"Lindsey (Pluimer) has improved each year she has been in the program. She has become one of the best and most versatile players on the West Coast."

"I am counting on Rey-Rey (Ibekwe) to compliment Pluimer in a leadership role for our young group of players. They will play a big role in bringing along our highly-regarded recruiting class."

"The good thing about our freshman class is that we have players at every position. Plus, with this kind of depth, now, we will be able to play more of a pressure style defense."

HEAD COACH

KATHY OLIVIER

HEAD COACH • 15TH YEAR (22ND OVERALL AT UCLA) • UNLV ('82)

Set to begin her 15th season as UCLA head coach, Kathy Olivier has energized the program. The former standout player at Cal State Fullerton and UNLV has produced two Pac-10 Players of the Year, three Pac-10 Freshman Players of the Year, a Pac-10 team championship and a Pac-10 Tournament championship. She is the only current Pac-10 coach to have as many as three freshmen named first-team All-Conference performers.

Over the last 10 years, her teams have finished in the top four of the Pac-10 Conference standings in six seasons, a total bettered by only one other conference institution during that period. From 1998-2000, she guided UCLA to a school-best three straight NCAA tournament appearances and had the Bruins back in the NCAA tournament again in 2006. Only one other conference school has made more Elite Eight (1998) appearances than the Bruins over the last 10 seasons.

Interest in UCLA women's basketball has taken off to new levels under Olivier. The only seven regular season crowds in Bruin history of over 7,000 fans have come out to support UCLA during her tenure. In fact, the top 14 regular season crowds in school history have come with Olivier at the helm.

Recognized as an excellent recruiter, she has steadily built the program to reflect her own positive, upbeat and outgoing personality. Olivier has posted a 216-193 overall mark which includes six top-four Pac-10 finishes in the last 10 years, including a Pac-10 conference championship and a conference tournament title. Her teams may favor a running game on offense, but defense is another Olivier strong point. Six of the all-time school top 10 marks for lowest opponent field goal percentages belong to Olivier-coached squads. Her teams have led the Pac-10 in steals nine times, including four of the past five seasons.

In 2007, Noelle Quinn became the first Bruin player to record at least 1,700 points, 700 rebounds and 400 assists for a career. One of 12 finalists for the Wade Trophy, Quinn finished her career just short of becoming only the second player in Pac-10 history to reach 1,800 points, 800 rebounds and 400 assists.

In 2006, the Bruins finished the season strong while posting a 21-11 record and earned a third-place finish in the Pac-10. With wins over Cal, Arizona State and Stanford on consecutive days, UCLA captured its first Pac-10 Tournament title and the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. Nikki Blue became just the fifth four-time, first-team All-Pac-10 selection and was joined on the first-team by Lisa Willis and Quinn. Blue became the first Bruin player to lead the Pac-10 in assists while Willis, the Pac-10 Tournament MVP, led the league in steals for the third straight season. Quinn ranked second in the Pac-10 in rebounding and third in scoring. The team's 10-2 record in Pauley Pavilion (.833) was the highest home court winning percentage posted by a Bruin team since the 1980-81 squad went 15-2 (.882).

In 2005, Blue earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors for the third straight year and was joined on the first team by Willis. However, the Bruins lost leading scorer and rebounder Quinn to a knee injury with 12 games to play and finished sixth in the conference. Quinn earned honorable mention all-conference honors, and Lindsey Pluimer was named to the all-conference freshman team. The team set a school record for free throw shooting percentage and allowed opponents the fourth-lowest shooting percentage in school history.

In 2004, Olivier led the Bruins to a third-place conference finish and into the NCAA tournament. The team boasted the Pac-10 Freshman of the Year in Quinn and a pair of all-conference performers in Blue and Quinn. The Bruin team surrendered just 63.8 points per game, the third-lowest in school history.

Olivier led the 2003 Bruins to 12 conference wins, a total surpassed by only two other seasons in UCLA history. By winning 18 games overall, Olivier guided the Bruins to a nine-game improvement over the previous season. Blue became the seventh freshman player in conference history to be named first-team all-league.

In 2002, Olivier guided a Bruin team which lost its top two returning scorers during the season to nine wins and a first round Pac-10 tournament victory. In 2001, she guided a team, which was playing without eight of its top nine scorers from the previous season, to a winning home record in Pac-10 play and wins over three nationally-ranked teams. In 2000, she saw her team reach the NCAA tournament for a school record third-straight season. The squad also set a Bruin home attendance record by averaging over 3,700 fans. Under Olivier's guidance, Maylana Martin became just the third player in conference history to ever earn first-team All-Pac-10 honors in four-straight seasons.

In 1999, she led her Bruin team to the school's first-ever Pac-10 Conference title and to a best-ever Elite Eight finish in the NCAA Tournament. The team totaled the most wins (26) since the 1981 season and advanced further in the NCAA tournament (Regional final) than any previous UCLA team. The team put together back-to-back 20-win seasons for the first time since the 1970's. In addition, the 1999 Bruin team finished with its highest ranking ever (No. 7) in the USA Today poll. Additionally, Martin was named Pac-10 Player of the Year, and she, Erica Gomez and LaCresha Flannigan each earned first-team all-conference honors. In 1998, she guided UCLA to what was then its best finish ever (tie for second) in the Pac-10, its best winning percentage in the last 17 seasons and the first 20-win season since 1992. In Olivier's first season as head coach in 1993-94, Natalie Williams earned Pac-10 Player of the Year honors.

Olivier originally joined the UCLA staff in the summer of 1986 as an assistant coach. Olivier began her coaching career at UNLV as a graduate assistant in 1981-82. Following one season at UC Irvine (1982-83), she was hired at USC and was on the Trojan staff for three years (1983-84 through 1985-86) as an assistant. USC, led by sophomore Cheryl Miller, won the NCAA title in Olivier's first year (1984) and reached the championship game in her third season (1986).

The former Kathy Ricks, Olivier was a standout player at Cal State Fullerton and then at UNLV. As a freshman (1977-78) at CSUF, she averaged 15.6 points and 9.2 rebounds and raised her scoring average to 19.3 as a sophomore. As a junior (1979-80) at UNLV, she earned All-America honors while averaging a team-high 16.3 points and 5.7 rebounds. In her final year (1980-81), she led the Rebels in scoring (20.2) and ranked second in rebounding (9.2).
