The No. 2 ranked UCLA women's golf team will travel to College Station, TX to compete in the 30th NCAA Women's Golf Championship hosted by Texas A&M University from Wednesday, May 18th to Saturday, May 21st.

The tournament will be played at the Traditions Golf Course, which plays a par of 72 over 6,271 yards. The tournament format is 72 holes of stroke play with five players counting four scores for the team competition.

Twenty-four teams and six individuals will compete for team and individual honors. Out of the twenty-four teams that are competing for the NCAA Championship, 18 are consensus top-25 teams and one other (Stanford) is ranked in the top-25 in one poll.

The Bruins have five podium finishes at the NCAA Championship under Head Coach Carrie Forsyth, winning the title once back in 2004. They have now earned a school record 11 straight National Championship berths under Forsyth. UCLA also won the NCAA Championship back in 1991 under Coach Jackie Tobian-Steinmann. No UCLA player has ever won the NCAA individual crown, but one -- Tiffany Joh -- tied for first in 2008 before falling in a playoff. Overall, 15 players have recorded Top 10 results at the NCAA Championship for UCLA.

Last year, the Bruins finished 6th at the NCAA Championship, which was played at the Country Club of Landfall in Wilmington, NC. Tiffany Lua was the top finisher for the Bruins as she finished in a tie for 27th. The Purdue Boilermakers are the defending national champions.

In ten starts this season, the Bruins have won five tournaments and recorded nine straight podium finishes. UCLA's victories came at the Landfall Tradition, Pac-10/SEC Challenge, Bruin Wave Invitational, PING/ASU Invitational and the NCAA Central Regional. In addition, three Bruins have taken home individual titles. Sophomores Lee Lopez and Tiffany Lua each earned their first collegiate victories at the Bruin Wave Invitational and the Landfall Tradition respectively. Junior Stephanie Kono recorded her fourth career victory by tying for first at the NCAA Central Regional last weekend. Kono is the team leader in top-5 finishes (4), top-10 finishes (6), rounds under par (14), and scoring average (72.5). In addition, all five starters on the team were named to the All-Pac-10 team, with Kono, Lopez and Lua earning first team honors and senior Glory Yang and freshman Ani Gulugian receiving second-team accolades.
