

2011 IN REVIEW

UCLA finished the 2011 season tied for third place in the eight-team MPSF standings, posting a third-place finish at the NCAA Tournament after having advanced to the championship contest of the MPSF Tournament. UCLA defeated USC, 6-5, in the NCAA Tournament's third-place match to log a 26-7 overall record.

Featuring a talented, experienced senior class, UCLA raced to a 13-1 start in the first month of the season. The Bruins opened their conference schedule with one win in four games, but rebounded with three consecutive MPSF victories to finish in a tie for third place in the regular-season standings.

UCLA received over 36 percent of its goal scoring from Priscilla Orozco (58 goals) and junior KK Clark (50 goals). Orozco secured first-team ACWPC All-America acclaim and first-team All-MPSF honors for the second consecutive season. Grace Reynolds bolstered the Bruins at the two-meter position, finishing the season with 35 goals and 36 earned exclusions before earning second-team ACWPC All-America accolades.

Other key contributors for UCLA in 2011 included seniors Kelly Easterday, Noel Umphrey and Megan Burmeister, junior Sarah Orozco and sophomores Emily Greenwood and Brooke Martin.

In his second season as UCLA's head coach, Brandon Brooks led the Bruins to the MPSF Tournament's title match for the second straight year. After having won the tournament at home in 2010, UCLA dropped a 7-6 decision to California at San Jose State in the tournament's title match in 2011.

Goalkeepers Caitlin Dement and Sami Hill stepped up for UCLA in the cage. Dement posted a 5.68 goals against average, logging 164 saves, before securing second-team All-MPSF honors and third-team ACWPC All-America acclaim. Hill played in 16 games as a freshman, making 10 starts, and recorded a 5.65 goals against average with 123 saves.

UCLA entered conference play having won 13 of its first 14 matches, before dropping an 8-6 overtime decision to Hawai'i at home on Feb. 24. Three days later at the UC Irvine Invitational, the Bruins overcame a 9-8 loss to USC with a 7-6 win over Hawai'i to finish third at the tournament.

After the Bruins evened their MPSF record to 1-1 with an 8-1 win over Arizona State in Tempe, Ariz., (March 5), UCLA suffered consecutive conference losses to California (March 12) and Stanford (March 26). The Bruins responded by winning their final three MPSF games — against San Jose State, USC and San Diego State.

UCLA's most impressive victory of the season came in the semifinals of the MPSF Tournament. After opening the tournament with a 12-10 win over USC (April 29), UCLA handed Stanford its first loss of the season, winning by a 9-8 margin (April 30). The Bruins dropped a 7-6 decision to California in the MPSF Tournament's title match.

At the NCAA Tournament two weeks later, UCLA opened with an 8-5 win over Indiana. The next day, UCLA lost to California, 7-4. The Bruins took third place with a 6-5 win over USC the following afternoon.

MOUNTAIN PACIFIC SPORTS FEDERATION

The Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) was established during the 1992-1993 season to serve the competitive needs of member institutions from the Big West, Pacific-10 and Western Athletic Conferences, as well as other selected universities in the western United States; and to provide championships competition for Division I intercollegiate Olympic sports in a conference setting. The founding principles on which the MPSF was originally formed were to provide enhanced competition and championship opportunities for sports without conference affiliation; to contain the costs of competition; and to ensure the survival of sports impacted by Title IX and other fiscal pressures. The Federation has also served as an incubator for emerging women's sports and as a safe harbor for sports impacted by conference realignments. Since its inaugural season the Federation has seen its primary conference membership grow by the addition of the Mountain West and West Coast Conferences and their respective member institutions, as well as the addition of women's water polo, women's gymnastics, women's lacrosse and men's and women's swimming. As a testament to its viability, the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation continues to successfully navigate the ever-changing sea of college sports by fostering contraction and expansion of its sports portfolio to meet the dynamic needs of its members. As the MPSF begins its 20th season in 2011-2012 and continues its legacy of championship competition, it affirms the vision of its founders and the relevance of its three founding principles, particularly during today's tumultuous economic times.

In 2011-2012, the MPSF will sponsor competition in 11 intercollegiate Olympic sports, adding men's and women's swimming for the first time, while serving approximately 1,800 student-athletes on 98 teams from 39 universities in 13 western states. All MPSF teams compete at the NCAA Division I level in men's soccer, men's and women's water polo, men's and women's indoor track and field, men's and women's gymnastics, men's and women's swimming, women's lacrosse and men's volleyball. MPSF champions are eligible to compete in NCAA Championships with MPSF men's soccer, men's and women's water polo, and men's volleyball champions earning automatic qualification into NCAA championship events. Joining the Federation for the first-time in men's swimming are the University of North Dakota and the University of Wyoming.

During the 2010-2011 season, MPSF teams again won four NCAA team championship titles, bringing the Federation's total to 66 since the first season of competition in 1992-93. Stanford led the MPSF winning three conference championships in men's gymnastics, men's indoor track and field and women's lacrosse and following with NCAA championships in men's gymnastics and women's water polo. UC Davis took Federation championships in the inaugural MPSF women's swimming and diving championships and its second-consecutive title in women's gymnastics. USC took the team title in men's water polo with Sacramento State scoring its second-consecutive Federation title in men's soccer. Oregon won both the MPSF and NCAA women's indoor track and field championships for the second straight season, while Cal State Bakersfield won the inaugural men's swimming and diving championships. Two teams won their first-ever MPSF championships as California won in women's water polo and UC Santa Barbara broke through in men's volleyball.

Al Beird has been the Federation's only executive director, taking the reins after being selected by the MPSF Administrative Committee in December 1997 after a national search. Beird's position was established as a result of the Federation's continued growth and emerging tradition of NCAA and national championship caliber play, including 47 NCAA team championships during his tenure. Beird, who formerly served on the athletics staff at his alma mater, UC Davis, where the integration of student and athlete is a long-rooted philosophy, oversees the administration of all Federation sports, having worked closely with administrators and coaches from more than 50 different universities over the course of his administration. Beird presided over the transition of the Federation from what was initially a scheduling alliance to what is now nationally recognized as the most successful NCAA Division I Olympic sports conference. Beird directs all aspects of MPSF competition, including championships, officiating, rules compliance, scheduling, media relations, broadcasting, sponsorships and NCAA relations, while also shaping conference legislation, facilitating annual meetings and providing direction and communication for the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation Administrative and Executive Committees. In 2004, Beird completed a four-year term, three years as chair, on the NCAA Men's Water Polo Championships Committee and one year as chair of the inaugural NCAA Men's and Women's Water Polo Rules Committee. Beird feels privileged to work with coaches and student-athletes who compete at the highest levels, including those who compete on USA national teams as coaches or players in international and Olympic competition. With his in NCAA Olympic sports, Beird has been called upon to serve as liaison to the national governing bodies for amateur athletics in the United States and the United States Olympic Committee. Beird received his undergraduate degree in physical education from UC Davis before attaining his Masters of Business Administration from California State University, Sacramento. Beird, who lives in Woodland, California, has two daughters who have been active in high school and club sports.
