UCLA At NCAA Southeast Regionals - Fresh off a Pac-10 Championships victory, the eighth-ranked UCLA Bruins (15-6) will travel cross-country to Morgantown, WV for the NCAA Southeast Regionals. The meet will take place on Saturday, Apr. 14 at the WVU Coliseum at 6 pm ET. The other five teams competing at the Regional meet are fifth-ranked LSU (13-9), 17th-ranked Auburn (6-13), 22nd-ranked North Carolina State (20-12), 24th-ranked West Virginia (28-9) and North Carolina (21-8). The top two teams at each of the six regional meets around the nation will advance to the NCAA Championships, which will be held Apr. 26-28 in Salt Lake City, UT.

Rotation Order - The Bruins will compete in Olympic order, starting on vault and ending on floor exercise. The rotation order was determined by blind draw by the NCAA.

Live Coverage - Live scoring will be available at msnsports.net.

Regional Championship History - The Bruins have won 16 regional titles, including seven in the last eight years, but last year's Regional meet was disastrous for the Bruins, who placed third behind Florida and host Arkansas after counting a fall on both bars and beam. It was the first time UCLA had failed to qualify for the NCAA Championships in 15 years. A Bruin gymnast has won the all-around title at their regional in each of the last eight years, most recently Kate Richardson in 2006.

In The Rankings - UCLA finished the regular season tied for No. 8 in the national rankings with a Regional Qualifying Score (RQS) of 196.600. The Bruins rank third on vault (49.370), fifth on uneven bars (49.285) and eighth on balance beam (49.130) and floor exercise (49.200). Junior Tasha Schwikert is the only gymnast in the nation to be ranked in the Top 15 on every event and the all-around. Schwikert is third in the all-around (39.525), vault (9.945) and beam (9.920), ninth on floor (9.910) and 11th on bars (9.900). Freshman Anna Li is tied for 18th in the all-around (39.375) and 11th on uneven bars (9.900). Junior Jordan Schwikert moved into the Top 25 on vault, tying for 25th (9.880).

Three Of Top Five All-Arounders To Battle - Three of the nation's top five all-around performers will be battling it out for top honors at the Regionals. LSU's Ashleigh Clare-Kearney is tied for No. 1 with Georgia's Katie Heenan with a RQS of 39.555. Clare-Kearney, who is also ranked No. 1 on vault, has the nation's highest all-around total of the season, a 39.775. UCLA's Tasha Schwikert is ranked third in the nation with a RQS of 39.525 and has posted the No. 2 and 3 top all-around marks, having scored 39.75 on Mar. 31 and 39.7 on Jan. 21. Auburn's Julie Dwyer ranks fifth nationally with a RQS of 39.485. Her season-high is 39.65.

Cross Country Trip - This will be UCLA Gymnastics' first-ever trip to West Virginia but not the first time UCLA has been sent three time zones away for the NCAA Regionals. In 2004, the top-ranked Bruins were sent to Raleigh, NC to compete in the NCAA Southeast Regionals. UCLA had to count a fall on bars in its final rotation but still won the meet by nearly a point, scoring 197.325. The Bruins were also sent to Missouri for Regionals in 2003 and won that meet by nearly two points.

Bruins Win 13th Pac-10 Title - Number 13 was anything but unlucky for the Bruins, who captured their 13th Pac-10 title on March 31. UCLA recorded a season-high 197.2 to win the title over 2006 champion Stanford, which scored 196.95 to place second. The Bruins had a slim .15 lead over the Cardinal heading into the final rotation, with Stanford on vault and UCLA on the dreaded beam. Stanford put the heat on UCLA with a 49.325, which gave the Bruins little room for error. Ariana Berlin led off with strong routine that merited 9.825. Ashley Peckett followed with a super-steady 9.85. Ashley Jenkins fell on her side somi, putting the pressure on the rest of the beam competitors. Jordan Schwikert seemed unfazed, nailing her routine for a 9.85. Li followed that up with a career-high 9.95, leaving Tasha Schwikert needing just a 9.725 to clinch the win. The junior showed why she was voted the Pac-10 Gymnast of the Year, closing it out with a 9.95 to claim the victory. As a team, the Bruins scored a season-best 49.425 on the event.

Tasha Schwikert won the all-around with a season-high 39.75 and also claimed victory on vault (shared with Washington's Ashley Houghting), beam (shared with teammate Anna Li) and floor. In addition to sharing the beam title with Schwikert, Li tied for third in the all-around with a 39.4.

Schwikert Honored As Pac-10 Gymnast Of The Year - After a dominating performance at the Pac-10 Championships, junior Tasha Schwikert was named the Pac-10 Gymnast of the Year. UCLA has produced 11 consecutive Gymnasts of the Year, as Schwikert joins Kate Richardson (2006), Kristen Maloney (2005), Jeanette Antolin (2004), Onnie Willis (2003), Jamie Dantzscher (2002), Mohini Bhardwaj (2001), Heidi Moneymaker (2000), Kiralee Hayashi (1999), Stella Umeh (1998) and Leah Homma (1997) as Bruin honorees in the last 10 years. In all, Bruins have won this award 16 times in 21 years.

Four Bruins Named To All-Conference Team - UCLA gymnasts Anna Li, Jordan Schwikert, Tasha Schwikert and Michelle Selesky have been named to the Pac-10 All-Conference team. Tasha Schwikert and Li received honors in the all-around, while Selesky and Jordan Schwikert were named on the vault and uneven bars, respectively. The All-Conference teams consist of the top six all-around competitors, plus the top three competitors in each individual event not amongst the all-around selections. A gymnast's score is determined by a combination of 50 percent regional qualifying score (entire season composite) and 50 percent Pac-10 Conference Championship score.

Six Bruins Earn Pac-10 All-Academic Honors - Half of UCLA's team earned Pac-10 All-Academic honors in 2007. Senior Ashley Peckett led the way with a first-team honor after posting a 3.75 cumulative GPA in Physiological Science. It is Peckett's third career Pac-10 All-Academic honor; she was a second-team honoree last season and an honorable mention selection as a sophomore. Senior Michelle Selesky received second-team acclaim for her first career honor. She has recorded a 3.73 cumulative GPA in Political Science. Receiving honorable mention acclaim were sophomores Ariana Berlin, Kristina Comforte and Janelle Dantzscher and junior Tasha Schwikert. To be eligible for selection to the academic team, a student-athlete must be a sophomore or above, have a minimum 3.0 overall grade-point average and be either a starter or significant contributor.

Bruins Getting Stronger - Injuries have prevented the Bruins from fielding their top lineups throughout the season, but the lineups are starting to come together as gymnasts become healthier. Tasha Schwikert, who did not compete on floor for two months due to an Achilles strain, made a hugely successful all-around return at the Pac-10 Championships on Mar. 31, winning the all-around with a season-high 39.75 and scoring a season-high 9.95 on floor to take top honors on that event as well. On Mar. 25, Janelle Dantzscher returned from a nearly two-month absence for a stress fracture in her foot, competing on floor exercise at Stanford. Ashley Jenkins' hyper-extended elbow is healing, and she may be available soon on uneven bars. In addition, the Bruins are bolstered by the return of Melissa Chan, who was reinstated to the team on Mar. 12. In her first action of the season, Chan looked strong while scoring a 9.65 on an exhibition balance beam routine at Stanford despite doing just a single tuck dismount.

UCLA Upsets Georgia, Snaps 27-Meet Unbeaten Streak - Behind a season-high team score of 197.15, UCLA upset second-ranked and two-time defending champion Georgia on Mar. 4 in the Bruins' home finale. With Georgia posting a final team mark of 197.00, UCLA needed a 9.775 from freshman Anna Li on floor exercise to win the meet, and she came through with a career-high 9.9 to give UCLA the win by .15. It was a total team effort, with all eight Bruin competitors making big contributions. Jordan Schwikert placed second in the all-around with a season-high 39.45. Ariana Berlin recorded yet another career-high in the all-around with a 39.425. Li placed third in the all-around with a 39.4, and Ashley Peckett was fourth with a season-best 39.35. Ashley Jenkins contributed a career-high 9.9 on beam to tie for second. UCLA seniors Peckett and Michelle Selesky went out in style, with each winning an event title (Peckett tied for first on floor with a season-high 9.925, and Selesky won vault with a career-high 9.925). UCLA's victory snapped Georgia's 27-meet, 57-opponent unbeaten streak. The Gym Dogs had not lost a meet since placing second at the 2005 NCAA Regionals.

Setting The Bar - UCLA recorded a national season-best 49.7 on uneven bars on Feb. 25, en route to a 196.25 team score that enabled the Bruins to handily win the John Wooden Challenge over Denver, California and Cal State Fullerton. The Bruins counted no score lower than 9.9 on bars, with Ashley Peckett recording a season-high 9.9, Tasha Schwikert and Anna Li posting 9.925s, and Ariana Berlin and Jordan Schwikert earning career-high 9.975s. The 49.7 tied for the fourth-highest bars score in UCLA history.

Schwikert On Schwikert - Junior gymnast and aspiring sports broadcaster Tasha Schwikert provided color commentary on the delayed television broadcasts of the Bruins' quad meet against Denver, California and Cal State Fullerton and UCLA's dual meet victory over Georgia. After the meets, Schwikert joined Randy Rosenbloom in the studio to tape a TV broadcast that has aired on local Time Warner Cable station LA36 and on the LA36 website at www.la36.org. Schwikert has previous experience as a color commentator with WCSN for the 2005 and 2006 World Gymnastics Championships.

Comforte, McCullough Out For Season - Sophomore Kristina Comforte's long-time battle with ankle injuries has forced her out of competition for the year. An old fracture in her left ankle that has been causing her pain for the last four years was discovered in February, and she had successful surgery in March. Comforte competed through the injury all of 2006 and earned first-team All-America honors in the all-around and on vault. She competed in six meets on balance beam this year, averaging 9.767, with a high of 9.825. Freshman Brittani McCullough, a 2006 U.S. National Team member, severed a tendon in her toe in a car accident in November and will redshirt the season.

High-Level Recruiting Class To Join UCLA In 2008 - Head coach Valorie Kondos Field signed another strong recruiting class during the early signing period, inking 2006 World Championships competitor and 2004 Olympic alternate Marci Bernholtz from Unionville, Ontario, Canada (ASF Gymnastics); international elite and 2003 U.S. Championships competitor Allison Taylor from Dallas, Texas (WOGA); and three-time Level 10 National qualifier Mizuki Sato from Fair Oaks, Calif. (Technique Gymnastics).

"We are looking forward to the addition of Marci, Allison and Mizuki to an already nationally competitive squad," said UCLA head coach Valorie Kondos Field. "They will round out the depth on every event for us in the future and will certainly enable us to continue our yearly challenge for the national title."
