Four years prior to the start of the NCAA, UCLA softball brought home its first national championship in 1978 under the umbrella of the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW). After recording just 44 victories in their first three years of existence, the Bruins went 31-3 in 1978, starting and finishing the season strong with victories in 14 of their first 15 and 17 of their last 18. During the regular season, UCLA posted a 22-2 record, outscoring its opponents 101-17.

In her last season in her #6 UCLA uniform, future Hall-of-Fame coach Sue Enquist led the Bruins in hitting with a .391 batting average. The All-American also finished first on the squad with seven doubles and tied for the team lead with two home runs. Sophomore Kathy Maurice, an All-Region honoree, added seven triples and also belted two home runs. In all, five Bruins earned All-Region honors in 1978, with Enquist and Maurice joined by senior Lisa Richardson, junior Janice Wright and sophomore Gail Edson. Richardson and freshman Jan Jeffers keyed UCLA's success in the circle, as the Bruins posted a team earned run average of 0.30. Richardson led the team with a 0.19 ERA and 16 wins, while Jeffers has a 15-3 mark, a 0.43 ERA and a team-leading 91 strikeouts.

In the postseason, UCLA won its first three at Western Regionals, but all were 1-0 games with a pair going extra innings. The 28 innings in three days caught up to the Bruins on Championship Day against Cal Poly Pomona, losing 6-5 in the first contest. In game two in yet another 1-0 game, the Bruins advanced to the College World Series with an eight-inning victory over the Broncos. Cal Poly Pomona proved to be the Bruins' toughest test en route to the title, as UCLA outscored its opponents 18-0 in the season-ending tournament. In the final game against Northern Colorado, the Bruins prevailed 3-0 to claim their first national title. Jeffers earned three of the wins at Nationals, while Richardson picked up the other two. Enquist posted a tournament-best .421 batting average, while Edson hit .412 with a tournament-best nine RBI.

Having won the most NCAA softball championships, it was only fitting that the Bruins won the sport's first title in the newly-formed National Collegiate Athletic Association in 1982. UCLA posted a 33-7-2 overall record, but were unable to get past Cal State Fullerton for the WCAA title (Western Collegiate Athletic Association), finishing second with a 15-4-1 mark.

First and foremost, pitching was the main catalyst for the Bruins, allowing just 18 runs for the entire season. UCLA gave up more than one run in a game just five times and 27 of its 33 victories came by shutout. During a 14-game winning streak from Mar. 9 to Apr. 16, the Bruins didn't allow a single run. All four pitchers on the UCLA staff appeared in between 10 and 15 games, keeping everybody fresh. A pair of freshmen keyed the Bruins' success, as All-American Tracy Compton had a team-low ERA of 0.21 and a 10-2 record, while Debbie Doom went 11-2 with a 0.31 ERA and a team-best 193 strikeouts. The upperclassmen did their part too. Senior Karen Andrews had 49 strikeouts, a 0.44 earned run average and a 6-2 record, while junior Lori Warkentin was 6-1 with a 0.25 ERA and 55 strikeouts. The pitching picked up the offensive attack, which went the entire season without a home run. Junior Dot Richardson led the Bruins with a .328 batting average en route to All-American honors, while All-American senior Gina Vecchione and sophomore Barbara Young tied for the team lead with 12 RBIs.

In the postseason, the Bruins gave up just one run in seven victories to sweep through the competition. After easily dispatching of Wyoming at their home NCAA Regional, the Bruins came out on top in four straight, one-run games at the Women's College World Series, including a 1-0 victory over Cal State Fullerton. In the championship game, Doom struck out 12 and despite getting just one hit, the Bruins scored twice in the eighth inning to defeat Fresno State 2-0. Doom was named the Most Valuable Player of the College World Series, pitching 41.2 of the Bruins' 45 innings and striking out 62.

Behind the outstanding pitching duo of Tracy Compton and Debbie Doom, the Bruins won their third National Championship and their second NCAA title in three seasons. Finishing with a record of 45-6-1, UCLA claimed the WCAA title with a 7-3 conference record. Bruin hurlers gave up just 20 runs during the season and half of those runs were unearned. After dropping the first game of the season, UCLA won 21 in a row, outscoring its opponents 59-4 during the streak and tossing 18 shutouts. In all, 39 of the Bruins' 45 victories came by way of the shutout.

Doom spelled just that for opposing hitters, as the junior went 24-3 with a 0.10 earned run average and 282 strikeouts. Compton was equally as good, going 20-3 with a 0.29 ERA and 159 strikeouts. Both pitchers received All-American honors, two of four Bruins to earn the accolade that season. The other two All-Americans were on the hitting side. Freshman Tricia Mang led the team with a .376 average, seven home runs and 19 runs batted in. Senior Sheila Cornell also hit above .300 at .309, belting two homers and drawing 26 walks, almost three times as many as the next closest player.

UCLA swept past Arizona State in its home NCAA Regional, shutting out the Sun Devils in both games to advance to the Women's College World Series. After dispatching Utah State and Northwestern, the Bruins dropped their first game of the tournament, 2-0 to defending champion Texas A&M. UCLA rebounded with a 1-0 blanking of Nebraska to reach the final, but would need to beat Texas A&M twice to claim the championship. In game one, Mang drove in Mary Ricks for the contest's only run to take down the Aggies 1-0 and force a winner-take-all title matchup. Doom was in command in the circle, striking out 15 in the championship game. But it wasn't until the bottom of the 13th inning when the game was settled, as Mang hit a one-out homer to left field to give the Bruins the championship. Doom, Mang, Leslie Rover and Jennifer Simm were all named to the All-Tournament Team.

Another extra-inning game and another walk-off win gave the Bruins back-to-back NCAA Championships in 1985. Recording its third-straight, 40-win season, UCLA began the year with 12 straight wins, and after its first setback of the year, reeled off another 11 victories in a row. The Bruins didn't allow more than three runs in a game and gave up more than one just five times.

As was the case during their 1984 championship run, it was the two-headed pitching monster of seniors Tracy Compton and Debbie Doom that propelled the Bruins. Terrorizing opposing hitters since their freshmen seasons, the duo combined for a 0.18 earned run average and 406 strikeouts. Compton led the nation and posted the second-best ERA in NCAA history at 0.08, giving up only two earned runs in 167 1/3 innings while striking out 172. She won 20 games, as did Doom, who struck out 232 with a 0.27 ERA in 180 innings. Both earned All-American accolades for the third straight season.

UCLA was on cruise control down the stretch, but faltered in its final three games of the regular season and then dropped the first game of Regional play to Pacific. The Bruins bounced back though with a pair of shutout victories over the Tigers to advance to the College World Series. UCLA never scored more than three runs in a game in the World Series, but didn't need to thanks to Compton and Doom's pitching. However, the Bruins had to fight out of the loser's bracket following a second-game loss to Cal State Fullerton. With its backs against the wall, UCLA won the next three, including a revenge win over the Titans, and advanced to the title game against Nebraska. The Bruins jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the second behind an RBI single by Chris Olivie, but Nebraska tied it in the fourth. The game went to extras and in the bottom of the ninth, Janet Pinneau drove home the game-winner on a single to plate Leslie Rover for the championship. Compton, Doom, Olivie and Rover were each named to the College World Series All-Tournament Team.

After falling in the championship game to Texas A&M a year prior, the UCLA softball team brought the NCAA softball title back to Westwood in 1988. In the second year of the Pacific-10 Conference's existence, the Bruins won the league title with a 15-3 record and posted a 53-8 overall mark. UCLA had three separate winning streaks of at least eight games, including 16 in a row from Mar. 21 to Apr. 4. During that streak, the Bruins outscored their opponents 88-6, posting 10 shutouts along the way.

UCLA had four players hit over .300 on the season, with freshman Lorraine Maynez's .337 average leading the way. She also topped the team with 10 doubles and seven triples and was second with 32 runs scored and 29 RBI. Junior Janice Parks led the power department with six homers and 40 RBI while hitting .322. Both players earned first-team All-American honors, with Parks' accolade being her second award in as many seasons. In the circle, sophomore All-American Lisa Longaker handled the bulk of the duties, posting a nation-best 0.30 earned run average, a 31-4 record and 240 strikeouts. Junior Samantha Ford backed up Longaker with an 18-4 mark and a 0.87 ERA.

The NCAA Tournament began with a two-game sweep of Cal State Fullerton in Regional play. For the first time, the Women's College World Series was held in California, as the Bruins traveled north to Sunnyvale. UCLA won its first four games by a 16-2 margin to advance to the championship against Fresno State. Needing to win a pair from the Bruins, the Bulldogs took the first step with a 2-1 victory in game one, setting up a winner-take-all showdown for the title. As she had done all season, Longaker was masterful in the circle, hurling her 23rd shutout of the year. The Bruins gave her the only offense she needed in the fourth inning when Parks doubled in Stacy Sunny and Maynez to put UCLA on top 2-0. The Bruins added an insurance run in the seventh on a Shanna Flynn RBI single and won the sport's fifth national championship. Flynn, Longaker and Sunny were joined on the All-Tournament Team by Kerry Dienelt and Missy Phillips.

The Bruins made it back-to-back NCAA Championships in 1989, again besting Fresno State in the title game. Losing just four games during the season with 48 wins, the Bruins steamrolled through the Pac-10 with a league-best 18-2 record. UCLA had winning streaks of eight, 11 and 13, to go along with a season-ending streak of 16. The Bruins didn't allow a run until the ninth game of the season (88 innings) and had shutouts in their first 10 wins. In all, UCLA hurlers tossed 34 shutouts and gave up only 30 runs in 52 games.

In her first and only season in Westwood, freshman Tiffany Boyd led the nation with a 0.24 earned run average, going 19-4 with 172 strikeouts in the circle. Although not qualifying for the NCAA's top spot, senior Samantha Ford led the staff with a 0.14 ERA and an 11-1 record, while junior Lisa Longaker was 18-1 with a 0.64 ERA. In a rarity for UCLA, no pitchers earned All-American honors, but two hitters did in senior Janice Parks and sophomore Shanna Flynn. Parks led the team with a .426 batting average, 36 runs batted in, seven triples, 10 doubles and two home runs, while Flynn hit .353 with 10 RBI and a team-best seven stolen bases. Although they hit only four home runs, the Bruins batted at a .288 clip and still manufactured 209 runs during the season.

Yet another postseason began with an easy two-game sweep in Regional play, this time of Long Beach State, as the Bruins traveled to Sunnyvale for the second straight College World Series held in Northern California. UCLA ran the table in the first four games of the World Series and had a familiar foe in Fresno State in the championship game. For the second straight year, the Bulldogs were outdueled by a Bruin hurler, as Boyd held Fresno State to three hits while striking out six in the title match. Parks had three hits in the final game and Lorraine Maynez's RBI single to score Julie Poulos in the third inning was the only run the Bruins needed for their sixth national title. Boyd, Maynez and Parks were each honored on the College World Series All-Tournament Team and were joined by Kerry Dienelt and Missy Phillips.

Another NCAA Championship. Another title-game victory over Fresno State. 1990 would end the same way the previous two seasons ended, as the Bruins won the sport's seventh national title. UCLA cracked the 60-win mark for the first time in school history with a 62-7 record and claimed its third straight Pac-10 title with a 17-2 mark. During a 22-game winning streak from Mar. 31 to May 3, the Bruins outscored their opponents 68-3 and did not allow a run for 122 straight innings over 13 games at one point.

As usual, it was the Bruin pitching that keyed the team's success, throwing 46 shutouts and posting a team ERA of 0.42. Four pitchers appeared in at least 15 games and three of them were freshmen, led by All-American Lisa Fernandez's 0.25 ERA and 11-1 record in just 83 innings. Newcomer Heather Compton went 18-1 with a 0.36 ERA and freshman DeeDee Weiman was 13-3 with a 0.64 ERA. The lone upperclassman of the staff was senior All-American Lisa Longaker, who led the team with 20 wins and had a 0.40 ERA. At the plate, sophomore All-American Yvonne Gutierrez had a team-best .384 average with 28 RBI, while Fernandez batted .310 with 22 RBI.

The Bruins quickly dispatched of Northern Iowa in Regional play and won their first four contests at the initial Women's College World Series to be played in Oklahoma City. For the third straight season, Fresno State stood in the way of UCLA and a national championship. Attempting to avenge their previous two losses, the Bulldogs won a 1-0, elimination game against the Bruins to force a winner-take-all final. UCLA jumped out to an early 1-0 lead with a first-inning run when Shanna Flynn scored on a wild pitch. Then in the third inning, a downpour caused the game to be suspended and resume the following afternoon. The Bruins came out the next day and immediately tacked on an insurance run in the bottom of the third when Kerry Dienelt drove in Michelle Montgomery. Compton took care of the rest, one-hitting the Bulldogs to finish off the three-peat. Dienelt, Fernandez, Flynn, Gutierrez and Longaker were all named to the All-Tournament Team.

After Arizona spoiled UCLA's chances of four consecutive NCAA Championships in 1991, the Bruins exacted revenge the following year with a title-game victory against their Pac-10 rival. UCLA went 54-2 overall, but both losses came at the hands of Arizona, allowing the Wildcats to end the Bruins' run of four straight Pac-10 titles. UCLA started the season with 33 straight wins, crushing opponents by a 166-17 margin. Following their first loss to Arizona, the Bruins ran off another 14-game win streak, blanking foes in 10 of the victories. After falling in the regular-season finale against the Wildcats, UCLA finished the year with an undefeated postseason, including a title-game win over Arizona.

Junior Lisa Fernandez was masterful both in the circle and at the plate. She posted a nation-best ERA of 0.14 and was undefeated on the year at 29-0. The All-American and Honda Award winner was outstanding at the plate also, hitting .401 with 29 runs batted in. Not to be forgotten in the circle were junior hurlers DeeDee Weiman (11-1, 0.51 ERA) and Heather Compton (14-1, 0.67 ERA), who combined for 16 shutouts and 274 strikeouts. Senior All-American Yvonne Gutierrez was the powerful stick in the lineup, leading the club with a .406 average, 11 home runs and 58 RBI. Her 11 home runs tied for the NCAA lead. Fernandez and Gutierrez were joined on the All-American team by freshmen Joanne Alchin (.323 BA) and Kathi Evans (.363). As a team, the Bruins hit .304 and had five players bat above the .300 mark.

The Bruins skated past Utah in the Regional round and then blew away their first four opponents in the College World Series, winning by a combined score of 29-1 and recording two mercy-rule victories. In the championship game, it was a pitcher's duel between Fernandez and Arizona's Debby Day. The duo matched zeroes on the board until the bottom of the seventh inning. Gutierrez led off the frame with a single, moved over to second on a sacrifice by Jennifer Brundage and came home on Jenny Brewster's walk-off home run to left. Fernandez, who finished the year with 65 straight scoreless innings, was named to the All-Tournament Team along with Evans, Gutierrez and Kelly Inouye.

The winningest team in UCLA softball history set school records for runs scored (429), home runs (95) and total bases (1042), as the Bruins claimed the school's ninth national championship. UCLA posted a 63-6 record, defeating all its non-conference opponents while winning its sixth Pac-10 title with a 22-6 mark. The Bruins won a school-record 35 games to start the season, averaging more than 6.5 runs per game.

Recording one of the best individual years in the history of the sport, sophomore Stacey Nuvean shattered the UCLA single-season home run record and led the nation with 31 bombs and 91 runs batted in, also batting .446. Her 31 homers are the second-best, single-season total in NCAA history, while her 91 RBI are seventh-best. The national leaders didn't stop with Nuvean though, as junior Christie Ambrosi was atop the NCAA with 103 hits, posting a .429 average and a team-leading 25 stolen bases. Seven different players hit over .300 for the Bruins, who batted .339 as a team. In the circle, sophomore Courtney Dale and freshman Amanda Freed combined for 60 of the team's 63 victories. Dale was 33-1 with a 0.98 ERA and 218 strikeouts, while Freed was 27-4 with a 0.96 ERA and 187 strikeouts. A school-record six players were named All-Americans. Ambrosi, Dale, Freed and Nuvean were joined on the team by juniors Julie Adams and Julie Marshall.

The postseason was a clean sweep for the Bruins, going 4-0 in Regional play and 4-0 at the Women's College World Series. UCLA outscored its opponents 38-5 during Regionals, but things were considerably closer in the World Series, as all four contests were one-run games with two going extra innings. In the championship game against Washington, the Bruins jumped on the Huskies with two in the first and one in the second. Adams singled in a pair to put UCLA up 2-0 and Dale led off the second with a solo homer to make it a three-run game. Washington rallied and had the tying run on base in the final inning, but Freed retired the final batter to make the Bruins victorious. Adams was named Most Outstanding Player of the World Series and was joined on the All-Tournament Team by Ambrosi, Dale and Freed.

Behind one of the best pitching performances in College World Series championship game history, the Bruins won their 10th national title in 2003. Sporting a record of 54-7, UCLA had four first-team All-Americans in seniors Tairia Mims and Natasha Watley and juniors Keira Goerl and Claire Sua. On offense, five players hit above .300, led by Watley's .481 average. Leading the nation with 102 hits, Watley, who went on to win the Honda-Broderick Cup, added 10 home runs, 53 runs batted in and a team-best 35 stolen bases. Mims was the top power hitter with 22 homers and 70 RBI, hitting .449. Goerl led the nation in wins with 40, posting a 0.63 earned run average and 342 strikeouts.

After a perfect run through Regional play, UCLA went extra innings in its first College World Series game with California, but fell into the loser's bracket with a 7-3, 10-inning loss. Battling back, the Bruins beat Louisiana-Lafayette and Washington to advance to the semifinals against Texas. Needing to defeat the Longhorns twice to move on to the championship game, the Bruins shutout Texas 3-0 behind a two-hitter by Goerl. In the deciding matchup with Texas, the Bruins fell behind on an unearned run in the first and were down to their last out until a seventh-inning rally propelled them into the championship game. With two outs and Monique Mejia at second, Watley tied the game with a single and moved to second on the throw home. Caitlin Benyi completed the comeback with a single through the right side to win it 2-1. In the title game against California, Goerl didn't allow a hit through the first eight innings, but UCLA was also held in check on offense keeping the game scoreless. In the top of the ninth, Stephanie Ramos led off with a double and scored the go-ahead run on an RBI single by Toria Auelua. Still working on her no-hitter, Goerl retired the Golden Bears 1-2-3 in the ninth to send the Bruins to victory. Goerl was named Most Outstanding Player and her title game no-hitter was selected as one of the Top 25 Defining Moments in NCAA History during the NCAA's 100th anniversary in 2006. Mims and Watley also earned All-College World Series Tournament honors.

The Bruins made it back-to-back NCAA titles in 2004, hoisting the school's 11th national championship trophy in softball. UCLA had a 47-9 record, producing a perfect 31-0 mark against non-Pac-10 opponents. The Bruins won their first 25 games of the season and were 27-1 heading into league play. Despite struggling to a 12-8 record and a fourth-place finish in conference action, the Bruins turned it on at the end of the regular season, winning their final five contests. Adding in a perfect 8-0 record in the postseason, UCLA won its final 13 games.

Sophomore All-American Caitlin Benyi led the country with 24 home runs, adding 43 runs batted in and a .379 batting average. Freshman Jodie Legaspi was second on the team with a .371 average, seven homers and 35 runs batted in, while senior Stephanie Ramos hit .356 with 12 homers and 31 RBI. In the circle, All-American Keira Goerl closed her career with an outstanding senior season, going 31-7 with a 1.02 ERA and 276 strikeouts. Freshman Lisa Dodd recorded a team-low earned run average of 0.79 with a 15-2 record in 115 2/3 innings.

After going a perfect 4-0 and outscoring their opponents 22-2 during Regional play, the Bruins continued their offensive prowess with an 8-2 victory against Stanford in the opening game of the College World Series. After downing LSU, the Bruins were taken to extra innings by Stanford in an elimination game for the Cardinal. Tied 1-1 going into the top of the 12th, UCLA scored twice on RBI doubles by Dodd and Ramos to go ahead 3-1. Goerl finished off Stanford in the bottom of the inning to send the Bruins to the title game against California for the second straight year. The Golden Bears jumped out to an early lead with a first-inning run and maintained it until the Bruins rallied in the fifth. Claire Sua led off with a homer and the Bruins continued the rally, putting runners at third and second with two outs. Kristen Dedmon came off the bench and got a big pinch-hit single up the middle to plate both runners and put UCLA up 3-1. Goerl held Cal off the scoreboard for the rest of the game to send the Bruins to the repeat title. Benyi, Dodd, Goerl and Legaspi were named to the All-CWS Tournament Team.
