John Speraw enters his third season as head coach at his alma mater in 2014-15. Speraw was named UCLA's third head coach on June 5, 2012.

Speraw assumed the duties of his collegiate mentor, Al Scates, who retired after 50 years as the Bruins' head coach.

Speraw, 43, also serves as the head coach for the U.S. Men's National Volleyball Team, a position to which he was named on Mar. 25, 2013.

In 2014, Speraw's Bruin team peaked at #1 in the AVCA polls after winning the Outrigger Hotels Invitational and posting a win over then top-ranked Stanford. Multiple injuries led to several lineup adjustments over the balance of the season and the team tied for fifth in the MPSF with a 15-9 league record. Late wins down the stretch over Long Beach and BYU down helped rally the team for post-season. However, the Bruins dropped a hard-fought five-setter at UC Santa Barbara in the opening round of the league tournament to finish the year with an 18-11 overall mark.

Three players earned AVCA All-America recognition - Gonzalo Quiroga - 1st team; Spencer Rowe and Robert Page - HM. Each earned All-MPSF honors as well, Quiroga on the first team and Rowe and Page on the second-team. Mitch Stahl and Jackson Bantle made the MPSF All-Freshman unit. Rowe repeated as a Capital One third-team Academic All-America selection.

In 2013, Speraw won his 200th career collegiate match, defeating UCSB on Jan. 4, 2013 in his first regular season match as coach at UCLA. Speraw guided the Bruins to an 21-11 overall record and a fourth place finish in the rugged MPSF, where UCLA compiled a 16-8 conference record. Team accomplishments included a tournament championship at the Outrigger Hotels Invitational, league sweeps over rivals USC and Pepperdine and a first-round MPSF playoff victory — the Bruins' first since 2006.

Individually, UCLA produced a pair of AVCA All-Americans in first-team selection Quiroga and second-team choices Rowe and Evan Mottram. All three players also earned All-MPSF honors.

In addition, Rowe became the first UCLA men's volleyball player in 13 years to earn CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. He joined Mottram on the All-MPSF Academic Team.

In the summer of 2014, Coach Speraw guided the U.S. men's volleyball team to an upset win over top-ranked and three-time reigning World champion Brazil in the FIVB World League gold-medal match. Brazil had won gold or silver at each of the last three Olympics. Later in the summer, the National Team saw their run at the FIVB World Championship end with a loss to Argentina. The U.S. finished with an overall record of 6-4, including three wins over teams ranked among the top six in the world.

In his first summer as head coach of the U.S. National Team, Speraw guided the USA to the second round of the 2013 World League competition. In November 2013, Speraw coached Team USA to a fifth place finish at the FIVB Grand Champions Cup in Japan.

Prior to his appointment as the USA's head coach, Speraw enjoyed a wide variety of experience and success on the international level, serving as an assistant coach with the U. S. Men's National Team that captured the gold medal at the 2008 Olympics in Beijing.

In 2011, he was given the U.S. Olympic Achievement Award, an honor that recognizes the colleges and universities whose coaches and student-athletes have won Olympic medals in the past two Olympiads.

Speraw also served as assistant coach to Alan Knipe for the 2012 U.S. Men's Olympic Team, which finished fifth after winning its pool. Earlier that year, he returned as the assistant coach for the FIVB World League and filled in as head coach for the 2012 World League team for four overseas pool play matches. The U.S. men won the silver medal in the FIVB World League Final Round.

Speraw joined the U.S. men's staff in 2007, serving under Head Coach Hugh McCutcheon. After winning the gold medal, Speraw worked with the U.S. men, as needed, including a stint as the head coach of a young team that finished fifth at the 2011 Pan American Games.

In 2005, Speraw served as head coach of the U.S. Men's Junior National Volleyball Team that took home the silver medal at the NORCECA Men's Junior (U-21) Continental Volleyball Championship.

He also served as an assistant for the U.S. Boys' Youth National Team (1998 and 2001), the World University Games Team (1997 and 1999) and the Pan American Games Team (1999 and 2007).

For 10 seasons prior to his return to Westwood, Speraw served as head coach at UC Irvine and transformed the program into a national power. Under his direction, the Anteaters won three NCAA titles in his final six years and advanced to the NCAA Championship match a total of four times, won two MPSF regular season titles and a pair of MPSF Tournament championships.

In 2009, Speraw guided the UCI team to a 27-5 overall record and ended the year ranked No. 1 in the country. The Anteaters were ranked No. 1 for eight weeks, the most of any team in the nation that season. UCI also captured the MPSF regular season title.

With UCI's first national championship in 2007, Speraw became the only individual to win a title as a head coach, assistant coach and player in collegiate men's volleyball history.

Along with the national championship in 2007, Speraw's team also won its first MPSF tournament championship, ended the year with the No. 1 ranking and recorded a school record 29 victories, a win total that was the best among all NCAA Division I-II schools that season,

HEAD COACH - JOHN SPERAW

Speraw was named 2006 AVCA National Coach of the Year as well as MPSF and Volleyball Magazine Coach of the Year. He has been a finalist for National Coach of the Year three times. In 2006, the Anteaters claimed their first-ever regular season MPSF title, finishing with a 20-2 league record. The team won a school-record 21 consecutive matches to end the regular season and held the top ranking for eight consecutive weeks.

Speraw, who compiled a 199-106 (.652) overall record at UCI, mentored both the AVCA Division I-II Men's National Player of the Year and the AVCA Division I-II Men's Newcomer of the Year in 2006. UC Irvine players earned All-America distinction 21 times during Speraw's tenure at UCI, including nine first-teamers. While at Irvine, Speraw's players also captured MPSF Player of the Year, MPSF Freshman of the Year, NCAA Championship MVP, NCAA All-Tournament Team, numerous national and conference Player of the Week honors as well as academic distinctions such as Academic All-American, MPSF & UCI Scholar-Athletes and Lauds & Laurels Athlete of the Year. Speraw, who had a team ranked No. 1 in five different seasons at UCI, placed the Anteaters in the Top 10 of the final rankings all but one year while at the helm at Irvine.

In 2008, he received a Pillar Award, which showcases outstanding achievement in ethical leadership at the 12th Annual Ethics in America Awards. Speraw was also named to OC METRO Business Magazine's 18th annual list of the Hottest 25 Business People of Orange County and was tabbed No. 16 in the Daily Pilot's 2007 Top 103 Most Influential People in the Newport/Costa Mesa Area. Speraw was on the Most Influential list his last four years at UCI, including the Sports Newsmaker of the Year in 2006.

Prior to his appointment at UC Irvine, Speraw was involved with UCLA's program for 12 years as a player and assistant coach. He lettered four seasons as a middle blocker, was a member of two NCAA championship teams (1993/'95), and earned NCAA All-Tournament honors for the Bruins in 1995.

As a senior in 1995, he started 29 matches as the Bruins rolled to a 31-1 record and swept Penn State for their 15th NCAA title. In the final against the Nittany Lions, Speraw hit .625 (11-1-16) with eight blocks. For the tournament, he hit .586 (18-1-29). In his four-year career, Speraw hit .421 with 394 kills. He boasted a career blocking average of 1.3 bpg.

After earning his undergraduate degree in microbiology and molecular genetics from UCLA in 1995, Speraw served three seasons (1996-98) as a volunteer assistant coach — while also working at the UCLA Hospital — before being elevated to a full-time position in the summer of 1998. He remained in that post until taking the UC Irvine job in 2002. Overall, he was involved with five NCAA title teams (1993, 95, 96, 98 and 2000) during his playing and coaching tenure at UCLA.

ASSISTANT COACHES/STAFF

BRAD KELLER
Assistant Coach • 3rd Year
Loyola Marymount '02

Brad Keller, a former outside hitter at Loyola Marymount, begins his third season at UCLA. With a reputation for building championship-caliber teams, Keller has spent the last nine seasons on the collegiate level, including helping lead USC to the 2009 NCAA men's volleyball title match.

In his first two seasons at UCLA, Keller has rounded up a couple of the nation's best recruiting classes. He was credited with signing the nation's top class in 2013—a group of eight student-athletes, all of whom earned Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 honors. Two went on to earn 2014 All-MPSF Freshman team honors. The current freshman class includes Volleyball Magazine's top-two ranked players in Jake Arnitz and Christian Hossen. All of the newcomers in the class were included in the nation's Fab 50 recruits as listed by Volleyball Magazine.

This past summer, Keller was on the coaching staff of the U.S. Boys' Youth National Team which defeated Cuba, 25-23, 25-21, 25-20 on July 19 to win the NORCECA Boys' Under-19 Continental Championship in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Team USA finished the tournament 4-0 and 12-0 in sets. With the result, the U.S. has qualified for the 2015 FIVB Boys' U19 World Championship.

Prior to his appointment at UCLA, Keller served at UConn for the 2011 season working with the Huskies' women's volleyball team. Before moving to Storrs, CT, Keller helped guide the UC Irvine men's team to an 18-11 regular season record, and a No. 3 national ranking. The Anteaters finished sixth nationally in 2011. In 2010, his first season at UCI, the Anteaters finished eighth in the nation.

Before his stint at UC Irvine, Keller served as an assistant coach at USC from 2007-10 with the men's volleyball team. As the offensive coordinator during the 2009 season, Keller helped guide the Trojans to the NCAA Final, as the USC ended the year ranked second nationally in kills and assists as well as fifth in hitting percentage. USC lost 15-12 in the fifth set to UC Irvine. In four seasons with the Trojans, he coached two All-Americans as well as six All-Mountain Pacific Sports Federation honorees. Keller also helped USC sign some of the best recruiting classes in the nation during his tenure there.

In addition, Keller has worked in several capacities for USA Volleyball. In 2010, he was an assistant coach with the USA Volleyball Men's Junior National Team, guiding it to its first Gold Medal in USA Volleyball history. That fall, Keller helped prepare the U.S. Men's National Team for the 2010 FIVB World Championship as an advance scout, developing reports for use during World League competition.

Keller, 34, founded the Bay to Bay Volleyball Club in San Jose, Calif., a youth boys' volleyball club created to serve the needs of the South Bay community. He served as the Chief Director from 2001-06 and was heavily involved in all aspects of the organization. Bay to Bay has produced more than 70 varsity collegiate athletes in the past 12 years.

As a student-athlete, Keller played two seasons at Loyola Marymount where he graduated in 2002 with a Bachelor's degree in Graphic Design and

ANDREA BECKER
Assistant Coach • 3rd Year
Sacramento State '01

Andrea Becker, who served as an assistant men's volleyball coach at UC Irvine in 2012 when the Anteaters marched to the NCAA title, begins her third season as UCLA's assistant coach.

In season two at UCLA, coach Becker assisted in bringing in another outstanding recruiting class featuring four recruits listed on Volleyball Magazine's

Fab 50, two of whom were listed as the publication's highest ranked high school seniors. In her role as academic monitor, she has provided support and guidance for the six Bruins who graduated in 2014, including Spencer Rowe a two-time third-team Captial One Academic All-America selection.

In addition to her role as an assistant coach for the men's volleyball team, Becker provides sport psychology services to other teams, coaches and athletes on the UCLA campus.

During the off-season, Becker serves as Head of Delegation and as a sport psychology consultant for the U.S. men's volleyball team. In July 2014, the team captured a Gold Medal by beating top-ranked Brazil in the FIVB World League Finals in Florence, Italy.

Becker, 35, is also a tenured Associate Professor in the Department of Kinesiology at Cal State Fullerton. In assuming her duties at UCLA, she has taken a sabbatical from CSUF.

In 2012, Becker helped UC Irvine capture the NCAA championship. The Anteaters finished with a 26-5 record, won the MPSF Tournament crown and defeated top-ranked USC in three sets to capture their third NCAA championship in six years.

Becker received her PhD in Sport Studies from the University of Tennessee in 2007 where she also worked in the Volunteer athletic department, providing sport psychology services to athletes, coaches and teams. In her final year at Tennessee, she was honored with the Edward A. Capen Research Award and the Extraordinary Professional Promise Award.

She received her BS (2001) and MS (2003) degrees in Kinesiology and Sport Performance from Sacramento State, where she was honored with the A.W. Hobt Teaching Award for the 2004-05 academic year.

Becker is an active member of the Association of Applied Sport Psychology and the National Assn. for the Psychology of Sport and Physical Activity. She has published her research in The Sport Psychologist, where she also serves on the editorial board. She is also co-author of Focused For Fastpitch, a softball-specific mental training book. She has written extensively about successful coaches, and coaching techniques and behaviors. In addition, she has several papers in progress, including a study of the role of optimism in coaching effectiveness.

On the public speaking circuit, Dr. Becker has given numerous lectures and scholarly presentations both locally and nationally on successful coaching methods, sport research and training, and the practice of sport and exercise psychology.

Cayley Thurlby begins her third season as the Director of Volleyball Operations for the UCLA men's volleyball program in 2014.

Thurlby played collegiately at the University of Hawai'i from 2002-06, as the Rainbow Wahine advanced to a pair of Final Fours in '02 and '03. After redshirting in 2002, Thurlby played in 118 matches in her four years, totaling 421 assists (1.89 per set), 16 aces and 207 digs (0.93 per set). She averaged over a dig a set in each of her last two seasons (1.24 in 2005 and 1.19 in 2006) when she was named a team co-captain, seeing action at setter, right-side hitter and defensive specialist during her four years.

Thurlby graduated from Hawai'i in 2007 with a bachelor's degree in broadcast journalism and business marketing and was a three-time All-WAC Academic selection.

After her days at Hawai'i, Thurlby played professionally in Cordoba, Spain with Cajasur in 2007, also playing in Argentina that year. In 2008, she played in six events on the AVP Tour with partner Renee Bizzieri, advancing from the qualifier at the Manhattan Beach Open.

In 2009, she played with three different partners over seven events, making the main draw again in Manhattan Beach. She also made her international debut as a member of the USA U-26 Beach National Team and competed on the FIVB World Tour in Aland, Finland.

In 2010, she finished fourth at the NORCECA tour events in Boca Chica, Dominican Republic and Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. On the AVP Tour that season, she competed on the Young Guns Tour, finishing first in Milwaukee and second in Long Beach, N.Y. and Hermosa Beach. Thurlby also finished fifth in the Monte Carlo Invitational in Monaco and ninth in the Manhattan Beach Open. She ended the 2010 season as the 64th-ranked player on the AVP Tour.

In 2011, she finished 13th at both the Manhattan and Hermosa Jose Cuervo tour stops with partner Morgan Beck.

The Naperville, Ill. native began coaching club in 2007 with Sports Performance Volleyball in Aurora, Ill, coaching a 16's team and the Sports Performance Setting Academy along with other Summer camps. She was also the assistant varsity volleyball coach at Naperville Central High School that year, helping them to an ILHSA 4A State Championship.

Thurlby has coached club with two teams in Los Angeles; Sunshine Volleyball Club in 2011 and Long Beach Mizuno Volleyball Club in 2012.

Rob Chai
Statistician • 3rd Year
Long Beach State '96

Rob Chai begins his third year as UCLA's chief statistician after serving 10 seasons under John Speraw at UC Irvine. Chai, who was a part of three NCAA championship staffs at UCI, will provide bench stats as well as season and cumulative statistics to the coaching staff. He will also be responsible for all digital video editing.
