On Dec. 6, 2011, Carrie Forsyth was inducted into the NGCA Coaches Hall of Fame, confirming the 15-year veteran as one of America's finest collegiate golf coaches.

Many of Forsyth's former players are playing professionally, including LPGA members Jane Park, Maria Jose Uribe, Ryann O'Toole, Tiffany Joh, Sydnee Michaels, Mo Martin and Guilja Sergas. Other professionals include Lee Lopez (Symetra Tour), Brianna Do (Symetra Tour) and Hannah Jun (Symetra Tour). Martin and O'Toole had won three times on the Futures Tour, and Joh twice. In addition, O'Toole became the first UCLA graduate to earn a spot on the 2011 Solheim Cup Team, and Park had won more than $1.2 million.

In 2007 and '08, Golf Digest, the nation's foremost golf magazine, ranked Forsyth's program among the nation's most balanced. Based on the growth and success of UCLA women's golf, Forsyth deserves much of the credit.

In 2012-13, the Bruins won two tournaments outright and tied for first in another, marking the sixth consecutive season they had won multiple tournaments. Sophomore Erynne Lee earned consensus All-America honors for the second straight season, and was also joined by senior Tiffaany Lua. Lee, Lua, Lee Lopez and Ani Gulugian earned spots on the All-Pac-12 team.

Forsyth also extended two important streaks in 2012-13: she guided UCLA to its 13th consecutive NCAA Championship berth and its seventh straight NCAA Championship Top 10 result, both school records.

In 2011-12, the Bruins, for the third time, tied the school record for victories in a season by capturing seven tournament titles, among them their seventh NCAA Regional Championship under Forsyth's tutelage. UCLA also won the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate title with a season-best score of 12-under par 852. Freshman Erynne Lee was selected the NGCA Freshman of the Year and the Pac-12 Freshman of the Year, marking the fourth time a UCLA player has won that award or its equivalent. Four players earned All-America honors, including first-team selections Lee and Lee Lopez, and all five starters captured all-conference honors with Lee, junior Tiffany Lua and Lopez earning first-team distinction. Finally, the Bruins set a school record for single season team stroke average, 289.6.

In 2012, for the fifth time in her career, Forsyth was voted conference coach of the year.

In 2011, the Bruins won the NCAA team title for the second time under Forsyth's leadership, raising the school's total to 107. They also won five other tournament titles, including the NCAA Central Regional, the inaugural Pac-10/SEC Challenge and their second straight Bruin Wave Invitational. The Bruins' entire lineup earned All-America and all-conference honors, and each player was named to the UCLA Director's Honor Roll at least once. Three players — junior Stephanie Kono and sophomores Lopez and Lua — won individual titles. Finally, Forsyth was selected as the Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the fourth time, and she earned GolfWeek's National Coach of the Year award.

The Bruins also recorded a single season team scoring average of 290.8, a school record at the time.

In addition to guiding the Bruins to a pair of national championships, Forsyth has also led the Bruins to seven NCAA Regional crowns (2002, '04, '05, '08, '09, '11, '12), three Pac-10 titles and 49 tournament victories.

Overall, Forsyth has tutored 16 different players who have earned 24 All-America certificates, including 13 first-team selections. On the conference side, Forsyth has coached 11 different first-team all-conference selections, including a pair of Pac-10 Players of the Year and three Pac-10 Newcomers of the Year. A total of 22 different players have earned all-conference certificates under Forsyth's guidance. Finally, 16 players have won 27 tournament titles in the Forsyth Era.

In USGA events, Forsyth has coached a pair of U.S. Women's Amateur champions in Park and Uribe, and two other players — Joh and senior Brianna Do — have won three U.S. Women's Amateur Publiclinks titles. Do won the USWAPL championship in July 2011.

In 2010 the Bruins won a pair of tournament titles and recorded podium finishes in seven other events on their way to the program's third NCAA team title. In addition, three players earned All-America honors from the coaches association. Kono earned consensus All-America honors for the second straight year. Five players received All-Pac-10 honors. Finally, Kono and Lua played on the victorious United States Curtis Cup Team.

In 2008-09, Forsyth coached UCLA to its second straight runnerup finish at the NCAA Championship, and led the Bruins to a record-tying seven tournament titles and their fifth NCAA Regional title. Four players won five individual crowns led by Kono's two championships. All five players in the lineup — Kono, Joh, Michaels and sophomores Uribe and Glory Yang — earned either All-America or All-Pac-10 honors. In addition, O'Toole was selected all-conference honorable mention. Four players — Joh, Uribe, Yang and Kono — were consistent members of the Director's Honor Roll.

In 2008, Forsyth guided the Bruins to runnerup finishes at the NCAA Championship and the Pac-10 Tournament, and led them to their fourth NCAA Regional title. Joh and Uribe earned consensus First-Team All-America honors, and both of those players, plus Michaels and Yang, were named to the all-conference team. The Bruins also won four tournament titles. In addition, five of the seven players on the roster earned spots on the Director's Honor Roll.

Joh enjoyed an outstanding season, earning Pac-10 Golfer of the Year honors while tying for first place at the 2008 NCAA Championship. She also won her second U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links title in June.

In 2006-07, despite the loss of two All-Americans who were expected to return, Forsyth guided the Bruins to their third podium finish at the NCAA tournament. The Bruins, with just four scholarship players, captured second place in the conference championship and came within a few birdies of winning the regional title.

Seven years ago, UCLA won four tournaments, including its third straight conference championship. The Bruins landed two players on the NGCA First-Team All-America list, and a total of four players were selected to the All-Pac-10 squad. In addition, Joh was voted the 2006 Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year and senior Susie Mathews became the first player ever to earn Scholar All-America honors from the NGCA four straight years.

In 2004-05 UCLA won six tournaments and came within a few shots of winning its second-straight NCAA title. The Bruins won their second consecutive Pac-10 title and tied for first at the NCAA Regional. For the third time in four years, Forsyth was voted the Pac-10 Coach of the Year. At the NCAA Championship, the Bruins recorded their fourth Top 5 finish in her tenure.

Three players — Charlotte Mayorkas, Mathews and Amie Cochran — earned All-America honors, and Mathews earned NGCA Scholar All-America honors for the third straight year.

Mayorkas finished her career as the first three-time First-Team All-American in UCLA women's golf history.

Eight years ago, Mayorkas, Mathews and Cochran each earned First-Team All-Pac-10 honors, and Jun and Martin received Honorable Mention acclaim.

The Bruins began the 2004-05 season with a consensus No.1 ranking — a first in the program's history. They won six tournaments, one shy of the school record, captured their second straight conference title and tied for first at the NCAA Regional Championship. At the 2005 NCAA Championship, they were runners-up.

In 2003-04, the Bruins enjoyed a magical season, and Forsyth orchestrated their success. UCLA won its last six tournaments, including the trifecta of the Pac-10 Championship, the NCAA West Regional crown and the NCAA title. That season, UCLA set a school record by winning seven tournaments. Forsyth's program also produced four All-Americans, five all-conference selections and three academic All-Americans.

Statistically, the Bruins dropped their scoring average eight strokes from the previous year, while every player on the roster improved her stroke average.

UCLA recorded a season average of 291.5 and posted a team score of 281 (-7) in the first round of the Mason Rudolph Championship, setting school records at the time. Mayorkas also set a school record for single season tournament victories (4), best scoring average (71.6), lowest single round score (65) and consecutive counters (35).

Mathews and Mayorkas also finished third and fourth, respectively, at the NCAA Championship, helping UCLA play the final nine holes in five-under par. Both players earned First-Team NGCA All-America honors and ended their seasons ranked among the nation's Top 10 players. Senior Krystal Shearer also was selected as an Honorable Mention All-American by the NGCA.

In addition, Jun, who earned Second-Team All-America honors, won the NCAA West Regional title and was voted the 2004 Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year.

Mayorkas, who was voted Pac-10 Player of the Year in 2004, Mathews, Shearer, Jun and senior Gina Umeck each earned All-Pac-10 honors.

In the classroom, Mathews, Umeck and senior Bridget Dwyer earned Scholar All-America honors from the NGCA. Each player also earned Pac-10 All-Academic Team honors. Finally, nine different players earned mention on the Director's Honor Roll during the 2003-04 academic year.

That season, Forsyth was voted Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the second time and also earned 2004 NGCA Coach of the Year honors.

In 2002-03, the Bruins tied for fifth place at the NCAA Championship and finished among the Top 10 in all 12 of their tournaments.

Mayorkas became the third player of the Forsyth Era to earn All-America honors. She also earned first-team all-conference laurels. Overall, UCLA boasted four players on the all-conference team.

In the classroom, two players earned Scholar All-America honors from the NGCA, and three players were named to the Pac-10 All-Academic Team. Also, six different players earned spots on the Director's Honor Roll during the season.

In 2001-02, the Bruins saved their best golf for the NCAA West Regional tournament by tying for first place and winning the playoff to earn the No.1 seed in the West. Prior to that event, the Bruins had recorded eight Top 10 finishes and placed second at the Pac-10 Championship. The Bruins also improved their team stroke average by three shots.

Three players earned All-Pac-10 honors, and freshman Yvonne Choe was named Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year after earning all-conference second-team honors. Three players also earned Pac-10 All-Academic Team acclaim.

Finally, 10 different players placed their names on the Director's Honor Roll for the 2001-02 academic year.

In Forsyth's second season, the Bruins began their streak of NCAA appearances by placing fourth at the NCAA West Regionals. At the 2001 NAAs, the Bruins tied for fifth place, and senior Laura Moffat tied for sixth place individually. Umeck and Martin recorded finishes among the Top 25 at the national championship tournament.

In the Fall of 2000, the Bruins won a pair of tournaments: the Hawaii Rainbow Fall Classic and the San Diego State Fall Classic. At the SDSU event, freshman Johanna Andersson won the individual title.

Honorees included Moffat, who earned Honorable Mention All-America acclaim, and Martin and Umeck, who were All-Pac-10 selections.

Forsyth's energy produced immediate results in her first UCLA season — 1999-2000. The Bruins won the Hawaii Rainbow Fall Classic a few weeks into the season and established themselves as a growing force on the national scene by placing fifth at the NCAA Fall Preview. When their season ended, the Bruins had improved their team stroke average by five shots from the previous year, and nearly every player had improved her stroke average.

Senior Amanda Moltke-Leth earned First-Team NGCA All-America and All-Pac-10 honors, and finished the season ranked sixth nationally. Moffat earned All-Pac-10 Honorable Mention honors and first-team all-conference academic honors. Finally, several players earned mention on the Director's Honor Roll.

Forsyth, 42, served as the head coach at Cal State Northridge from 1996-99, where she was named the 1998-99 Big Sky Coach of the Year. She guided the Matadors to a third place finish in the 1998 Big Sky Conference Championship and placed two players on the all-conference team. In her three seasons, the Matadors improved their team scoring average by 31 strokes.

In 1990, the former Carrie Leary entered UCLA as a walk-on player and earned a scholarship after her first year.

As a UCLA freshman, she participated in 11 of 12 tournaments, including lineups that won the Pacific-10 Conference championship and finished second at the NCAA Championship.

She graduated with honors from UCLA in 1994 with a degree in Psychology and also served as the Bruins' student assistant coach during the 1993-94 season.

As an amateur, Forsyth competed in four U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links Championships and advanced to the quarterfinals in 1991. She also competed in three U.S. Amateur Championships and was an alternate qualifier for the 1992 and 1994 U.S. Women's Open Championships.

Forsyth played on several LPGA mini-tours. She competed in the 1995 LPGA Tour Qualifying School.

Forsyth enjoyed a fine junior career before entering UCLA. She won over 30 events as a member of the Southern California Junior Golf Assn., including a third place individual finish in the 1983 Junior World Championship.

At Canyon High, where she graduated in 1989, she lettered four years on the boy's golf team and earned MVP honors as a senior.

She married James Forsyth on July 26, 2003, and the couple reside in the Santa Clarita Valley with their twin sons and daughter.

ALICIA UM HOLMES

ASSISTANT COACH • 8TH YEAR • (UCLA '02)

Alicia Um Holmes, 34, a former four-year letterwinner for the Bruins, enters her eighth season as an assistant coach under Carrie Forsyth.

As Coach Forsyth's top assistant, Um Holmes has varied and significant responsibilities, including organizing the program's annual Bruin 18 Invitational fundraiser as well as their collegiate tournament, the Bruin Wave Invitational. She also designs the team's quarterly newsletter, serves as the program's social media director, produces advanced competition documents, and acts as liaison with various athletic department units.

"Alicia is one of the best and most qualified assistant coaches in the country," said Forsyth. "Her talents are many, and her attitude is outstanding. She is a vital member of our coaching staff and a caring and supportive mentor to our players. She deserves much of the credit for our program's excellence on the course, in the classroom, and in the community."

In the summer of 2006, Um Holmes was credited with gaining commitments of two future All-Americans: Maria Jose Uribe and Glory Yang. Uribe, the 2007 U.S. Women's Amateur champion, won three tournaments in her two-year career and earned First-Team All-America honors both seasons. Yang, who won the 2008 Topy Cup title, earned

First-Team All-Pac-10 honors three times and Second Team All-America acclaim twice.

As a senior in 2002, the former Alicia Um earned All-Pac-10 Honorable Mention honors when she tied for 12th place at the Pac-10 Championship. She was a member of the UCLA team that won the program's first regional championship in 2002. That season, the Bruins placed 21st at the NCAA Championship. She also served as team captain for the 2001-02 season.

Um played three seasons (2000-02) for Forsyth and one year (1997-98) for Hall of Fame Coach Jackie Tobian-Steinmann before graduating with a degree in Economics in March 2002. She was named to the Director's Honor Roll six times during her academic tenure.

In her UCLA career, Um made 37 starts, played 107 rounds and averaged 77.2. Her best season was her senior year when she averaged 75.7

in 32 rounds with three Top 20 finishes. She also recorded her career best collegiate round that season — a two-under par 69 in the third round of the Stanford Invitational.

Prior to her appointment at UCLA, Um worked in the hospitality and golf industries as well as for an information systems company. For the 2005 calendar year, she competed on the West Coast Ladies Golf Tour, qualified to play on the Futures Tour and participated in the LPGA Qualifying School.

Um played three years at Newbury Park High School before spending her senior year at Westlake High and graduating in 1997. She won the 1996 SCGA Jr. Match Play Championship and played in the 1997 and '99 U.S. Women's Amateur Championships.

In June of 2008, Um married Steve Holmes and the couple reside in Simi Valley.

THE JACKIE STEINMANN AWARD

Named after UCLA's legendary Hall of Fame coach, the Jackie Tobian-Steinmann award is given annually to UCLA's Most Valuable Player. Awarded since 2004 at UCLA's annual post-season banquet, it has been given to former UCLA All-American Charlotte Mayorkas twice and Tiffany Joh and Stephanie Kono three times.

Tobian-Steinmann retired in 1999 but has remained an important figure in collegiate golf. In addition to her coaching book, she still attends some of the Bruins' local tournaments and conducts numerous clinics nationwide.

Inducted into the Collegiate Women's Golf Hall of Fame in 1989 and the UCLA Athletics Hall of Fame in 2008, Tobian-Steinmann coached the Bruins for 22 years and built UCLA women's golf into a nationally-respected program. In her tenure, the Bruins won 43 tournaments, five conference titles and the 1991 NCAA team championship. She tutored 15 different All-Americans, three Academic All-Americans and more than 30 professional players.

Twice the recipient of the Rolex Gladys Palmer Award for Meritorious Service, Tobian-Steinmann was voted the 1996 NGCA Coach of the Year. She also was voted Pacific-10 Conference Coach of the Year twice. In 1989, she was selected as the LPGA Coach of the Year.

Currently, she lives in Rancho Bernardo and enjoys her family, golf, gourmet cooking and keeping in touch with friends.

THE HISTORY OF UCLA WOMEN'S GOLF

From its inception in the early 1970s, the UCLA women's golf program has enjoyed much success. Beginning in 1971 when the Bruins won the National Intercollegiate Championship to the 1991 national championship that UCLA won under legendary coach Jackie Steinmann, and continuing with the 2004 and 2011 NCAA titles won under the stewardship of Carrie Forsyth, UCLA women's golf has been synonymous with athletic and academic success.

The 1970-71 UCLA women's golf team won UCLA's first national championship in women's athletics by defeating favored Arizona State by 18 shots. The event, hosted by the University of Georgia, featured the two-player Bruin team of Janet Webber and Carol Ginder. Webber finished second individually, losing in a sudden-death playoff, and Ginder captured fifth.

A winning tradition was born.

The following year the Bruins competed in the Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women and participated in six AIAW Golf Championships until the NCAA incorporated women's athletics for the 1981-82 academic year.

Webber and Ginder played another four years for the Bruins with Ginder serving as player-coach during the 1974-75 season after Joann Martin, the Bruins' first coach, retired.

In 1977, UCLA hired an obscure, local club champion, who played golf when she wasn't working as a professional ski instructor. Jackie Steinmann quickly propelled the Bruins into the national spotlight by leading them to a ninth place team finish in the 1979 AIAW Championships. Playoff appearances, All-Americans and national rankings became the norm under Steinmann's leadership.

The transition to NCAA competition proved seamless as the Bruins competed in the inaugural championship at Stanford in 1982 and placed seventh. Mary Enright was UCLA's top finisher, capturing 26th place.

The previous year, Enright had become UCLA's first USGA champion, capturing the U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links Championship at Emerald Valley GC in Creswell, GA.

A few months later, a scrawny freshman enrolled at UCLA as a non-scholarship player and finished her career as one of the finest players in school history. Kay Cockerill became UCLA's first female NCAA golf All-American and won consecutive U.S. Amateur Championships (1986 and '87), while also becoming the program's first golf Academic All-American.

Kay Cockerill, who won U.S. Women's Amateur Championships in 1985 and '86, was UCLA's first All-American.

In her final two seasons, Cockerill led the Bruins to a pair of Top 15 finishes at the NCAA Championship and placed fourth and sixth individually.

In 1999, she became the first female golfer to be inducted into UCLA's Athletics Hall of Fame.

The Bruin tradition of success continued after Cockerill's graduation. Kristal Parker, who played nearly 20 years on the LPGA Tour, earned All-America honors in 1987. She tied for 33rd place individually at the NCAAAs and led the Bruins to a 16th place finish that season.

In 1988 Valerie Pamard earned All-America honors after sparking the Bruins to a 13th place finish. Jean Zedlitz was UCLA's highest NCAA finisher that season, tying for 23rd place.

Zedlitz earned All-America honors in 1989 and '90. She tied for 24th place nationally, competing as an individual in 1989.

In 1990, the Bruins won their first Pac-10 title and placed second nationally. Current coach Carrie (Leary) Forsyth played in 11 of 12 events for this team as a non-scholarship freshman. Zedlitz and Elizabeth Bowman earned first-team all-conference honors and Christy Erb was a second-team all-conference selection.

In 1990-91, the Bruins won five tournaments, their second straight Pac-10 title and freshman Lisa Kiggins won the conference individual title. The Bruins also won their first NCAA team title and Erb captured second place. (See story below.)

From 1990-97, the Bruins participated in the NCAA Championship eight straight seasons, capturing the title once and finishing in the Top 10 every season.

In 1995-96, Steinmann engineered a defining achievement for UCLA Women's Golf when the Bruins hosted the NCAA Championship at the La Quinta Resort in Palm Springs. That season, the Bruins enjoyed one of their finest campaigns, winning four tournaments and placing among the Top 5 in seven others. They posted 17 sub-300 scores, a school record at the time. The Bruins finished three shots behind Arizona for the NCAA title, but landed four players on the All-America team: Jenny Park, Kathy Choi, Amandine Vincent and Jeong Min Park.

On July 1, 1999, UCLA began a new era by hiring Leary (later Forsyth) as its second full-time head coach.

In 14 seasons, she has guided the Bruins to 13 straight NCAA Championship berths, culminating with the 2004 and 2011 team titles (see stories on the following pages). She led the Bruins to victories in the 2002, '04, '05, '08, '09, '11 and '12 NCAA Regionals, the 2004, '05 and '06 Pac-10 titles, and she has earned Pac-10 Coach of the Year honors five times.

1991 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP SUMMARY

UCLA won its first NCAA title in women's golf in 1991 at the Ohio State University Scarlet Course. The Bruins won five tournaments that season, one shy of the previous school record, and entered the tournament as one of the favorites to capture the team crown.

The Bruins overcame a six-stroke deficit on the final two holes to tie San Jose State after 72 holes.

The teams began the first-ever NCAA Championship sudden death playoff format, and on the first extra hole, UCLA's LaRee Sugg sank a 25-foot birdie putt to win the school's second NCAA golf team championship (the men won in 1988).

Individually, the Bruins' Christy Erb finished second to Arizona's Annika Sorenstam. Erb's 291 total was three-over par. Lisa Kiggins finished in a tie for 13th at 300, and Sugg tied for 16th at 301.

Kiggins, Sugg and Debbi Koyama earned All-America honors, while each of those players plus Elizabeth Bowman was awarded All-Pac-10 honors.

Coach Jackie Tobian-Steinmann was voted the Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the second year in a row after leading the Bruins to their second consecutive conference title.

Statistically, the Bruins set a school record for team scoring average, while Kiggins won three individual tournament titles.

THE HISTORY OF UCLA WOMEN'S GOLF

Forsyth has tutored 16 different All-Americans, including four-time selection Tiffany Joh and three-time first-team selection Charlotte Mayorkas.

In 2002, freshman Yvonne Choe earned Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year honors after finishing in a tie for fourth place at the conference championship tournament. In 2004, Jun was awarded the same honor after placing second in the conference championship. Jun became the first UCLA golfer to win the NCAA West Regional a few weeks later. In 2005, Joh was voted the conference's Newcomer of the Year.

Forsyth was named the 2004 NGCA Coach of the Year after guiding the Bruins to seven tournament victories including the conference, regional and national championship titles.

In 2005, the Bruins were in contention to win a second national championship, but ultimately finished as the runner-up. Three players, including Cochran, earned All-America honors and Mayorkas and Mathews earned first and second team laurels, respectively. In addition, the Bruins won the Pac-10 and NCAA West Regional titles for the second straight year and Forsyth was voted conference coach of the year for the third time.

The Bruins in 2006 earned their sixth straight NCAA Championship berth, won their third consecutive Pac-10 title (a first in the program's history) and captured four tournament titles. Four players earned All-America honors, one player earned Scholar All-America honors and two players were named to the Pac-10 All-Academic Team. In addition, senior All-American Susie Mathews graduated with a 3.56 grade point average in communications and became the first collegiate player to earn NGCA Scholar All-America honors four straight years.

The Bruins played the 2006-07 season without Cochran and Park, two All-Americans who were expected to return, and still managed to earn their seventh straight NCAA berth and finish third nationally.

Joh earned All-America honors for the second straight year and freshman Sydnee Michaels won the NCAA East Regional title with a school record score of 13-under par. Sophomore Ryann O'Toole earned a spot on the all-conference team along with Joh and Jun, who were first and second team selections, respectively.

In 2007-08, the Bruins earned their eighth straight NCAA berth after winning their fourth regional championship in Forsyth's tenure. The Bruins also won three other tournaments, including the Regional Challenge in Palos Verdes.

In 2008, Joh and freshman Maria Jose Uribe earned consensus first-team All-America honors, and

Uribe tied for first place at the NCAA Regional. In June, Joh won her second U.S. Women's Amateur Publiclinks title after tying for first at the NCAA

Hannah Jun

Championship. Michaels and freshman Glory Yang were selected as second-team All-Americans, and all four players were voted to the Pac-10 All-Conference Team.

2004 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP SUMMARY

The Bruins won their second NCAA title in women's golf with a lot of heart and hard work. The experts were ready to hand top-ranked Duke the title. The Blue Devils had won 10 of the 11 tournaments in which they had participated, including a 14-shot victory over the Bruins in the Fall at the Stanford tournament. More than a few people said Duke was the greatest team ever assembled.

In the Spring the Bruins got hot. They won the Spring season opener, the Regional Challenge, by 32 strokes. After finishing third in their next event, they won every event that followed, including the Pac-10 and NCAA Regional championships. At the NAAs, they took the 36-hole lead and hung on while Duke faded and Oklahoma State ran out of holes.

A 24-hour rain delay on the final day helped. Entering the day with a seven-stroke lead, the Bruins watched their advantage shrink to nothing through the first nine holes.

Rain came and hope followed.

"We were definitely struggling when they halted play (on Friday)," said Coach Carrie Forsyth.

On Saturday, the rainbow appeared, and the Bruins erased the doubters by playing the final nine holes in five-under par. All-American Charlotte Mayorkas drained three birdies on the inward nine, including a 30-footer on the 71st hole, Susie Mathews added two birdies of her own to post an even par 72 and finish third individually at eight-under par. Gina Umeck tied for 16th with a clutch 73 in the final round.

In the end, the Bruins had won by three shots over Oklahoma State and by 11 over Duke.

Four Bruins — Mayorkas, Mathews, Krystal

Shearer and Jun — earned All-America honors and Forsyth was voted the National Golf Coaches Assn.'s Coach of the Year. In addition, three players were named Scholar All-Americans: Mathews, Umeck and Bridget Dwyer.

THE HISTORY OF UCLA WOMEN'S GOLF

As a result of her 2007 U.S. Women's Amateur victory, Uribe received exemptions to all four of the LPGA's major championships. She made the cut in three of them, highlighted by a tie for 10th at the U.S. Women's Open.

In 2008-09, the Bruins welcomed the arrival of freshman Stephanie Kono, who earned consensus First-Team All-America honors and won two collegiate events. Michaels, Yang and Uribe also won tournaments with the latter winning her second straight NCAA Regional title. Joh graduated as the first four-time All-American in UCLA history.

As a team the Bruins won seven tournaments, tying the school record. They also won their fifth regional championship and recorded their third straight podium result at the NCAA Championship by finishing second.

In 2009-10, the Bruins won a pair of tournaments, recorded seven other podium finishes and placed sixth at the NCAA Championship. Kono won her third collegiate title on her way to earning consensus First Team All-America honors for the second straight year. Senior Sydnee Michaels and freshman Tiffany Lua were named consensus Second Team All-Americans while Michaels ended her career with two tournament titles. The Bruins recorded Top 10 results in all 12 of their tournaments, while extending their school record streak of NCAA Championship berths to 10.

The Bruins won their third NCAA team title (see recap below) and second under Forsyth in 2011. During the season, UCLA won five other tournaments, including their sixth NCAA Regional crown and the inaugural Pac-10/SEC Challenge. All five players earned All-America honors and Kono became the first three-time consensus 1st Team All-American in UCLA history. Kono, Lua and third-year sophomore Lee Lopez each won individual titles, and Lua tied for first at the Pac-10 Championship before falling in a playoff.

In 2011-12 the Bruins tied their own school record by winning seven tournament titles, including their seventh NCAA Regional Championship in the Forsyth Era. Four players earned All-America honors and freshman Erynne Lee was selected as the NGCA Freshman of the Year. All five starters earned All-Pac-12 laurels, including first-teamers, Lee, Tiffany Lua and Lee Lopez. Lopez, Lua and sophomore Ani Gulugian each won individual titles. In addition, after playing three college tournaments in the Fall, senior Stephanie Kono advanced to the finals of LPGA Q-School and tied for ninth individually to earn her tour card. Finally, Head Coach Carrie Forsyth was inducted into the NGCA Hall of Fame in December, 2011.

Tiffany Lua was a four-time All-American, four-time all-conference selection and a member of the 2011 NCAA title team.

In 2012-13, Lua's return after a wrist injury in the Fall, sparked the Bruins to a pair of tournament victories and a co-championship in another event. Erynne Lee (first team) and Lua (second team) earned All-America and All-Pac-12 honors. Lee Lopez (second team) and Ani Gulugian (honorable mention) also earned all-conference honors. The Bruins' fourth place finish at the NCAA Tournament was their seventh consecutive Top 10 result

2011 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP SUMMARY

A scoring snafu, a note of encouragement and some clutch putting on the inward nine propelled the Bruins to their third NCAA women's golf team championship at the Traditions Golf Course on the campus of Texas A&M University, May 21, 2011.

The Bruins brought home NCAA trophy No. 107 and the 36th for the school in women's athletics, increasing a pair of nation-leading figures.

UCLA led wire-to-wire in this championship, but in the middle of the final round found itself trailing by a couple of shots after beginning the day with a seven-shot lead.

"We had some struggles on the front nine," said Head Coach Carrie Forsyth, alluding to a triple bogey by junior Stephanie Kono at the eighth hole. "But we started making some birdies and it just sort of turned the tide a little bit."

Kono redeemed herself with four birdies on the back nine, and helped inspire one of her teammates who was having a tough tournament. A note she wrote to freshman Ani Gulugian motivated the rookie to lead the team with a final round even par 72 — a key score in the last round.

As a team, the Bruins played the final nine in two-under par to register a fourth round score of 292 (+4) for a 72-hole total of 1,173 (+21).

Defending champion and eventual runner-up Purdue faded, in part, because of a disqualification. Although the signed, incorrect scorecard made little difference mathematically, the Boilermakers never recovered emotionally.

Sophomore Tiffany Lua, who held the individual lead at one point during the final round, led the Bruins by tying for fourth at 287 (-1). Third year sophomore Lee Lopez tied for 26th, Kono tied for 32nd, senior Glory Yang tied for 43rd and Gulugian tied for 65th.

"Just thinking about all those extra workouts, all those extra practices, and all those things you were dreading to get through but you did as a team, you just look back and it makes you think that it was all worth it," said Lua.

UCLA FACILITIES

UCLA's HOME COURSES

Bel-Air Country Club: The Bel-Air Country Club, site of the 1976 U.S. Amateur Championship and 2004 U.S. Senior Amateur Championship, has served as UCLA's home course for more than 50 years. Located across the street from UCLA's on-campus practice facility, Bel-Air's original architecture was done by George C. Thomas, Jack Neville and Billy Bell Sr., with most recent changes by Robert Trent Jones. The Bruins play here frequently and enjoy privileges at the driving range. From the white tees the course measures 6,482 yards, par 70 with a rating of 72.0.

Brentwood Country Club: The Brentwood Country Club is located just 10 minutes from the UCLA campus. The course, which measures 5,824 yards and carries a 75.5 rating from the silver tees, puts emphasis on accuracy and is often subject to strong ocean breezes. The course also boasts an excellent short game practice area. Brentwood and UCLA hosted the 1994 Women's Pacific-10 Conference Championship. The Bruins play here on Tuesdays.

Hillcrest Country Club: Located 10 minutes from campus, Hillcrest is one of the area's oldest layouts. Opened in 1922, it was the site of the 1929 PGA Championship won by Leo Diegel. Hillcrest also hosted the 1932 and '42 Los Angeles Opens. The course features rolling fairways, numerous bunkers and large undulating greens, plus some of the best views of the Los Angeles skyline. Designed by Willie Watson, the course carries a 74.5 rating over 5,833 yards with a par of 73.

Los Angeles Country Club: Considered one of America's finest, the North Course is consistently ranked among the nation's Top 20 private golf courses. Both the North and South courses were designed by George C. Thomas, who also designed Riviera CC and Ojai Valley CC. Site of the 1983 Men's Pac-10 Championships, won by UCLA. The Bruins enjoy regular playing privileges here.

Mountain Gate Country Club: Sporty course that offers great vistas of Los Angeles. Severely contoured greens require a delicate putting touch. The Bruins practice here often. The course measures 5,541 yards, is rated 73.9 from the red tees and plays to a par of 72.

Palos Verdes Country Club: Built in 1924 and designed by George C. Thomas, this course is one of the Southland's best kept secrets. Although short in length it tests every facet of a player's game, particularly around the greens. Its rolling terrain produces many uneven lies. Greens are fast and fairways narrow. Home of the annual Northrop-Grumman Regional Challenge. From the white tees it measures 5,718 yards with a rating of 68.5 and a slope of 124. Par is 71.

Robinson Ranch: New facility, featuring two championship courses —The Mountain and The Valley. The Mountain Course measures

5,076 yards and offers dramatic views and plenty of water, while demanding strategic course management and accuracy off the tee. The Valley Course meanders through untouched stands of stage and chaparral, California Sycamores and Coastal Live Oaks. This course hosted the 2003 Pioneer Bruin Classic and the 2010 and 2011 Bruin Wave Classics.

TPC at Valencia: Designed by Chris Gray and two-time major winner Mark O'Meara, it is a big golf course requiring both length off the tee, precise iron play and bold putting. Running through oak canyons, river valleys and foothills, the course challenges players of every skill level. From the forward tees, the course measures 6,440 and plays to a par of 72.

Valencia Country Club: A classic Robert Trent Jones Sr. design featuring numerous bunkers, hidden water hazards and large, undulating greens. Prevailing afternoon winds can make this course play long and difficult. Signature hole is the par three third that features a long carry over water to a big, fast green, shaded by tall trees. From the red tees, this par 74 course is rated 76.8 with a slope of 144 over 6,305 yards. Valencia CC hosted the 2013 Women's Pac-12 Championship.

Wilshire Country Club: Medium length course that boasts the city's best greens. A barranca runs through the course and comes into play on almost all the holes. Boasts an excellent chipping and putting area and a well-maintained range. Carries a course rating of 75.6 at 6,981 yards and a slope of 145. The Bruins play here on Wednesdays.

A NOTE OF GRATITUDE

The UCLA Athletic Department and the women's golf program sincerely thank Carl and Bette McBain for their generous support of UCLA Athletics. The McBains have established five athletic endowments: football, men's track and field, women's gymnastics, women's basketball and women's golf. In addition, the McBains generously gave their financial support for the construction and renovation of the J.D. Morgan Intercollegiate Athletics Center. They are Hoopsters members, and have named the Administrative Suite in the Morgan Center.

Carl was a three-year track and field letterman from 1938-41 as one of the country's best hurdlers. Some of his teammates included the late Tom Bradley, former mayor of Los Angeles, Kenny Washington, one of the first African-American to play in the NFL, and Baseball Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson, the first African-American to play Major League Baseball.

In 1940, Carl earned All-America honors and won the AAU national championship in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles. His time of 51.6 was the world's fastest that year and stood as the American record for 12 years. Although voted by national sports writers as most likely to win the Olympic gold medal in this event, Carl didn't compete because World War II caused the cancellation of the Games. He graduated from UCLA in 1941 with a degree in Psychology.

Four days after graduation, Carl married Bette. After serving as an officer in the Navy, he returned to campus and served as Administrator of Medical Research for five years on the UCLA Atomic Energy Commission. In 1952, Carl founded McBain Instruments, which manufactures mechanical, optical and automated instruments for industry and medicine. He still works several days a week.

If their financial support hasn't been enough, the McBain's legacy continued in another way: their grandniece, Melissa McBain, competed for the UCLA's women's cross country and track and field teams from 2000-04.

Bette and Carl McBain

FRIENDS OF GOLF

The Friends of Golf (FOG) organization has been a fixture of financial support for the UCLA golf program and collegiate and youth golf nationwide for more than three decades.

The origins of this group come from former UCLA Athletics Hall of Fame golf coach Eddie Merrins, who served as Bel Air's head professional for 50 years. Under his active leadership, the UCLA golf program has developed into one of the most successful in the country.

To implement that program, Merrins pioneered the FOG organization to aid in fundraising activities for college and youth golf programs. FOG was incorporated in 1981 as a non-profit organization and has drawn enthusiasm from many prominent professionals in the business and sports communities.

Jack Nicklaus was the honoree at the 1991 FOG tournament.

The annual FOG event is highlighted by an elaborate golf tournament and dinner held at Bel Air Country Club. Luminaries such as Dinah Shore, Digger Phelps, Rick Pitino, David Wolper and Richard Crenna distinguished the tournament in 1991. Highlighting the 10th annual tournament was the legendary Jack Nicklaus. Each year, FOG honors a member of the PGA Tour, which has enabled Friends of Golf to endow the Golf Scholarship Fund at UCLA.

The late, legendary golfer Byron Nelson called the annual FOG event, "The best one-day golf tournament in the country."
