 1 University in the nation for NCAA team championships (107) won, a number that continues to grow under his direction. In those nine years, UCLA teams have won 21 NCAA team titles (the highest total in the nation in that span) in 11 different sports, finished second 17 times and have had an additional 32 Top Five finishes (70 total). A staggering 172 teams (of 207 possible) have qualified for NCAA post-season competition and the football team has appeared in seven bowl games. The program has also won 46 conference championships in 15 different sports, produced over 460 All-Americans and featured four Honda Award winners, including the 2003-04 Collegiate Woman Athlete of the Year.

Furthermore, during the 2008 Summer Olympic Games in Beijing, China, 39 Bruins participated as athletes or coaches, representing the United States and nine other nations. They won 15 medals, including four gold.

This past year Guerrero received recognition by several prestigious organizations. In May of 2011, he was honored by the Black Coaches and Administrators Association as by awarding him as the Dr. Myles Brand Administrator of the Year. In April, he was presented with the Crystal Eagle Award by CORO Southern California, an organization that provides training of civic and government leaders. Additionally, this past March, Guerrero was recognized by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) at the Guardian of the Games Awards Show by presenting him with the Clifford Wells Award for distinguished service to the organization.

In June of 2010, Guerrero completed a five-year term on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee. As the Chair in 2009-10, he served on the NCAA Advisory Committee that resulted in the $10.8 million, 14-year NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament television package with CBS and Turner Sports, as well as the decision to create the "First Four" and the expansion of the Tournament to 68 teams.

Under Guerrero's leadership, UCLA continues to remain one of the premier broad-based intercollegiate athletic programs in the country. In the last nine years, UCLA has finished second three times (2007-08, 2006-07 and 2005-06), third twice (2004-05 and 2003-04), fourth (2009-10), sixth (2002-03), 11th (2010-11) and 16th (2008-09) in the race for the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup.

This past year in NCAA competition, UCLA won its 107th NCAA title in women's golf, placed second in women's gymnastics, third in women's water polo and women's tennis (tied), fifth (tied) in men's golf and men's soccer, ninth (tied) in men's tennis and women's soccer, 17th (tied) in men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, softball and women's volleyball and 20th in women's swimming.

In 2009-10 UCLA placed fourth in the Learfield Cup standings and won its 11th NCAA Championship in softball and its sixth in women's gymnastics. The Bruins finished second in baseball and men's water polo, tied for third in women's soccer (seventh straight College Cup), fifth in women's water polo, tied for fifth in men's soccer and men's tennis, sixth in women's golf, tied for ninth in women's tennis, 12th in women's rowing, 16th in men's golf, tied for 17th in women's basketball and women's volleyball and 19th in women's swimming. UCLA also won three conference titles and two league post-season tournaments and the football team won the EagleBank Bowl.

In 2008-09, UCLA won its fifth consecutive NCAA women's water polo championship. The Bruins finished second in women's golf, tied for third in women's soccer (sixth straight College Cup) and men's tennis, placed seventh in women's gymnastics and ninth (tied) in softball, women's volleyball and women's tennis. UCLA also won six conference titles.

In 2007-08, UCLA won three NCAA championships in women's water polo (fourth straight), women's tennis (first) and men's golf (second). The Bruins finished second in women's golf, tied for third in men's basketball (third straight Final Four), women's soccer (fifth straight College Cup) and men's tennis, placed fifth (tied) in women's volleyball and softball and seventh in women's gymnastics. UCLA also played in its sixth consecutive bowl game and won four conference championships and two league tournaments.

In 2006-07, UCLA won an NCAA championship in women's water polo, the school's 100th NCAA team title, and placed second in men's soccer and women's tennis, third in women's golf, tied for third in men's basketball, women's soccer and women's volleyball, fourth in women's gymnastics, fifth in women's outdoor track and field, tied for fifth in men's tennis, seventh in men's golf and women's indoor track and field, ninth in men's outdoor track and field and tied for ninth in baseball. UCLA played in its fifth straight bowl game in football and won four league titles.

In 2005-06, UCLA won two NCAA titles (men's volleyball and women's water polo) and placed second in men's basketball and women's soccer, tied for third in softball, tied for fifth in men's tennis, tied for seventh in men's golf and tied for ninth in women's volleyball and women's tennis. UCLA also won the Vitalis Sun Bowl in football and captured seven conference championships and two post-season tournaments.

In 2004-05, UCLA won three NCAA titles (men's water polo, men's tennis and women's water polo) and placed second in women's soccer, men's volleyball, women's golf and softball, tied for second in women's outdoor track and field, fourth in women's gymnastics and tied for fifth in women's volleyball. UCLA also earned its first NCAA post-season appearance in women's rowing (varsity eight) and won eight conference championships.

In 2003-04, the Bruins won four NCAA titles (women's outdoor track and field, softball, women's golf and women's gymnastics). They also placed second in men's tennis, women's tennis and men's golf, tied for third in women's soccer, tied for fifth in men's soccer and women's volleyball and fifth in women's indoor track and field. In addition, the Bruins captured seven league titles.

In Guerrero's first year at UCLA (2002-03), UCLA won four NCAA titles (men's soccer, women's gymnastics, women's water polo and women's softball). The Bruins placed third in men's golf, tied for third in men's tennis and tied for fifth in women's golf and women's tennis. UCLA also earned six conference titles.

In addition to his most recent accolades, Guerrero has earned numerous honors in the past nine years. In June of 2007, he was named the NACDA Division I West Region Athletic Director of the Year. His other honors include the UCLA Latino Alumnus of the Year (October 2002); Cal State Dominguez Hills' Alumnus of the Year (March 2003); and "Father of the Year" by the Father's Day Council of the American Diabetes Association (June 2003). On September 10, 2002, the Los Angeles City Council honored him with Dan Guerrero Day. He also became the first athlete in any sport at Banning (Wilmington, CA) High School to have his jersey (#8 in baseball) retired (April 2003).

Guerrero was named one of the nation's Top 100 Most Influential Hispanics by Hispanic Business Magazine (October 2004) and the May 5, 2003 issue of Sports Illustrated listed him #28 among the 101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports. He was one of 28 people whose photo was featured on that issue's cover.

In addition to unparalleled success in the playing arena, his nine years at the helm have also demonstrated the overall excellence Guerrero has made a priority for the program. Belief in conducting a program of integrity has been a cornerstone of Guerrero's leadership throughout his career. Named as a 1999 Sports Ethics Fellow by the Institute for International Sport, Guerrero has fostered a strong sense of commitment and dedication among his coaches and staff to the development of the total student-athlete experience. He is presently serving a second term on the Executive Board member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sport and is resolute in his desire to support academic achievement and life skills development for UCLA student-athletes. As a result, he has spearheaded unprecedented growth in the Academic Support and Life Skills program at UCLA. During Guerrero's tenure (27 quarters), student-athletes earned 5,703 spots on the Director's Honor Roll (3.0 or higher grade-point average for a quarter) and student development programming, such as the creation of Wooden Academy, and community service activities for the program are at an all-time high.

Resource development has always been a strength for Guerrero and his tenure at UCLA has demonstrated continued evidence of this skill. This year, UCLA is in the first year of the largest multi-year, multi-million dollar contract with adidas, equipment provider for all of UCLA's 24 sports, in school history. In 2004-05, he completed a new multi-million dollar agreement with ISP Sports (now IMG College), a premier national collegiate sports marketing organization. He has also reorganized the External Relations area, integrating Corporate Sponsorships, Marketing, Development and Sports Information under one umbrella, in anticipation of a major revenue generating initiative designed to address capital project needs, operational support and program endowments.

Guerrero also led the negotiations that solidified the relationship between UCLA and the Rose Bowl, resulting in a $152 million renovation/restoration project that will benefit the Bruin football program for decades upon its completion in 2013. Furthermore, the $136 million Pauley Pavilion renovation project, spearheaded by Guerrero, is slated to be completed by the fall of 2012.

In addition to the Rose Bowl and Pauley Pavilion, UCLA, under Guerrero's guidance and direction, continues to aggressively enhance its athletic facilities, including the completion of the Bud Knapp Football wing of the Acosta Center, and the sports medicine and athletic performance centers in the same complex. A new golf practice facility and the Easton Softball Stadium renovation, benefitting the Bruins' golf and softball powers, respectively, were completed for the 2004-05 season. The installation of synthetic turf at Spaulding Field was completed in 2006, the final phase of the Acosta Center project (Olympic sport locker rooms) was completed in 2007 and the $16 million Spieker Aquatic Center was completed in the summer of 2009.

Guerrero has extensive experience in committee work at both the NCAA and conference level. He has been a member of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee (serving as Chair in 2009-10) and was also a member of the "College Basketball Partnership," a group formed by NCAA president Myles Brand that included many of the most influential people in the sport. He has also served as Chair of both the Pac-10 Athletic Directors Committee, the Budget and Finance Committee, and numerous other Pac-10 committees. He is currently a member of the Nominating, Revenue Sharing, Men's Basketball Tournament, Bowl and Rose Bowl Management committees. He has also served on other NCAA committees, including the NCAA Division I Baseball Committee and the Baseball Academic Enhancement Committee and at the time of his hire by UCLA was serving as the second vice president of the Division I-AAA Athletic Director's Association.

Guerrero came to UCLA from UC Irvine, where he had served as UCI's fifth permanent Director of Athletics for 10 years (1992-2002). The broad competitive success of its athletic teams, the academic excellence of its student-athletes, the development of new and improved facilities and enhanced relations with the UCI community, reflect the progress UC Irvine Athletics experienced under Guerrero's direction. During his tenure, the program continued to accumulate conference championships, garner national rankings, feature graduation rates among the nation's best, and win numerous post-season honors for its student-athletes. In June of 2002 while still at UC Irvine, he was named the 2001-02 Division I-AA/I-AAA West Region NACDA Athletic Director of the Year.

Resulting from Guerrero's resourcefulness and creativity, UCI experienced unprecedented activity in the area of athletic facilities development. In his final five years, Guerrero was the driving force behind $38 million of newly constructed or renovated facilities. These projects included a newly renovated track and soccer complex, a new 64-meter competitive swimming pool, a new baseball stadium and the Anteater Recreation Center, one of the premier recreation centers in the country.

Prior to arriving at UC Irvine, Dan came from Cal State Dominguez Hills, where he led that program to national prominence while serving as Athletic Director for five years (1988-92).

Guerrero received his Bachelor's degree from UCLA in 1974 and played second base in the Bruin baseball program for four years. His batting average in Pacific-8 Conference games over three seasons as a varsity performer was .343. Guerrero, known as "Warrior" during his playing career, was inducted into the UCLA Baseball Hall of Fame in 1996. The Bruin Athletic Director earned a Master's degree in Public Administration in 1982 from Cal State Dominguez Hills and was named to the Pi Alpha Alpha Honor Society for Public Affairs and Public Policy that same year.

Guerrero is married to the former Anne Marie Aniello and they have two grown daughters: Jenna and Katie.

When it comes to athletic success, UCLA ranks second to none, as evidenced by its 107 NCAA team championships. Over the past four decades, no school can match UCLA's combination of NCAA team and individual championships, football bowl games, men's basketball NCAA Tournament appearances and Olympic participation. In April of 2005, Sports Illustrated On Campus stated that "UCLA has the most complete athletic program in the country."

UCLA is one of just five schools to place in the Top 20 in every year of the Directors' Cup (Stanford, Florida, North Carolina and Texas are the others).

This past year in NCAA competition, UCLA won its 107th NCAA title in women's golf, placed second in women's gymnastics, third in women's water polo and women's tennis (tied), fifth (tied) in men's golf and men's soccer, ninth (tied) in men's tennis and women's soccer, 17th (tied) in men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, softball and women's volleyball and 20th in women's swimming. UCLA also won the Pac-10 baseball title.

In 2009-10, UCLA won its 11th NCAA Championship in softball and its sixth in women's gymnastics. The Bruins finished second in baseball and men's water polo, tied for third in women's soccer (seventh straight College Cup), fifth in women's water polo, tied for fifth in men's soccer and men's tennis, sixth in women's golf, tied for ninth in women's tennis, 12th in women's rowing, 16th in men's golf, tied for 17th in women's basketball and women's volleyball and 19th in women's swimming. UCLA also won three conference titles and two league post-season tournaments and the football team won the EagleBank Bowl.

In 2008-09, UCLA won its fifth consecutive NCAA women's water polo championship. The Bruins finished second in women's golf, tied for third in women's soccer (sixth straight College Cup) and men's tennis, placed seventh in women's gymnastics and ninth (tied) in softball, women's volleyball and women's tennis, 16th (tied) in women's outdoor track and field and 17th (tied) in men's basketball. UCLA also won six conference titles.

COMBINED PROGRAM

UCLA has won more NCAA team championships than any school in the nation — 107 (71 men's and 36 women's), including 21 in the last nine years, more than any other school in the country. Those 107 titles have been won in 17 different programs. In the 30 years that the NCAA has awarded both men's and women's championships, UCLA has won 67 NCAA team titles (31 men's and 36 women's). Overall, UCLA has won a nation-leading total of 128 collegiate championships — 107 NCAA crowns and 21 other titles.

UCLA has won at least one NCAA team title (men's or women's) in 29 of the last 31 years. In addition, the school has won at least one collegiate title (NCAA or AIAW) in 45 of the last 48 years, missing only in 1979-80, 1993-94 and 2001-02. Over the last 40 years, UCLA has won at least two collegiate titles 30 times.

UCLA has placed amongst the top five schools in 15 of the 18 years of the Directors' Cup. In 1992-93, UCLA earned the award as the nation's top combined program, according to the annual USA Today All-Sports Survey. Prior to 1993-94, USA Today conducted separate surveys for men's and women's programs. In the 23-year history of the All-Sports Survey for men's programs (formerly conducted by the Knoxville Journal), UCLA finished first 11 times (no other school had more than six titles), second seven times, third once and fourth once and was in the top 10 each year. The Bruins won five of the last eight men's surveys and placed fifth in 1993. In the women's survey (formerly sponsored by the Santa Monica Evening Outlook), UCLA won 10 titles in 18 years, including four straight (1988-1991), and finished second in 1992 and 1993.

In the last 42 years, the Bruin men have won 57 NCAA championships, seven more than second-place Stanford and 25 more than third-place USC. Eight times they have won at least three titles in a single year. UCLA is the only school to win four men's titles in a single year more than once, accomplishing the feat in 1969-70 (basketball, tennis, volleyball, and water polo), 1970-71 (basketball, tennis, volleyball, and outdoor track) and 1971-72 (basketball, volleyball, outdoor track, and water polo).

In 1981-82, the first year in which the NCAA hosted women's championships, UCLA became the first school in history to win five NCAA titles (men's swimming, men's tennis, men's volleyball, softball, and women's track) in a single year.

2010-11 NCAA CHAMPIONS

Women's Golf

NCAA Finish: 1st; NCAA Central Regional: 1st

The UCLA women's golf team managed to fight through tough weather conditions all week to bring home its third NCAA Championship. The Bruins entered the tournament coming off a win at the NCAA Central Regional, which earned them their 11th straight NCAA Championship berth, a school record. They carried the momentum from that win through the first round of the NCAA Championship, ending the day with a two-stroke lead over the competition. From there, the Bruins never looked back, as they ended up winning by four strokes over defending champions Purdue. The win was head coach Carrie Forsyth's second NCAA title as UCLA head coach and UCLA's 107th NCAA title overall. Sophomore Tiffany Lua was UCLA's top finisher at the tournament, earning a tie for fourth place with a score of -1. Lua also recorded a hole-in-one during the third round of the Championship and capped off the Bruins' win with a par putt on the 72nd hole of the tournament. Freshman Ani Gulugian, sophomore Lee Lopez, junior Stephanie Kono and senior Glory Yang also played stellar down the stretch to help lead the team to the championship. Overall, the Bruins finished the 2011 season with six tournament victories in eleven starts.

He has defined academic excellence, diversity, civic engagement and financial security as the priorities for his administration.

Chancellor Block holds faculty appointments in the David Geffen School of Medicine and the College of Letters and Science. His research interest is circadian biology, which deals with the functioning of 24-hour rhythms in higher organisms.

Chancellor Block and his wife, Carol, have two adult children. The Blocks are avid Bruin fans and frequently attend UCLA athletic events.

He has also served as visiting professor at Stanford and at the University of California, Berkeley. He joined the UCLA faculty in 1987.

Over the past 40 years, Morrison has supervised the doctoral dissertations of a number of students who are now faculty members of other leading institutions. Many are now on key editorial boards and eight have endowed chairs. Morrison was the founding editor of the professional journal, Marketing Science and was editor-in-chief of Management Science for eight years. He has served as departmental editor or editorial board member of several other professional journals.

Morrison's wife Sherie is a professor in UCLA's Microbiology, Immunology and Molecular Genetics department. Their daughters, Heather Felix and Michelle Oliva, earned their MBA degrees from the Anderson Graduate School of Management at UCLA. The Morrisons also have three grandsons, Parker Graham Felix, Spencer Andrew Felix and Jake Carmine Oliva.

Sherie and Don have endowed several athletic scholarships and provided funds for academic/athletic awards during the last decade.

UCLA is among the world's leading research universities, known for the breadth and quality of its academic, research, health care, cultural, continuing education and athletic programs. A shared public asset, UCLA enriches our neighborhoods, our nation and our world on a daily basis by creating knowledge, educating students, powering the economy and serving the community. Many of its 11 professional schools and academic departments and programs are ranked among the best in the nation. UCLA is a university with the size and scope to allow for unimagined diversity, unmatched breadth and depth of scholarship, and limitless possibility for its 26,600 undergraduates and 12,000 graduate students.

FACULTY, STUDENTS & ALUMNI

Five UCLA faculty have been awarded Nobel Prizes — the two most recent are Louis Ignarro in medicine (1998) and biochemist Paul Boyer in chemistry (1997). Among faculty there have been 10 National Medals of Science recipients, and hundreds of Guggenheim Fellowships, Fulbright Awards and other academic distinctions. At UCLA, thousands of students extend their educations beyond the classroom by working directly with faculty on research projects. Many UCLA undergraduates participate in major research studies, working one-on-one with world-renowned scholars as they discover and create new knowledge. UCLA's alumni are bright stars on the world stage. They include leaders of industry and commerce — Oscar, Grammy, Tony, and Emmy winners; philanthropists and public servants; Olympians and professional athletes; educators, engineers, bankers, and astronauts. Founded in 1934, the UCLA Alumni Association serves 88,000 members, part of the larger network of more than 394,000 UCLA alumni, with a comprehensive array of services, programs and activities.

BOOKS & TECHNOLOGY

The UCLA Library is ranked among the top ten academic research libraries in North America with holdings of more than eight million volumes as well as digital resources and services. From the birth of the Internet at UCLA in 1969, UCLA continues to be a leader in resources for learning. UCLA is nationally recognized for developing ground-breaking computer services for undergraduates and was the first university to have a Web site for every undergraduate student. The university provides an innovative, on-line tool called "myucla.edu," which provides a Web page tailored to each student's academic needs.

OUTREACH & COMMUNITY SERVICE

From its founding, UCLA has been an integral and contributing part of the greater Los Angeles community. Outreach programs and volunteerism are as much a part of UCLA as academics and research, with hundreds of UCLA-sponsored programs providing a wide range of opportunities. Many of UCLA's undergraduates volunteer for these programs, including tutoring youths, adults and incarcerated youths; addressing health and educational needs of underserved communities; combating poverty and homelessness; aiding the elderly and disabled; and providing legal, social, medical and educational assistance to community residents.

Through outreach and academic preparation programs, UCLA works with K-12 schools throughout Los Angeles to help greater numbers of students prepare to compete successfully for college. UCLA also partners with community colleges to increase the number of underrepresented students transferring to the university. Additionally, UCLA faculty, researchers and students provide leadership and public service in health care, law, economic development, social welfare, urban planning, public policy, arts and the environment. Most academic departments have major research projects, field studies or student internships that directly affect people's lives in Los Angeles, the state and the nation.

UCLA'S ATHLETICS HALL OF FAME

The UCLA Athletics Hall of Fame enters its 28th year of its existence and its 11th in a new location facing Westwood Plaza. The current Hall of Fame, double the size of its predecessor, opened in July of 2001.

The first floor in the east wing of the J.D. Morgan Athletics Center features the 8,000-square foot Athletics Hall of Fame and serves as the main entrance to the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Hall of Fame features state-of-the-art interactive displays; a mini-theater where Bruin video clips and highlights re-create past championship moments; a timeline of important U.S., California and UCLA dates showing how sports weave into the great moments in history; a collection of Bruin memorabilia and much more.

UCLA athletic teams have won 107 NCAA team championships and each of those first-place trophies grace the Hall of Champions. Other exhibits include photos of UCLA's first-team All-Americans in football and basketball, Gary Beban's Heisman Trophy, Wooden Awards won by Marques Johnson and Ed O'Bannon and a special display highlighting all of UCLA's Honda and Broderick Cup winners. Displays on UCLA's football bowl victories, the Bruins' NCAA basketball tradition and UCLA's Olympic Games medal winners are featured in the new Hall of Fame.

Each of UCLA's sports has its own individual display area within the Hall of Fame. In addition, there are displays honoring Jackie Robinson, UCLA's Academic All-Americans and women in sports. There are also sample lockers of former Bruin greats in various sports.

In connection with the building, which originally opened in November of 1983, UCLA established a Hall of Fame with 25 charter members representing a cross-section of the school's athletic history. Each year, a minimum of one and a maximum of eight former UCLA athletes, coaches or administrators are added to the Hall of Fame. The nation's most famous college football stadium — The Rose Bowl — is now in its 30th season as the home of the UCLA Bruin football team. One of the finest football stadiums in America, the Rose Bowl was built specifically for football, but was used for portions of the 1932 Olympic Games and was also the soccer site for the 1984 Olympics. In addition, the Rose Bowl has hosted five Super Bowls and served as a venue for the 1994 World Cup and 1999 Women's World Cup soccer tournaments, including the championship games.

On January 7, 2010, the Rose Bowl played host to the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) National Championship for the third time with Alabama defeating Texas. The previous time Pasadena welcomed the BCS National Championship football game, Texas bested USC to win the title on January 4, 2006. Miami won the first BCS National Championship contest played in the Rose Bowl, defeating Nebraska on January 3, 2003 at the Rose Bowl.

The college football icon is currently undergoing a $152 million renovation. When it is substantially completed in August of 2013, the Rose Bowl will have a new press box that will include additional suites, loge boxes, clubs seats and lounge areas, field level entrances and exits, wider tunnels, and additional concession stands and restrooms, among other items. This season's first phase includes a new state-of-the-art video board more than twice the size of the previous board, reconstruction of the south scoreboard that recalls the 1940s vintage scoreboard, and south tunnels and concrete deck repair.

At Home with the Bruins: UCLA played its home games at Moore Field from 1919-1928 with the following exceptions: 1919, Los Angeles JC at Los Angeles High; 1926, Occidental and Iowa State at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum; 1927, Occidental, Pomona and Drake at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum; 1928, Pomona and Oregon at the Los Angeles Coliseum. UCLA played all of its home games from the 1929 through 1981 seasons at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum with the following exceptions: 1929, Fresno State at Westwood; 1933, Los Angeles JC and San Diego State at Westwood; 1934, Pomona and San Diego State at Westwood. The Bruins moved to the Rose Bowl prior to the 1982 season.

Beginning with the 2007 season, UCLA and its opponents have dressed in new state-of-the-art locker rooms. Located underneath the south concourse of the stadium, the locker area features all of the latest amenities to benefit the players, coaches, sports medicine staff and equipment staff. A new media interview room and working area was included as part of the upgrades.

In 1998, new individual chairs were installed in the seating areas between the end zones as part of a plan to bring the Rose Bowl into the 21st Century as America's premier college football stadium. Also, improved seating areas for the physically challenged have been installed, as has a new sound system. In 1997, a state-of-the-art video board, as well as new matrix-style scoreboards, were added to the Rose Bowl.

Completed in 1922, the Rose Bowl was first used for the USC-California game that year. The stadium was horseshoe shaped and seated 57,000 persons when it hosted the 1923 Rose Bowl Game. The south end was enclosed prior to the 1929 game and enlarged to seat 76,000 spectators. Demands for more and more seats led to further enlargements; to 83,677 in 1932 and to 100,807 in 1949.

With the new seating configuration, the current seating capacity is 91,136, though a record 106,869 witnessed the 1973 USC-Ohio State Rose Bowl contest.

In conjunction with UCLA's move in 1982 and the Olympics, a Rose Bowl improvement program resulted in the refurbishing of the press box, adding permanent concession stands and backs for more than 50,000 seats. In recent years, all of those areas have enjoyed additional enhancements.

The Rose Bowl has many firsts to its record. On Jan. 1, 1927, radio stations across the nation were linked together for the first time in a coast-to-coast broadcast. On Jan. 1, 1954, the UCLA-Michigan State Rose Bowl Game was the first west-to-east color telecast on a nationwide hookup.

The Rose Bowl has 77 rows of seats. It measures 880 feet from the north to south rims and 695 from east to west. Its circumference around the rim is 2,430 feet, compared to 1,350 feet at field level. It took 28 miles of lumber to provide the original seats. There are 79,156 square feet of natural grass on the floor of the stadium.

The Wooden Athletic Fund, named in honor of Nell and John Wooden, represents the best that intercollegiate athletics has to offer. The Wooden Athletic Fund is committed to the highest levels of integrity and excellence that are characteristic of this university. We exist to support the efforts of our student-athletes and assist in their pursuit of academic, athletic and personal accomplishment.

All contributions to the Wooden Athletic Fund play a pivotal role in fulfilling our commitment to our student-athletes. Your generosity is not only an investment in our rich and storied history, but, more importantly, a statement of support for our mission. As a member of the Wooden Athletic Fund, you can take pride in knowing you are making a difference in the lives of hundreds of student-athletes and their long term success. We are counting on you to join us in our efforts to keep UCLA at the pinnacle of intercollegiate athletics.

To encourage private support of our program, the best football and basketball seats are allocated to our most loyal and generous donors. Members of the Wooden Athletic Fund receive priority in the assignment of tickets for football and men's basketball home contests. When possible, donors also receive priority in the allocation of tickets for away game contests, bowl games, and NCAA tournaments.

If you have any questions regarding the Wooden Athletic Fund or the benefits that members receive, please contact the Athletics Development Office at (310) 206-3302 or visit woodenathleticfund.com.

The UCLA Athletics Campaign has endowed 211 of the 282 NCAA allowable athletic grants-in-aid. UCLA Athletics expresses its sincere gratitude to the individuals listed for their support in the continuing effort to distinguish UCLA as the nation's premier academic and athletics institution.

An endowment generates income to the University in perpetuity. By investing the gift principal and using just the interest earned to help meet the cost of a grant-in-aid assures the Athletic Department of on-going funds to maintain the quality and diversity of its program.

Currently, UCLA provides financial assistance to over 600 student-athletes participating in 24 intercollegiate sports. However, expenses such as the cost of tuition for student-athletes have increased dramatically in the last several years while department revenues have remained relatively stable.

Setting the standard of excellence once again, Pac-12 (Pac-10 at the time) Conference schools captured nine NCAA titles, plus one by new member Colorado, during the 2010-11 academic year, the most national championships of any conference. It marks the 11th time in the last 12 years that the Pac-12 has led or tied for the most NCAA championships won.

The Pac-12 men's and women's programs shared the wealth in 2010-11 as the Conference claimed five NCAA women's titles and four men's crowns. Only seven institutions claimed multiple NCAA titles this year, with three of them being Pac-12 schools. Texas A&M was the only school to win three championship crowns. California, Stanford and USC each claimed two NCAA championships to join Florida, Notre Dame and Penn State.

The Pac-12 has led the nation in NCAA Championships 45 of the last 51 years and finished second five times.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievement, the Pac-12 has captured 442 NCAA titles (including Colorado's 22 and Utah's 20), far outdistancing the runner-up Big Ten Conference's 231 titles.

The Conference's reputation is further proven in the annual Learfield Sports Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. Stanford won the Directors' Cup with California placing third, UCLA 11th, USC 14th and Arizona 16th.

On the men's side, Pac-12 members have won 287 NCAA team championships, far ahead of the runner-up Big Ten. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-12 - 16 basketball titles by six schools (more than any other conference), 52 tennis titles, 45 outdoor track and field crowns and 26 baseball titles. Pac-10 members have won 26 of the 42 NCAA titles in volleyball, 37 of the 42 in water polo, and 22 total swimming and diving national championships.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 30 years ago, Pac-12 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 22 occasions. Overall, the Pac-12 has captured 140 NCAA women's crowns, easily outdistancing the SEC. Pac-12 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 23 softball titles, 19 tennis crowns, 11 of the last 21 volleyball titles and 14 of the last 22 trophies in golf. The new Pac-12 members also bring 15 coed titles to the conference.

ROSE BOWL/BOWL SELECTION PROCEDURES

The Pac-12 Conference has agreements with seven bowls. The Pac-12 champion shall play in the Rose Bowl Game unless it is ranked No. 1 or No. 2 in the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) ranking system. In that case, the Pac-10 champion would participate in the Tostitos BCS National Championship Game. This year, that game will be played in New Orleans, LA on January 9.

If that is not the case, the following procedures will determine the Pac-12 representative in the Rose Bowl. The Pac-12's Rose Bowl representative shall be the winner of the Pac-12 Championship game between the winners of the North and South Divisions.

There are a series of tie-breakers to determine division winners if two or more teams are tied for the division lead at the end of the regular season as well as a series of tie breakers to determine the host of the Pac-12 Championship game if both division winners have the same conference record.

Ineligible Team: Teams ineligible to participate in post-season play shall not be included in the tie-breaking formulae, except their games against other institutions shall count and may be utilized to break ties between other eligible teams.

Once the Rose Bowl and BCS representatives have been determined, representatives for the other six bowls with Pac-12 affiliation will be determined.

The bowls will select eligible Pac-12 teams in the following order: Valero Alamo Bowl, Bridgepoint Education Holiday Bowl, Hyundai Sun Bowl, MAACO Bowl Las Vegas, Kraft Fight Hunger Bowl and New Mexico Bowl.

The Valero Alamo Bowl will select the highest remaining team remaining based on Pac-12 standings, or a team within one game of the highest remaining team in the standings. The Bridgepoint Education Holiday Bowl will then select the highest remaining team in the standings or a team within one game in the standings. The Hyundai Sun Bowl will select next, followed by the MAACO Bowl Las Vegas, Kraft Fight Hunger Bowl and the New Mexico Bowl.

Should any bowl-eligible Pac-12 team not be selected, it would be able to contract with a bowl that has not been able to fill both of its slots through its conference affiliations. Should the Pac-12 not be able to fill all of its contracted slots, that bowl would be able to fill its berth with an at-large team.
