

Adam Wright begins his fourth season as UCLA's head men's water polo coach in 2012. A former standout in the pool at UCLA, Wright will compete in his third Olympics for the USA Men's Water Polo Team in July 2012.

Named UCLA's fourth head coach in program history on June 3, 2009, Wright has guided the Bruins to two MPSF Tournament titles and runner-up finishes at the NCAA Tournament in his three seasons at the helm.

In three seasons as head coach, Wright has led the Bruins to a 66-18 record (.786), including a 17-7 mark in conference action. In 2009 and 2011, UCLA won the MPSF Tournament title and advanced to the title match of the NCAA Tournament. In 2010, the Bruins finished in a tie for second place in the MPSF regular-season standings and posted a fourth-place finish at the MPSF Tournament.

Wright was named MPSF Coach of the Year in 2011 after having led UCLA to the MPSF Tournament title and a runner-up finish at the NCAA Tournament.

Under Wright's guidance, eight players have secured ACWPC All-America honors, including two-time honoree Ben Hohl (2009, 2010). In 2009, Scott Davidson became the first UCLA men's water polo player to secure MPSF Player of the Year honors since 2000 (Sean Kern). Davidson and Hohl finished their careers ranking fifth and seventh, respectively, on the Bruins' all-time goals scored list. In addition, goalkeeper Chay Lapin became UCLA's all-time saves leader in 2009, totaling 719 stops in four seasons.

The Bruins produced their finest season under Wright in 2011, going 24-5 with a 6-2 record in conference action. UCLA entered the MPSF Tournament with a 20-4 record, before recording three consecutive overtime wins, all by one goal, to win the tournament title. UCLA edged USC, 10-9, in sudden victory overtime in the championship match before a standing room only crowd at the Bruins' Spieker Aquatics Center.

UCLA advanced to the 2011 NCAA Tournament championship match with a 10-1 win over UC San Diego, its best defensive effort in any NCAA Tournament match since 1971. The Bruins lost a 7-4 decision to crosstown rival USC in the championship match.

In 2009, UCLA's path to the NCAA Tournament came as a result of hard work, discipline and a strong finish at the MPSF Tournament, culminating in the Bruins' first conference tournament title since 2000. After opening MPSF play with consecutive losses in October, Wright knew that the Bruins would have to win the MPSF Tournament to have any chance at playing for a national title. He adjusted the team's practice and conditioning regimen, preparing the Bruins for the three-day tournament setting.

After finishing fourth in the MPSF regular-season standings, UCLA surged in the conference tournament. The Bruins opened with an 8-5 win over No. 5-seed Pepperdine and downed No. 1-seed and tournament host USC, 10-6, the following day. UCLA claimed the tournament title with a 10-7 win over No. 3-seed California, which was fresh off an upset of No. 2-seed Stanford.

Prior to his tenure as head coach, Wright was a four-year letterwinner at UCLA from 1997-2000, helping lead the Bruins to back-to-back NCAA titles in 1999 and 2000. Following his collegiate career, he served as a key member on the USA National Team, participating in the 2004 and 2008 Olympic Games. He helped lead Team USA to a seventh-place finish in 2004 (Athens) and to the silver medal in 2008 (Beijing).

Wright has continued training with the USA National Team while serving as UCLA's head coach and will compete at the 2012 Olympics in London.

Wright served as an assistant coach with the UCLA men's and women's water polo teams during the 2008-09 school year. He helped guide the women's program to an unprecedented fifth consecutive NCAA championship in May 2009. Following the 2008 men's water polo season, Wright played an integral role in securing the top men's recruiting class in the nation.

In addition, Wright served as an assistant coach with the varsity boys and girls water polo programs at Wilson High School (Long Beach, Calif.) from 2001-04. He helped coach the boys program to four consecutive CIF Division I championships and Moore League titles. Wright coached the girls team to two Moore League titles and two CIF Division I quarterfinal playoff appearances.

As a senior at UCLA in 2000, Wright scored 39 goals before earning honorable mention All-America acclaim and second-team All-MPSF honors. In 1999, he secured third-team All-America and second-team All-MPSF honors. That season, Wright led UCLA in assists (27) and was second in total points (48) and steals (39).

In his first two seasons, he scored 43 goals - 26 as a freshman and 27 as a sophomore. He gained second-team All-America honors in 1998 and was an honorable mention All-

America and All-MPSF selection as a freshman in 1997.

Wright graduated from UCLA in 2001 with degrees in history and sociology.

Following his collegiate career, Wright competed in the European League (Italy and Russia) for Bissolati Cremona, Civitavecchia SNC, Nuoto Catania and Dynamo Moscow from 2004-08. He has competed for the U.S. National Team in all major tournaments from 2001-11, helping lead Team USA to the gold medal at the 2003 and 2007 Pan American Games as well as the 2005 ASUA Cup (Mexico City).

Wright, 34, is married to Kerry Norris, a former UCLA women's soccer player. He and his wife reside with their two-year old daughter, Rome, and infant son, Zsolt, in Los Angeles.

Daniel Leyson enters his second season as an assistant coach with the UCLA men's water polo team in 2012. He joined the program in February 2011 and made an immediate impact with the Bruins during his first season.

Leyson's work in 2011 was critical in helping UCLA finish 24-5, win the MPSF Tournament and advance to the championship match of the 2011 NCAA Tournament. His efforts working with the team's four goalkeepers paid major dividends, as UCLA posted the conference's third-lowest goals against average (6.17).

Upon arriving in Westwood, Leyson brought significant coaching experience to the program. He had previously served as an assistant coach with the USA Water Polo Men's Senior National Team and head coach of Rose Bowl Water Polo Club in Pasadena, Calif., since 2005.

Leyson coached the USA National Team from 2002-04 under the leadership of the most successful coach in Olympic water polo history, Ratko Rudic, a three-time Olympic gold medal winning head coach. He served as an assistant to Rudic on the USA National Team that placed seventh in Athens in the 2004 Olympic Games.

Since his experience with the USA National Team in 2004, Leyson has served as the director and head coach of Rose Bowl Water Polo Club. He has helped take Rose Bowl Water Polo Club from a grass roots level to emerging as one of the nation's strongest water polo programs.

In 2011, Leyson received the Bill Barnett Distinguished Men's Coaching Award (Scholastic) from USA Water Polo. He served as an assistant coach for the 2010 USA Youth National Team. As coach of the 16U and 18U boys' teams, Leyson had teams among the top 10 at the Junior Olympics while also claiming first place at the South Florida International Tournament, US Club Championships and City of Commerce International Tournament. He guided the 16U squad to a first-place finish in the Ironman League where a Rose Bowl athlete was named MVP.

In addition, Leyson led his team to the gold medal at the 2007 Pan America Maccabiah Games in Buenos Aires, Argentina. He was an assistant coach at Los Angeles Valley College from 2006-08 and was named the 2006 Coastal California Development Coach of the Year.

Serving as the coach of the Coastal California Zone Youth Team, Leyson guided his team to a first-place finish at the 2007 National Youth Camp Tournament and to second place in 2006.

He has participated in countless common training sessions and friendly matches, including at the FINA World League, 2003 World Championships, 2003 Pan American Games and the 2004 Olympics. He has helped organize the Olympic Water Polo Academy, a clinic for young players that featured instruction from USA National Team players and coaches.

Leyson served as head coach at Loyola High School in the fall of 2002 and was an assistant coach with the men's and women's water polo programs at USC from 2000-02.

A four-year starter (1989-92) and three-time All-America selection at USC, Leyson captured first-team All-America honors as a senior in 1992. He was the leading scorer at the 1992 NCAA Tournament, leading the Trojans to a third-place finish at the national tournament that fall.

After graduating from USC in 1992, he competed with the USA National Team in 1994 and 1995 and played professionally in Europe from 1995-98 for Club Natacio and Atletico Barceloneta, a first-division Spanish club team. Leyson played in the LEN Trophy games in Barcelona, Spain and Belgrade, Serbia.

Leyson earned his Master's degree in physical education from Ball State University in 2008.
