The unprecedented success of the UCLA women's golf program will continue in 2005-06 as Head Coach Carrie Forsyth has reloaded her program despite the loss of three key letterwinners.

She signed perhaps the best trio of recruits in school history, and her foresight is paying dividends already.

An early indication of the imminent success appeared at the Las Vegas Founders Collegiate Showdown in November. The Bruins raced out to the tournament lead on the first day by posting a school record score of 279, eight-under par. In the final round they erased their new benchmark with another one: a 12-under par score of 276. In addition, UCLA set a 54-hole school record of 840, 24-under par.

As a result of their victory in Las Vegas, the Bruins were named Team of the Week by GolfWeek and secured the No.1 seed in the Collegiate Match Play Championship, Nov. 11-13.

Outstanding performances bring coveted rewards.

Following are capsule summaries of the returning players and three freshmen.

Senior Susie Mathews begins her final season as one of the most decorated players in school history. In three years she has earned NGCA All-America honors twice and NGCA Scholar All-America acclaim three times. Her career stroke average is a sparkling 73.8 and 84% of her 97 career rounds have counted in team scoring.

"Susie's swing looks better than it's ever looked," said Forsyth. "She worked hard in the offseason. She's made some fundamental adjustments and I expect her to have a really strong year."

Last season Mathews led the team with 12 subpar rounds and three rounds under 70. In her career she has beaten par 21 times and recorded a dozen Top 10 finishes.

As a junior she earned Second-Team NGCA All-America honors after recording three runner-up finishes and placing third twice. Her scoring average was 73.3 for the second straight season.

Junior Hannah Jun, an All-American in 2004, has returned to form early this season. She won her second individual collegiate title in Las Vegas, firing a school record 54-hole score of 206 (-10). She shot a final round 66 (-6), a personal best.

"She has been phenomenal since the start of this year," said the head coach. "She's very inspired and motivated to have a good season. She's definitely on track to earn All-America honors."

After enjoying a sensational freshman season, Jun struggled at times last season, recording just one round under par and two Top 10 finishes. After the 2005 Fall season and 10 rounds, she has exceeded both numbers and notched her second collegiate victory.

In her best outing, she tied for eighth last season at the Wildcat Invitational. She also tied for ninth at the Kent Youel Invitational. Finally, she recorded her best NCAA Championship finish by tying for 16th.

Sophomore Amie Cochran earned All-America honors last season on the strength of her first collegiate victory in Hawaii, seven Top 10 finishes and an impressive 73.2 stroke average. She also ranked second on the team with 10 rounds under par.

"Amy is a really solid player," said Forsyth. "She definitely has a winning mindset, she has a lot of belief in herself as a player, she has the talent and she loves to compete. As she matures, she will be an exceptional player."

She was off to a fine start in the Fall, placing sixth at the Stanford Invitational following an opening round 68. All 10 of her Fall rounds counted and two of them were under par.

Last season, Cochran proved to be an outstanding player in major college events: she tied for eighth at the Fall Preview, tied for 14th at the Pac-10 Championship, tied for 10th at the NCAA West Regional and tied for third at the NCAA Championship.

Redshirt sophomore Brianna Loyear earned a varsity letter last season playing in five rounds plus the Match Play Championship at which she split a pair of matches.

"Brianna played a few local events this summer and won a couple of them," said Forsyth. "She's a great student, works hard, and she brings a lot to this team with her upbeat attitude and relentless desire to perform."

Loyear won the Lodi Amateur and the Santa Cruz City Amateur, and finished third in the Coombs Cup in Madera during the summer.

Forsyth expects the three freshmen on the Bruins' roster to have a major impact on this team and set new standards of excellence for the program over the next four years. Ryann O'Toole, Tiffany Joh and Jane Park represent three different types of players who bring their own brand of golf to the college scene.

O'Toole is a great athlete, according to Forsyth, and she thrives on competition. A former high school softball and basketball player, O'Toole's familiarity with team concepts and practice regimens have already helped her on the golf team.

"She's relatively young as a golfer, but she's a veteran competitor and team player," said Forsyth. "Surfing, basketball, golf — whatever she does, she's good at it."

"As a golfer she manhandles the golf ball around the course," continued the head coach. "There are a lot of really good things about her game — her length — she just kills the ball, just bombs it. She has a great putting stroke. She's super competitive. She's definitely going to be a major player on our team over the next few years."

O'Toole enjoyed a busy summer, advancing to the quarterfinals of the North and South Amateur and winning a pair of matches in the U.S. Women's Amateur. She also advanced to the third round of the Women's Western Amateur. On the AJGA circuit, she recorded a pair of Top 10 finishes and tied for 34th at the Rolex Tournament of Champions.

As a high school player she earned All-America honors from ESPN The Magazine and led San Clemente High to a pair of CIF championships.

According to Forsyth, Tiffany Joh is one of the purest ball-strikers the team has ever had, and it's no surprise to the head coach that Joh is leading the team in scoring average after the Fall season.

In two Fall appearances, Joh recorded Top 10 finishes in each, including a third place tie at Las Vegas. In 10 rounds, she averaged 71.7, and did not record a score worse than 74 in tournament play.

"Tiffany is probably one of the most naturally gifted players I've ever seen," said Forsyth. "She hits the ball so well; it's outstanding. She averages 16-17 greens (in regulation) a round, and she sticks it inside 15 feet about half the time."

"With her, we're working mostly on her putting and short game," continued Forsyth.

During the summer, Joh tied for 19th in stroke play at the U.S. Women's Amateur before falling in the second round. Earlier in the year, she tied for 13th at the ANZ Ladies Masters in Australia with scores of 73-63-73-72—281 (-7). Her second round score included a double-eagle on the final hole.

As a junior player, she won four tournaments in 2004 and placed no worse than sixth in four others. Her victory at the Aaron Baddeley World Junior Championship in Fiji came with an exemption into the ANZ Masters, a professional event.

Of the three freshmen, Jane Park possesses the most well-rounded game and the most experience in major tournaments. Prior to winning the 2004 U.S. Women's Amateur at the Kalkwa Club, she was the runner-up in 2003 at the Philadelphia Country Club. She has also played in two U.S. Opens and several LPGA Tour events.

"All of Jane's accomplishments speak for themselves," said Forsyth. "Jane has so many good things about her game—her putting, her ball-striking, her sand play — she has the most well-rounded game on the team.

"But she's lived a very different type of golf existence than a lot of young players," continued the head coach. "Her summers have been very selective: she's played in the U.S. Open, the Amateur, the Nabisco. I really feel that the team environment is a place where she's going to thrive. She likes it so much. She's really come into her own as a person."

Although she never played high school golf, Park has notched some impressive victories in a short period of time. She beat Paula Creamer 2 & 1 on her way to the semifinals of the 2003 U.S. Women's Amateur and she edged Morgan Pressell 1-up on her way to the semifinals of the 2004 U.S. Girls Junior Championship in Ft. Worth, TX. She also tied for 18th at the 2004 Nine Bridges Classic in South Korea and she tied for 24th that year at the Kraft Nabisco Championship.

- Has placed six different players on the Pac-10 All-Academic Team since 1999-2000.
- The Bruins have set scoring marks for single round, 54 and 72 holes, and single season scoring average during Forsyth's tenure.

Carrie Forsyth, who has enjoyed unprecedented success at the helm of her alma mater, begins her seventh season as UCLA's head coach.

In the September, 2005 issue of Golf Digest, the magazine ranked Forsyth's program the No. 2 most balanced collegiate program in the nation. Based on the growth and success of the UCLA women's golf program, Forsyth deserves much of the credit.

Last year UCLA won six tournaments, bringing Forsyth's career total to 17, and came within a few shots of winning its second-straight NCAA title. The Bruins won their second consecutive Pac-10 title and tied for first at the NCAA Regional. For the third time in four years, Forsyth was voted the Pac-10 Coach of the Year. At the NCAA Championship, the Bruins recorded their fourth Top 5 finish in her six-year tenure.

Three players — Charlotte Mayorkas, Susie Mathews and Amie Cochran — earned All-America honors, and Mathews earned NGCA Scholar All-America honors for the third straight year.

Mayorkas finished her career last season as the only three-time first-team All-American in UCLA women's golf history. Overall, Forsyth has tutored seven different All-Americans, including three first-team selections.

Last season, Mayorkas, Mathews and Cochran each earned First-Team All-Pac-10 honors, and Hannah Jun and Melissa Martin received Honorable Mention acclaim. Eleven different players have earned all-conference honors during the Forsyth Era.

The Bruins began the 2004-05 season with a consensus No.1 ranking—a first in the program's history.

In 2003-04, the Bruins enjoyed a magical season, and Forsyth orchestrated their success. UCLA won its last six tournaments, including the trifecta of the Pac-10 Championships, the NCAA West Regional crown and the NCAA title. Overall, the Bruins won seven tournaments and set a school record for victories in a season. Forsyth's program also produced four All-Americans, five all-conference selections and three academic All-Americans.

Statistically, the Bruins dropped their scoring average eight strokes from the previous year, while every player on the roster improved her stroke average.

UCLA set school records during the season for lowest average team score (291.5) and lowest team score in a single round (282). Mayorkas also set a school record for single season tournament victories (4), best scoring average (71.6), lowest single round score (65) and consecutive counters (35).

Mathews and Mayorkas also finished third and fourth, respectively, at the NCAA Championships, helping UCLA play the final nine holes in five-under par. Both players earned First-Team NGCA All-America honors and ended their seasons ranked among the nation's Top 10 players. Senior Krystal Shearer also was selected as an Honorable Mention All-American by the NGCA.

In addition, Jun, who earned second-team All-America honors, won the NCAA West Regional title and was voted the 2004 Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year.

Mayorkas, who was voted Pac-10 Player of the Year in 2004, Mathews, Shearer, Jun and senior Gina Umeck each earned All-Pac-10 honors.

In the classroom, Mathews, Umeck and senior Bridget Dwyer earned Academic All-America honors from the NGCA. Each player also earned Pac-10 All-Academic Team honors. Finally, nine different players earned mention on the Director's Honor Roll during the academic year 2003-04.

Forsyth was voted Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the second time and also earned NGCA National Coach of the Year honors.

In 2002-03, the Bruins tied for fifth place at the

In Forsyth's second season, the Bruins began their streak of NCAA appearances by placing fourth at the NCAA West Regionals. At the 2001 NAAs, the Bruins tied for fifth place, and senior Laura Moffat tied for sixth place individually. Umeck and Martin recorded honors, and finished the season ranked sixth nationally. Moffat earned All-Pac-10 Honorable Mention honors and first-team all-conference academic honors. Finally, several players earned mention on the Director's Honor Roll.

Forsyth, 34, served as the head coach at Cal State Northridge from 1996-99, where she was named the 1998-99 Big Sky Coach of the Year. She guided the Matadors to a third place finish in the 1998 Big Sky Conference Championship and placed two players on the all-conference team. In her three seasons, the Matadors improved their team scoring average by 31 strokes.

In 1990, the former Carrie Leary entered UCLA as a walk-on player and earned a scholarship after her first year.

As a UCLA freshman, she participated in 11 of 12 tournaments, including lineups that won the Pacific-10 Conference Championships and finished second at the NCAA Championships.

She graduated with honors from UCLA in 1994 with a degree in Psychology and also served as the Bruins' student assistant coach during the 1993-94 season.

As an amateur, Forsyth competed in four U.S. Public Links Championships and advanced to the quarterfinals in 1991. She also competed in three U.S. Amateur Championships and was an alternate qualifier for the 1992 and 1994 U.S. Women's Open Championships.

Forsyth, who is a member of the Ladies Professional Golf Assn., played on several LPGA mini-tours. She competed in the 1995 LPGA Tour Qualifying School.

Forsyth enjoyed a fine junior career before entering UCLA. She won over 30 events as a member of the Southern California Junior Golf Assn., including a third place individual finish in the 1983 Junior World Championship.

At Canyon High, where she graduated in 1989, she lettered four years on the boy's golf team and earned MVP honors as a senior.

She married James Forsyth on July 26, 2003, and the couple reside in Valencia.

In the classroom, two players earned Scholar All-America honors from the NGCA, and three players were named to the Pac-10 All-Academic Team. Also, six different players earned spots on the Director's Honor Roll during the season.

In 2001-02, the Bruins saved their best golf for the NCAA West Regional tournament by tying for first place and winning the playoff to earn the No. 1 seed from the West. Prior to that event, the Bruins had recorded eight Top 10 finishes and placed second at the Pac-10 Championships. The Bruins also improved their team stroke average by three shots.

Three players earned All-Pac-10 honors, and freshman Yvonne Choe was named Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year after earning all-conference second-team honors. Three players also earned Pac-10 All-Academic Team acclaim.

Finally, 10 different players placed their names on the Director's Honor Roll for the academic year.

finishes among the Top 25 at the national championship tournament.

In the Fall of 2000, the Bruins won a pair of tournaments: their second straight Hawaii Rainbow Fall Classic and the San Diego State Fall Classic. At the SDSU event, freshman Johanna Andersson won the individual title.

Honorees included Moffat, who earned Honorable Mention All-America acclaim, and Martin and Umeck, who were All-Pac-10 selections.

Forsyth's energy produced immediate results in her first UCLA season — 1999-2000. The Bruins won the Hawaii Rainbow Fall Classic a few weeks into the season and established themselves as a growing force on the national scene by placing fifth at the NCAA Fall Preview. When their season ended, the Bruins had improved their team stroke average by five shots from the previous year, and nearly every player had improved her stroke average.

Senior Amanda Moltke-Leth earned First-Team NGCA All-America and All-Pac-10

GUS MONTAÑO

ASSISTANT COACH • 1ST YEAR • (CITRUS COLLEGE '93)

Gus Montañó, who worked eight years at the American Junior Golf Assn., begins his first year as UCLA's assistant golf coach.

"We are pleased to have a person of Gus's experience and dedication on our staff," said Associate Athletic Director Glenn Toth, who oversees the golf programs. "He brings a wealth of tournament expertise, organizational skills, and coaching prowess to UCLA."

Montañó's duties at UCLA will be varied and extensive. He will help coach Carrie Forsyth identify potential recruits, track the student-athletes' academic progress, order and distribute equipment and work with players on rules education and instruction. In addition, he will manage any UCLA-hosted tournaments.

In 1996, Montañó began as an intern at the AJGA and served in that capacity for five months before assuming a full-time position. He rose through the organization as a Tournament Director and as the Director of Education, a position he held for six years.

As the AJGA's Tournament Director, Montañó was responsible for budgeting, planning, executing, developing sponsor and host facility relations and the overall tournament and golf course operations for more than 40 national junior golf tournaments. He also managed all the promotions and operations for the Nike Junior Golf All-Star series. In addition, he supervised the revision of the AJGA Tournament Operations Manual, a 250-page guide utilized by several golf associations.

As Director of Education, Montañó educated and instructed the AJGA's Tournament Operations staff of 12 for five years on the Rules of Golf. He was also responsible for organizing, directing and executing the AJGA's Day of Education, which provides a three-topic seminar built to educate juniors on how to succeed at tournament golf.

Montañó is well-versed in the Rules of Golf. He has attended nine PGA/USGA Rules of Golf workshops and six Tournament Administration workshops.

As captain of the West Team, he guided his squad to a 3-1 record in the Canon Cup from 2001-04.

Montañó, 37, graduated from the Professional Golfers Career College in Temecula, CA in May, 1996 after studying Golf Course Design and Development, the Rules of Golf, Golf Swing Techniques and the Psychology of Golf, among other curriculums.

A native of Southern California, Montañó graduated from Citrus College in 1993 with an AA degree. He took up golf at Citrus College and earned a spot on the Owls' golf team.

At Arroyo High School in El Monte, Montañó earned two varsity letters in wrestling.

THE JACKIE STEINMANN AWARD

Named after UCLA's legendary Hall of Fame coach, the Jackie Steinmann award is given annually to UCLA's Most Valuable Player. Awarded since 2003 at UCLA's annual post-season banquet, the only recipient has been three-time All-American Charlotte Mayorkas.

Steinmann retired in June, 1999 but has remained an important figure in collegiate golf. In addition to her coaching book, she still attends many of the Bruins' local tournaments and conducts numerous clinics nationwide.

Inducted into the Collegiate Women's Golf Hall of Fame in 1989, Steinmann coached the Bruins for 22 years and built UCLA women's golf into a nationally-respected program. In her tenure, the Bruins won 43 tournaments, three conference titles and the 1991 NCAA team title. She tutored 15 different All-Americans, three Academic

All-Americans and numerous professional players.

Twice the recipient of the Rolex Gladys Palmer Award for Meritorious Service, Steinmann was voted the 1996 NGCA Coach of the Year. She also was voted Pacific-10 Conference Coach of the Year in 1990 and '91. In 1989, she was selected as the LPGA Coach of the Year.

Currently, she lives in Rancho Bernardo and enjoys golf, gourmet cooking and keeping in touch with friends.

THE GOLD RUSH AT PGA OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

SEPT. 17-18, CALIMESA, CA

UCLA 23RD, 318-297-307—922 (+58)

In a first for the UCLA women's program, the defending NCAA champions teed it up against a men's field and beat seven teams. The event gave Coach Carrie Forsyth an opportunity to assess her team's grit and the Bruins fared well after a rocky start. They cut 11 strokes off their first round score and came away with a positive experience.

Most impressive was a second round 70 (-2) posted by freshman Amie Cochran, playing in just her second collegiate round. "You can only improve unless you toughen the competition and play tough courses," opined Forsyth. Down the road, the Bruins' toughness would prove her point.

FALL PREVIEW AT SUNRIVER RESORT MEADOWS COURSE

SEPT. 20-22, SUNRIVER, OR

UCLA 7TH, 295-290-291—876 (+24)

The Bruins barely had time to catch a plane following the Gold Rush to participate in the annual Fall Preview, which showcased the best women's teams in collegiate golf. The harried travel and climate extreme from desert heat to fall chill and moisture also exacted its toll. Nevertheless, the Bruins managed a Top 10 finish against a quality field, and Cochran tied for eighth individually at 215 (+2). In a preview of future results, Duke won by six strokes. Oklahoma State's Karin Sjodin won medalist honors with a seven-under par 54-hole total of 206.

Charlotte Mayorkas

MASON RUDOLPH INVITATIONAL AT

THE LEGENDS CLUB

OCT. 1-3, FRANKLIN, TN

UCLA 2ND, 289-288-297—874 (+10)

A disastrous final round cost the Bruins a title in this event, repeating their fall from first place the previous year. UCLA held a seven-stroke lead over Duke entering the final round but could not hold on and lost by a stroke. Susie Mathews placed second with a three-round total of 215 (-1) and senior Charlotte Mayorkas tied for third at even par 216. No Duke player finished among the top eight, but the Blue Devils played the final round in one-over par to record another head-to-head victory over the Bruins.

STANFORD INTERCOLLEGIATE AT STANFORD GC

OCT. 15-17, STANFORD, CA

UCLA 4TH, 287-289-286—862 (+22)

UCLA hovered around the top of the leaderboard for most of this tournament, but fell away at the end, despite posting its best score in the final round. Mayorkas and Mathews tied for 10th and 13th, respectively. Arizona State, riding the hot play of freshman Louise Stahle won by five shots, while the Bruins were 10 shots behind.

KENT YOEI INVITATIONAL AT KAPOLEI GC

OCT. 26-27, HONOLULU, HI

UCLA 1ST, 283-285-291—859 (-5)

The Bruins blistered the golf course, posting a five-under par score and capturing their first tournament title of the season. In addition, freshman Amie Cochran won her first collegiate title by compiling a four-under par score of 212. She won by one shot over Mathews and by two over Mayorkas, who fired a first round 69. As a team, the Bruins won by nine shots, defeating a solid field that included Arizona State and UC Irvine, both NCAA-bound teams.

COLLEGIATE MATCH PLAY CHAMPIONSHIPS Nov. 14-17, HOWIE-IN-THE-HILLS, FL UCLA 0-2-0

Two decisive losses to Arizona (4-1) and Purdue (3.5-1.5) ousted the fifth-seeded Bruins from the match play championships. UCLA played without Mayorkas, who attempted to qualify for the Futures Tour. One highlight: redshirt freshman Brianna Loyear won her match 1-up against Purdue's Maria Stinson.

REGIONAL CHALLENGE AT PALOS VERDES GOLF CLUB FEB. 7-9, PALOS VERDES, CA UCLA 2ND, 289-304-305—898 (+46)

After an impressive first round score of five-over par, the Bruins fell from their perch with a pair of 300-plus rounds. They also finished second, two shots behind Pepperdine. The Bruins did manage to defeat third-place

Duke by two strokes and Florida (4th) by six. Individually, Mayorkas placed second while Duke's Brittany Lang won medalist honors. Senior Melissa Martin and Mathews tied for sixth at 222, and Jun tied for 15th at 226.

ARIZONA WILDCAT INVITATIONAL AT ARIZONA NATIONAL GC FEB. 21-22, TUCSON, AZ UCLA 1ST, 287-286-291—864 (+12)

The Bruins held onto their five-shot second round lead and squeaked out a one-shot victory against Arizona and a field stacked with future NCAA participants. Mayorkas recorded another second place finish, Jun tied for eighth and Martin tied for 11th. In fact, all five UCLA players finished among the Top 25.

SJSU INVITATIONAL AT CORRAL DE TIERRA GC FEB. 8-9, SALINAS, CA UCLA 1ST, 287-286-291—864 (+12)

Trailing by six shots after the first round, the Bruins posted a score of 281 (-4) to seize a one-stroke lead after 36 holes. In the final round, their 289 score was good enough for a two-shot victory over Washington. Individually, Mathews finished third after climbing the leaderboard with a final round 68 (-3). Mayorkas tied for fourth at 214 (+1) and Cochran, who fired a season-best score of 66 (-5) in the second round, tied for sixth.

ASU INVITATIONAL AT KARSTEN GOLF COURSE APR. 1-3, TEMPE, AZ UCLA T-1ST, 291-287-292—870

The Bruins and Sun Devils battled to a first place tie with ASU coming from behind in the final round with an even par score of 288. The Bruins held a four-shot lead entering the last round but were forced to count a 77 in their team total. ASU's Louise Stahle continued her hot play, winning medalist honors with a seven-under par total of 209, while Cochran placed second at 212 (-4) and Mathews took third at 213 (-3). Mayorkas, the defending champion, tied for 11th at 221 (+5).

PAC-10 CHAMPIONSHIPS AT RUBY HILLS GC APR. 18-20, PLEASANT HILL, CA UCLA 1ST, 289-290-295—874 (+10)

UCLA's seven-stroke second round lead dwindled to four but the Bruins won their second straight conference title, and Forsyth earned Coach of the Year honors for the third time in six years. Mathews posted three rounds under par, including a 68 (-4) in the first round, to finish second at 209 (-7). ASU's Stahle swept the awards: Pac-10 Player of the Year and Newcomer of the Year. Mayorkas, the defending Pac-10 champion, tied for fifth at 214 (-2) and Cochran tied for 14th at 224 (+8). Hannah Jun tied for 21st at 228 (+12). In the all-conference balloting, Mayorkas, Mathews and Cochran earned first-team honors and Jun was voted honorable mention.

NCAA WEST REGIONAL AT NMSU COURSE MAY 5-7, LAS CRUCES, NM UCLA T-1ST, 304-299-286—889

UCLA was forced to climb the leaderboard for this title, vaulting from a 10th place tie in the first round to tie Tennessee for the regional championship. After posting a 299 in the second round, the Bruins found themselves in a tie for fourth, eight shots behind USC, the 36-hole leader. USC ballooned to 297 in the final round and Georgia, the second-round third place team after 36 holes, exploded with a score of 309. The Bruins' two-under par 286 was the best score of the last round and allowed them to win their third regional title in the six-year Forsyth Era. Cochran placed 10th at 222 (+6) and Mayorkas tied for 11th at 223 (+7). Jun tied for 20th at 225 (+9) with Mathews, who posted a final round three-under par 69.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS AT THE MEADOWS GC MAY 17-20, SUNRIVER, OR UCLA 2ND, 288-302-292-293—1,175 (+39)

A third round score of 278 (-6) gave Duke the 54-hole lead and the Blue Devils managed to hold off UCLA's charge in the final round to capture the national championship. UCLA began the final round nine shots behind Duke, but could not manage a serious comeback on the final nine holes, although the Blue Devils ballooned with a 297 (+13). Cochran's final round 68 (-3) vaulted her from 12th place into a tie for third at 288 (+4). Mayorkas tied for 14th at 295 (+11) and Jun tied for 16th at 296 (+12). Mathews, despite playing the first 54 holes in 20-over par, rebounded with a final round 72 and tied for 74th. Martin, in her final collegiate event and fourth NCAA Championship tournament, tied for 88th.

Annual Donation: $1800

From its inception in the early 1970s, the UCLA women's golf program has enjoyed much success. Beginning in 1971 when the Bruins won the National Intercollegiate Championship to the 1991 national championship that UCLA won under legendary Coach Jackie Tobian-Steinmann, and continuing with the 2004 NCAA title won under the stewardship of Carrie Forsyth, UCLA women's golf has been synonymous with athletic and academic success.

The 1970-71 UCLA women's golf team won UCLA's first national championship in women's athletics by defeating favored Arizona State by 18 shots. The event, hosted by the University of Georgia, featured the two-player Bruin team of Janet Weber and Carol Ginder. Weber finished second individually, losing in a sudden-death playoff, and Ginder captured fifth.

A winning tradition was born.

The following year the Bruins competed in the Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women and participated in six AIAW Golf Championships until the NCAA incorporated women's athletics for the 1981-82 academic year.

Weber and Ginder played another four years for the Bruins with Ginder serving as player-coach during the 1974-75 season after Joann Martin, the Bruins' first coach, retired.

In 1977, UCLA hired an obscure, local club champion, who played golf when she wasn't working as a professional ski instructor. Jackie Tobian-Steinmann quickly propelled the Bruins into the national spotlight by leading them to a ninth place team finish in the 1979 AIAW Championships. Playoff appearances, All-Americans and national rankings became the norm under Tobian-Steinmann's leadership.

The transition to NCAA competition proved seamless as the Bruins competed in the inaugural championship at Stanford in 1982 and placed seventh. Mary Enright was UCLA's top finisher, capturing 26th place.

Kay Cockerill, who won U.S. Women's Amateur Championships in 1985 and '86, was UCLA's first All-American.

A few years later, a scrawny freshman enrolled at UCLA as a non-scholarship player and finished her career as one of the finest players in school history. Kay Cockerill became UCLA's first female NCAA golf All-American and won consecutive U.S. Amateur Championships, while also becoming the program's first golf Academic All-American.

In her final two seasons, Cockerill led the Bruins to a pair of Top 15 finishes at the NCAA Championships and placed fourth and sixth individually.

In 1999, she became the first female golfer to be inducted into UCLA's Hall of Fame.

The Bruin tradition of success continued after Cockerill's graduation. Kristal Parker, currently a veteran LPGA player, earned All-America honors in 1987. She tied for 33rd place individually at the NAAs and led the Bruins to a 16th place finish that season.

In 1988 Valerie Pamard earned All-America honors after sparking the Bruins to a 13th place finish. Jean Zedlitz was UCLA's highest NCAA finisher that season, tying for 23rd place.

Zedlitz earned All-America honors in 1989 and '90. She tied for 24th place nationally, competing as an individual in 1989.

In 1990, the Bruins won their first Pac-10 title and placed second nationally. Current Coach Carrie (Leary) Forsyth played in 11 of 12 events for this team as a non-scholarship freshman. Zedlitz and Elizabeth Bowman

1991 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP SUMMARY

UCLA won its first NCAA title in women's golf in 1991 at the Ohio State University Scarlet Course. The Bruins won five tournaments that season, one shy of the previous school record, and entered the tournament as one of the favorites to capture the team crown.

The Bruins overcame a six-stroke deficit on the final two holes to tie San Jose State after 72 holes.

The teams began the first-ever NCAA Championship sudden death playoff format, and on the first extra hole, UCLA's LaRee

Sugg sank a 25-foot birdie putt to win the school's second NCAA golf team championship (the men won in 1988).

Individually, the Bruins' Christy Erb finished second to Arizona's Annika Sorenstam. Erb's 291 total was three-over par. Lisa Kiggins finished in a tie for 13th at 300, and Sugg tied for 16th at 301.

Kiggins, Sugg and Debbi Koyama earned All-America honors, while each of those players plus Elizabeth Bowman was awarded All-Pac-10 honors.

earned first-team all-conference honors and Christy Erb was a second-team all-conference selection.

In 1990-91, the Bruins won five tournaments, their second straight Pac-10 title and senior Lisa Kiggins won the conference individual title. The Bruins also won their first NCAA team title and Erb captured second place. (See story on p.21.)

From 1990-97, the Bruins participated in the NCAA Championships eight straight seasons, capturing the title once and finishing in the Top 10 every season.

In 1995-96, Tobian-Steinmann engineered a defining achievement for UCLA Women's Golf, when the Bruins hosted the NCAA Championships at the La Quinta Resort in Palm Springs. That season, the Bruins enjoyed one of their finest campaigns, winning four tournaments and placing among the Top 5 in seven others. They posted 17 sub-300 scores, a school record at the time. The Bruins finished three shots behind Arizona for the NCAA title, but landed four players on the All-America team: Jenny Park, Kathy Choi, Amandine Vincent and Jeong Min Park.

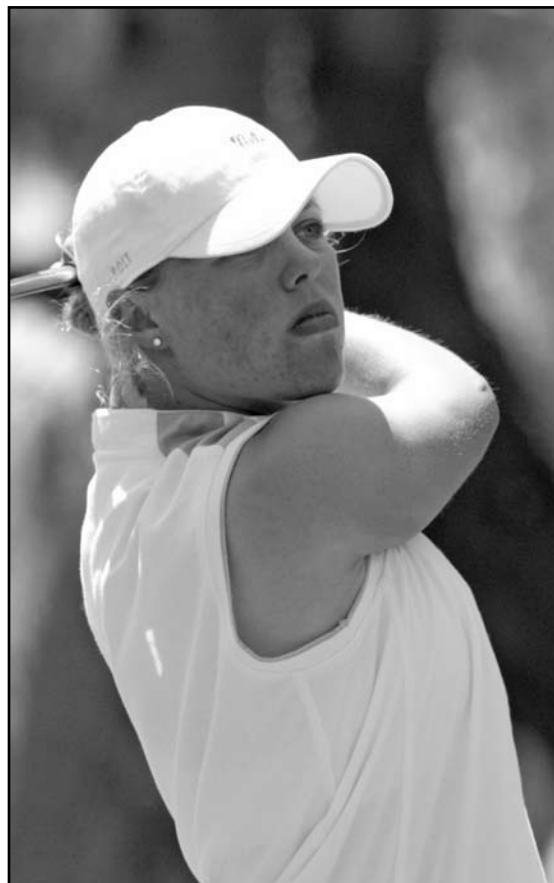

On July 1, 1999, UCLA began a new era by hiring Forsyth as its second full-time head coach.

In six seasons, Forsyth has guided the Bruins to five straight NCAA Championship berths, culminating with the 2004 team title (see story below). She led the Bruins to victories in the 2002, '04 and '05 NCAA West Regionals, the 2004 and '05 Pac-10 titles, and she has earned Pac-10 Coach of the Year honors three times.

Forsyth has tutored seven All-Americans: Amanda Moltke-Leth in 2000, Laura Moffat in 2001, Charlotte Mayorkas from 2003-05, Susie Mathews, Hannah Jun and Krystal Shearer in 2004 and Amie Cochran in 2005. In 2002, freshman Yvonne Choe earned Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year honors after finishing in a tie for fourth place at the conference championship tournament. In 2004, Jun was awarded the same honor after placing second in the conference championship. Jun became the first UCLA golfer to win the NCAA West Regional a few weeks later.

Finally, Forsyth was named the 2004 national Golf Coach of the Year by the NGCA after guiding the Bruins to seven tournament victories including the conference, regional and national championships.

In 2005, the Bruins were in contention to win a second national championship, but ultimately finished as the runner-up to Duke. Three players, including Cochran, earned All-America honors and Mayorkas and Mathews earned first and second team laurels, respectively. In addition, the Bruins won the Pac-10 and NCAA West Regional titles for the second straight year and Forsyth was voted conference coach of the year for the third time.

Charlotte Mayorkas became the first three-time All-American in UCLA women's golf history.

2004 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP SUMMARY

The Bruins won their second NCAA title in women's golf with a lot of heart and hard work. The experts were ready to hand top-ranked Duke the title. The Blue Devils had won 10 of the 11 tournaments in which they had participated, including a 14-shot victory over the Bruins in the fall at the Stanford tournament. More than a few people said Duke was the greatest team ever assembled.

In the spring the Bruins got hot. They won the spring season opener, the Regional Challenge, by 32 strokes. After finishing third in their next event, they won every event that followed, including the Pac-10 and NCAA Regional championships. At the NAAs, they took the 36-hole lead and hung on while Duke faded and Oklahoma State ran out of holes.

A 24-hour rain delay on the final day helped. Entering the day with a seven-stroke lead, the Bruins watched their advantage shrink to nothing through the first nine holes.

Rain came and hope followed.

"We were definitely struggling when they halted play (Friday)," said Coach Carrie Forsyth.

On Saturday, the rainbow appeared, and the Bruins erased the doubters by playing the final nine holes in five-under par. All-American Charlotte Mayorkas drained three birdies on the inward nine, including a 30-footer on the 71st hole. Susie Mathews added two birdies of her own to post an even par 72 and finish third individually at eight-under par. Gina Umeck tied for 16th with a clutch 73 in the final round.

In the end, the Bruins had won by three shots over Oklahoma State and by 11 over Duke.

Four Bruins — Mayorkas, Mathews and Jun — earned All-America honors and Forsyth was voted the National Golf Coaches Assn.'s Coach of the Year.

Bel-Air Country Club: The Bel-Air Country Club, site of the 1976 U.S. Amateur Championship and 2004 U.S. Senior Amateur Championship, has served as UCLA's home course for more than 40 years. Located five minutes from campus, Bel-Air's original architecture was done by George C. Thomas, Jack Neville and Billy Bell Sr., with most recent changes by Robert Trent Jones. The Bruins play here frequently and enjoy privileges to use the new driving range. From the white tees the course measures 6,100 yards, par 74 with a rating of 67.0.

Brentwood Country Club: The Brentwood Country Club is located just 10 minutes from the UCLA campus. The course, which measures 6,120 yards and carries a 75.3 rating from the white tees, puts emphasis on accuracy and is often subject to strong ocean breezes. The course also boasts an excellent short game practice area. Brentwood and UCLA also hosted the 1994 Women's Pacific-10 Conference Championships. The Bruins play here on Tuesdays.

Hillcrest Country Club: Located 10 minutes from campus, Hillcrest is one of the area's oldest layouts. Opened in 1922, it was the site of the 1929 PGA Championship won by Leo Diegel. Hillcrest also hosted the 1932 and '42 Los Angeles Opens. The course features rolling fairways, numerous bunkers and large undulating greens, plus some of the best views of the Los Angeles skyline. Designed by Willie Watson, the course carries a 74.8 rating over 5,833 yards.

Los Angeles Country Club: Considered one of America's finest, the North Course is consistently ranked among the nation's Top 20 golf courses. Both the North and South courses were designed by George C. Thomas, who also designed Riviera CC and Ojai Valley CC. Site of the 1983 Men's Pac-10 Championships, won by UCLA. The Bruins enjoy regular playing privileges here.

Mountain Gate Country Club: Sporty course that offers great vistas of Los Angeles. Severely contoured greens require a delicate putting touch. The Bruins practice here often. Measures 5,705 yards, is rated 72.9 from the red tees, plays to a par of 72.

Ojai Valley Inn: This historic course was designed by George C. Thomas and predates his creation of Riviera Country Club. Ojai features short, tight holes and tricky greens, and places a premium on accuracy. Former host of a Senior PGA Tour event. Numerous barrancas and old California Oaks populate the course, which plays to 6,252 yards, a 70.6 rating and a 123 slope.

Palos Verdes Country Club: Built in 1924 and designed by George C. Thomas, this course is one of the Southland's best kept secrets. Although short in length it tests every facet of a player's game, particularly around the greens. Its rolling terrain produces many uneven lies. Greens are fast and fairways narrow. Home of the annual Northrop-Grumman Regional Challenge. From the yellow tees it measures 6,116 yards with a rating of 70.4 and a slope of 131. Par is 71.

Robinson Ranch: Brand new facility, featuring two championship courses — The Mountain and The Valley. The Mountain Course measures 6,508 yards and offers dramatic views and plenty of water, while demanding strategic course management and accuracy off the tee. The Valley Course meanders through untouched stands of sage and chaparral, California Sycamores and Coastal Live Oaks. This course hosted the 2003 Pioneer Bruin Classic.

TPC at Valencia: Designed by Chris Gray and two-time major winner Mark O'Meara, it is a big golf course requiring both length off the tee, precise iron play and bold putting. Running through oak canyons, river valleys and foothills, the course challenges players of every skill level. From the forward tees, the course measures 5,141 and plays to a par of 72.

Valencia Country Club: A classic Robert Trent Jones Sr. design featuring numerous bunkers, hidden water hazards and large, undulating greens. Prevailing afternoon winds can make this course play long and difficult. Signature hole is the par three third that features a long carry over water to a big, fast green, shaded by tall trees. From the red tees, this par 74 course is rated 74.4 with a slope of 133 over 6,000 yards. Coach Forsyth's home course.

Wilshire Country Club: Medium length course that boasts the city's best greens. A barranca runs through the course and comes into play on almost all the holes. Boasts an excellent chipping and putting area and a well-maintained range. Carries a course rating of 74.7 at 6,008 yards and a slope of 133. The Bruins play here on Wednesdays.

CHANCELLOR
9TH YEAR

Albert Carnesale, who became the eighth chief executive of UCLA in 1997, announced his retirement effective June 30, 2006 after a nine-year tenure. Following a one-year sabbatical, he will return to his joint-tenured faculty appointment in the Department of Policy Studies and the Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering.

Before joining UCLA, Carnesale was at Harvard University for 23 years. In 1974, he became the Lucius N. Littauer Professor of Public Policy & Administration at Harvard's John F. Kennedy School of Government. In July 1994, Carnesale was appointed as provost, coordinating Harvard's central administration, supervising its information technology activities and overseeing academic programs that involved two or more of the University's schools.

Carnesale was born July 2, 1936 in the Bronx, New York. He earned B.S. and M.S. degrees in mechanical engineering at Cooper Union (1957) and Drexel University (1961) and a Ph.D. in nuclear engineering at North Carolina State (1966). In addition, he is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Pi Sigma and Sigma Xi honorary societies.

In academia, Carnesale was a professor at North Carolina State University from 1962-69 and 1972-74. He went to Harvard in 1974. In addition to teaching and research, he served at the John F. Kennedy School of Government as academic dean from 1981-91, and dean from 1991-1995.

He participated in the U.S. delegation to the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT I, 1970-72) and led the U.S. delegation to the International Nuclear Fuel Cycle Evaluation (1978-80), a 66-nation study of the relationship between civilian nuclear power and proliferation of nuclear weapons.

Carnesale has written extensively on international affairs, defense policy, and nuclear energy issues. He was a founding editor of the quarterly journal International Security. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and of the International Institute for Strategic Studies.

Dr. Carnesale and his wife Robin live in the Chancellor's residence on campus.

DANIEL G. GUERRERO
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
UCLA '74
4TH YEAR

In three years as UCLA's Director of Athletics, Daniel G. Guerrero has presided over 11 NCAA team titles, and has the program poised to reach the century mark in 2005-06.

A former Bruin baseball player, Guerrero exudes the pride of a student-athlete who is now calling the shots at his alma mater. Calling his current position his dream job, his goal is to help each sport at UCLA maximize its potential and contend for a national championship.

Guerrero is serving his first year as a member of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee and "The College Basketball Partnership," a group that includes many of the most influential people in the sport.

This past year, UCLA won three NCAA team championships — men's and women's water polo and men's tennis. Overall, UCLA leads the nation with 97 NCAA team titles.

In 2002-03, Guerrero earned numerous honors, including: 2002 UCLA Latino Alumnus of the Year (October); Cal State University, 2003 Dominguez Hills Alumnus of the Year (March); and 2003 "Father of the Year" by the Father's Day Council of the American Diabetes Assn. (June). He also became the first athlete in any sport at Banning High School to have his jersey (No. 8 in baseball) retired, and on Sept. 10, 2002, the Los Angeles City Council honored him with Dan Guerrero Day.

In addition, the May 5, 2003 issue of Sports Illustrated listed him No. 28 among the 101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports. He was one of 28 people whose photo was on that issue's cover. He also served as a member of the NCAA Baseball Committee during the 2002-2003 year.

Guerrero came to UCLA from UC Irvine, where he had served as UCI's fifth permanent Director of Athletics since December 17, 1992.

Guerrero, 54, received his Bachelor's degree from UCLA in 1974 and played second base in the Bruin baseball program for four years. Born on November 10, 1951 in Tucson, AZ, he is married to the former Anne Marie Aniello and they have two daughters: Jenna (23) and Katie (19).

GLENN TOTH
ASSOC. ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
UCLA '76

Glenn Toth, who has served the athletic department for 29 years, enters his eighth year in charge of both the golf and tennis programs. Last year, the women's golf team finished second and the men's tennis team won the NCAA title.

An associate athletic director with a variety of administrative duties, Toth is responsible for the department's association with adidas, and was the architect of the 2004 renewal with the shoe and apparel corporation. Previously the department's corporate relations director, Toth played the key role in researching and soliciting UCLA's new sports marketing partner, ISP, which now manages the relationship with television, radio, the department website, program provider, and corporate relations. Trade relationships are still handled by Toth.

Toth also has administrative responsibility for the athletic equipment room, which designs, outfits and maintains all of the Bruins' uniforms, practice and playing equipment. In addition, the athletic training room/sports medicine area, which provides injury treatment, rehabilitation, and therapy services to more than 700 student-athletes fall under Toth's supervision as does the intercollegiate weight room and strength coaches.

Toth graduated from UCLA in 1976 with a degree in economics. He was hired after graduation to work in the events and travel office. From 1978-84, he supervised the management of athletic events and managed football and basketball team travel. In 1982, UCLA football made its move to the Rose Bowl, creating a need for the Athletic Department's first Marketing Director, a title and function added to Toth's Assistant Athletic Director status. Promoted to Associate Athletic Director in 1984, he was credited with several award-winning football marketing campaigns. In 1992, he was given duty as the department's director of corporate relations.

A lifelong golfer, Toth lettered in golf at Tustin's Foothill High School. He enjoys scuba diving, hiking and home repair in his spare time. He also serves as a reserve deputy for the L.A. County Sheriff's Department, performing both patrol and diving duties.

A NOTE OF GRATITUDE

The UCLA Athletic Department and the women's golf program sincerely thank Carl and Bette McBain for their generous support of UCLA Athletics. One endowment has been established in their names for football, another was established in Carl's name for men's track and field, and two scholarships were named in honor of Bette in women's golf and women's basketball. In addition, the McBains generously gave their financial support for the construction and renovation of the J.D. Morgan Intercollegiate Athletics Center.

Carl was a three-year track and field letterman from 1938-41 as one of the country's best hurdlers. Some of his teammates included the late Tom Bradley, former mayor of Los Angeles, Kenny Washington, the first African-American to play in the NFL, and Baseball Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson, the first African-American to play Major League Baseball.

In 1940, Carl earned All-America honors and won the AAU national championship in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles. His time of 51.6 was the world's fastest that year and stood as the American record for 12 years. Although voted by national sports writers as most likely to win the Olympic gold medal in this event, Carl didn't compete because World War II caused the cancellation of the Games. He graduated from UCLA in 1941 with a degree in Psychology.

Four days after graduation, Carl married Bette. After serving as an officer in the Navy, he returned to campus and served as Administrator of Medical Research for five years on the UCLA Atomic Energy Commission. In 1952, Carl founded McBain Instruments, which manufactures mechanical, optical and automated instruments for industry and medicine. He still works several days a week.

If their financial support hasn't been enough, the McBain's legacy continued in another way: their grandniece, Melissa McBain, was a member of UCLA's women's cross country and track and field teams.

FRIENDS OF GOLF

Jack Nicklaus

The Friends of Golf (FOG) organization has been a fixture of financial support for the UCLA golf program and collegiate and youth golf nationwide for the last three decades.

The origins of this group come from former UCLA golf coach and Golf Coaches Hall of Famer, Eddie Merrins. Under his stewardship from 1976-89, the UCLA golf program developed into one of the most successful in the country.

Merrins pioneered the FOG organization to aid in fundraising activities for youth golf programs around the Southland. FOG was incorporated in 1981 as a non-profit organization and has drawn enthusiasm from many prominent professionals in the business and sports communities.

The annual FOG event is highlighted by an elaborate golf tournament and dinner held at Bel-Air Country Club. Luminaries such as Dinah Shore, Digger Phelps, Rick Pitino, David Wolper and Richard Crenna distinguished the tournament in 1991. Highlighting the 12th annual tournament was the legendary Jack Nicklaus. Each year, FOG honors a member of the PGA Tour which has enabled Friends of Golf to endow the Golf Scholarship Fund at UCLA.

Legendary golfer Byron Nelson, a two-time FOG honoree, calls the annual FOG event, "The best one-day golf tournament in the country."

INTERVIEW POLICIES

All non-tournament interviews must be arranged by Rich Bertolucci of the Sports Information Office. Players have been instructed not to grant any interview, in person or by telephone, not arranged by Mr. Bertolucci. Player telephone numbers are private and will not be released. Please do not expect players to be available if arrangements have not been made in advance.

INTERVIEW AVAILABILITY

The UCLA team practices at various local courses on specific days. Players and coaches are available when their schedule permits. Please call at least 36 hours in advance. Arrangements for tournament access must be made in advance with the host institution. Generally, access is not allowed at local golf courses where the Bruins practice.

TRAVEL INFORMATION

For security purposes, the UCLA Sports Information Office does not release to the general public any travel information for UCLA athletic teams. If you would like to reach a member of the UCLA women's golf team on the road, please contact the Sports Information Office.

THE UCLA GOLF PRACTICE FACILITY

The UCLA golf practice facility is located on campus between Drake Stadium and the John Wooden Center at the north end of the Intramural Field. The Bruins use the facility at scheduled times. Please check with the Sports Information Office for practice times. This is also an excellent place for television and print interviews.

DIRECTIONS TO UCLA

Take the San Diego Freeway north or south to Sunset Blvd. Turn east on Sunset Blvd. and right on Westwood Plaza to the parking kiosk. Parking is available in Lot 4, which is just down the hill from Drake Stadium.
