Kohlloeffel Captures NCAA Singles Title

Junior Benjamin Kohlloeffel capped off one of the most impressive seasons in college tennis history in 2006 when he became UCLA's first NCAA Singles Champion since current head coach Billy Martin accomplished the feat back in 1975. Kohlloeffel, ranked No. 1 for much of the year and seeded first at the championships, captured the title with a 6-1, 6-4 victory over Virginia's Somdev Devvarman. With the win, Kohlloeffel upped his record to 47-4 on the season, avenging three of his four losses on the year during his title run. He dropped just one set in six matches during the tournament.

UCLA Advances to Quarterfinals at NCAA Team Championships

For the 18th year in a row UCLA posted a top-5 finish at the NCAA Championships, advancing to the quarterfinals at last year's event in Stanford, Calif. The Bruins opened up the tournament with a pair of victories over Stony Brook (4-0, Rd. 1) and Colorado (4-0, Rd. 2) in regional action at the Los Angeles Tennis Center. That advanced UCLA to the 16-team championships in Stanford, where the 10th-seeded Bruins upset seventh-seeded Illinois, 4-2 in the Rd. of 16. Due to inclement weather, UCLA's quarterfinal showdown against second-ranked Pepperdine was moved indoors to the San Francisco Tennis Club. After falling behind in doubles, the Bruins were never able to recover, as Benjamin Kohlloeffel picked up UCLA's lone victory in a 4-1 loss to the Waves, who went on to claim the NCAA title.

UCLA in the Final Rankings

Following its loss to Pepperdine in the NCAA Quarterfinals, UCLA checked in at No. 7 in the final Fila/ITA Collegiate Tennis Rankings. UCLA was ranked in the top-10 for 14 out of 15 weeks during the year. Individually, Benjamin Kohlloeffel finished as the No. 1 singles player in the country after capturing the NCAA Singles title. Following Kohlloeffel in the rankings were No. 98 Chris Surapol and No. 108 Mathieu Dehaine. Philipp Gruendler and Kohlloeffel finished as the fourth-ranked doubles team in the nation.

Bruins Clean up on Postseason Awards

Benjamin Kohlloeffel was named the ITA's National Player of the Year, becoming the first UCLA player to win the award since Marcel Freeman in 1982. In addition, Kohlloeffel earned All-America honors in both singles and doubles. His partner, Philipp Gruendler, was also named an All-American in doubles. Four Bruins earned All-Pac-10 accolades in 2006, as Kohlloeffel (1st Team), Haythem Abid (2nd Team) and Chris Surapol (honorable mention) took home team honors. Philipp Gruendler and Kohlloeffel were named the Pac-10 Doubles Team of the Year.

UCLA Earns Share of 2006 Pac-10 Title

With a 6-1 record in conference play, the Bruins earned a share of the 2006 Pac-10 title with Stanford, marking the third year in a row that UCLA has tied for first place in the standings. The Bruins' lone loss in conference play was a 4-3 setback against Washington in Seattle.

Bruins Shine in the Classroom

Sophomores Jeremy Drean and Mathieu Dehaine were the Bruins' two best performers in the classroom in 2006, as both were named to the All-Pac-10 Academic First Team. Drean, who posted a 3.80 cumulative grade point average, is majoring in Business-Economics. Dehaine, who is also a Business-Economics major, owned a 3.71 GPA. Benjamin Kohlloeffel, Philipp Gruendler and Chris Surapol earned Honorable Mention All-Academic accolades.

Injury Bug Ruins All-Bruin Doubles Final in Ojai

With two teams in the doubles final at the Pac-10 Championships in Ojai, UCLA was looking good heading into the final day of competition at Libbey Park. Unfortunately for the spectators, that match was never played, as Benjamin Kohlloeffel became ill the night before the match and was unable to play with partner Philipp Gruendler. That gave the title to teammates Mathieu Dehaine and Jeremy Drean. The French duo becomes the seventh UCLA tandem to claim the title at The Ojai.

Martin Picks Up Victory No. 300

Head coach Billy Martin picked up his 300th career victory when the Bruins downed Illinois in the NCAA Quarterfinals back on May 20. That total trails only one other tennis coach at UCLA, as Glenn Bassett ended his 27 years at the helm with 592 wins. Martin's career total after 13 seasons is 300-59 (.836).
