

WELCOME TO PAULEY PAVILION

UCLA'S RENOVATED HOME ARENA

Pauley Pavilion underwent an extensive $136-million renovation and re-opened in time for the 2012-13 season. The Bruins' home began its expansion and renovation in March 2010 with the goal of improving the building not only as a basketball arena, but also as a multi-purpose facility. The building provides numerous amenities, including additional concession points and restrooms, nearly 1,000 extra seats, a custom-designed 16-foot by 12-foot LED high-definition Daktronics video board and an interior LED ribbon board.

Other key additions in the arena include two state-of-the-art locker rooms, a 24-seat film room, a new weight room, a sports medicine room and player lounges. Pauley Pavilion now features 154% more restroom facilities and a wider array of dining options.

PAULEY RECONFIGURED

The renovated arena has approximately 13,800 seats, nearly 1,000 seats more than the building housed in its previous configuration. The pavilion's north side hosts a grand lobby highlighting the theme "Champions Made Here" and UCLA's 109 NCAA team championships as well as the multi-purpose Pavilion Club for game-day hospitality.

AROUND THE BUILDING

Pauley Pavilion's main entrance is located on the north side of the building, adjacent to Bruin Walk and directly across from the intramural field. Located outside the arena on the north side stands a bronze statue of head coach John Wooden, as sculpted by Blair Buswell. The statue of Coach Wooden weighs approximately 400 pounds.

THIS IS COLLEGE BASKETBALL

HOMECOURT ADVANTAGE

UCLA returned to its renovated arena, Pauley Pavilion, in Nov. 2012 after the building underwent an extensive $136-million renovation. The Bruins went 15-3 in Pauley Pavilion last season and have posted an all time .870 winning percentage in 47 years in the building.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

UCLA has twice hosted ESPN's College GameDay in the last six seasons. The Bruins hosted the popular ESPN program on March 2, 2013, prior to a 75-69 win over Arizona in the team's home finale.

SETTING RECORDS

UCLA established new, single-game attendance records in Pauley Pavilion twice last season. The home opener against Indiana State featured 13,513 fans (Nov. 9, 2012) and the season finale versus Arizona had 13,727 fans (March 2, 2013).

UCLA BRUINS IN THE NBA

UCLA has sent 81 players and counting to the NBA. Last season, 11 former UCLA players competed in the NBA. Russell Westbrook led all Bruins in scoring average in 2012-13 with 23.2 points per game for the Oklahoma City Thunder. Kevin Love totaled 18.3 points and 14.0 rebounds per game in his fifth season with the Minnesota Timberwolves.

PROMINENTLY REPRESENTING UCLA

(far left) Russell Westbrook has earned three NBA All-Star Game appearances with the Oklahoma City Thunder. Above, in clockwise direction are former UCLA standouts Darren Collison, Kevin Love, Luc Richard Mbah a Moute, Matt Barnes and Trevor Ariza. Barnes, Collison and Ryan Hollins will all play for the Los Angeles Clippers in 2013-14.

UCLA has featured a long, storied tradition of sending its players to the NBA. The Bruins' program has produced seven first-round NBA Draft selections since 2006, including the No. 4 and No. 5 picks in 2008 with Russell Westbrook and Kevin Love, respectively.

FROM PAULEY PAVILION TO THE NBA

2013-14 SEASON

As of October 14, 2013, UCLA had 14 former basketball players on NBA fall training camp rosters. From the group of 11 Bruins who were in the NBA last season, five players changed teams during the offseason. In addition, Jordan Farmar returned from overseas to join the Los Angeles Lakers.

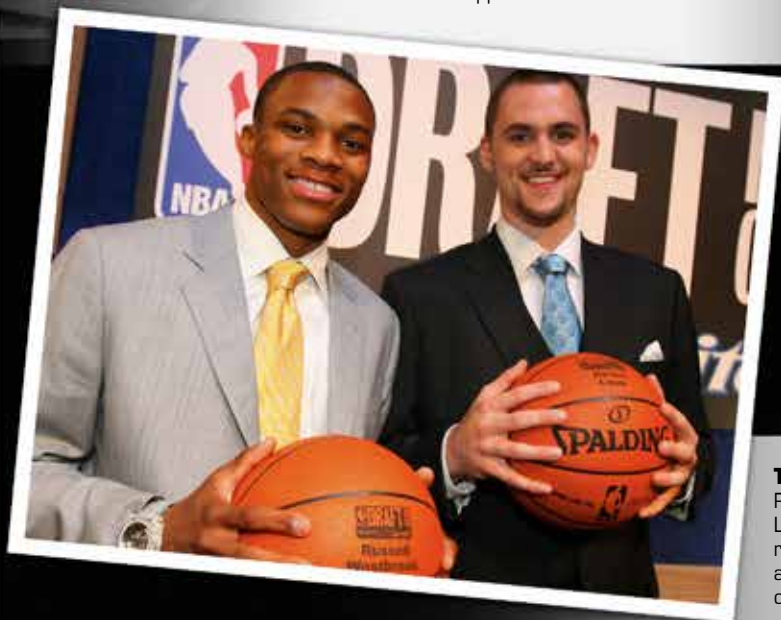

THE NBA DRAFT

UCLA has produced 34 first-round NBA draft selections. Since the draft's inception (1947), UCLA stands as the all-time leader in draft picks with 109, ahead of Kentucky (108), North Carolina (102) and Duke (78).

AFFLALO GOES IN FIRST ROUND

After three successful seasons in Westwood, Arron Afflalo was selected in the first round of the 2007 NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons. Afflalo helped lead UCLA's program to NCAA Final Four appearances in 2006 and 2007.

Russell Westbrook (left) and Kevin Love were selected No. 4 and No. 5, respectively, in the 2008 NBA Draft after having led UCLA to its third consecutive NCAA Final Four.

Coming off the bench in 2012, Russell Westbrook scored 21 points while Kevin Love added 17 points and seven rebounds.

MCDONALD'S ALL-AMERICANS

Beginning with Tyren Naulls (1978), UCLA has seen 36 of its players compete in the annual McDonald's All-American game at the conclusion of their high school careers. Only Duke and Kentucky have enrolled more McDonald's All-Americans.

RECENT TALENTS

CONTINUING A TREND

MEDIA EXPOSURE

All 31 regular-season UCLA basketball games will be aired this season on a national network. Over the past 32 seasons, 797 games have been broadcast live in the Los Angeles area.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

The UCLA men's basketball program continues to attract major media attention, both locally and nationally, in the nation's second-largest media market. The Los Angeles media market features seven local network affiliates or independent television stations which cover UCLA on a regular basis.

The addition of the Pac-12 Networks in the fall of 2012, which features six regional stations and one national channel, has provided the newest additional outlet for UCLA's games throughout the nation. Over 13 local newspapers and one international wire service regularly cover UCLA basketball, including the Los Angeles Times, which boasts the nation's largest daily circulation in excess of one million readers.

A 70,000-watt radio station (KLAC Sports 570 AM) broadcasts all UCLA basketball games live. The Bruins also have a contract with SIRIUS National Satellite Radio. Over 100 Sports Illustrated covers feature current and former Bruin athletes. Media training is available for all interested student-athletes, while video interview sessions are offered as well as print interview sessions.
