Now beginning his fifth season, Derek Freeman has created a list of accomplishments that few other UCLA golf coaches can match. He guided the Bruins to their second NCAA team title in 2008, mentored the only NCAA individual champion in UCLA history, watched freshman Patrick Cantlay compile a once-in-a-lifetime season and supervised the most successful academic campaign in UCLA men's golf history.

Last year the Bruins tied for fifth at the NCAA Championship after winning the stroke play portion of the tournament. In addition, the Bruins won four tournament titles, including an NCAA Regional crown. Three players earned All-America honors and four players won seven individual titles. Most programs would call that a success.

But Freeman's squad swept all the UCLA academic awards at the annual student-athlete banquet: Best Team GPA, Men; Most Improved Team GPA and the Donald R. Shepard Award for highest team GPA. The Bruins improved their cumulative team grade point average by 0.51 to 3.311.

Finally, freshman Patrick Cantlay won nearly every award known to a college golfer: the 2011 McCormack Medal, Fred Haskins Award, the Nicklaus Award, the Phil Mickelsen Award, Pac-10 Conference Player and Freshman of the Year as well as consensus first-team All-America honors.

In four full seasons, Freeman has coached two Nicklaus Award winners, two Haskins winners, a pair of conference players of the year and two conference freshmen of the year.

In 2009-10, Freeman's team entered the NCAA Championship with the youngest lineup in the tournament. He led the Bruins to a 16th place finish, a final ranking of ninth in the national poll and two team victories. Two players earned All-America honorable mention honors from the coaches association and four players earned All-Pac-10 acclaim. In addition, sophomore Alex Shi Yup Kim emerged as one of the most improved players in the country, vaulting from 438th in the rankings his freshman year to 41st as a sophomore. Kim earned first-team all-conference honors.

In 2008-09, despite the loss of three talented players during the season, Freeman managed to guide the Bruins to their seventh straight NCAA Championship berth. Freeman also guided UCLA to its third NCAA Regional title in program history. In addition, Gregor Main was voted Pac-10 Freshman of the Year and senior Erik Flores became the only player in school history to earn 1st Team All-Pac-10 honors three times. Flores also earned All-America honors for the third time in his career.

The Bruins won the 2008 NCAA title by one stroke over defending champion Stanford at Purdue's Kampen Course on the last day of May. A key par by senior All-America Kevin Chappell on the 72nd hole clinched the victory, but it was Chappell's bogey save from a disastrous lie at the 71st that enabled the Bruins to maintain a slim lead. Freeman kept his star player level-headed and positive, and coaxed his other senior — Craig Leslie — into playing the final three holes in one-under par to stymie Stanford's rally.

In the succeeding days, Chappell collected some awards that had UCLA historians dusting up their antique collection and creating new mantle space. He became the first UCLA golfer in the 75-year history of the program to win the NCAA individual championship, the Jack Nicklaus Award and the Fred Haskins Award. He also became just the third player in school history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors, and the first since 1985. A month before the season ended, Chappell became the sixth UCLA player to earn Pac-10 Golfer of the Year honors.

Freeman claimed one other All-American — Erik Flores, who also won his first collegiate individual title. In addition, both Chappell and Flores were selected First-Team All-Pac-10 members.

A former all-conference golfer at the University of Oklahoma, Freeman made an immediate impact on the UCLA program soon after his appointment on July 16, 2007.

Through the 2007 Fall campaign, the Bruins did not lose a tournament, winning the Big Ten/Pac-10 Challenge, the Collegiate Match Play Championship and the CordeValle Collegiate.

The Bruins finished his first half season ranked No.2 in the nation.

In the November signing period, Freeman inked the nation's No. 2 ranked group of recruits as judged by GolfWeek. The list included two AJGA All-Americans and one of Mexico's top amateurs. Four months later, he added another AJGA All-American to that list.

In 2007-08, the Bruins won five tournaments, a figure that ranks fifth in school history. UCLA also won its first-ever Collegiate Match Play Championship. In that event, Chappell and freshman Philip Francis posted records of 4-0-0. During the season, four players won five individual tournament titles, including Chappell who won twice and ended the season 20-under par through 34 rounds. Chappell also set a single season school record by averaging 71.0 strokes per round and ended his career ranked fifth in school history with five career victories. Finally, he was the only player under par at the 2008 NCAA Tournament.

In his first year as the Bruins' assistant coach, Freeman coached the UCLA Blue Team, which won the Cougar Invitational and the Cal State Bakersfield Spring Invitational. Senior Chris Heintz won the Cougar event, and at the Bakersfield tournament, the Blue Team scorched the course for a score of 25-under par with sophomore Lucas Lee capturing medalist honors at 14-under par.

Five years ago, Freeman served as Oklahoma's men's assistant coach. In 2005-06, the Sooners finished 29th at the NCAA Championship after placing seventh in the NCAA Central Regional. Oklahoma also won its first Big 12 Conference team title since Freeman's sophomore year as all five players finished among the Top 15 individuals.

Prior to his appointment at OU, Freeman served the previous three seasons (2002-05) at Oklahoma City University. As an assistant coach for the men's and women's programs (2002-03), he helped lead OCU to 14 combined titles, including the men's 2003 NAIA Championship.

Following the 2003 season, Freeman was promoted to head coach of the OCU women's program and guided the Stars to their second straight runner-up finish at the NAIA Championship. In his second season, 2004-05, OCU captured the NAIA women's national championship and Freeman was named the NAIA National Coach of the Year. The team set a championship record with a 49-stroke victory.

In two seasons as the OCU women's coach, Freeman mentored eight All-Americans and seven academic All-Americans.

Twice he was voted the NAIA Region VI Women's Golf Coach of the Year (2004 and 2005).

In seven of his last nine seasons as a head coach or assistant, his teams have won either a conference, regional or national championship.

As a player at OU, Freeman enjoyed a fine career, serving as the Sooners' captain for three seasons (1992-94). During his collegiate career, he earned All-Big Eight honors in 1994 and All-Big Eight academic honors in 1993. Freeman was a two-time Bruce Drake Award winner for most improved player and won OU's Jim Begwin Award for leadership and sportsmanship.

Overall, Freeman played in four Big Eight Conference Championships, including the 1992 event in which the Sooners won their first-ever league title. He also participated in four NCAA Regional events and four NCAA Championship tournaments. Of his 51 collegiate appearances, he finished in the Top 30 25 times.

He received his degree in Economics from OU in 1994 and later played two years on the Canadian, Mexican and Nike Tours. A rib injury forced him to change careers, and he worked in the financial services industry for five years prior to entering the coaching ranks.

Freeman, his wife Stephenie and their two sons live in the Santa Clarita Valley.

JASON SIGLER

ASSISTANT COACH • 2ND YEAR • KANSAS '06

Jason Sigler, a former four-year letterman for the University of Kansas golf team, begins his second season in 2011-12 as the Bruins' assistant golf coach.

Sigler, 28, was instrumental in the Bruins' academic success in 2010-11 — a year that saw the team win Best GPA, Men, Most Improved GPA and the Donald R. Shepard Award for Highest Team GPA.

Prior to his appointment, Sigler spent five years as an instructor for the Dave Pelz Golf School. In his final year he served as the lead instructor at the Pelz school's Atlanta location, where he taught more than 1,000 students in one, two and three-day seminars. Sigler opened and organized the school in Atlanta and consistently received high evaluations from students. Dave Pelz is considered one of America's foremost short game experts and has tutored many golf professionals.

"We're excited to have Jason Sigler join the coaching staff at UCLA," said Head Coach Derek Freeman at the time of his hiring. "His instructional expertise as well as his collegiate experience will be very valuable in our pursuit of championships. In addition, Jason's motivation and excitement will continue to provide our student-athletes with the atmosphere to become successful."

Sigler played at Kansas from 2003-06, where he won the 2004 Kansas City Amateur Championship. He was an All-Big Eight Academic selection from 2004-06. He earned his degree in Sports Management from Kansas in 2006.

A 2001 FCWT First-Team All-American, Sigler played four years of golf at Immaculata High School in Leavenworth, KS, his hometown. In 2001 won the Tapetio Springs Championship and was a participant in the Kansas State Amateur.
