Bruins Reach Tournament For 30th Consecutive Year — UCLA earned its 30th consecutive and 40th overall NCAA Tournament berth by winning the Pac-12 Championship and earning a No. 6 seed in the tournament. The Bruins' NCAA streak is the second-longest active streak in the nation behind Virginia (32 straight appearances), and their 40 all-time NCAA appearances are second only to Saint Louis' 47. UCLA has an all-time NCAA Tournament record of 67-36 with 13 College Cup appearances and national championships in 1985, 1990, 1997 and 2002.

UCLA vs. Tournament Field — The Bruins have played six matches against NCAA Tournament teams this season and own a 3-2-1 record against those teams. UCLA defeated Virginia, No. 11 seed Tulsa and Washington all by scores of 1-0 and lost 3-2 to 13th-seeded New Mexico and 2-1 at home against Washington. The Bruins also played to a 2-2 draw at second-seeded Maryland back on Aug. 31.

In The Rankings — UCLA finished the regular season ranked No. 4 by Soccer America and the NSCAA. The Bruins are also ranked No. 3 by Top Drawer Soccer and No. 5 by College Soccer News. In the NCAA RPI, UCLA finished the regular season at No. 5. San Diego is ranked No. 36 by Top Drawer Soccer and finished the regular season ranked No. 81 in the NCAA RPI.

How They Got Here: UCLA — UCLA received an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament after winning their second consecutive Pac-12 Championship. The Bruins earned the No. 6 seed in the tournament and a bye in the first round by virtue of their 13-2-3 overall record and 8-1-1 conference record. UCLA finished the season winning five of its last six matches and has suffered only one loss in its last 17 matches.

How They Got Here: San Diego — San Diego advanced to the NCAA second round after defeating Cal State Northridge on the road by a score of 2-1 in double overtime. Connor Brandt scored the game-winner in the 103rd minute to give the Toreros the win. The Toreros earned an automatic bid into the NCAA Tournament by winning the West Coast Conference with a regular season record of 11-8-0. San Diego is making their 13th overall trip to the NCAA Tournament and first since 2009 when the Toreros lost to UC Santa Barbara 1-0 in the first round. Head coach Seamus McFadden was named WCC Coach of the Year for the eighth time in his career while the Toreros landed 10 players on the All-WCC team, led by first-team selection and leading goal-scorer Dan Delgado. San Diego has a record of 9-11-1 all-time in the NCAA Tournament.

The Series With San Diego — The Bruins have a record of 21-5-4 all-time against the Toreros. The two teams met last year down in San Diego where the Bruins prevailed, 1-0, in overtime on a Kelyn Rowe golden goal. In 2010, the two sides met at Drake Stadium where UCLA again defeated San Diego, 3-2, in overtime. Evan Raynr scored the game-winner in overtime while Rowe and Victor Chavez added goals of their own. The Bruins have won the last three meetings against San Diego and are unbeaten in their last six matches against the Toreros. UCLA also owns a 3-3 record against the Toreros in NCAA Tournament play. The two schools last met in the second round back in 2001 in a match that resulted in a 4-0 UCLA win.

Last Time Out For UCLA — The Bruins took home their fourth Pac-12 title in five years and eighth overall by defeating the San Diego State Aztecs, 2-1, back on Nov. 9. Kevin Bick put the Aztecs ahead, 1-0, with a goal in the 54th minute, but UCLA responded quickly, getting the equalizer just two minutes later when Ryan Hollingshead headed in a cross from Evan Raynr for the tying goal. Then in the 73rd minute, the Bruins found the go-ahead goal when Reed Williams took a great through ball from Raynr and blasted one far post for his team-leading seventh goal of the year, giving UCLA the 2-1 win and the Pac-12 championship. In the 13 years that the Pac-12 has competed in men's soccer, UCLA has won the conference eight times, by far the most amongst the Pac-12 schools.

assists in NCAA Tournament play, giving him a team-high nine points in the postseason. Hollingshead was also named to the NCAA All-Tournament Team last season after scoring a goal and recording four assists in the 2011 Tournament. UCLA has made it to at least the Quarterfinal stage in the last three seasons with a College Cup appearance in 2011.

Ryan Hollingshead Named Pac-12 Player of the Year — On Tuesday, senior midfielder Ryan Hollingshead became the fifth UCLA player all-time to be named the Pac-12 Player of the Year. Hollingshead, a senior captain from Granite Bay, Calif., joins Matt Taylor (2003), Patrick Ianni (2004), Michael Stephens (2008) and Kelyn Rowe (2011) as UCLA's Pac-12 Players of the Year. This season, Hollingshead leads the Bruins with 20 points (6 g, 8 a) on the year, good for third best in the conference, and is second in the conference with eight assists. Hollingshead has started all 18 matches for UCLA this year and was named to National Teams of the Week on four separate occasions.

Jorge Salcedo Named Pac-12 Coach of the Year — In addition to Hollingshead earning Pac-12 Player of the Year honors, head coach Jorge Salcedo took home his second consecutive Pac-12 Coach of the Year award after leading the Bruins to their fourth conference title in five years in 2012. UCLA only dropped two matches this season, despite playing one of the toughest schedules in the country, and went undefeated on the road with an 8-0-2 mark. This is the fourth time that Salcedo has been named the Pac-12 Coach of the Year, winning the award in 2011, 2008 and 2004. He currently has a record of 118-44-28 in his time at UCLA and has a conference record of 59-15-14. Salcedo also starred for UCLA as a player, scoring the deciding penalty kick in the 1990 NCAA Championship game as a freshman to give UCLA its second national title. He was also a first-team NSCAA All-American in 1993.

Nine Bruins Named to the All-Pac-12 Team — The Bruins also landed nine players on the Pac-12 All-Conference team in 2012, highlighted by four first-team selections. Seniors Ryan Hollingshead and Fernando Monge, junior Reed Williams and sophomore Leo Stolz all earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors while seniors Matt Wiet and Evan Raynr, and juniors Victor Chavez and Joe Sofia were named to the second team. Sophomore goalie Earl Edwards received honorable mention. This is the third straight year that Hollingshead, Chavez and Raynr made the All-Conference team while it marks the second time that Williams, Wiet and Sofia have been named to the team. Edwards, Monge and Stolz all received Pac-12 honors for the first time in their careers.

Pac-12 Leaderboard — Several UCLA players find themselves at the top or near the top of the leaderboard in major statistical categories in the Pac-12. Senior Evan Raynr leads the Pac-12 with nine assists and 0.50 assists per game. Pac-12 Player of the Year Ryan Hollingshead is second to Raynr in assists and assists per game with eight and 0.47 respectively. Hollingshead is also tied for third in the conference with three game-winning goals and is third in points with 20. In addition, sophomore Leo Stolz is tied for third in the conference with seven assists on the year. Sophomore goalie Earl Edwards is second in the Pac-12 in both GAA (0.96) and save percentage (.797). Jorge Salcedo

Head Coach

9th Year

UCLA '02

Former UCLA All-American Jorge Salcedo is in his ninth season as head coach for the Bruins, making him the second-longest tenured men's soccer head coach in UCLA's NCAA history.

A product of UCLA's strong soccer tradition, Salcedo has maintained the Bruins' standard for success, winning six conference titles and guiding his teams to NCAA Tournament appearances each year. He signed the No. 1 recruiting classes in the nation in 2010, 2006 and 2004, and those players produced results, advancing all the way to the NCAA Championship game in the 2006 season, to the quarterfinals in 2009 and 2010, and to the College Cup Semifinals in 2011.

Over the last five seasons, Salcedo's teams have earned four Pac-12 titles and lost just six conference games (38-5-7 record). The 2012 squad secured UCLA's second consecutive Pac-12 title and saw a conference-best four players earn first-team All-Pac-12 honors. Salcedo also took home his second straight Pac-12 Coach of the Year award and saw Ryan Hollingshead win the Pac-12 Player of the Year under his leadership, marking the fourth player Salcedo has coached to Conference Player of the Year honors (Patrick Ianni, 2004; Michael Stephens, 2008; Kelyn Rowe, 2011).

The 2011 Bruins ran the table in conference play, going 10-0 and allowing just two goals in those 10 games. Salcedo, who earned his 100th career victory when UCLA clinched the conference title on Nov. 4, was named the Pac-12's Coach of the Year. The Bruins then capped off the 2011 season with a long run in the NCAA Tournament that culminated in the school's 13th berth in the NCAA College Cup.

The 2010 Bruins won 16 games, the most during Salcedo's tenure, and advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals for the second consecutive year. In 2009, Salcedo's Bruins won their second-straight Pac-10 Championship, and placed two players on the All-America team. Additionally, a school record-tying five players were selected in the MLS SuperDraft at the conclusion of the season. In 2008, Salcedo guided UCLA to the Pac-10 Championship and was named the Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the second time in his tenure.

Salcedo's 2007 team extended UCLA's post-season appearance streak to 25 consecutive years, advancing to the NCAA second round. The Bruins, who finished with a 9-9-3 record, scored in the classroom, with 24 of 30 team members making the Director's Honor Roll during the school year.

The 2006 Bruins faced an uphill battle with injuries to several starters throughout the season, but they fought through the adversity and ended a successful post-season run in the title game with a final season record of 14-6-4.

In 2005, Salcedo's Bruins recorded a 12-5-3 record and ranked amongst the best in the nation in team defense, allowing just 14 goals and posting a team goals against average of 0.67. The Bruins also captured the Pac-10 title for the fourth year in a row and earned a No. 5 seeding in the NCAA Tournament.

During his first season, Salcedo earned Pac-10 Co-Coach of the Year honors after leading UCLA to its third-straight conference title. His Bruins ended the regular season ranked No. 3 by Soccer America and advanced to the third round of the NCAA Tournament, where they finished the year with a 14-4-2 record.

Salcedo was UCLA's assistant coach from 2001-03 and helped lead the Bruins to the 2002 NCAA Championship and to two Pac-10 team championships. In 2002, he served as acting head coach in a crucial road victory at Stanford in November that helped the Bruins capture their first-ever Pac-10 title. He also served as acting head coach in the spring of 2002 in the coaching transition between Todd Saldaña and Tom Fitzgerald and had served in a similar capacity after Fitzgerald announced his resignation.

Salcedo, who is a scout for the U.S. National Team, was the head coach of the 2002 U-16 SoCal ODP State team and was also the assistant coach of the U-17 team in 2001.

The Cerritos, Calif. native had an illustrious career at UCLA from 1990-93. Salcedo was a four-year starter, playing 74 games and tallying six goals and seven assists for 19 points. As a freshman, he scored the decisive penalty kick in the shootout during the 1990 NCAA Championship game to give UCLA its second national title. In 1993 as a senior, he earned NSCAA first-team All-America honors. He prepped at Cerritos HS, where he earned two Parade All-America honors.

Salcedo played for five years in Major League Soccer (MLS). In his first season in the league, he was a starter for the Los Angeles Galaxy and helped take his team to the MLS Championship game. He also played for Chicago, where he served as team co-captain, Columbus and Tampa Bay before returning to the Galaxy in 1999. Prior to his MLS career, he played with the LA Salsa in the APSL and then for F.C. Morelia of the Mexican First Division. Salcedo was also a member of the U.S. National Team program, earning three caps with the full national team and captaining the U-17 team at the 1989 World Youth Championships and the U-20 team at the 1990 CONCACAF Tournament.

Salcedo has had extensive ties to the Bruin program for many years. He graduated from UCLA with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science and was part of three of the Bruins' four NCAA Championship teams. He was a ball boy for UCLA during its first championship year in 1985, scored the game-winning penalty kick in the 1990 Championship game and was an assistant coach for the 2002 squad. In addition, his father Hugo was a UCLA assistant coach from 1978-79 and a member of the 1972 U.S. Olympic team and will be serving as the FIFA Chairman of the 2014 World Cup. His brother Eddie was a UCLA letterwinner in 1995.

Salcedo and his wife Rebecca have been married for eight years, and they have three children, Matteo (6), Malea (4) and Marco (2).
