In Memoriam: Arthur E. Reichle (1914-2000)

"A courageous man who taught his players to strive for excellence both on and off the field of play."

The UCLA baseball program lost a great teacher and friend when former head coach Art Reichle passed away on May 23, 2000. Reichle, who was inducted into the UCLA Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998, became head coach of the Bruins in 1941. After one year, he entered the Army and served until 1946, at which time he resumed coaching baseball at UCLA.

In 1969, the Bruins, led by future major leaguer Chris Chambliss, won the Pacific-8 title and earned UCLA's first appearance into the College World Series. Reichle retired as coach after the 1974 season with 733-577-22 record, and was succeeded by Gary Adams, one of his former players.

As an athlete, Reichle played football, rugby and baseball at UCLA from 1934-36. He began his coaching career as an assistant for the Bruin baseball team and one of the players during his tenure was future Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson.

Reichle was an assistant athletic director at UCLA until 1980. He continued to teach at clinics and assist high school coaches in Ventura County until his retirement. Reichle moved to Florida in 1989.

Reichle is survived by his wife Ruth, sons Arthur Jr. and Richard, and daughter Denise Margarite.

* In 1999, the conference moved from two divisions, composed of four northern teams (Pac-10 North) and six southern teams (Pac-10 South), to one nine-team league after Portland State dropped baseball. As a result, the conference schedule was reduced to 24 games, down from 30 in years past. In 2009, the inclusion of Oregon raised the total number of Pac-10 games from 24 to 27. In 2012, the inclusion of Utah will push the total number of Pac-12 games from 27 to 30.
