BRUINS GETTING AIRTIME

Having reached the NCAA Tournament in five of the past six seasons, the UCLA baseball program has received increased exposure and media attention. Los Angeles has seven local network affiliates or independent television stations, and the baseball program has been broadcast each spring on Fox Sports Network. In 2010, UCLA had 14 games on television, including nine on the ESPN family of networks. The Bruins have had 28 televised games the past four years, including 18 nationally televised contests.

BEST ARE IN THE WEST

The West Coast has featured at least one team in the finals of the College World Series in five of the last eight seasons. UCLA represented the West Coast in the championship series in 2010. Locally, UCLA faces prominent programs such as Cal State Fullerton, Pepperdine, San Diego State, UC Irvine, UC Riverside, UC Santa Barbara and USC nearly every season. The Bruins have hosted an NCAA Regional the past two years, and advanced to southern California area Regionals in 2006, 2007 and 2008.

SPORTS INFORMATION

Alex Timiraos enters his sixth season as the UCLA baseball sports information director in 2012. In addition, he assists with the men's basketball team and serves as the contact for the men's and women's water polo programs. A lifelong Los Angeles resident, Timiraos graduated from Boston College in May 2006, earning a Bachelor of Arts degree in communication.

MEDIA GUIDELINES

CREDENTIALS: All media credential requests should be made, preferably via e-mail, to atimiraos@athletics.ucla.edu, or by phone (310-206-0524) as far in advance as possible (no later than 24 hours before game time). Credentials for games and access to coaches and student-athletes are granted to major news-gathering papers, magazines or web sites.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS: Credentials will be issued on a per-game basis and must be worn in plain sight at all times. Only credentialed photographers will be granted access to take photos on the field level from the bullpen.

TELEPHONES: The press box phone number (for media scoring updates only) is 310-794-8213. Additional phone lines are available on a shared basis in the main press box. Radio positions and additional media seating will be allocated in the press box or adjacent to the broadcast booths, if necessary.

RADIO LINES: One telephone line can be made available to the designated radio station of the visiting team. Please make arrangements through the Sports Information Office by e-mailing Alex Timiraos (atimiraos@athletics.ucla.edu) or by calling him at 310-206-0524 well in advance.

UCLA BASEBALL RADIO NETWORK

John Ramey, Tim Wilhelm and Nick Theodorou will team up to call the action at all UCLA home games and selected road contests in 2012. Live audio of ball games is available at uclabruins.com, the official web site of the UCLA Athletics Department. Audio from previously broadcast games is archived and can be listened to after each game. UCLA's radio network is headed by Mike Sondheimer, Associate Athletic Director for Academic Admissions Services. For updated broadcast schedules, visit the Bruins online at uclabruins.com.

HIGH-SPEED INTERNET: The press box is equipped with high-speed, wireless Internet for working media only. Additional high-speed data jacks are not available.

INTERVIEWS: Coaches and players are available for postgame interviews outside the clubhouse (third-base side) after a brief cooling down period. Midweek interviews can be conducted before practice (best time, between 12-2 p.m.) or after practice. All interview requests must be facilitated through the Sports Information Office.

UCLABRUINS.COM: The official web site of the UCLA Athletics Department, uclabruins.com provides up-to-date results, news, schedules, player biographical information, statistics, in-game scoring and links to audio webcasts.

TWITTER/FACEBOOK: Follow UCLA baseball on both Twitter (twitter.com/uclabaseball) and Facebook (facebook.com/uclabaseball) for the latest in-game updates and news.

ABOUT UCLA'S BASEBALL RADIO CREW

John Ramey returns for his third season as the UCLA baseball program's play-by-play broadcaster. Ramey will be joined by Tim Wilhelm (fifth season) and Nick Theodorou (third season) in the broadcast booth this season.

Ramey has been the play-by-play voice of the UC Riverside men's basketball team the last four seasons. Prior to his work with UCLA baseball, he served as the voice of UC Riverside baseball for three seasons. His previous work has included serving as a sports anchor, writer and senior web editor for KNX 1070 Newsradio in Los Angeles. In addition to his work with UCLA, he serves as an assistant with the nationally broadcast Robert Wuhl Show. Ramey spends free time working as a musician, singer and songwriter.

Wilhelm called nearly every home game and multiple road games for UCLA from 2007-2009 and returned to the Bruins' broadcast booth in 2011. He began calling college baseball in 1992, serving as Pepperdine's play-by-play announcer. He has broadcast 14 NCAA regional tournaments in addition to calling the 1992 College World Series. He has called more than 1,000 games either on the radio or streamed online. His previous work includes serving as a broadcaster for Big Ten Football Game of the Week (ABC radio) and as a halftime reporter for Pac-10 Basketball Game of the Week (NBC television).

Theodorou excelled in UCLA's baseball program as a middle infielder and outfielder from 1995-1998 (redshirted in 1994). He was instrumental in lead the Bruins to the 1997 College World Series. Theodorou spent nine seasons in the minor leagues (1998-2006), including the first eight with the Los Angeles Dodgers organization. He was selected in the 27th round of the 1998 MLB Draft by the Dodgers. He currently serves as Director of Bruin Careers in the UCLA Alumni Office.

REACHING NEW HEIGHTS

RECORD-SETTING 2010

The Bruins won a school-record 51 games in 2010, advancing to the College World Series for the third time in school history. UCLA reached the finals of the CWS for the first time ever, falling short against South Carolina in a best-of-three series at Rosenblatt Stadium in Omaha, Neb. Previously, UCLA had not advanced to the College World Series since 1997. The Bruins opened the 2010 campaign by going 22-0, setting program records for longest win streak and best start to a season.

BAUER WINS GOLDEN SPIKES AWARD

Trevor Bauer became the first UCLA player to ever win the Golden Spikes Award in 2011, going 13-2 with a 1.25 ERA. He led the nation in strikeouts for the second consecutive year, logging a Pac-12 Conference record 203 strikeouts in a team-leading 136.2 innings. The No. 3 overall draft selection by Arizona in the June 2011 Draft, Bauer finished his UCLA career as the school's all-time leader in strikeouts (460), wins (34) and innings pitched (373.1). He concluded his junior year by hurling nine consecutive complete games.

COLE, BAUER DRAFTED FIRST, THIRD

UCLA right-handers Gerrit Cole and Trevor Bauer were drafted No. 1 and No. 3 overall, respectively, in the June 2011 Draft. That marked the first time since 1978 in which one college baseball program had two players selected in the first three picks (previously, at Arizona State). Cole became UCLA's first-ever No. 1 MLB Draft selection, getting selected by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Bauer was chosen by the Arizona Diamondbacks. The standout pitching duo was among the best 1-2 punch in the history of college baseball.

DODGERTOWN CLASSIC

UCLA and USC initiated the first-ever Dodgertown Classic on Feb. 28, 2010. The crosstown rivals faced each other in the afternoon after Vanderbilt played Oklahoma State at Dodger Stadium in the morning. UCLA won the meeting against USC, 6-1, in 2010. The Trojans blanked UCLA, 2-0, in 2011. The annual event continues with its third Dodgertown Classic contest on March 13, 2012.

RASMUSSEN DELIVERS

Pitching in one of the biggest games in program history, left-hander Rob Rasmussen turned in a herculean effort against Cal State Fullerton on June 13, 2010, in a decisive Game 3 of the NCAA Los Angeles Super Regional. Rasmussen struck out nine batters and limited the Titans to one run and two hits in a complete game victory. The Bruins won, 8-1, to advance to the College World Series for the first time since 1997.

UCLA PLAYS HOST TO NCAA POSTSEASON

UCLA has hosted two NCAA Regionals and one NCAA Super Regional over the past two seasons at Jackie Robinson Stadium. In 2010, the Bruins earned the No. 6 national seed in the 64-team postseason bracket (top eight teams awarded national seed). That marked the first year since 1986 in which UCLA's baseball program had hosted a postseason game. In 2011, UCLA won the then-Pac-10 Conference and hosted an NCAA Regional for the second straight season.

IMPRESSIVE FEATS FOR UCLA IN 2010

Aside from advancing to the finals of the College World Series for the first time in program history in 2010, UCLA also established the school and Pac-12 Conference records for single-season strikeouts with 700 in 618.1 innings. Led by Gerrit Cole, Trevor Bauer and Rob Rasmussen, the Bruins' pitching staff led the country in strikeouts per nine innings (10.2). UCLA finished the year ranked No. 2 in all national polls, the highest top-25 finish in program history. Bauer became UCLA's first pitcher to ever lead the nation in strikeouts (165). In addition, UCLA finished the year 34 games over .500, the highest total over the .500 plateau in program history.

UCLA CAPTURES PAC-10 TITLE

In the final year of the conference's Pac-10 configuration, UCLA won the 2011 league championship before hosting an NCAA Regional at Jackie Robinson Stadium for the second consecutive year. The Bruins had not won a share of the Pac-10 title since 2000, when they shared that honor with Stanford and Arizona State. UCLA captured its first outright conference title since 1986. Trailing Oregon State by one game entering the final weekend of the season, UCLA won the first two of three games at Arizona State and won the league championship by one game. UCLA's pitching staff led the conference with a 2.44 ERA, the third-lowest mark among NCAA Division I teams.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

UCLA has sent 44 players to the minor leagues since June 2006. In the last six seasons, 16 Bruins have been selected in the first 10 rounds of the MLB Draft.

▲ JERMAINE CURTIS ▲

Undrafted out of high school, Jermaine Curtis was selected in the fifth round of the 2008 draft by the St. Louis Cardinals. As the team's third baseman, he helped lead UCLA to the postseason in each of his three seasons (2006-2008).

▲ BRANDON CRAWFORD

Brandon Crawford was undrafted out of high school and batted .319 in 179 starts for UCLA (2006-2008). Selected by his hometown San Francisco Giants in the fifth round of the 2008 draft, Crawford hit a grand slam in his major league debut (May 27, 2011).

▲ TREVOR BAUER

After enrolling at UCLA one season early, Trevor Bauer (2009-11) had the most dominant pitching career in program history. In 2011, he became the school's first Golden Spikes Award winner after going 13-2 with a 1.25 ERA as a junior. The No. 3 overall draft pick by the Arizona Diamondbacks in 2011, Bauer left UCLA as the program's all-time leader in wins (34) and strikeouts (460). He set the school's top single-season strikeout marks with 165 in 2010 and 203 in 2011.

▲ TIM MURPHY ▲

Selected in the 11th round of the 2005 draft as a high school outfielder, Tim Murphy entered UCLA as a two-way player. He moved into the Bruins' Friday night starter role as a junior and was a third-round draft pick in 2008 by the Texas Rangers.

▲ GARRETT CLAYPOOL

Undrafted out of high school, Claypool starred for the Bruins from 2007-2010, helping lead UCLA to the 2010 College World Series. A 32nd round draft selection as a junior by Oakland in 2009, Claypool chose to return for his senior season. In 2010, he went 8-3 with a 2.29 ERA in 82.2 innings. He was selected in the 11th round of the 2010 draft by the Philadelphia Phillies.

▲ DAN KLEIN

Selected in the 24th round of the 2007 draft by Baltimore, the Orioles re-drafted Klein in the third round of the 2010 draft. That year, the right-hander from Los Alamitos, Calif., flourished as UCLA's closer. He collected 10 saves and a 1.90 ERA in 39 appearances to lead the Bruins to the College World Series.

▼ DAVID HUFF

After transferring to UCLA from Cypress College (2005) via UC Irvine (2004), Huff shined for the Bruins in 2006, going 7-4 with a 2.98 ERA in 128.1 innings. He was chosen as 39th overall draft pick (supplemental first round) by the Cleveland Indians in 2006, making his MLB debut with the organization in 2009.

◀ GERRIT COLE

A first-round draft selection by the Yankees out of high school, Gerrit Cole had a fantastic three-year career for the Bruins (2009-11). Cole finished second on the school's career strikeouts list (376), logging. He became the first UCLA ballplayer ever selected No. 1 overall in the June MLB Draft, as the Pittsburgh Pirates selected the hard-throwing right-hander first on June 6, 2011. Cole helped lead UCLA to consecutive postseason appearances in 2010 and 2011, including to the finals of the 2010 College World Series.

▲ ROB RASMUSSEN

Chosen in the 27th round of the 2007 draft by the Los Angeles Dodgers out of high school, Rasmussen became a second round draft selection by the Florida Marlins in 2010 out of UCLA. He capped his collegiate career with a fantastic junior season, going 11-3 with a 2.72 ERA and 128 strikeouts that year.

▲ JOSH ROENICKE

A center fielder and right-hander at UCLA, Roenicke was selected in the 10th round of the 2006 MLB Draft by the Cincinnati Reds as a pitcher. The former two-way star made his major league debut with Cincinnati in 2008.

◀ CASEY HAERTHER

Selected out of high school in the 34th round of the 2006 draft by San Diego, Haerther enjoyed a stellar three-year career for UCLA (2007-09). He logged career totals of 22 homers and 109 RBI, before being chosen in the fifth round of the 2009 draft by the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim.

▲ MATT GRACE

Undrafted out of high school, Matt Grace was selected in the eighth round of the 2010 draft by the Washington Nationals. The left-hander from Palos Verdes Estates, Calif., appeared in 72 games for UCLA from 2008-2010, leading the Bruins to the 2010 College World Series.

▲ TYSON BRUMMETT

Drafted by San Francisco in the mid-30 rounds of the 2003 and 2004 drafts (high school, junior college), Brummett shined in two years at UCLA (2006-2007). He led the Bruins to consecutive NCAA Regionals and the 2007 Super Regionals before being selected in the seventh round of the 2007 draft by the Philadelphia Phillies.

▲ HECTOR AMBRIZ

After overcoming an injury in 2004, Ambriz thrived for UCLA in 2005 and 2006. He was selected in the fifth round of the 2006 draft by the Arizona Diamondbacks after his redshirt junior season and pitched for the Cleveland Indians throughout 2010.

STEELE FIELD at JACKIE ROBINSON STADIUM

Steele Field at Jackie Robinson Stadium celebrates its 32nd season as UCLA's home baseball facility in the spring of 2012, after having undergone significant renovations since 2006. Jackie Robinson Stadium hosted the NCAA Los Angeles Regional in 2010 and 2011 and the NCAA Los Angeles Super Regional in 2010, drawing crowds with over 2,000 fans. Prior to 2010, UCLA had not posted postseason play since 1986.

Most recently, UCLA added 580 chairback seats to the facility, allowing Jackie Robinson Stadium to seat 1,820 fans on a regular basis. The baseball program added 290 chairback seats above each of the dugouts, replacing grass slopes which had existed since the stadium's founding in 1981.

In January 2009, the facility welcomed a 10,500-square foot hitting complex, named the Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility. Midway through the 2008 season, UCLA upgraded its stadium lights, making necessary improvements to meet NCAA standards for hosting an NCAA Super Regional. In January 2008, UCLA installed a state-of-the-art playing surface, a major upgrade made possible by the Steele Foundation.

Prior to the 2007 season, the UCLA baseball program installed a major-league quality net behind home plate, improving sightlines for fans and television crews. Other major improvements have included the addition of 945 chairback seats with cupholders in February 2006. The stadium welcomed a new hitter's eye, draped above the center field wall, and the Bruins' scoreboard received a well-deserved face lift.

Located on the site of old Sawtelle Field, Jackie Robinson Stadium provides one of the most comfortable college baseball settings in the West. The stadium was made possible by a private gift from Hoyt Pardee (UCLA '41), a classmate of Jackie Robinson. Without Hoyt, the stadium would not be a reality.

At the end of the 1984 season, the second major phase of the stadium's original construction was completed. A new clubhouse, press box, concessions stand, and permanent restrooms were added. The clubhouse contains training and equipment rooms, a meeting room, offices and the UCLA Baseball Hall of Fame, which displays plaques of all its members.

The main press box is flanked by two broadcast booths and provides ample space for members of the media. Camera positions for television coverage are located atop both dugouts and on the concourse. Controls for the public address system, electronic scoreboard and lighting systems are located in the main press box. The concession is located above the first base seats along with public restrooms. On select weekends, a second concession stand provides food and beverages above the third base seats.

Jackie Robinson Stadium, the program's sixth home field, can be accessed via the San Diego Freeway (405) and Wilshire Blvd. Located on Constitution Avenue (west off Sepulveda Blvd.), the stadium is minutes away from the UCLA campus.

Jackie Robinson Stadium was dedicated on Feb. 7, 1981 with an exhibition game between the Bruins and the Los Angeles Dodgers that drew 2,500 fans. The facility hosted the 1986 West Coast Conference playoff game between Pepperdine and Loyola Marymount. One week later, the stadium hosted the 1986 NCAA West Regional Tournament. Loyola Marymount, UC Santa Barbara, Hawaii, and UCLA participated in the regional, won by Loyola Marymount. The 1986 West Regional was the Los Angeles area's first NCAA postseason tournament since the 1978 District 8 Playoffs were hosted at USC's Dedeaux Field. The 1986 regional championship contest between Loyola Marymount and Hawaii drew a crowd of 1,815.

Jackie Robinson, for whom the stadium is named, was the first African-American baseball player to compete in the major leagues when he joined the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947. As a student-athlete at UCLA, Robinson became the Bruins' first four-sport letterman, playing football, basketball, track, and baseball. A bronze statue of Robinson is located near the concession stand on the concourse level. The statue was dedicated on April 27, 1985, before the UCLA-Arizona State game.

JACKIE ROBINSON'S LEGACY

Jackie Robinson - Breaking Barriers Major League Baseball's First African-American Player

Jackie Robinson became the first African-American Major League Baseball player of the modern era in 1947. Born January 31, 1919 in Cairo, Ga., Robinson was the first four-sport letterman in UCLA history – football (1939 and 1940), basketball (1940 and 1941), track and field (1940) and baseball (1940).

As UCLA's shortstop in 1940, statistics indicate that baseball was the sport with which he had the most trouble. Robinson batted .097 in CIBA games the one season he played baseball for the Bruins. He excelled at the three other sports, earning All Pac-10 honors in football, being named the West Coast Conference MVP in basketball, and establishing a long jump record. Nevertheless, due to his slick fielding and keen baserunning, fans found Robinson in the starting lineup the majority of the season.

As a youngster, his mother (Mallie) moved the Robinson family to Pasadena, Calif., after his father abandoned the family. After the move, the Robinson family quickly gained recognition for their fantastic athletic abilities, the climax coming during the 1936 Olympics where older brother Mack Robinson received a silver medal in the 200-meter dash behind the legendary Jesse Owens. In 1942, Robinson put athletics on hiatus to enlist in the U.S. Army. In the face of humiliating discrimination, Robinson took his first major step toward dismantling racial barriers. Serving in Texas, Robinson was court-martialed for refusing to move to the back of a military bus. He was eventually acquitted and given an honorable discharge.

Robinson on the Baseball Diamond

Robinson played one season on the baseball team (1940), batting just .097 in CIBA (California Intercollegiate Baseball Association) play. In his first game (March 10), he had four hits and stole four bases, including home once.

Robinson on the Track and Field Team

Jackie Robinson missed most of the 1940 track and field season while playing on the UCLA baseball team. Robinson won the NCAA title in the broad jump (24-10 1/4) that season after winning the Pacific Coast Conference meet with a leap of 25 feet (photo, above center).

Robinson on the Basketball Court

A two-year letterwinner on UCLA's basketball team, Robinson led the Southern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference in scoring in 1940, averaging 12.4 points per game in 12 league contests. The four-sport letterwinner also led the Pacific Coast Conference in 1941, averaging 11.1 points pre game in 12 league games. Robinson played both seasons under nine-year head coach Wilbur Johns.

His military career finished, Robinson gave baseball another try. The Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro Baseball League offered him a contract in 1944. Robinson quickly caught the attention of opposing managers, and more importantly, major league scouts. Brooklyn Dodger President Branch Rickey signed him to a minor league contract with a Montreal farm club in 1945. Robinson started the year on a hot streak, quickly earning the respect of the French-Canadian fans in Montreal. He completed the year by winning the International League batting title, hitting .349 in 124 games and leading his team to the championship. His success allowed Rickey to decide that everything was in order for a groundbreaking debut with the Dodgers.

Rickey announced that Brooklyn had purchased Robinson's contract on April 10, 1947. Five days later, Robinson grounded out against Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, officially recording the first major league at-bat by an African-American. He won the first ever Rookie of the Year Award, an honor the National League renamed in his memory in 1987. During his 10-year career, Robinson compiled a .311 batting average and one National League MVP award, playing in six World Series and six All-Star games. Robinson was the first African-American to win the MVP award and the first to be elected to the Hall of Fame (1962).

In 1957, the Dodgers traded Robinson to the New York Giants for pitcher Dick Littlefield and $30,000. Partially in response to this surprising move, Robinson decided it was time to end his playing days. That same year, Jackie was diagnosed with diabetes, a disease that led to his death in 1972.

Prior to his passing on June 4, 1972, Robinson's No. 42 was retired by the Dodgers along with Roy Campanella's No. 39 and Sandy Koufax's No. 32. On February 2, 1981, the finishing touches were put on Jackie Robinson Stadium, the current home of the Bruins. The U. S. Post Office issued the "Jackie Robinson Black Heritage" stamp on Aug. 2, 1982, featuring the first baseball player ever depicted on a U.S. stamp. In 1984, President Ronald Reagan acknowledged Robinson's accomplishments by awarding him the Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian award. In March 2005, Robinson was awarded the Congressional Gold Medal. The award was presented by President George W. Bush to members of Robinson's family.

Jackie Robinson as a Brooklyn Dodger

Jackie Robinson had a remarkable 10-year major league career, playing each season with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Robinson totaled 137 home runs and 734 RBI for Brooklyn, finishing his career with a .311 batting average, 947 runs and 197 stolen bases.

Robinson on the Football Field

Jackie Robinson led the nation in punt return average in 1939 and 1940. Robinson averaged 16.5 yards per return in 1939 and followed that effort with 21.0 yards per return in 1940. Robinson's career average of 18.8 yards per return ranks fourth in NCAA history. In 1940, he led UCLA in rushing (383 yds), passing (444 yds), total offense (827 yds), scoring (36 pts) and punt returns (21.0 ypr). In his two-year career on the gridiron, Robinson rushed for 954 yards (5.9 avg) and passed for 449 yards.

JACK AND RHODINE GIFFORD HITTING FACILITY

The UCLA baseball program completed construction of the Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility in February 2009 and has taken full advantage of the 10,500-square foot practice complex. The facility was generously funded by the late Jack Gifford and his wife, Rhodine. Jack played baseball at UCLA in the early 1960s before graduating in 1963.

UCLA's hitting facility stands behind the right field fence, extending from the right-field foul pole toward the stadium's scoreboard in center field. Construction of the facility began in early December 2008, and the project was fully completed by early February 2009.

UCLA's hitting facility allows natural light and also features interior lighting. The floor consists of high-quality synthetic turf. In all, the complex allows for two 30-x-70-foot cages and three 20-x-60-foot cages, all which feature retractable netting.

KEY FEATURES OF UCLA'S GIFFORD HITTING FACILITY

- Dimensions of the practice complex run 23-feet high, 70-feet wide and 150-feet long
- Practice complex features an adjustable interior design, accomodating up to five hitting cages at once
- Cages include multiple pitching machines, including those capable of throwing breaking balls
- Accomodates room for defensive drills and pitching instruction on the south-facing half of the complex
- Spacious tee area within the facility allows for additional hitting drills
- State-of-the-art synthetic turf allows position players to practice fielding

"We are very thankful to Jack and Rhodine for their vision with this state-of-the-art hitting facility. This facility has brought a new dimension of player development to our program. Our players and coaches are very excited about having this training facility, one that is among the nicest in the country. The Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility is a special place for all Bruins."

— UCLA head coach John Savage

The Jack and Rhodine Gifford Hitting Facility was built in less than five weeks, spanning from December 2008 through January 2009. Photos to the right (clockwise from top) show the construction of the hitting facility in December 2008.

TEAM USA AND UCLA

Jim Parque is the first UCLA ballplayer to have pitched for the USA National Team and at the College World Series.

UCLA has sent 11 players to play for the USA Baseball National Team a total of 14 times, beginning with the selection of Shane Mack in 1984. Most recently, Gerrit Cole and Steve Rodriguez led Team USA to the silver medal at the 2010 World University Baseball Championships in Tokyo, Japan.

Trevor Bauer and Cole's selection in 2009 marked the first time a Bruin had been named to the USA Baseball National Team since 2006, when three-year UCLA starting shortstop Brandon Crawford helped lead Team USA to the 2006 FISU World Championship that summer.

UCLA's student-athletes have not been the only individuals affiliated with Team USA's National Team. While working as an assistant coach at USC in the summer of 2000, current UCLA head coach John Savage served as an assistant to Mike Gillespie for the USA National Team of collegiate all-stars.

2012 OUTLOOK

The UCLA baseball team enters the 2012 season as the defending Pac-12 Conference champions, returning the bulk of its starting position players from the last two years.

Eighth-year head coach John Savage has led the Bruins to five postseason appearances in his seven seasons at the helm and guided UCLA to its first outright Pac-12 Conference title in 2011.

Led by the team's junior class, a group that features veteran starters Beau Amaral, Trevor Brown, Jeff Gelalich, Cody Keefer and Cody Regis, the Bruins have won 86 games over the past two seasons.

As freshmen in 2010, that group helped UCLA earn its first appearance in the finals of the College World Series. As sophomores in 2011, the Bruins captured the Pac-12 title and hosted the NCAA Los Angeles Regional at Jackie Robinson Stadium for the second consecutive season.

"We have a lot of leadership with these veterans," Savage said. "When you talk about reasons for optimism this season, the number one thing that comes to mind is the experience of our position players."

Among UCLA's greatest challenges will be replacing two of the top pitchers in school history — right-handers Gerrit Cole and Trevor Bauer, who were selected No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in the first round of the 2011 MLB Draft.

Cole and Bauer accounted for 62 percent of UCLA's weekend starts (81 of 130) the last three years and 42 percent of the staff's innings in that span (695.2 of 1640).

"We have talked about it with this team since day one," Savage said. "Our guys have to step up. They realize that the comfort of Gerrit and Trevor going out there every Friday and Saturday will not be there."

PITCHING

Sophomores Adam Plutko, Zack Weiss and Nick Vander Tuig saw significant action on the mound as freshmen in 2011 and, along with junior Scott Griggs, will be counted upon to lead UCLA on the mound in 2012.

Plutko went 7-4 with a 2.01 ERA and 92 strikeouts in 107.2 innings as a freshman, securing All-Pac-10 acclaim. He showed more consistency and durability as the season continued, allowing one hit in 7.2 scoreless innings of a 4-1 victory over San Francisco in an NCAA Regional elimination contest.

"Adam has a good mindset," Savage said. "He's a tough guy and is the complete package. He had as good a freshman year as I've ever been around. I think that Adam is ready to step into that next role of being a number one or number two pitcher."

Weiss and Vander Tuig each had multiple quality appearances as freshmen in 2011 and both pitchers look to take on a more central role this spring. Weiss went 5-3 with a 2.86 ERA in 22 games, making nine starts. He alternated between pitching out the bullpen and serving as the team's midweek starter.

"Zack is a big physical guy with a very solid skill set of pitches," Savage said. "If he can pound the strike zone, he's going to be competitive every time out."

Vander Tuig made a team-leading 28 appearances, all in relief, as the team's closer. But the right-hander from Oakdale, Calif., was less than 12 months removed from Tommy John surgery, which prevented him from pitching as a senior at Oakdale High School in 2010. With one year at the college level under his belt, Vander Tuig is expected to compete for a role as one of UCLA's three weekend starters.

"We put him in a tough role last season as a freshman, pitching as the closer and not that far removed from Tommy John surgery," Savage said. "But we really think that he's a starting pitcher, and that's what we recruited him to be. He made strides in the fall, and his fastball really popped at 92 or 93."

Griggs is expected to assume a more prominent role. The 6-foot-4 right-hander from Alamo, Calif., will contribute as either a weekend starter or as the closer. In two years, he has pitched in 17 games (three starts), showing the ability to light up radar guns.

"Scott's role is a little undecided as we prepare to start the season," Savage said. "I think that he could be one of the best closers in the country. He took tremendous strides in the fall. He started throwing more strikes and he really developed his breaking ball."

Beyond Plutko, Weiss, Vander Tuig and Griggs, UCLA's pitching staff is young. With the departure of key left-hander Mitchell Beacom and the possible transition of Weiss, Vander Tuig and Griggs to roles in the starting rotation, Savage and the Bruins will be put to the test in relief.

UCLA's pool of potential relief pitchers includes freshmen David Berg, Jake Ehret, Eric Jaffe, Zack Ortiz and Grant Watson, sophomores Ryan Deeter and Madison Poole, and juniors Chase Brewer and Michael Kerman. In addition, the Bruins must decide how to replace Weiss as the team's midweek starting pitcher.

"It looks like we'll put a freshman in there for the midweek starts, grooming that guy for the following years," Savage said. "Looking at our freshmen class, when you talk about Watson, Ortiz and Ehret, you're talking about three very talented freshmen. Watson has a chance to be a complete pitcher, and both can throw four pitches for strikes. Ortiz is right-handed and Watson is left-handed. Ehret has fantastic stuff but needs to find his niche in terms of comfort at the Division I level."

CATCHING

UCLA must find a way to replace one of its most unheralded players in recent memory, three-year starting catcher Steve Rodriguez. Juniors Tyler Heineman and Trevor Brown will be the top candidates to assume the starting role behind the plate.

Heineman, a 5-foot-11 switch-hitter, was a strong back-up catcher as a sophomore last spring when Rodriguez was out of the lineup. He batted .261 with seven RBI in 23 games, making 13 starts. Heineman has not made any fielding errors the last two seasons and has shown the ability to help shut down the opponents' running game.

Brown, a 6-foot-2 product who bats from the right side, has been UCLA's most versatile defensive player the last two years. In addition to catching, Brown has played third base, second and first for the Bruins. When second baseman Tyler Rahmatulla was unable to play the final two-thirds of last season, Brown filled in second base.

"Tyler Heineman and Trevor Brown give us a really good 1-2 punch that we haven't had lately," Savage said. "Both guys are capable of being number one catchers in the Pac-12. It's great to have, especially when you factor in health and playing on back-to-back days. They can certainly handle our pitching staff."

INFIELD

The Bruins' 2012 team looks to assert itself as one of the most defensively sound ballclubs not only in the Pac-12, but also in the nation. UCLA returns a wealth of talent on its infield, particularly on the left side.

Junior third baseman Cody Regis has been one of UCLA's top power hitters the past two seasons. As a freshman in 2010, Regis batted .312 with nine homers, 17 doubles, 47 RBI and 41 runs. Last spring, he batted .284 with six homers, 10 doubles, 45 RBI and 20 runs. In addition, he has established himself as a cornerstone at third base.

Regis' most significant power production has come down the stretch for UCLA. The 6-foot-2 product from Glendora, Calif., has belted 14 of his 15 career home runs in the season's second half. In fact, five of Regis' 15 career homers have come in his 16 postseason games.

"We have a ton of confidence in Cody, who has been a mainstay for us at third base the last two seasons," Savage said. "He's a left-handed hitter with great power potential. It's very comforting having Cody at third base, knowing how sound he has been defensively as well as with his bat."

Sophomore Pat Valaika emerged as the team's starting shortstop several weeks into the 2011 campaign. As a freshman last spring, Valaika improved as the season continued and became a much more sure-handed defensive player as conference games began. He batted .238 with one home run, 10 doubles and 20 RBI and looks to become a more significant contributor at the plate this season.

"Pat's experience as a starting shortstop last season will pay major dividends for us this spring," Savage said. "I've seen it in the fall. He's different. He's got leadership. He has taken control of the infield. He played well down the stretch and made some plays in the Regional that were pretty special. He's becoming a complete, confident player."

While the left side of the infield appears to be solidified, the right side is more untested. Freshman Kevin Kramer and sophomore Kevin Williams are expected to compete for playing time at second base. Brown and Williams platooned at the position one year ago, but Brown may be pressed into action at both first base and behind the plate.

Kramer comes to Westwood after having thrived as a baseball and football player at Turlock High School (Turlock, Calif.). The 6-foot left-handed hitter was selected in the 25th round of the 2011 MLB Draft by the Cleveland Indians and impressed UCLA's coaching staff in the fall.

Williams batted .210 with six RBI in 28 games as a freshman, making 20 starts, and committed just one error at second base.

"We've got a lot of depth on our infield," Savage said. "With Kevin Kramer, you're talking about one of the most talented infielders we've had in a long time. He's a physical guy and is a very offensive player. Kevin Williams really turned the corner over the course of his freshman season. With the experience that Williams and Valaika have, it's only going to help us this season."

Brown appears to be UCLA's most likely option at first base. While he mostly has played at second base, third base and behind the plate, the junior from Valencia, Calif., is more than capable to contribute as a first baseman. Other candidates for playing time at first base include sophomores Pat Gallagher and Matt Giovannazzo.

"Our lineup will be primarily left-handed, so it's important that we have Trevor Brown step up not only on defense but also from the right side of the plate," Savage said. "At the end of the day, we feel that we have a lot of pieces to plug in there and get those jobs done."

Freshmen Chris Keck and Shane Zeile are also expected to push for playing time. Keck, a 6-foot-2 product from Pleasanton, Calif., could contribute for UCLA at third base, shortstop or second base. Zeile, the nephew of former UCLA standout and longtime major leaguer Todd Zeile, will be an asset for the Bruins at either third base or second base.

"Chris can become an offensive player in our program," Savage said. "He can hit for power to all fields and play every position on the infield. Shane is a very versatile guy who can also hit for power. Not only can he play at second base or third, but he has a really good arm and should have the opportunity to pitch for our team."

OUTFIELD

UCLA returns a deep, talented and very experienced group of outfielders in 2012. Juniors Cody Keefer, Beau Amaral and Jeff Gelalich look to secure starting roles in left, center and right field, respectively, after having been cornerstones of the team's offense since 2010.

"I really think that they are all potential center fielders in professional baseball," Savage said. "It's rare to have that talented an outfield. We look at it as having two outfields. When you bring in Brian Carroll, Brenton Allen and Eric Filia-Snyder — those are three very talented players. It's as deep an outfield as our program has had."

Amaral has been one of UCLA's most dynamic offensive assets the last two years. In 2010, he assumed starting center field duties early in the season and finished the year leading UCLA with a .354 batting average in 64 games. Last spring, Amaral batted .299 with two home runs, 16 doubles and 37 runs in 58 games.

"Beau is a five-tool player," Savage said. "He's the quarterback out there in our outfield. He can really cover ground. Offensively, we think that Beau is a leadoff type of guy. He has the ability to hit for power and for average. His experiences from the past two years are only going to help him and this team."

Like Amaral, Keefer has been a constant in UCLA's outfield the past two seasons. The native of Davis, Calif., has batted over .300 both years, entering his junior season with a .309 career batting average and .426 on-base percentage. He has played in 103 games, making all 101 starts in left field.

"Cody has been a big part of our program the last two years, and we know that he's ready for a big year," Savage said. "He's a very disciplined, patient hitter. We like his defense in left field, and similar to Beau and Jeff Gelalich, Cody could also be a talented center fielder in a Division I program."

Gelalich served primarily as the team's designated hitter in 2011, but has spent time the last two seasons playing in right field. As a freshman in 2010, he batted .321 with two home runs and 13 RBI in 78 at-bats. Last spring, Gelalich batted .268 with two homers and 13 RBI and 35 runs. The resident of La Verne, Calif., is among UCLA's fastest runners and has one of the best arms in the conference.

"Jeff is the best athlete on this team," Savage said. "He's got the best tools. He can really run, he can throw and he can hit for power. With Jeff in right field, we're hoping to be one of the best defensive teams in the country. There's no secret about it. We know that Jeff is more than capable of having a career year."

POSITION PLAYER EXPERIENCE

UCLA enters the 2012 season with several position players who have accrued substantial playing time the last two seasons. Three of the Bruins' returning position players have started at least 40 games each of the past two seasons.

COACHING STAFF

SAVAGE

Head Coach (8th season) • Alma Mater: Nevada '91
Record at UCLA: 227-191 (7 seasons)
Overall Record: 315-275-1 (10 seasons)

Entering his eighth season as UCLA's head coach, John Savage has established the Bruins as a national championship contender. He has guided UCLA to the postseason in five of the last six seasons, including the program's first appearance in the finals of the College World Series in 2010. Savage's players have also succeeded in the professional ranks, as 51 Bruins in the last seven seasons have been selected in the MLB Draft.

Over the past two seasons, Savage has led UCLA to remarkable heights. In 2011, the Bruins captured their first outright Pac-10 Conference title since 1986, winning two of three games at Arizona State on the final weekend of the regular season to clinch the league championship. Two weeks later, top pitchers Gerrit Cole and Trevor Bauer were selected No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in the first round of the 2011 MLB Draft. No college program had seen two of its players selected within the draft's first three selections since 1978 (Arizona State).

In July 2011, Bauer became UCLA's first-ever Golden Spikes Award winner, earning a coveted award presented annually by the USA Baseball Federation to the nation's premier amateur player. Additionally, Bauer became the first player in school history to earn National Player of the Year honors from either Baseball America or Collegiate Baseball.

Savage has become one of eight head coaches in the history of college baseball to have led his team to a College World Series, produced a No. 1 overall MLB Draft selection and coached a Golden Spikes Award winner. Savage is joined in that illustrious circle by former head coaches Skip Bertman (LSU) and Jim Brock (Arizona State) and current head coaches Tim Corbin (Vanderbilt), Augie Garrido (Cal State Fullerton, now at Texas), Jack Leggett (Clemson), Mike Martin (Florida State) and Jim Morris (Miami).

In 2011, Savage helped UCLA's pitching staff post the nation's third-lowest ERA (2.44), the lowest mark on record in school history. Likewise, the Bruins' staff finished the year second, nationally, in strikeouts per nine innings (9.8) and hits allowed per nine innings (6.61). In 2010, UCLA logged the nation's second-lowest ERA (3.00). That year, the Bruins' staff ranked first in the country in strikeouts per nine innings (10.2) and second in hits allowed per nine innings (7.31).

In 2010, Savage helped lead UCLA to its most successful season in school history while the Bruins played the nation's most challenging schedule, as ranked by Boyd's World. UCLA set the school record for single-season wins (51) and most wins during the regular season (43) while landing their first-ever national seed (No. 6-seed) in the NCAA Tournament. During the Bruins' run through the College World Series, Savage was named the National Coach of the Year by CollegeBaseballInsider.com.

UCLA has hosted postseason play at Steele Field at Jackie Robinson Stadium the past two seasons. In 2011, the Bruins entered the NCAA Los Angeles Regional as the No. 1 seed for the second consecutive year and went 2-2. In 2010, UCLA hosted postseason games for the first time since 1986, defeating Kent State, defending national champion LSU and UC Irvine before hosting an NCAA Super Regional for the first time in program history.

At the 2010 NCAA Los Angeles Super Regional, UCLA won the final two games of the series against Cal State Fullerton to secure their third appearance in the College World Series, UCLA's first berth since 1997. At the College World Series, the Bruins defeated Florida once and TCU twice to advance to the best-of-three finals, before dropping two games to South Carolina. Under Savage's guidance, UCLA opened 2010 with a 22-0 record, the program's longest win streak and best start to a season. After finishing second in the Pac-10 Conference, a league that sent eight of its 10 teams to the postseason, the Bruins' pitching staff set the school and Pac-10 record for strikeouts in a season (700).

Savage's work with UCLA's pitchers has been most evident with the development of a formidable 1-2 punch in right-handers Gerrit Cole and Trevor Bauer. In three seasons at UCLA (2009-11), Bauer established UCLA's all-time records in strikeouts (460), wins (34) and innings (373.1) and set the program's top two marks in single-season strikeouts. Bauer logged a nation-leading and Pac-12 record 203 strikeouts in 2011 after having led the country with 165 strikeouts in 2010. Cole served as UCLA's Friday night pitcher in each of his three seasons (2009-11), logging 376 strikeouts, the second-highest career total in program history and becoming the first pitcher in program history to record at least 100 strikeouts in each of three seasons.

Through the last six years, Savage's teams have posted the second-most wins (91) and second-highest win percentage (.599) of any Pac-12 team in conference games only. Similarly, UCLA has collected the fourth-most wins (212) and fourth-highest win percentage (.586) of Pac-12 teams in all games. The Bruins finished in third place in 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009 before earning a second-place finish in 2010 and conference title in 2011.

Aside from making strides on the field, Savage and his coaching staff have found success on the recruiting trail. Each of his first six recruiting classes were nationally ranked in the top-20 by Baseball America. Savage's first recruiting class at UCLA was ranked No. 5, and that group lived up to its billing by leading the Bruins to three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances for the first time in school history. His second class was tabbed No. 13.

and his third and fourth classes were ranked No. 7. Savage's fifth recruiting class was tabbed No. 19, while the sixth incoming group was rated No. 3.

Additionally, Savage's players at UCLA have seen success in the Major League Draft and in professional baseball. Over the last seven seasons (2005-11), UCLA has produced 51 draft selections, including a program-record-tying 12 draft picks in 2006. Four of Savage's ballplayers at UCLA have been promoted to the major leagues, including left-hander David Huff (Cleveland), right-handers Josh Roenicke (Toronto) and Hector Ambriz (Cleveland) and shortstop Brandon Crawford (San Francisco). Of those 51 selections, 11 have been chosen within the draft's first five rounds and 16 through the first 10 rounds.

At least one UCLA pitcher each of the past six seasons has collected 100 or more strikeouts – David Huff (100) in 2006; Tyson Brummett (138) in 2007; Tim Murphy (111) in 2008; Gerrit Cole (104) in 2009; Trevor Bauer (165), Cole (153) and Rob Rasmussen (128) in 2010; Bauer (203) and Cole (119) in 2011.

In 2009, Savage led UCLA to a third-place finish in the Pac-10 for the fourth consecutive season. The Bruins went 27-29 with a 15-12 mark in Pac-10 play. That year, UCLA's pitching staff finished ninth in the nation in strikeouts per nine innings (9.3) and 14th in hits allowed per nine innings (8.79). The team's success on the mound was fueled by Bauer and Cole, who finished the year as two of the conference's three freshmen to earn All-Pac-10 team honors. Bauer captured National Freshman Pitcher of the Year honors from Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball and was named a first-team Freshman All-America selection by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA). Cody Decker became the first Bruin to hit 20 or more home runs under Savage in one season. He finished his senior season with 21 homers, becoming UCLA's first Pac-10 home run leader since 2002.

In 2008, UCLA became the school's first baseball team to secure a third consecutive trip to NCAA postseason play. The Bruins went 33-27 with a 13-11 Pac-10 record, culminating in an NCAA Regional Final berth at Cal State Fullerton. UCLA's pitching staff recorded a conference-leading 4.29 ERA in Pac-10 action. Murphy guided the Bruins' rotation in 2008 and became the first UCLA pitcher to lead the Pac-10 in strikeouts (111) since 1996, when Jim Parque totaled 116 strikeouts. The Bruins' regular-season schedule featured 26 games against teams that advanced to NCAA postseason play.

In 2007, Savage helped UCLA overcome an 8-14 start and record a 33-28 overall record, en route to the program's first NCAA Super Regional appearance since 2000. The Bruins went 14-10 with a third-place finish in the Pac-10. UCLA won 19 of 23 games midway through the 2007 season, marking the team's most successful stretch since 1997. Backed by three masterful performances from its starting pitchers, UCLA swept the NCAA Long Beach Regional at Blair Field. By season's end, UCLA landed five players on the All-Pac-10 team, the most selections by any Bruin baseball team since 2000.

Savage engineered a quick turnaround in 2006, leading the Bruins to a 33-25 overall record and a berth in the NCAA Malibu Regional. UCLA finished third in the Pac-10 that season with a 13-10 conference record. The Bruins faced the toughest schedule in the nation, as rated by Boyd's World, by playing 27 regular-season games against 10 teams that advanced to NCAA Regionals. Savage led UCLA to a 15-12 mark against Arizona State, Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State, Miami, Mississippi, North Carolina State, 2006 NCAA champion Oregon State, Pepperdine, Stanford and UC Irvine.

The Bruins' 2006 campaign marked the first year in which UCLA won each of its home Pac-10 series, taking two of three games from Washington State, Arizona State, USC and Stanford. The Bruins overcame an early 5-9 start, sweeping North Carolina State on the road before returning home to win two of three games against Mississippi and sweeping San Diego State.

In just his second year at UCLA, Savage guided the Bruins' pitching staff to a 3.77 team ERA, the lowest mark by any UCLA ballclub since 1980 (3.55). With the addition of Huff and Brummett to the weekend rotation, the pitching staff recorded six complete games, tied with Stanford for the most in the Pac-10. Three players earned All-Pac-10 team honors, and three Bruins secured honorable mention All-Pac-10 accolades.

Much of the college baseball world noticed UCLA's success in 2006 and aimed their praise toward Savage. Following the 2006 campaign, Savage was named a finalist for the National Coach of the Year award by CollegeBaseballInsider.com, marking the second time he has been labeled a finalist for that award.

In July 2006, Baseball America hailed Savage as one of "10 People to Watch in the Future." The magazine listed the Bruins' head coach with other distinguished baseball personnel such as New York Mets general manager Omar Minaya, Mets all-star third baseman David Wright and Los Angeles Dodgers assistant general manager Kim Ng. Baseball America lauded Savage for his winning ways: "UCLA has always been viewed as a sleeping giant on the West Coast, and it looks like Savage has the giant stirring."

Prior to taking over the UCLA baseball program in 2005, Savage's coaching career made stops as a head coach at UC Irvine and as an assistant coach at Nevada and USC. Savage helped lead UC Irvine to the program's first-ever NCAA Division I Tournament appearance in 2004. His ability to soundly recruit first-class student-athletes and to develop them into highly recognized Division I baseball players led UCLA Athletic Director Dan Guerrero to hire Savage on July 1, 2004, to replace the retired Gary Adams.

Coincidentally, Guerrero also hired Savage at UC Irvine three years prior and asked him to re-launch a dormant Anteater baseball program. Savage spent his first season recruiting players and building the foundation for his program that began play in 2002. In their first season, the Anteaters compiled a 33-26 record, and the pitching staff set a school record with 487 strikeouts. Despite injuries to key players the following season, UC Irvine recorded 417 strikeouts and a 3.61 ERA (third in the Big West Conference).

In 2004, Savage led UC Irvine to its first-ever appearance in the NCAA Division I baseball tournament. UC Irvine competed at the Notre Dame Regional and finished the year with a 34-23-1 mark. Savage's pitching staff recorded 483 strikeouts, four shy of the school record, and compiled a 3.69 ERA (second in the Big West). The UC Irvine offense hit at a .288 clip, averaging 5.7 runs per game.

That season, Savage coached a myriad of talented athletes, including the Big West Conference Freshman Pitcher of the Year, the Collegiate Baseball "Louisville Slugger" Freshman of the Year and the only freshman in the nation to earn All-America first-team accolades from USA Today/Sports Weekly. Savage also led UC Irvine to its highest-ever national ranking at the time – a No. 7 spot from Collegiate Baseball in April 2004.

Following Savage's historic 2004 campaign, he was tabbed a finalist for National Coach of the Year honors by CollegeBaseballInsider.com. Three of his players were selected in the 2004 MLB Draft, and a total of 12 athletes signed professional contracts under his tutelage at UC Irvine. As a head coach, Savage compiled a perfect 4-0 mark against UCLA. His UC Irvine squads defeated the Bruins twice in 2002 and twice more in 2004.

Prior to taking over the UC Irvine program, Savage served as the pitching coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Southern California (USC) from 1997-2000. At USC, he helped produce numerous successful athletes, including consecutive Pac-10 Pitcher of the Year selections Seth Etherton, Rik Currier and eventual American League Cy Young Award winner Barry Zito. Ultimately, Savage helped guide Etherton to the 1998 Sporting News National Player of the Year award and was instrumental in his nomination as a Golden Spikes Award finalist. Also under his mentorship was former major league standout Mark Prior.

As recruiting coordinator, Savage helped facilitate the Trojans' top-ranked recruiting class in 1999-2000, as ranked by Collegiate Baseball, and served as an assistant to Mike Gillespie for the USA Baseball National Team of collegiate all-stars in the summer of 2000. That summer, the U.S. National Team tallied a 27-3-1 record and brought home a gold medal from the Haarlem Baseball Week Tournament in the Netherlands.

Two years prior, Savage earned Collegiate Baseball's Assistant Coach of the Year honors in 1998 after his coaching talents helped USC capture the 1998 College World Series Championship. He also helped guide USC to an NCAA Regional title in 1999 and the NCAA Super Regional title at Georgia Tech in 2000.

Savage served as an assistant coach at the University of Nevada from 1992-96, helping the Wolf Pack compile a 177-82 record in five seasons. During his tenure at Nevada, the baseball program won the 1994 Big West Conference title and strung together its first back-to-back 35-win seasons in school history. In five seasons as an assistant coach at Nevada, 24 Wolf Pack players signed professional contracts.

Savage began his coaching career as the pitching coach for Reno (NV) High School during the 1988-1989 school year.

Savage was a sixth-round draft selection of the New York Yankees in 1983, following his senior season at Reno High, but chose to attend Santa Clara University, where he pitched for three seasons. The Cincinnati Reds selected Savage in the 16th round of the 1986 MLB Draft. Savage played two seasons in the Reds' organization before moving on to help the independent league Salt Lake City Trappers set a professional baseball record with 29 consecutive victories in 1987.

Following his professional career, Savage earned his bachelor's degree in secondary education, with an emphasis in physical education and history, from Nevada in 1991.

Savage, 46, and his wife, Lisa, have four children: Julia (16), Jack (14), Ryan (12) and Gabrielle (10).

Savage's Former Pitchers what they're saying...

GERRIT COLE - Pittsburgh Pirates 2011 MLB Draft (1st overall pick)

"Coach Savage taught me how to become a complete pitcher. He not only improved my game on the field, but also made a huge impact for me working with the mental game away from the field. In my eyes, there isn't a pitching coach better than him out there."

TREVOR BAUER - Arizona Diamondbacks 2011 MLB Draft (1st round, No. 3 pick)

"Coach Savage was instrumental in my development as a pitcher. He allowed me the freedom to learn through my experiences while providing the proper structure to lead me in the right direction. His knowledge created an environment very conducive to my growth as a player and person."

DAVID HUFF - Cleveland Indians 2006 MLB Draft (1st round, supplemental)

"Everyone that comes into UCLA's program has talent and athleticism. Coach Savage takes that talent and shapes it into a quality professional ballplayer. He has been very instrumental in my success at the collegiate and professional levels."

ROB RASMUSSEN - Florida Marlins 2010 MLB Draft (2nd round)

"Every pitcher Coach Savage recruits as the 'stuff' to be great. He helps young pitchers sharpen their talent, allowing them to improve their game mentally and physically. Baseball is a grind, but he makes sure that you are forming good habits that prepare you to have a successful season."

HECTOR AMBRIZ - Cleveland Indians 2006 MLB Draft (5th round)

"After I missed the 2005 season with an arm injury, Coach Savage really helped me regain my confidence on the mound. He makes it a priority that his players not only succeed in college, but that they also have a chance to excel as professional ballplayers."

REX
PETERS

Assistant Coach (1st season)
Alma Mater: Cal State Fullerton '89
Hitting/Outfield Coach

Rex Peters enters his first season with the UCLA baseball program in 2012 after having spent the previous nine years as head coach at UC Davis. Peters will serve as the Bruins' hitting and outfield coach and will play a central role in the program's recruiting efforts.

Peters guided UC Davis through multiple transitions as the program's head coach from 2003-2011. He helped the Aggies ascend from NCAA Division II status to Division I beginning in 2004. In addition, UC Davis joined the Big West Conference in 2008, earning its first-ever berth as a Division I program in the NCAA Tournament that spring.

In nine seasons at the helm of the UC Davis baseball program, Peters helped produce 21 MLB draft selections. Most notably, third baseman Daniel Descalso was selected in the third round of the 2007 MLB draft by the St. Louis Cardinals and made his major league debut with the organization in 2010. In addition, seven UC Davis ballplayers earned ABCA or NCBWA All-Region honors during Peters' nine-year tenure as head coach.

UC Davis compiled a 35-24 record in 2008, winning its first of three games at the NCAA Stanford Regional. The Aggies registered three series sweeps that season and three victories against area rival Stanford. A school-record seven players were selected in the June 2008 MLB Draft.

In his second season as head coach at UC Davis (2004), Peters helped the Aggies post a 37-15-1 record, including a 32-7 mark in the program's final year with the California Collegiate Athletic Association. While no longer eligible for postseason play as part of its transition to Division I status, UC Davis finished atop the conference standings by better than a seven-game margin. Along the way, the Aggies enjoyed school-record streaks of 16 straight victories and 20 consecutive conference wins.

In 2003, Peters guided the Aggies to a 36-24 record and their first NCAA Division II postseason berth since 1995. UC Davis swept through the West Region tournament, highlighted by back-to-back shutout victories, and advanced to the national tournament for only the second time in school history. For his part, Peters was honored as the ABCA/Diamond Sports West Region Coach of the Year.

Peters arrived at UC Davis after spending the previous nine seasons as head coach at Chapman University (Orange, Calif.), where he compiled a 248-131-2 overall record. He led the Panthers to three appearances in the NCAA Division III College World Series, including a third-place finish in 2000. Peters set program records as a head coach for most wins and highest winning percentage, having led the Panthers to the NCAA West Regional five times. He was named West Region Coach of the Year on three occasions. Additionally, Peters coached six All-America selections, two Academic All-Americans, nine Academic All-District players and 29 All-Region honorees.

Between his nine years at UC Davis and nine seasons at Chapman, Peters collected a 482-396-3 (.549) career record as a head coach. He secured his 400th career victory as a head coach on March 15, 2008, in UC Davis' doubleheader sweep of Santa Clara.

Prior to his 18 years as a head coach, Peters served one season as an assistant coach at Chapman under head coach Gary Henderson. He spent the previous four years playing in the Los Angeles Dodgers organization after being drafted by the club in the 24th round of the 1989 MLB Draft. In the minors, he advanced as high as double-A San Antonio. In 1989, his first season in professional baseball, he was named the MVP for the Salem Dodgers.

Peters graduated from Cal State Fullerton in 1989 with his bachelor's degree in physical education. He was an honorable mention All-America selection for the Titans, helping lead them to a third-place finish at the 1988 College World Series. Peters earned his master's degree in education with an emphasis in physical education from Azusa Pacific in 1994.

Peters and his wife, Deborah, have six children and reside in Culver City, Calif., with his son, Jake.

COACHING STAFF

T.J. Bruce enters his second season as an assistant coach with UCLA in 2012. A former player and assistant coach at Long Beach State, Bruce serves as the infield coach, leads the program's recruiting efforts and assists with the hitters.

As UCLA's infield coach in 2011, Bruce helped the Bruins' defense post a .976 fielding percentage, the second-highest mark in the Pac-10 and 16th-best percentage in the nation. UCLA logged its second-highest fielding percentage (.976) and second-lowest errors total (51) on record in school history.

Bruce made his fourth appearance in NCAA postseason play in his sixth season as a Division I assistant coach. The Bruins earned an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament by capturing the 2011 Pac-10 Conference title, UCLA's first outright conference crown since 1986.

Bruce's work with UCLA's infield proved most crucial with the development of shortstop Pat Valaika and second basemen Kevin Williams and Trevor Brown. Valaika, a freshman in 2011, secured the Bruins' starting shortstop job just three weeks into the season, started all 27 Pac-10 games at that position, and became one of the infield's greatest assets. Williams and Brown each made just one error at second base, splitting time at that position through the season's final 40 games.

Prior to his arrival at UCLA, Bruce spent five seasons (2005, 2007-10) as an assistant coach at Long Beach State, helping lead the 49ers to NCAA Regional appearances in 2007 and 2008. He served as an undergraduate assistant coach at Long Beach State in 2005, guiding the 49ers to an NCAA Regional berth.

Working with the infielders as an assistant coach at Long Beach State, Bruce helped the development of All-Big West Conference selections Troy Tulowitzki (2003-05), Evan Longoria (2005-06), Danny Espinosa (2007) and Devin Lohman (2010). Tulowitzki and Longoria have since enjoyed successful major league careers with the Colorado Rockies and Tampa Bay Rays, respectively.

Bruce spent the 2006 season as an assistant coach at Cerritos College, helping the Falcons advance to the Southern California College playoffs. Cerritos finished the season with a 27-17 record, tied for second place in the competitive South Coast Conference. Two players from that team were selected in the 2006 MLB Draft.

Bruce played for Long Beach State as a senior in 2004 after spending his first two seasons (2001-02) at Cerritos College and his junior year (2003) at Texas Tech. In 2004, he helped Long Beach State to an NCAA Super Regional. The 49ers fell one game short of advancing to the College World Series, dropping the best-of-three series to Arizona in a decisive third game that lasted 11 innings. That season, Bruce played alongside current Colorado Rockies shortstop Troy Tulowitzki.

At Texas Tech in 2003, Bruce batted at a .321 clip, playing in all 55 games (making 53 starts). He belted three home runs, collecting 11 doubles, 38 RBI and 44 runs during his junior campaign.

Bruce earned honorable mention All-South Coast Conference acclaim in each of his two seasons at Cerritos College, leading the Falcons to the first round of the Southern California College playoffs both years. He batted .320 as a freshman in 2001 and finished his sophomore year batting .330 with 37 RBI and 28 stolen bases.

A three-year baseball letterwinner at St. John Bosco High School, Bruce was twice named to the Long Beach Press-Telegram's "Dream Team" as a standout shortstop. He earned All-League Most Valuable Player honors as a junior and senior at St. John Bosco, helping lead the Braves to the league championship his senior season.

Bruce, 29, resides with his wife, Heather, and their daughters, Rhowan (born Oct. 2009) and Harloe (born June 2011) in Lakewood, Calif.

JAKE
SILVERMAN

Assistant Coach (2nd season)
Alma Mater: Cal State Fullerton '10
Catchers, First Base Coach

Jake Silverman begins his second season as an assistant coach for the Bruins in 2012. Silverman works with the team's catchers and hitters, serves as the Bruins' first base coach and helps run all Bruin baseball camps.

Silverman's work with UCLA's catchers paid dividends in 2011, as the team's catching corps handled a pitching staff that led the conference with 572 strikeouts, the second-highest total in UCLA history, and finished second in the nation in strikeouts per nine innings (9.8).

Behind the plate, Steve Rodriguez threw out 22 of 54 attempted base stealers (40.7 percent), catching 410.1 innings in 2011. The three-year starting catcher was selected in the 15th round of the 2011 MLB Draft by the Arizona Diamondbacks. Silverman also worked with Tyler Heineman, who did not commit an error in 131 chances.

In two seasons as an undergraduate assistant coach at Cal State Fullerton, Silverman helped the Titans advance to the College World Series in 2009 and to the NCAA Super Regional at UCLA in 2010. Additionally, he served as an assistant coach in the summer of 2010 for the Peninsula Oilers of the Alaska Collegiate Summer League.

Silverman spent the 2008 season as a catcher at Cal State Fullerton and saw action in one game. Prior to that, he played two seasons (2006-07) at Fullerton College. As a freshman in 2006, he batted .350 in 16 games before seeing action in 14 games (two starts) as a sophomore in 2007. Silverman earned the Art Nunn Award in 2007 for exemplary acts on and off the field.

Silverman, 25, prepped at Foothill High School in Tustin, Calif. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in communications from Cal State Fullerton in 2010.

SETH
MOIR

Director of Operations (1st season)
Alma Mater: Montana State '08

Seth Moir enters his first season as the UCLA baseball program's Director of Operations in 2012. Moir joined the staff in January 2012 after spending the 2011 baseball season working for the New York Yankees.

Moir has gained extensive experience working in both baseball operations and scouting the past three years. He spent the 2011 baseball season serving an internship with the New York Yankees at the organization's Spring Training facility in Tampa, Fla.

With the Yankees, Moir was responsible for multiple projects in baseball operations, scouting and video breakdown. He assisted the team's scouting department, wrote preliminary scouting reports, worked with coaches on player evaluations and compiled data and video to assist with the MLB Draft.

In 2009 and 2010, Moir served in various capacities with the Spokane Indians, a class-A minor league affiliate of the Texas Rangers in the Northwest League. He served as the team's Director of Stadium Operations through both seasons.

During his senior year at Montana State, Moir worked as a sports writer for the Billings Gazette, writing columns and articles about professional, collegiate and prep sports.

Moir, 26, graduated from Montana State in May 2008 with a bachelor's degree in public relations.

2011 IN REVIEW

▲ GOLDEN SPIKES AWARD WINNER

Trevor Bauer went 13-2 with a 1.25 ERA and nation-leading 203 strikeouts, a single-season Pac-12 Conference record, as a junior in 2011. He became UCLA's first Golden Spikes Award winner after having been selected No. 3 overall in June's MLB Draft by the Arizona Diamondbacks. Bauer signed a major league contract with Arizona on July 25, 2011 and began his professional career several days later.

▼ WALKOFF VICTORY

Dean Espy scored the game-winning run in the bottom of the ninth to help UCLA sweep a Pac-10 series against Washington on April 3, 2011. On-deck hitter Chris Giovinazzo awaits Espy in the background.

PLUTKO DELIVERS ►

A sixth-round MLB Draft selection by the Houston Astros in June 2010, Adam Plutko had a fantastic freshman campaign in 2011, going 7-4 with a 2.01 ERA, 92 strikeouts and 24 walks in 107.2 innings. He secured freshman All-America acclaim from three publications in addition to earning All-Pac-10 Conference honors.

◀ POWER SUPPLIER

First baseman Dean Espy led the offense, batting .320 in all 59 games. He totaled three home runs, 15 doubles, 40 RBI and 32 runs before being selected by the Kansas City Royals in the MLB Draft.

▲ AMARAL EXCELS IN YEAR TWO

Center fielder Beau Amaral picked up in 2011 where he left off as a freshman in 2010, batting .299 with 16 doubles, 29 RBI and 37 runs for the Bruins. His superb play in center field helped him earn All-Pac-10 Conference honors.

▲ COLE DRAFTED NO. 1

Gerrit Cole became UCLA's first player ever chosen No. 1 overall in the June MLB Draft. Cole was selected first overall by the Pittsburgh Pirates after going 6-8 with a 3.31 ERA, 119 strikeouts and 24 walks in 114.1 innings. Cole's 376 career strikeouts ranks second on UCLA's all-time list.

▲ WEISS WELCOMED TO WESTWOOD

Zack Weiss went 5-3 with a 2.86 ERA in 22 games, pitching in nine games as the team's midweek starter.

REGIS KEYS OFFENSE ►

Third baseman Cody Regis led UCLA with six home runs, totaling 45 RBI and 55 runs as a sophomore in 2011. Among the lineup's most consistent power threats, Regis logged a .448 slugging percentage in 57 games (56 starts). Pictured here at the NCAA Los Angeles Regional at Jackie Robinson Stadium, Regis fires the ball on the run to first base.

BIG LEAGUE BRUINS

▲ BEN FRANCISCO

After being traded midseason to Philadelphia, he helped lead the Phillies to their second consecutive World Series in 2009.

◀ JEFF CONINE

Spent 17 seasons in the majors, helping lead the Florida Marlins to World Series titles in 1997 and 2003.

▶ HECTOR AMBRIZ

Pitched for the Cleveland Indians in 2010 and starred at UCLA from 2003-2006.

▲ GARRETT ATKINS

Led the Colorado Rockies to the NL pennant and the World Series in 2007, playing for the ballclub from 2003-2009.

▲ ADAM MELHUSE

After two years excelling as an infielder at UCLA (1992-1993), he spent eight seasons in the major leagues as a catcher.

▲ CASEY JANSSEN

A four-year letterwinner for the Bruins (2001-2004), Janssen broke into the majors in 2006. He was drafted by Toronto in the fourth round of the 2004 MLB Draft and has pitched for the Blue Jays since then.

▲ DAVE ROBERTS

After four years at UCLA (1991-94), he enjoyed a 10-year major league career. Roberts starred in center field for the Los Angeles Dodgers for three seasons before leading the Boston Red Sox to the 2004 World Series title.

▶ TODD ZEILE

Among the best-ever hitters in UCLA history, Zeile competed for the Bruins from 1984-86. In 16 major-league seasons, he totaled 253 home runs and 1,110 RBI.

▲ CHASE UTLEY

One of the game's top second basemen, Utley led Philadelphia to the World Series title in 2008. In 2009, he guide the Phillies back to the Fall Classic, clubbing five homers in six games in that World Series.

▲ TROY GLAUS

After winning the 2002 World Series with the Anaheim Angels, Glaus earned World Series MVP honors that October. He enjoyed a 13-year major league career.

▲ SHANE MACK

After batting .361 in three seasons at UCLA, Mack helped lead the Minnesota Twins to the 1991 World Series title.

▲ DAVID HUFF

As a rookie in 2009, he led the Cleveland Indians with 11 victories. Huff starred in UCLA's rotation as a junior in 2006, leading the Bruins to the NCAA Malibu Regional.

▲ ERIC KARROS

One of UCLA's top hitters (1986-1988), he set the Los Angeles Dodgers' career home run record, belting 284 round-trippers in 12 seasons in Los Angeles.

▲ ERIC BYRNES

After four years at UCLA (1995-1998), he spent 11 seasons playing Major League Baseball. Byrnes still holds the UCLA career records for hits (326), at-bats (984), runs (326) and doubles (75).

◀ BRANDON CRAWFORD

A three-year standout at UCLA (2006-2008), he clubbed a grand slam in his major league debut with San Francisco (May 27, 2011).

In Memoriam: Arthur E. Reichle (1914-2000)

"A courageous man who taught his players to strive for excellence both on and off the field of play."

The UCLA baseball program lost a great teacher and friend when former head coach Art Reichle passed away on May 23, 2000. Reichle, who was inducted into the UCLA Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998, became head coach of the Bruins in 1941. After one year, he entered the Army and served until 1946, at which time he resumed coaching baseball at UCLA.

In 1969, the Bruins, led by future major leaguer Chris Chambliss, won the Pacific-8 title and earned UCLA's first appearance into the College World Series. Reichle retired as coach after the 1974 season with 733-577-22 record, and was succeeded by Gary Adams, one of his former players.

As an athlete, Reichle played football, rugby and baseball at UCLA from 1934-36. He began his coaching career as an assistant for the Bruin baseball team and one of the players during his tenure was future Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson.

Reichle was an assistant athletic director at UCLA until 1980. He continued to teach at clinics and assist high school coaches in Ventura County until his retirement. Reichle moved to Florida in 1989.

Reichle is survived by his wife Ruth, sons Arthur Jr. and Richard, and daughter Denise Margarite.

* In 1999, the conference moved from two divisions, composed of four northern teams (Pac-10 North) and six southern teams (Pac-10 South), to one nine-team league after Portland State dropped baseball. As a result, the conference schedule was reduced to 24 games, down from 30 in years past. In 2009, the inclusion of Oregon raised the total number of Pac-10 games from 24 to 27. In 2012, the inclusion of Utah will push the total number of Pac-12 games from 27 to 30.

AWARDS AND HONORS

Multiple All-Conference Selections

UCLA has produced 22 players since 1967 who have earned all-conference acclaim at least twice, with three standouts having earned all-conference honors three times (Garrett Atkins, Dennis Delany and Trevor Bauer).

GARRETT ATKINS

All-Pac-10 Team in 1998, 1999, 2000

Garrett Atkins captured All-Pac-10 acclaim each of his three seasons at UCLA. He set the school's single-season freshman batting average record in 1998, hitting at a .383 clip with nine homers and 54 RBI. As a sophomore, Atkins batted .275 with 14 home runs, 18 doubles and 41 RBI. He helped lead UCLA to the NCAA Super Regional at LSU during his junior season, batting .352 with 17 home runs, 72 RBI and 73 runs.

TREVOR BAUER

All-Pac-10 Team in 2009, 2010, 2011

Among the most dominant pitchers in conference history, Trevor Bauer secured All-Pac-10 acclaim each of his three seasons (2009-2011). As a junior, he became the first UCLA player to ever win the Golden Spikes Award. That season, Bauer went 13-2 with a 1.25 ERA and a nation-leading 203 strikeouts. He went 12-3 with a 3.02 ERA and a nation-best 165 strikeouts as a sophomore and secured Pac-10 Freshman of the Year honors in 2009, going 9-3 with a 2.99 ERA. Bauer helped lead UCLA to the finals of the 2010 College World Series and back to the postseason in 2011.

ERIC BYRNES

All-Pac-10 Team in 1995, 1997

A talented four-year starter (1995-1998), Eric Byrnes guided the Bruins to postseason appearances in 1996 and 1997, including to the College World Series in 1997. He batted .324 with nine home runs, 35 RBI and 18 stolen bases as a freshman. Two years later, he posted career numbers with 17 home runs, 60 RBI and 95 runs. Byrnes finished his career as UCLA's all-time leader in runs (235), hits (326) and at-bats (984).

GERRIT COLE

All-Pac-10 Team in 2009, 2010

A three-year starting pitcher (2009-2011), Gerrit Cole twice earned All-Pac-10 acclaim. As a freshman, he moved into the team's Friday night starter role, going 4-8 with a 3.49 ERA, 104 strikeouts and 38 walks in 95.0 innings. As a sophomore, Cole went 11-4 with a 3.37 ERA, 153 strikeouts and 52 walks in 123.0 innings. Cole led UCLA to the finals of the College World Series in 2010 and back to the postseason as a junior in 2011.

ED COWAN

All-Pac-8 Team in 1975, 1976

A three-year letterwinner for the Bruins (1974-1976), Ed Cowan posted a 10-2 record with a 3.50 ERA as a starting pitcher for the Bruins during his senior campaign. He led the Bruins in strikeouts and wins during his junior and senior years. The two-time all-conference selection finished his UCLA career with a 22-11 record and 4.10 ERA.

TIM DECINCES

All-Pac-10 Team in 1995, 1996

Among the best hitting catchers in program history, Tim DeCinces helped lead the Bruins to the 1996 NCAA Central I Regional at the University of Texas. He posted a career .321 batting average in three seasons (1994-1996), belting 37 home runs and collecting 166 RBI. He led all Pac-10 hitters with 23 doubles in 1995 and 18 home runs in 1996. DeCinces ranks fourth on UCLA's career doubles list (54).

CODY DECKER

All-Pac-10 Team in 2007, 2009

Among the conference's premier power hitters during his four years (2006-2009), Decker led all Pac-10 hitters with 21 home runs in 2009. He earned All-Pac-10 honors in 2007, batting .307 with 14 homers and 57 RBI. As a senior, he batted .322 with 21 homers and 53 RBI. He finished his career sporting a .288 batting average, 47 home runs and 153 RBI.

DENNIS DELANY

All-Pac-8 Team in 1976, 1977, 1978

A four-year standout (1975-1978), Dennis Delany led UCLA to the 1976 CIBA title, in addition to second-place finishes in the Pac-8 in 1977 and 1978. As a junior in 1977, Delany posted a team-best .339 batting average, totaling 11 home runs and 37 RBI. The following season, he batted .339 with six homers, 14 doubles and 37 RBI. Delany finished his collegiate career having compiled a .302 batting average.

VENYO GARRISON

All-Pac-8 Team in 1974, 1975

Venoy Garrison finished his three-year career (1973-1975) having batted .331 with nine home runs, 17 doubles and 68 RBI. He starred behind the plate for UCLA, blossoming during his junior and senior campaigns. In 1974, Garrison batted .345 with 12 doubles. The following year, he batted .344 with seven home runs and 37 RBI.

TROY GLAUS

All-Pac-10 Team in 1996, 1997

Among the most talented power hitters in school history, Troy Glaus capped his three-year career (1995-1997) with a sensational junior season. In 1997, Glaus led the Pac-10 with 34 home runs (single-season school record), batted .409 and drove in 91 runs. As a sophomore in 1996, Glaus batted .352 with 16 home runs, 17 doubles and 50 RBI. He posted career totals of 62 home runs, 180 RBI, 211 runs scored and a .344 batting average.

JOHN JOSLYN

All-Pac-10 Team in 1985, 1986

A two-year standout for the Bruins (1985-1986), John Joslyn was a key player on UCLA's 1986 Pac-10 Championship squad. That season, he batted .347 with 18 home runs and 53 RBI as the Bruins hosted an NCAA Regional. In 1985, Joslyn earned the first of his two All-Pac-10 team honors, batting .370 with six home runs and 42 RBI.

ERIC KARROS

All-Pac-10 Team in 1987, 1988

After playing in just 12 games as a freshman in 1986, Eric Karros made a tremendous impact for the Bruins in 1987 and 1988. In 66 games as a sophomore (1987), Karros batted .312 with eight home runs, 23 doubles and 57 RBI. The following season, he batted .415 with 17 homers, 14 doubles and 54 RBI. Karros finished his three-year career batting .365 with 26 home runs and 123 RBI.

SHANE MACK

All-Pac-10 Team in 1983, 1984

A three-year starter for the Bruins (1982-1984), Shane Mack batted over the .300 plateau each season. He posted his best numbers as a sophomore and junior. In 1983, Mack batted .419 with 11 home runs, 60 RBI and 54 runs in 49 games. The following season, he batted .352 with 16 home runs and 53 RBI. Mack was the No. 11 overall selection in the 1984 MLB Draft by the San Diego Padres.

JIM PARQUE

All-Pac-10 Team in 1996, 1997

Serving as the ace of UCLA's 1997-bound College World Series team, Jim Parque had a very strong three-year career (1995-1997). He posted a 28-8 career record on the mound, logging 319 strikeouts in 334.2 innings while recording a 3.55 ERA. As a junior in 1997, Parque went 13-2 with a 3.08 ERA. He led the Pac-10 with 116 strikeouts in 1996 and with 12 wins in 1997.

DAVE ROBERTS

All-Pac-10 Team in 1992, 1994

Among the best basestealers in UCLA history, Dave Roberts batted over .295 with at least 28 stolen bases in each of his final three seasons. A four-year letterwinner (1991-1994), he led the conference in stolen bases in 1992, 1993 and 1994. He set the school's single-season record with 45 swipes in 1994. Roberts finished his UCLA career with a .325 batting average, 82 RBI, 177 runs and 109 stolen bases.

GARY SANSERINO

All-Pac-8 Team in 1968, 1969

A three-year letterwinner who excelled as a shortstop (1967-1969), Dave Sanserino posted a career .319 batting average, totaling 12 home runs and 98 RBI. He batted .302 with 10 home runs and set a then-school record with 19 stolen bases in 1969, leading UCLA to its first-ever appearance in the College World Series that season.

BILL SCOTT

All-Pac-10 Team in 1999, 2000

Bill Scott established himself in three seasons (1998-2000) as one of UCLA's most successful hitters. He posted career totals of 53 home runs and 173 RBI while batting .392 and leading UCLA to NCAA Regionals in 1999 and 2000. Scott led all Pac-10 hitters with a .421 batting average as a junior in 2000 and led the conference with 28 home runs and 86 RBI in 1999.

DON SLAUGHT

All-Pac-10 Team in 1979, 1980

A three-year letterwinner at UCLA (1977, 1979-1980), Don Slaughter was among the Bruins' most talented hitters during his final two seasons. He batted at a conference-leading .428 clip in 1979, totaling seven home runs, 41 RBI and 38 runs in 45 games as the Bruins' catcher. In 1980, Slaughter batted .292 with four home runs and 34 RBI.

CHASE UTLEY

All-Pac-10 Team in 1999, 2000

Starring as a middle infielder for UCLA from 1998-2000, Chase Utley batted over the .300 plateau with at least 15 home runs in each of his three seasons. He belted 16 home runs as a sophomore (1999) and 22 as a junior (2000). Utley batted .382 with 69 RBI and 81 runs in 2000, helping lead UCLA to an NCAA Super Regional at LSU. He finished his career having batted .342 with 53 home runs, 174 RBI and 182 runs in 179 games.

ERIC VALENT

All-Pac-10 Team in 1997, 1998

UCLA's all-time leader in career home runs (69) and RBI (219), Eric Valent had a sensational three-year career (1996-1998). He batted .339 with 27 home runs and 91 RBI as a sophomore (1997) and followed that season with a .336 average, 30 homers and 73 RBI as a junior (1998). Valent helped lead UCLA to postseason appearances in 1996 and 1997, including the Bruins' second-ever trip to the College World Series in 1997.

WES WHISLER

All-Pac-10 Team in 2002, 2003

One of UCLA's best two-way players during the 2000s, Wes Whisler batted .328 with 18 home runs and 46 RBI as a freshman (2002). That season, he went 5-2 with a 4.06 ERA in 84.1 innings. The following year, Whisler batted .310 with nine home runs and 39 RBI. On the mound, he totaled 53 strikeouts in 82.2 innings. Whisler and teammate Adam Berry tied for the Pac-10 lead in home runs (18) during the 2002 season.

JOEL WOLFE

All-Pac-10 Team in 1990, 1991

A career .348 hitter in three seasons (1989-1991), Joel Wolfe batted at least .320 each year with the Bruins. He batted .320 with two homers and 28 RBI as a freshman. Wolfe batted .376 with 10 home runs and 44 RBI as a sophomore. As a junior, he hit at a .345 clip with six home runs and 47 RBI.

PETE ZAMORA

All-Pac-10 Team in 1995, 1997

A standout for UCLA both on the mound and at the plate, Pete Zamora went 15-6 with a 4.66 ERA in 48 games (31 starts) while batting .310 with 28 home runs and 152 RBI in three seasons (1995-1997). He batted .379 with 16 home runs and 74 RBI as a junior in 1997, helping lead UCLA to the College World Series as a junior that year.

BRUIN TRADITION

Jackie Robinson spent the 1940 season playing baseball at UCLA. Robinson (far left, top row) played his first game on March 10, 1940. He finished his career at UCLA as the school's first four-sport letterwinner (baseball, football, basketball, track and field).

▼ Gary Adams

UCLA's all-time winningest head coach (below, center), Gary Adams led the Bruins to the 1997 College World Series. That season, UCLA overcame an early loss in NCAA Regional action by winning its next five games in dominating fashion. Adams played at UCLA from 1959-62.

▲ Paul Ellis

Shown here being congratulated by his teammates, Paul Ellis (#19) served as the Bruins' starting catcher in 1989 and 1990. He was a consensus first-team All-America selection and Division I ABCA Player of the Year honoree in 1990.

▶ Bob Andrews

Playing under head coach Art Reichle, Bob Andrews pitched for UCLA from 1948-50 when the Bruins were members of the CIBA.

▲ 2010 UCLA Baseball

The Bruins posted a program-best 51-17 record in 2010, closing the season with UCLA's first-ever trip to the finals of the College World Series in Omaha, Neb. Anchored by starting pitchers Gerrit Cole, Trevor Bauer and Rob Rasmussen, the Bruins took down Cal State Fullerton in the Super Regionals to advance to the College World Series.

▲ Jim Parque

Among the top pitchers in the nation in 1997, Parque posted a career 25-11 record with a 3.55 ERA in 334.2 innings (1995-97). He was an integral member of UCLA's 1997 College World Series team.

▶ Dan Guerrero

An infielder on UCLA's baseball team from 1971-73, Guerrero has served as UCLA's Athletic Director since 2002.

▼ Chris Chambliss

Chambliss led UCLA to its first-ever College World Series in 1969, posting a team-high .340 batting average with 15 home runs.

▶ 2000 UCLA Baseball

UCLA's 2000 team advanced to the NCAA Super Regional in Baton Rouge with the help of (left to right) Chase Utley, Chad Cislak and Bill Scott. The Bruins won the 2000 Oklahoma City Regional that spring.

◀ Garrett Atkins

Among the best hitters to ever play at UCLA, Garrett Atkins posted a school freshman season record .383 batting average in 1998. Two years later, Atkins teamed with Chase Utley to lead UCLA to the 2000 NCAA Super Regional at LSU. The Bruins swept three games at the NCAA Oklahoma City Regional.

▼ 2007 UCLA Baseball

Backed by three standout starting pitching efforts, the 2007 UCLA team swept the NCAA Long Beach Regional, earning its first Super Regional appearance since 2000.

▲ Todd Zeile

One of the premiere major leaguers of the 1990s, Zeile batted .331 with 26 homers and 94 RBI for UCLA from 1984-86. Zeile captured All-Pac-10 team honors in 1986, as UCLA advanced to NCAA Regional action at Jackie Robinson Stadium.

1944 – CIBA CHAMPIONS

16-12 overall, 5-3 CIBA (1st Place)

Led by head coach A.J. Sturzenegger, the 1944 Bruins claimed both the Southern California Interscholastic Baseball Association and the California Interscholastic Association titles. No UCLA team had finished with a first-place league standing since 1924. In the words of Sturzenegger, his 1944 squad was "one of the best fielding and hitting teams of Bruin history."

Team captain and shortstop Bob Brown led UCLA with the bat and anchored the infield before later becoming the president of Major League Baseball's American League. Pitcher Burt Avedon and catcher Dave Fainer provided the Bruins with a veteran battery combination, while pitcher Nick Russin, outfielders Lyle Palmer and Mike Knauff, and first baseman Jack Myers added some pop to a hard-hitting lineup. Rounding out the infield were third baseman Don Reaume and second baseman Ken Proctor. Warren Hayes was the third member of the outfield.

UCLA's pitching staff revolved around starters Frank Freericks and "Doc Mason," in addition to Avedon. The bullpen included Sid Gilmore, Baker Garrison, Jack Porter and John Derdivanis. The Bruins ended the season with a four-game win streak, including two over California and two against USC.

1969 – FIRST COLLEGE WORLD SERIES TRIP

42-12-1, 17-4 Pac-8 (1st Place)

Led by future major league star Chris Chambliss, the 1969 UCLA baseball team became the first Bruin squad to reach the College World Series. UCLA finished the season with a 42-12-1 record, losing two heartbreakers at the College World Series in extra innings. Chambliss, who played first base, batted .340 and set a then-school record with 15 home runs, including 10 in conference play. Shortstop Gary Sanserino batted .302 with 10 home runs, establishing a then-school record 19 stolen bases. UCLA's pitching staff was led by sophomore right-hander Rick Pope, who compiled an 8-0 record and a 1.60 ERA in a team-leading 95.1 innings. Senior right-hander Jim York pitched in a team-high 27 games, collecting 70 strikeouts and 24 walks in 60.2 innings.

UCLA's march to Omaha, Neb., in 1969 began with consecutive shutout victories as the Bruins won 16 of their first 17 games. After opening Pac-8 play with back-to-back losses, UCLA won 17 of its final 19 conference games to secure a 17-4 Pac-8 mark. UCLA entered a best-of-three NCAA Regional having won its previous 11 contests, all in Pac-8 play. The Bruins dispatched of Santa Clara in the NCAA Regional, winning by scores of 7-5 and 2-1. In the College World Series, UCLA fell to Tulsa, 6-5, in 10 innings. The Bruins were eliminated the following day, dropping a 2-1 decision in 12 innings to Arizona State.

THE 1970s – 330-248-2 (.571)

1970 – 26-24-1, 8-7 Pac-8 (3rd Place)

Despite winning just one of their first seven games, the 1970 UCLA ballclub posted a winning record and finished second in the Pac-8. Following the opening 1-6 skid, UCLA rebounded to win seven of its next eight games. Early non-conference wins against Cal Poly, San Diego State and Long Beach State boosted the Bruins' record as UCLA hovered around the .500 plateau most of the spring. Junior shortstop Ralph Punaro led the Bruins in Pac-8 play, posting a .356 average. Sophomore Earl Altshuler registered a .390 batting average in limited action (32-for-82 at the plate).

1971 – 38-17, 11-6 Pac-8 (3rd Place)

The 1971 season marked the fourth season in UCLA's last five in which the Bruins won 35 games or more. UCLA won 10 of its first 15 games that spring, posting a 13-0 shutout victory against Cal Poly Pomona in the season opener. Two days later, UCLA routed the College of Sequoias, 30-0. The Bruins opened Pac-8 play winning three of the first four contests, including a win at home against Stanford followed by two victories against California. UCLA continued rolling through their conference late in May, posting two-game series sweeps at Washington and Washington State.

1972 – 32-33-1, 4-14 Pac-8 (4th Place)

UCLA's 1972 ballclub featured a mid-season nine-game win streak quickly followed by a nine-game losing skid. After hovering near .500 through the first 14 games, the Bruins won 14 of their next 15 to boast a 20-8-1 ledger by March 23. UCLA hit an April swoon, dropping 19 of its next 23 games and sending its record to a pedestrian 24-26-1. Senior outfielder Earl Altshuler led the Bruins at the plate with a .379 batting average along with six home runs, 33 RBI and 45 runs. UCLA's pitching staff posted a 3.79 team ERA as Steve Smith (1.69 ERA, 63.2 IP), Gary Robson (2.84 ERA, 107.2 IP) and Bruce Baranick (3.05 ERA, 62.0 IP) led the club on the bump.

1973 – 29-24, 7-11 Pac-8 (3rd Place)

The Bruins opened 1973 with wins in 11 of their first 16 games, boasting a 26-13 mark midway through conference play. UCLA took two of three games from Stanford at Sawtelle Field and picked up a series victory at California later that month. The Bruins improved their resume, notching non-conference wins over Pepperdine, Cal State L.A., UC Santa Barbara and Cal Poly Pomona. However, the Bruins good fortune ran out in May, as UCLA dropped 11 of its final 14 contests. Bill Hobbs and Tim Doerr led the Bruins offensively – Hobbs batted .356 and Doerr hit at a .348 clip. Bob Adams led the club with 13 home runs, 48 RBI and 10 stolen bases.

1974 – 26-35, 7-11 Pac-8 (4th Place)

In the final year of his 30-year tenure at UCLA, head coach Arthur Reichle led the 1974 Bruins to a fourth-place Pac-8 finish. After opening the season 0-11, the Bruins rebounded to win 11 games in a 14-game window through February and March. Midway through April, UCLA crawled to within three games of the .500 mark (21-24) with series sweeps of Gonzaga and Stanford. In Pac-8 play, the Bruins rolled to series victories against California and Stanford. Second baseman Mike Edwards led UCLA with 14 home runs, 42 RBI and 12 stolen bases. Steve Bianchi posted a 9-4 record, totaling 52 strikeouts in a team-high 96.2 innings.

1975 – 31-22, 7-11 Pac-8 (3rd Place)

A new era of UCLA baseball began as former Bruin captain Gary Adams took over the reins in 1975. Adams, who inherited a squad that finished 26-35 in 1974, guided the 1975 Bruins to a 31-22 mark. UCLA began its season with a first start, winning 11 of the first 13 games and compiling a 28-14 record before hitting a late-season slump. A trio of UCLA outfielders – senior Steve Connors and juniors Venoy Garrison and Dave Penniall – led the Bruins at the plate. Garrison posted a team-high .344 batting average, collecting seven home runs and 37 RBI in 50 games. Connors had the second-highest average (.306) among UCLA's everyday players and contributed 12 doubles and 30 RBI in 44 games. Penniall, who transferred from Glendale Junior College that season, batted .301 with nine doubles, three home runs and 35 runs. Junior right-hander Ed Cowan anchored UCLA's rotation, totaling 109 strikeouts and a 9-3 record in a team-high 121.1 innings.

1976 – 35-25, 16-8 CIBA (1st Place)

The 1976 UCLA baseball team captured the program's first conference title since 1969, defeating cross-town rival USC on the final day of the season to secure the CIBA crown. In a game dubbed "The Miracle of Sawtelle Field", UCLA defeated the Trojans by scoring three runs in the bottom of the ninth inning. Unfortunately for the 1976 Bruins, the CIBA champion did not earn an automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament, and UCLA was not invited to play in Region 8 postseason play as an at-large selection (Northern Colorado earned an at-large berth). A school-record six Bruins earned All-CIBA Team honors after the season. Junior Robbie Henderson led all Bruin regulars with a .302 average, swatted nine home runs, and finished in a three-way tie for the team lead with 37 RBI. UCLA's starting rotation featured seniors Steve Bianchi (5-3, 3.86) and Ed Cowan (10-2, 3.50) and sophomore Tim O'Neill (7-4, 3.21). Speed on the basepaths emerged as a pivotal weapon for the Bruins that spring, as UCLA swiped a then-school record 125 bases (later broken in 1992).

1977 – 31-30, 10-8 Pac-8 (2nd Place)

After losing 12 lettermen from the 1976 team, UCLA surprised many by finishing with a respectable 31-30 mark. The Bruins recorded three-game series sweeps in Pac-8 play against California and Stanford before finishing their conference slate at 10-8. Catcher Dennis Delany and outfielder Dave Baker helped provide the most power in UCLA's lineup that spring. Delany registered 11 homers and 37 RBI, while sporting a team-best .339 average, and Baker belted 10 homers and compiled a team-leading 43 RBI. UCLA's pitching staff registered a combined 4.14 ERA, as junior right-handers Tim O'Neill and Floyd Chiffer led the way. O'Neill went 6-7 with a 4.00 ERA, posting team-highs of 62 strikeouts and 117.0 innings. Chiffer compiled a 5-2 mark, totaling 61 strikeouts in 86.2 innings.

1978 – 39-20, 9-9 Pac-8 (2nd Place)

The "Baby Bruins" showed signs of maturity, as UCLA finished with 39 wins, the fifth-highest win total in school history (second-highest at the time). The Bruins returned 16 letterwinners and finished second in the conference for the second straight season. UCLA narrowly missed earning a berth in the NCAA Tournament. In a one-game Pac-8 Conference playoff game at Stanford's Sunken Diamond, Washington State clubbed a three-run walkoff homer with two outs in the bottom of the ninth to end UCLA's season. The Bruins were able to force the one-game playoff by salvaging the final game of a three-game series against USC in the final contest of the regular season. After dropping the series opener, 1-0, and losing the second game, 7-6, UCLA responded by edging the Trojans, 9-8. Individual highlights that season included right-hander Floyd Chiffer's dominant senior campaign. Chiffer, who posted the lowest ERA in Pac-8 competition (1.60), finished the year with an 11-3 record and 84 strikeouts in a team-best 120.0 innings. Sophomore right-hander Tim Leary went 5-5 in 17 games (13 starts), recording a team-best 88 strikeouts and a 3.42 ERA in 94.2 innings. Offensively, UCLA stole 101 bases, the fifth-highest total in school history. Junior outfielder Mike Carpenter catalyzed UCLA at the plate with a team-leading .343 batting average and 36 stolen bases.

1979 – 43-18, 21-9 Pac-10 (1st Place)

With the addition of Arizona and Arizona State to the conference, the Pac-10 Southern Division (6-Pac) became the toughest league in college baseball. The frustrations of 1977 and 1978 were erased, as UCLA cruised through the conference and earned the automatic playoff berth as Pac-10 Champions. UCLA recorded its best record since 1969 and competed in the West Regional at Fresno State, finishing second to eventual NCAA Champion Cal State Fullerton. The Bruins won their first three games to earn a berth in the finals before losing a doubleheader to Cal State Fullerton. Highlights of the season included UCLA's first-ever three game sweep of USC and being ranked No. 1 in the nation by Collegiate Baseball.

The Bruins rewrote the school record book, led by Sporting News All-America selections Tim Leary and Jim Auten. Leary set then-school records with 145.2 innings, 12 wins, and eight conference wins (since tied). He was the second player picked in the 1979 MLB Draft, the highest pick in school history. Auten set a then-NCAA record with 29 home runs and established a then-school record with 78 RBI. Catcher Don Slaught, who was selected an Academic All-American along with Leary, broke the UCLA batting average record and won the Pac-10 batting title with a .428 overall mark. The Bruins set a school record with a .320 overall batting average (that record was broken in 1997). UCLA had eight players taken in the MLB draft, the highest total in the nation that season. Six of those eight later saw action in the big leagues.

1980 - 31-22-3, 15-15 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

Despite having to replace two All-Americans (Tim Leary, Jim Auten) from their 1979 team, the 1980 Bruins managed to compete for the Pac-10 title until the season's final weekend. Due to unfinished construction at Jackie Robinson Stadium, the Bruins practiced on the school's intramural field and played their "home" games at Pepperdine in 1980. UCLA compiled a winning record for the sixth straight season, finishing two games behind conference co-champions California and Arizona. The pitching staff posted a 3.55 ERA, as UCLA won eight of its final 10 games, including wins in the season's final three games against USC. Junior right-hander Eric Broersma hurled two complete games, going 10-2 with a team-low 2.24 ERA in 17 games (14 starts). Senior left-hander Herb Fauland tallied a team-best 10 saves, recording 40 strikeouts and a 2.91 ERA in 58.2 innings. Six Bruins were selected in the MLB Draft that year, including second-rounder Matt Young (Seattle).

1981 - 21-35, 7-23 Pac-10 (6th Place)

The good news was that UCLA opened up newly built Jackie Robinson Stadium in 1981, but the bad news was that the Bruins suffered through their first losing season since 1974. UCLA's 21-man traveling roster featured seven freshmen that season. Outfielder Vince Beringhele had a strong freshman campaign, finishing second on the team with a .337 average. He totaled three homers, 22 RBI and 39 runs and drew a team-high 45 walks. First baseman Greg Norman provided the power, registering team-highs with nine home runs, 47 RBI and 42 runs. Senior outfielder David Montanari led the Bruins with a .374 average, starting all but two contests. UCLA won 11 of its final 21 games, including a conference series victory at Stanford.

1982 - 38-27, 11-19 Pac-10 (4th Place)

In 1982, UCLA rebounded with its seventh winning season in eight years, finishing 11 games over the .500 plateau. UCLA jumped out to a 13-1 start, rising as high as No. 3 in national polls. The Bruins won 17 of their first 21 games before finishing the season with 21 wins in their final 44 contests. The team's early-season success was fueled by a 10-game win streak in February. Midway through the spring, UCLA dropped out of the polls before finishing fourth in the Pac-10. Outfielder Brian Graham earned All-Pac-10 Southern Division Team accolades, having logged team highs in batting average (.337), hits (85), stolen bases (22) and at-bats (251). Outfielder Vince Beringhele followed his successful freshman campaign with an equally strong sophomore season, batting .338 with three home runs, 13 doubles and 61 RBI. Senior left-hander Colin Ward led the starting pitchers with a 4.51 ERA in a team-high 121.2 innings.

1983 - 28-24-1, 12-18 Pac-10 (5th Place)

UCLA finished fifth in the Pac-10's Southern Division after having improved its conference win total by one game. The Bruins batted at a combined .320, tying the then-school record. Outfielder Shane Mack had a strong sophomore campaign, leading UCLA with a .419 batting average, the second highest single-season mark in program history at the time (currently, fourth). Mack, a future major league ballplayer, earned first-team All-America honors from Baseball America and the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), after leading the Bruins in home runs (11), RBI (60), hits (88), runs (54) and total bases (138). UCLA sustained a winning record throughout the season, reaching as high as nine wins over .500 twice (17-8-1). The Bruins won two of three Pac-10 games at Arizona State in March and captured four wins in five games against California. Sophomore right-hander Jeff Pries tossed two complete game shutouts, a feat that would not be duplicated by a UCLA pitcher until 2008 (Tim Murphy). Pries finished the season with a 7-6 record and 4.46 ERA in 19 games (18 starts).

1984 - 28-32, 8-22 Pac-10 (6th Place)

For the second straight spring, junior Shane Mack's phenomenal play highlighted UCLA's season. Mack captured first-team All-America honors for the second consecutive year before leading the USA Olympic Baseball Team to a silver-medal finish at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles. Mack finished UCLA's 1984 campaign with a team-leading 16 home runs and 36 RBI, hitting at a .352 clip. Despite the team's vaunted "Mack Attack," UCLA finished 28-32 with a sixth-place finish in the Pac-10's Southern Division, marking just the second losing season in head coach Gary Adams' 15 years at the helm. Right-hander Jeff Pries followed his strong sophomore season with a valiant effort as a junior, hurling three complete games (including one shutout) while logging a 5-5 record and 4.01 ERA in 15 games (14 starts).

1985 - 34-30-1, 13-17 Pac-10 (5th Place)

UCLA finished the season with a winning record, as the Bruins were bolstered by the strong play of sophomore catcher Todd Zeile, junior designated hitter John Joslyn and junior first baseman Gary Berman. Zeile assumed starting catching duties and finished the season with a .333 average in 54 games, totaling a team-high 12 home runs. Joslyn led UCLA with a .370 average in 57 games, and Berman batted .301 in a team-high 232 at-bats. Season highlights included winning four of six games from College World Series participant Arizona, capturing five of six games from USC, defeating Arizona State for the first time in 15 tries (winning a three-game series in Los Angeles), and knocking then-No. 1 Stanford out of the top spot by winning one and losing two close games at Sunken Diamond in Palo Alto, Calif. UCLA concluded its regular season with seven wins in its final 10 contests.

1986 - 39-23, 21-9 Pac-10 (1st Place)

The Pac-10 title returned to UCLA for the first time since 1979, as the Bruins captured the 1986 conference crown with a 21-9 Pac-10 mark. UCLA's 1984 freshman class that had been rated as the nation's No. 2 recruiting class by Collegiate Baseball (Torey Lovullo, Todd Zeile, Steve Hisey, Bill Wenrick, and Dana Hidenour) matured to help produce a conference champion. Jackie Robinson Stadium served as host for the NCAA West Regional, where the Bruins dropped their first two postseason games. Loyola Marymount emerged as the Regional Champion, defeating Hawaii to secure a berth in the College World Series.

After 35 games, UCLA owned a 7-4 Pac-10 record and a 22-13 overall mark. The Bruins won 11 of their final 13 regular-season games, including their last seven. Lovullo captured Pac-10 Co-Player of the Year honors with Sanchez after totaling 16 home runs and 65 RBI while posting a .317 batting average. Sanchez led all Pac-10 pitchers with a 16-3 overall record, including an 8-1 mark against Pac-10 foes. He struck out 142 batters in 139.1 innings, the top mark in the conference that spring. In Pac-10 play, Sanchez won his last seven decisions, throwing a complete game victory against each conference team. For the first time in seven seasons, UCLA led the Pac-10 in home runs (103). The Bruins' "Bomb Squad" (pictured below) featured five players who belted 10 or more home runs - Nos. 2 through 6 in the lineup consisted of Torey Lovullo (16), Billy Haselman (11), John Joslyn (18), Steve Hisey (14) and catcher Todd Zeile (13).

1987 - 40-25-1, 16-14 Pac-10 (2nd Place)

UCLA finished second in the Pac-10's Southern Division, going 40-25-1 with an appearance in the the NCAA West II Regional Final at Arizona State. The Bruins soared as high as 19 games over .500 at several points in the spring before playing five games in NCAA Regional play. UCLA advanced to the Regional Final against host Arizona State with a series-opening victory against Hawaii, 12-11. Following a 9-3 loss to the Sun Devils one day later, UCLA registered two wins in one day - versus Hawaii (16-7) and Pepperdine (21-5) - to force a winner-take-all contest against Arizona State. The Sun Devils ended the Bruins' season before over 8,000 fans with a 14-4 win on May 25.

Senior Torey Lovullo became the first player in conference history to repeat as Pac-10 Player of the Year. The Bruins' veteran second baseman also became the program's first-ever consensus All-America selection (ABCA, Baseball America, Sporting News). Lovullo broke the then-school career records in at-bats (856), hits (266), runs (211), home runs (51), RBI (188) and walks (180, still stands as UCLA record). That spring, UCLA led the Pac-10 in home runs, breaking the previous league record with 116 round-trippers. The Bruins also tied a then-NCAA record with 10 grand slams. By season's end, Billy Haselman (Texas) and Alex Sanchez (Toronto) were both selected in the first round of the MLB Draft.

1988 - 31-28, 12-18 Pac-10 (5th Place)

Limited pitching depth hindered UCLA from making its third straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 1988. The Bruins finished with a 5-30 team ERA and narrowly missed a third-consecutive postseason berth, as fourth-place USC advanced to NCAA Regional play with a 13-17 conference mark. UCLA won eight of its first 10 games, pushing its ledger to 28-20 late in the season. Senior left-hander Mike Magnante compiled a 14-4 overall record and 3.93 ERA in a team-high 137.1 innings, earning All-Pac-10 team honors and Academic All-America accolades. Junior first baseman Eric Karros used a terrific second half to establish a then-single-season record of 100 hits. The future major leaguer posted team-highs with a .415 average, 17 home runs and 54 RBI. Karros won the Pac-10 batting crown and earned All-Pac-10 honors before being selected in the sixth round of the 1988 MLB Draft by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

1989 - 27-32, 10-20 Pac-10 (5th Place)

UCLA dropped its first eight Pac-10 games and never recovered in the spring of 1989. In just the third losing season in the Adams' era, injuries and illnesses took a toll on the Bruins, as 14 of 27 players missed at least one week of action due to illness or injury. One of the most devastating losses was Charlie Fiacco, the team's home run and RBI leader. Fiacco missed the final 18 games with torn ligaments in his right knee. The pitching staff's 4.54 ERA marked the ballclub's lowest since 1980, when the Bruins compiled a 3.55 mark. UCLA's 113 steals were the most by a Bruin ballclub since 1976, when UCLA recorded 120 steals. Six Bruins finished the season with at least 10 stolen bases, as Robbie Katzaroff led the way on the basepaths for UCLA, swiping 33 bases.

Eric Karros, a three-year Bruin letterwinner (1986-88), set the Los Angeles Dodgers' career home run record with 270 round-trippers.

THE 1990s - 331-282-1 (.540)

1990 - 41-26, 14-16 Pac-10 (4th Place)

A season full of surprises, UCLA's 1990 campaign marked just the fourth 40-win season in program history at the time (two since). Ranked in just one preseason poll (No. 20 by The Sporting News), UCLA compiled 41 wins, its most in one season since 1979. The Bruins finished third in the six-team Midwest Regional at Wichita State, losing to eventual regional champion Georgia Southern, 5-4, on the final day of the tournament. A starting rotation that featured Dave Zancanaro, Tim Lindsay and Pete Janicki developed into one of the top Pac-10 staffs. Zancanaro led the club with 11 wins and eliminated defending NCAA Champion Wichita State on its home field in the Midwest Regional. Lindsay led the club in starts (20), complete games (7) and innings pitched (149.0). His innings total led the Pac-10 and set a new UCLA record that would be eclipsed two years later by Janicki. One of the team's hottest pitchers down the stretch, Janicki won his final eight decisions and earned Freshman All-America honors from Baseball America.

Paul Ellis, Chris Pritchett, and Joel Wolfe formed the "Awesome Threesome." Ellis, the 1990 Pac-10 Co-Player of the Year, enjoyed a dream season by leading the nation with 29 home runs and tying the school record set by Jim Auten in 1979. He set a school record with 83 RBI, only to have that record broken one year later by Ryan McGuire. Ellis became only the second player in league history to hit at least one home run in every Pac-10 ballpark (Mike Sodders of Arizona State had done so in 1981). After the season, Ellis became the second player in school history to earn consensus All-America honors (first-team All-America from Baseball America, The Sporting News and the American Baseball Coaches Association). The ABCA named Ellis the Division I College Baseball Player of the Year.

1991 - 29-30, 13-17 Pac-10 (4th Place)

The 1991 Bruins had terrific performances at the Olive Garden Classic (Kissimmee, Fla.) and at the Oscar Mayer Classic (Minneapolis, Minn.). UCLA won the tournament in Florida the second week of February and finished in a three-way tie at the Oscar Mayer Classic during the final weekend in March. For the first time in program history, the Bruins swept Stanford at Sunken Diamond. The Bruins did not accomplish the feat again until the Pac-10 series opener in 2007. Joel Wolfe helped key UCLA's offense, leading the team with a .345 batting average and 35 stolen bases, a single-season total that ranked second at the time. Chris Pritchett led UCLA with 18 home runs and 57 RBI before earning first-team All-Pac-10 accolades at the end of the season.

1992 - 37-26, 14-16 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

In a season filled with surprises, UCLA finished in a tie for third place in the Pac-10's Southern Division after having been selected to finish last (sixth) in the conference's preseason poll. Ranked in the top 25 through much of the season, UCLA closed the year with an NCAA Midwest Regional berth at Mississippi State. In Starkville, Miss., the Bruins came within one game of reaching the College World Series. After a dropping their first game to Oklahoma, the Bruins rebounded with wins over Clemson (6-5) and Yale (8-0). The Bruins defeated host Mississippi State, 3-2, to advance to the championship game, where they were shut down by Oklahoma, 10-0. UCLA's regular-season schedule featured 34 games came against teams which advanced to the postseason. Five of six Pac-10 Southern Division teams advanced to NCAA Regionals. UCLA's offense was led by freshman All-American Mike Mitchell (.351, 12 HR, 36 RBI) and All Pac-10 selection David Roberts (.331, 85 hits, 36 SB). Veterans Ryan McGuire (.316, 14 HR, 61 RBI) and Michael Moore (.338, 8 HR, 14 SB) impressed throughout the 1992 campaign. Pete Janicki led UCLA on the mound, earning Pac-10 Pitcher of the Year accolades with a 9-4 record, 3.53 ERA and 150 strikeouts. Gabe Sollecito made an impact as a sophomore (transfer), setting a school single-season record with 12 saves.

1993 - 37-23, 17-13 Pac-10 (2nd Place)

UCLA made its third postseason trip in four years, advancing to the NCAA Central I Regional at Texas A&M. After victories over Lamar and North Carolina, the Bruins were eliminated with losses to Texas A&M and North Carolina. Consensus All-America selection and Pac-10 Player of the Year Ryan McGuire recorded a .376 batting average, totaling 26 home runs, 91 RBI, 71 runs and 14 stolen bases. On the mound, McGuire posted a 3-0 record, two saves, 29 strikeouts and a team-best 1.73 ERA in 26.0 innings. Third baseman Adam Melhuse and second baseman David Ravitz both gained All-Pac-10 honors after having banner seasons. Melhuse batted .344 with 10 home runs and 50 RBI. Ravitz hit .324 with six home runs and a team-leading 19 doubles, establishing a school single-season record with 15 doubles in Pac-10 play. Outfielder David Roberts was one of four position players to play in all 60 games, batting .296 with 28 stolen bases in 36 attempts. Staff ace Tim Kubinski led UCLA with an 11-3 record, posting a 4.03 ERA and totaling 86 strikeouts and four complete games. Jon Van Zandt served as UCLA's second starter on the weekend, leading the Bruins with five complete games, going 7-7 with a 5.70 ERA in 17 games. Gabe Sollecito split time between the bullpen and the starting rotation, finishing the season with a 4-3 record, nine saves and a 3.94 ERA.

1994 - 22-36, 11-19 Pac-10 (5th Place)

The Bruins opened the 1994 season by losing seven of their first 11 games. UCLA inched closer to respectability, going 15-14 down the stretch, including six wins in their final eight games. Senior David Roberts became UCLA's career stolen bases leader (109), collecting a school single-season record with 45. Roberts led all Bruins that spring with a .353 batting average and secured All-Pac-10 Team honors for the third consecutive season. The future major league outfielder led the conference in stolen bases for a third straight year. Catcher Tim DeCinces earned Freshman All-America honors, batting .305 with six home runs, a team-best 48 RBI and 15 doubles. Junior first baseman Mike Mitchell hit at a .339 clip with a team-leading 12 home runs, 19 doubles and 46 RBI. Brian Stephenson headed the weekend rotation, going 5-5 with a 4.97 ERA in 105.0 innings.

1995 - 29-28, 12-18 Pac-10 (5th Place)

UCLA's 1995 ballclub managed just six wins in its final 17 games, eliminating the team from postseason contention. A sweep over UNLV in the season's final weekend helped push UCLA's mark above .500. Sophomore catcher Tim DeCinces led UCLA with a .315 average, 13 home runs and 51 RBI. He secured All-Pac-10 Team honors and earned second-team Smith Super Team accolades. Freshman right fielder Eric Byrnes, an All-Pac-10 Team selection and freshman All-America honoree (Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball) batted .324 with nine home runs and 18 stolen bases. Freshman first baseman and pitcher Peter Zamora was named an All-Pac-10 Team selection, hitting .295 with six home runs and 48 RBI. The top freshman two-way player belted game-winning home runs on consecutive days against Arizona (April 14, 15). Additionally, he logged a 2.76 ERA on the mound, going 3-3 with five saves. Junior third baseman Zak Ammirato finished the season riding a 19-game hitting streak. The pitching staff was led by freshman left-hander Jim Parque, who struck out 84 batters in 90 innings, placing him second in the Pac-10 in strikeouts per nine innings.

1996 - 36-28, 16-14 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

UCLA advanced farther than any West Coast ballclub in 1996, falling one game short of a trip to the College World Series. The Bruins opened the year with a preseason No. 10 ranking before rising to as high as No. 4 after a 14-6 start. UCLA opened Pac-10 play with consecutive home series wins over Stanford and California and had won four of five conference series by the end March. The Bruins opened their April slate with a sweep at California, dropped two of three games at home to Arizona and salvaged two games in a three-game set against Arizona State. A win at Nevada on the final day of the regular season snapped a five-game losing streak, and the Bruins opened the NCAA Central I Regional at the University of Texas as a No. 4 seed.

At Texas, UCLA upset the host Longhorns in both teams' regional opener with southpaw Jim Parque on the hill. The Bruins received key at-bats from third baseman Zak Ammirato and junior catcher Tim DeCinces. After dropping game two to Southwest Missouri State, UCLA rallied twice the next day with wins over Sam Houston State (10-8) and Southwest Missouri State (9-4, 10 inn.). In the latter contest, the Bruins rallied with two runs in the eighth inning on an Ammirato homer, handing UCLA a 4-3 advantage, before Southwest Missouri State tied the contest in the ninth and loaded the bases with two outs. Junior Kevin Sheredy escaped the ninth-inning jam, and in extra innings junior outfielder Jon Heinrichs tripled home one run before DeCinces belted a grand slam. Miami upended the Bruins the following night in the Regional Final, 8-4. DeCinces caught fire in his final month as a Bruin, batting .500 (30-for-60) with nine home runs. Infielder Troy Glaus capped a memorable sophomore season with a .352 average, 16 home runs and 50 RBI before heading to the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta. Parque finished the season 9-3 with a 3.72 ERA and 116 strikeouts.

1997 - 45-21-1, 19-11 Pac-10 (2nd Place) - CWS APPEARANCE

The players from UCLA's highly-regarded 1995 recruiting class all had experience under their belts, as the Bruins opened their 1997 campaign ranked No. 2 in Collegiate Baseball's preseason poll. By season's end, UCLA had advanced to the College World Series for the second time in school history (first time since 1969) and set single-season program records with 45 wins (since broken), 142 home runs and 631 runs. The Bruins overcame an early upset to Harvard in the Midwest Regional by sweeping their final five games to advance to Omaha, Neb.

UCLA's march to Omaha began with a bang - the Bruins won 20 of their first 23 games, amassing a 20-2-1 record entering the month of March. With a powerful batting lineup bolstered by juniors Troy Glaus, Eric Byrnes, Peter Zamora and Nick Theodorou and sophomore Eric Valent, UCLA slugged its way to a 19-11 Pac-10 mark, good enough for a second-place finish. After opening conference play by winning two of three games against Arizona State, UCLA swept the Hormel Foods Classic at the Metrodome (Minneapolis, Minn.), posting double-digit run total in each of three games.

UCLA entered as the top-seeded team in the NCAA Midwest Regional, boasting a 40-18-1 regular-season record. After dropping their first game to Harvard, 7-2, the Bruins responded in grand fashion. UCLA won five "must-win" games with several lopsided final scores. After crushing Ohio, 15-1, the Bruins edged Tennessee, 5-3. In a rematch against Harvard, UCLA won 14-9 before making a statement against host Oklahoma State on May 25. Playing at OSU's Reynolds Stadium the Bruins punched their ticket to Omaha with a 14-2 victory in the afternoon before winning, 22-2, that evening. Valent earned NCAA Regional MVP honors after having blasted six home runs in six games. Theodorou compiled one of the most electric performances in NCAA Tournament history, going 16-for-24 with eight runs, five RBI and five walks in six games (.714 on-base percentage).

UCLA came up short in Omaha, dropping its two contests in the College World Series. In the team's opener, the Bruins overcame a late 3-1 deficit, tying the contest with two runs in the bottom of the ninth to force extra innings. Playing as the visiting team, Miami broke the tie with a four-run 12th inning to advance in the winner's bracket. Two days later, UCLA lost an elimination game to Mississippi State, 7-5. Byrnes and Theodorou each had two hits in both College World Series games.

Five Bruins earned All-America honors and seven players captured All-Pac-10 Team accolades. Glaus was named Pac-10 Player of the Year, compiling a team-best .409 average with a conference-leading 34 home runs. Glaus also established the Pac-10 single-season total bases record (227). Senior Jon Heinrichs

Troy Glaus, a three-year Bruin letterwinner (1995-97), belted a single-season school record 34 home runs as a junior in 1997, leading UCLA to the College World Series.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

was the top leadoff hitter in the nation, totaling 28 homers and 79 RBI. On the mound, Parque (13-2, 3.08 ERA) and sophomore Tom Jacquez (10-4, 3.06 ERA) provided one of the nation's most powerful 1-2 punches. The left-handed Zamora performed best down the stretch, finishing with a 6-2 overall mark. Junior Jake Meyer tallied eight saves, and freshman Rob Henkel recorded 49 strikeouts in 41.2 innings as UCLA's primary setup reliever. UCLA earned its first No. 1 ranking by Collegiate Baseball since 1979 and captured its first-ever No. 1 ranking by Baseball America after winning all three contests at the Hormel Foods Classic on March 2.

1998 – 24-33, 11-19 Pac-10 (5th Place)

The 1998 Bruins welcomed the top-ranked incoming class, as rated by Collegiate Baseball. Freshman pitchers accounted for 67 percent (328.2 IP) of the team's total innings, as the Bruins' weekend rotation (Ryan Carter, Chad Cislak and Paul Diaz) and the team's closer (Bobby Roe) consisted exclusively of freshmen. While the Bruins welcomed back seniors Eric Byrnes and Nick Theodorou, both key contributors to UCLA's run to the 1997 College World Series, the team managed to win just 11 of its first 33 games. Among the season's highlights included junior Eric Valent capturing Pac-10 Player of the Year honors. Valent also secured first-team All-America acclaim from four publications, totaling a team-leading 30 home runs and batting .336. Freshmen Garrett Atkins and Chase Utley each had sensation rookie campaigns in Westwood. Atkins set a school record with a 33-game hitting streak, and his .383 batting average was the highest-ever by a freshman at UCLA. Utley set the school's freshman season record with 15 home runs, and left-hander Bobby Roe set a UCLA freshman season record with seven saves.

1999 – 31-31, 13-11 Pac-10 (Tie – 3rd Place)

The Bruins' 1999 campaign began with several milestones, as head coach Gary Adams recorded his 800th career victory on Feb. 6 and his 1,000th career win on March 13. Other highlights included sophomore right-hander Jon Brandt striking out 17 batters in a loss to McNeese State (Feb. 12) and sophomore left fielder Bill Scott setting school records with four homers, 11 RBI and 17 total bases at Washington (March 30). UCLA's tide turned after the team suffered its eight straight loss at California (April 2). The next day, the Bruins won 13-10, scoring nine runs in the top of the ninth. Consecutive wins at No. 10 Arkansas (April 6, 7) and sweeps of Arizona State (April 16-18), for the first time since 1986, and Washington State (April 23-25), helped propel UCLA within striking distance of an NCAA Tournament berth.

UCLA finished the regular season tied for third place in the Pac-10, earning a berth in the NCAA Wichita Regional (first year of Super Regional format). Freshman right-hander Josh Karp pitched brilliantly in his playoff debut, and Scott homered for the seventh consecutive game (school record and tie for Pac-10 record) as UCLA beat Oklahoma State, 12-6. The next day, injured ace Jon Brandt went the distance in a 4-2 loss to host Wichita State. Forced to rematch Oklahoma State later that day, the Bruins fell to the eventual regional champs, 17-10, despite Scott's two home runs. Scott finished the season leading UCLA with a .380 batting average, 28 home runs, 86 RBI and a staggering .806 slugging percentage. Karp went 8-3 on the season with a 4.26 ERA, collecting 109 strikeouts in 107.1 innings.

2000 – 38-26, 17-7 Pac-10 (Three-way tie – 1st Place)

In the spring of 2000, UCLA captured its first Pac-10 title since 1986 and advanced to the NCAA Super Regionals in the second year of college baseball's new postseason format. Led by All-America selections Garrett Atkins, Bill Scott, Chase Utley and Forrest Johnson, the Bruins began their 2000 campaign in grand style, as first baseman Eric Reece became the first UCLA ballplayer to hit for the cycle on Opening Day. UCLA won six of its first seven games and was ranked as high as No. 2 in the national polls.

After a slump that saw UCLA lose nine of 10 contests, the Bruins fought back to win 20 of their next 25 games. In that 25-game span, left-hander Rob Henkel set a UCLA record by striking out 16 batters in consecutive appearances (against Bradley and Harvard) to earn National Player of the Week honors. Henkel fanned a school-record 18 batters in the team's Pac-10 opener against Washington, capturing National Player of the Week honors again. The Huskies snapped UCLA's eight-game win streak, but the Bruins continued to cruise with wins in nine of their next 11 games.

UCLA continued its Pac-10 slate with a three-game series victory against USC, salvaging the second and third contests at home. In game two, UCLA routed the Trojans, 15-5, on national television (April 8). Karp pitched a three-hitter, notching a career-high 12 strikeouts. Against Arizona State (April 22), he limited the heavy-hitting Sun Devils to two hits through 7.1 innings. Utley hit two home runs to lead the Bruins, 13-3, in their only win over Arizona State. Scott drove in a team-high eight RBI against Washington State (April 30), going 4-for-6 with two homers and one triple in a 14-1 rout. UCLA belted six round-trippers against California (May 6).

After sweeping Arizona (May 13-15), UCLA secured a share of the Pac-10 title on May 19, defeating Stanford, 10-9 before a record crowd at Sunken Diamond. The Bruins scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh, tying the game (9-9) on home runs by Utley and Jim Hemming. Scott scored the game-winning run on a bases loaded wild pitch in the ninth. UCLA registered a 17-7 Pac-10 record and a share of the conference title with Stanford and Arizona State.

In postseason play, UCLA swept the Oklahoma City Regional, defeating Delaware, 13-12, in the opening game, before routing Oklahoma on back-to-back days. LSU awaited the Bruins at the NCAA Super Regionals in Baton Rouge, La., and the Tigers silenced UCLA's offense. In game one, LSU blanked the Bruins, 10-0. In the elimination game, the Bruins rallied from a 10-0 deficit, clawing to within four runs (12-8). LSU advanced to Omaha with an eventual 14-8 victory. Scott and Utley both secured first-team All-America honors, and five Bruins were named to the All-Pac-10 Team.

2001 – 30-27, 9-15 Pac-10 (7th Place)

UCLA shook off an 0-2 start in 2001 to reel off eight consecutive wins, highlighted by a 4-3 victory over No. 1 USC (Feb. 16). Before a regional television audience, junior Adam Berry smashed a game-winning, three-run home run to left with UCLA down to its final strike. The Bruins rolled through their non-conference schedule, then knocked off top-ranked Stanford at Sunken Diamond in the first game of a Pac-10 series to improve to 21-9 overall. A series win at home against Washington (April 12-14) brought UCLA back to .500 in Pac-10 play and pushed the team's overall record to 25-12. The season's turning point came in the opening game of a road trip at No. 1 Cal State Fullerton (April 18). UCLA let an eight-run lead slip away, before Cal State Fullerton claimed an 11-10 win in 14 innings. The Bruins went 0-8 on the road trip, having been swept by Kansas State and USC. UCLA broke its mid-season skid by winning the rematch with Cal State Fullerton (May 9), by a 9-3 margin for the team's third victory over a No. 1-ranked team that year. Senior Brian Baron registered a school-record .443 batting average and collected 105 hits, earning first-team All-America honors from Baseball Weekly, Collegiate Baseball and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers' Association. Junior Josh Karp led the pitching staff in victories (5), innings (80.0) and strikeouts (92), before being selected sixth overall in the first round of the 2001 MLB Draft. Sophomore Kevin Jerkens topped the Pac-10 with 31 relief appearances.

2002 – 26-35, 9-15 Pac-10 (Tie – 7th Place)

UCLA opened its 2002 season with a loss to UC Irvine's reinstated baseball program before winning two of three contests each against Gonzaga and Florida Atlantic. The series with Florida Atlantic began a five-game winning streak, including a three-game sweep at Hawaii-Hilo. UCLA won six of nine games through the first two weeks of March, including two wins at 2001 College World Series participant Tulane. Having hovered near the .500 plateau through the first 25 games, the Bruins entered a six-game skid, from which they never recovered. UCLA pulled its record to 25-29 with two weeks to go in the season before closing the year 26-35. Outfielder Adam Berry and first baseman Wes Whisler led the Pac-10 with 18 home runs. In fact, Whisler set the school record for home runs in a season by a freshman. Berry was named a semifinalist for the Dick Howser Award, an honor awarded to the nation's top collegiate baseball player. A standout at the plate and on the mound in 2002, Whisler earned Pac-10 Freshman of the Year accolades and was named to Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball's All-Freshman teams. Ben Francisco (.368, 6 HR, 37 RBI) and Rashad Parker (.286, 4 HR, 14 RBI) were both selected in the 2002 MLB Draft.

2003 – 28-31, 11-13 Pac-10 (Tie – 5th Place)

Similar to 2002, the Bruins had trouble putting together wins on a consistent basis, reaching a three-game win streak just once during the year. After opening the year with a 17-16 mark through its first 34 games, UCLA never again kept its record over the .500 plateau. At the Dominos Pizza Aggie Baseball Classic, UCLA posted a 3-3 record, finishing second to host Texas A&M. Playing at the Kia Baseball Bash at Cal State Fullerton one week later, UCLA defeated defending national champion Texas, 13-2, before routing Tulane, 12-2, the following day. A seven-game losing streak dropped UCLA out of reach of the Pac-10 title during the first two weeks in April. The Bruins ended their skid at No. 4 Arizona State, rattling off consecutive extra-inning wins in Tempe, Ariz., to hand the Sun Devils a Pac-10 series loss on their turf. UCLA concluded the season on a high note, as Brandon Averill hit for the cycle in the final game of the season at Washington State (May 25). Sophomore two-way player Wes Whisler earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors for the second consecutive season and was named a third-team CollegeBaseballInsider.com All-America selection. Brett McMillan was honored as a Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball.

2004 – 35-29, 14-10 Pac-10 (Tied – 3rd Place)

UCLA earned a trip to the NCAA Tournament in 2004, the final year of head coach Gary Adams' 30-year tenure as the Bruins' skipper. The road to the postseason began with a 4-1 season-opening victory against UC Riverside, before the Bruins took the first two of three games against Fresno State. Senior Brandon Averill collected Pac-10 Player of the Week honors after the Fresno State series, as he totaled six RBI in the second game. The Bruins motored to an 11-3 record before opening a stretch of six straight games against ranked opponents on March 5. A series-opening win against No. 14 Texas A&M handed UCLA its seventh consecutive win before the Bruins dropped two games to the Aggies and one game each to UC Irvine and Long Beach State.

In the Pac-10 season-opening series against Stanford (April 2-4), the Cardinal overpowered UCLA in the first two games, before the Bruins answered with a walk-off home run from Preston Griffin in the series finale to win, 6-5. UCLA continued rolling, notching non-conference victories against Pepperdine and Long Beach State and a series win at Arizona. After outscoring Washington State, 26-11, in a three-game home series and winning two of three on the road at Washington, UCLA concluded its conference slate with two road wins at Oregon State. Junior Wes Whisler earned Pac-10 Pitcher of the Week accolades after his complete game shutout against Washington State (May 16). UCLA won its final two of three games against Oregon State to close the regular season. The team's late-season surge pushed UCLA into the NCAA Regionals at Oklahoma City as the No. 3 seed. The Bruins won their first game of the NCAA Regional, 9-1, backed by Casey Janssen's eight shutout innings (two hits, seven strikeouts) against Oklahoma on June 4. After a heartbreaking 4-3 loss to Florida, the Bruins pounded Oklahoma, 17-7, in a critical rematch on June 5. The following day, Florida routed UCLA, 11-0, to advance to the NCAA Super Regionals.

Chase Utley, a three-year Bruin letterwinner (1998-2000), totaled 53 home runs and 174 RBI at UCLA.

Gary Adams served as UCLA's head coach from 1975-2004, totaling 984 victories and 169 MLB draft selections in his 30 years.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

2005 – 15-41, 4-20 Pac-10 (8th Place)

The 2005 season marked the start of a new era for UCLA baseball, as John Savage took over as the Bruins' head coach after spending the previous three seasons as head coach at UC Irvine. Savage took over for 30-year head coach Gary Adams in July 2004 and helped put the wheels in motion for the future of UCLA baseball, inking the nation's fifth-best recruiting class (Nov. 2004), as ranked by Baseball America. The Bruins struggled in 2005, opening the season with a 7-4 record before losing 19 consecutive games. UCLA managed just eight wins the rest of the year. Junior Brett McMillan earned team MVP honors, batting .257 with seven home runs and 33 RBI in all 56 games. Sophomore Hector Ambriz had a strong season, returning from an injury that had severely limited his opportunities in 2004. At the plate, Ambriz batted .338 with 14 doubles, 19 runs and 18 RBI in 51 games. On the hill, the right-hander led UCLA with a 3.94 ERA in 18 games (team-high 16 starts), striking out 84 batters in 105.0 innings. Sophomore Brian Schroeder led the Bruins' pitching staff with 31 appearances, totaling 48 strikeouts in 71.2 innings.

2006 – 33-25, 13-10 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

Led by juniors David Huff and Hector Ambriz on the mound and aided by an influx of standout freshmen, UCLA made its second NCAA Regional appearance in three seasons. In his second year as the Bruins' head coach, John Savage engineered a strong turnaround as UCLA posted a 27-12 record in their final 39 regular-season contests. For the first time since 1987, UCLA won each of its home series against Pac-10 opponents (Washington State, Arizona State, USC and Stanford). In addition, the Bruins tied a program record as 12 players were selected in the MLB Draft.

After opening the year 6-9, UCLA sparked its season with a road sweep at N.C. State (March 3-5), outscoring the Wolfpack by a 22-6 margin in three games. UCLA posted one of its most dramatic victories of the season with an 11-10, extra-inning home victory against Arizona State (April 23). Trailing 8-7 in the bottom of the ninth, the Bruins tied the contest, 8-8, to force extra innings. Facing a two-run deficit in the bottom of the 10th, freshman Cody Decker slugged a two-run double and freshman Ryan Babineau clubbed the game-winning single. After dropping the series opener to USC, 8-3, at Jackie Robinson Stadium (May 12), UCLA rebounded to win the next two games and capture the season series. The following weekend, UCLA won the rubber game of a three-game home set against Stanford in exhilarating fashion. Having won Friday and lost Saturday, UCLA secured a series victory Sunday in the team's final home game when junior Tim Stewart belted a ninth-inning, two-out walk-off solo home run to snap a 7-7 tie. Stewart's blast helped improve UCLA's conference record to 12-9.

On the final weekend of the season, UCLA split two games at eventual national champion Oregon State (one game was canceled due to rain). The Bruins entered the NCAA Malibu Regional as the No. 2 seed, marking a strong transformation after having been picked to finish eighth in the Pac-10 in the preseason coaches' poll. Playing at Pepperdine in the NCAA Regional, UCLA edged UC Irvine, 3-2, in both team's regional-opening contest. UCLA lost to No. 1-seed Pepperdine, 6-0, and No. 4-seed Missouri, 2-1, on back-to-back afternoons. In the elimination loss to Missouri on June 4, Brummett struck out six batters in 6.2 innings, surrendering just two runs and five hits.

Selected 39th overall (supplemental first round) by the Cleveland Indians in the 2006 MLB Draft, Huff finished the season with a 7-4 record and 2.98 ERA, totaling 100 strikeouts in 129.2 innings (16 starts). Ambriz, a fifth-round draft pick by the Arizona Diamondbacks, registered a 3.65 ERA and an 8-7 record in 113.1 innings (20 appearances, 16 starts). Two-way player Josh Roenicke, who emerged as the team's closer midway through the spring, was drafted in the 10th round by the Cincinnati Reds. UCLA's freshman nucleus of Ryan Babineau, Jermaine Curtis, Brandon Crawford, Cody Decker, Blair Dunlap, Tim Murphy and Jason Novak proved to be major assets to the program not only in their first year, but throughout their respective Bruin careers.

2007 – 33-28, 14-10 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

UCLA's 2007 ballclub reached the NCAA Super Regionals for the first time since 2000 after having opened Pac-10 play with its best conference start since 1924. Playing against the nation's third-most challenging schedule, as rated by Boyd's World, the Bruins won just eight of their first 22 games. However, a school record-setting 14-run eighth inning against Pacific (March 25) not only helped the Bruins overcome an 8-0 deficit, but also helped UCLA jump-start its season. The Bruins trailed 8-0 and cut the Tigers' lead to 8-1 in the seventh inning before sophomore Cody Decker belted a grand slam with nobody out in the bottom of the eighth, trimming the deficit to 8-5. UCLA scored 10 more runs in the frame to secure a 15-8 win, initiating one of the most successful stretches in program history.

Third baseman Jermaine Curtis (2006-08) helped lead UCLA to three straight postseasons for the first time in school history.

Jermaine Curtis returned to the Bruins' lineup at third base the following weekend at Stanford, helping spark UCLA to an 8-1 victory in both teams' first Pac-10 game of the spring. Including that win, UCLA won 17 of its first 21 games with Curtis patrolling the hot corner. The Bruins opened Pac-10 play with their first series sweep of Stanford at Sunken Diamond since 1991 – snapping a streak of 71 consecutive three-game series in which Stanford had not been swept at home (since 1997, versus Arizona State). After a home series win against Washington, UCLA recorded its first-ever three-game series sweep at USC (April 13-15). The Bruins rolled to an 8-1 Pac-10 mark by mid-April, the program's best conference start since finishing the 1924 season with a 10-0 Pacific Coast Conference record.

With a pitching rotation featuring senior Tyson Brummett (10-6, 4.04), sophomore Tim Murphy (5-4, 5.68) and freshman Gavin Brooks (6-7, 4.47), the Bruins continued picking up Pac-10 series victories, capturing two of three against No. 14 Arizona and California. UCLA headed to No. 10 Arizona State (May 11-13) with a one-game conference lead. The Bruins were swept in the desert, losing three closely-contested games to fall into second place – the Sun Devils outscored UCLA by two runs on Friday and one on Saturday and Sunday.

The Bruins salvaged their series at Washington State and their home set against eventual back-to-back national champion Oregon State by winning each of the series finales. UCLA entered the Long Beach Regional as the No. 2 seed, riding its starting pitchers to an NCAA Regional sweep. Brummett limited Pepperdine to three runs in 8.2 innings in the regional opener, before Murphy and Brooks each tossed complete game victories against Illinois-Chicago and Long Beach State, respectively.

Playing in the NCAA Super Regionals for the first time since 2000, UCLA dropped both games at Cal State Fullerton. The Bruins lost the first game, 12-2, but stepped up behind a herculean performance from Brooks in the elimination game the next night. The left-handed freshman totaled a career-high 12 strikeouts against the Titans, surrendering two runs and seven hits in eight innings. Brooks ended the year having thrown three consecutive complete games (vs. Oregon State, vs. Illinois-Chicago and at Cal State Fullerton). UCLA was led at the plate in 2007 by junior Alden Carrithers (.352, .455 OBP), freshman Gabe Cohen (.345, 10 HR, 36), junior Brandon Crawford (.335, 7 HR, 55 RBI), Curtis (.329, 4 HR, 33 RBI) and sophomore Cody Decker (.307, 14 HR, 57 RBI).

Cody Decker (2006-09) finished his four-year career at UCLA with 47 home runs, 153 RBI and a .288 batting average in 191 games.

2008 – 33-27 Overall, 13-11 Pac-10 (3rd Place)

UCLA earned its third consecutive postseason berth in 2008, becoming the first baseball team in school history to advance to three straight postseasons. The Bruins overcame a slow Pac-10 start to secure the No. 2 seed at the NCAA Fullerton Regional. Senior Alden Carrithers emerged as one of the Pac-10's best hitters, leading the Bruins with a .377 batting average and .484 on-base percentage. Junior Tim Murphy capped a strong three-year career as a left-handed pitcher and outfielder, leading UCLA's pitching staff with a 3.34 ERA and 111 strikeouts in 102.1 innings.

The Bruins began the season ranked No. 1 and No. 3 in preseason polls by Baseball America and Rivals.com, respectively. Among the season's most exciting weekends came during the first series of Pac-10 play, a three-game set at Arizona (March 27-29). The Bruins snapped a four-game skid with a 4-3 win in 10 innings in the series opener. The following night, sophomore Casey Haerther ignited his season and helped UCLA rout Arizona, 20-8, with a 7-for-7 effort. Haerther's seven hits established new Pac-10 and UCLA single-game records, as he finished the game with four doubles, three singles, four RBI and four runs. After consecutive series losses to USC and Stanford, the Bruins won the final two of three games at Washington (April 25-27) to even its Pac-10 mark at 6-6. UCLA's conference record slipped to 8-10, its overall record to 25-23, after winning one game against Arizona State at home and one at Oregon State (May 9-11), leaving many pundits to question whether the Bruins' postseason chances had all but evaporated.

But UCLA responded by winning a non-conference game at UC Irvine before sweeping Washington State (May 16-18) in three games at Jackie Robinson Stadium, putting the Bruins at 29-23 with four games to play. After dropping a midweek contest at Cal State Fullerton, UCLA entered the season's final weekend at California needing to win at least two games to secure a postseason berth. Murphy hurled a complete game on Friday afternoon, striking out 10 batters in an 8-0 victory. The following day, sophomore Charles Brewer and freshman Rob Rasmussen combined to shut out California, 7-0. UCLA lost the series opener, 7-6, in heartbreaking fashion in 10 innings.

Yet the series victory at California helped seal UCLA's postseason berth, as the Bruins earned a No. 2 seed at the NCAA Fullerton Regional. Murphy pitched well in the Bruins' opening regional contest, allowing two runs in 7.2 innings, as the Bruins earned a 3-2 victory in walk-off fashion in the bottom of the ninth inning over No. 3-seed Virginia. Brewer stepped up the next night, earning his team-leading ninth win as UCLA downed No. 1-seed Cal State Fullerton, 11-4. The host Titans responded with an 11-8 victory Sunday, forcing a winner-take-all contest Monday evening. In a closely-contested game, Cal State Fullerton edged the Bruins, 5-4, as UCLA stranded Murphy aboard third base in the ninth inning. Five players were selected in June's Major League Draft, highlighted by three draft selections in the first five rounds – Murphy (third round, Texas), junior Brandon Crawford (fourth round, San Francisco) and junior Jermaine Curtis (fifth round, St. Louis).

2009 – 27-29, 15-12 Pac-10 (Tie – 3rd Place)

UCLA finished third in the Pac-10 for the fourth straight year, but could not win enough games late in the spring to overcome a 10-game losing streak in early March. The 2009 team featured the emergence of freshman right-handers Trevor Bauer and Gerrit Cole and the resurgence of power-hitting first baseman Cody Decker. Bauer went 9-3 with a 2.99 ERA before earning National Freshman Pitcher of the Year honors from Collegiate Baseball. On a team fueled largely by its pitching, Decker provided a major spark in UCLA's lineup. He led the Pac-10 with 21 home runs, finishing his senior season as UCLA's leader in RBI (53), runs (55), slugging percentage (.683), walks (36) and total bases (136). By season's end, Decker pushed himself into a tie for seventh place on UCLA's career home runs list with 47 round-trippers.

After winning the first two games of the season, the Bruins fell into a 10-game losing streak that spanned two weeks. UCLA spent three consecutive weekends playing away from the West Coast – at the Houston College Classic, at Oklahoma and at East Carolina – before opening Pac-10 play with three games at USC. UCLA snapped its losing streak with a midweek victory against UC Santa Barbara (March 10) before earning a series victory the following weekend at East Carolina. The Bruins opened Pac-10 play at USC the following weekend, securing a series victory with wins on Saturday (14-4) and Monday (17-2). UCLA's 17-2 victory in the series' rubber game marked the Bruins' largest margin of victory in series history against the Trojans.

The Bruins continued to try and climb back to the .500 mark throughout March and April, doing so against the nation's No. 1-ranked schedule, as rated by Boyd's World. Not until the series finale at Oregon did UCLA reach that goal. An 8-1 win against the Ducks on May 3 evened UCLA's record to 22-22. With 12 games remaining on their schedule, including seven against top-5 competition, the stakes were high and the margin for error was slim. Consecutive series losses to California and Cal State Fullerton damaged the Bruins' postseason chances before UCLA's final week of the season. Bauer, Cole and Decker each earned All-Pac-10 team honors in 2009. Decker became UCLA's first two-time All-Pac-10 selection since Wes Whisler (2002, 2003). Bauer and Cole were just two of three freshmen to be named All-Pac-10 selections.

UCLA BASEBALL HISTORY

Cole finished his freshman campaign 4-8 with a 3.49 ERA, pitching in the Bruins' starting rotation since the season's opening weekend. Midway through the season, he emerged as UCLA's Friday night pitcher, suffering a string of hard-luck losses due to a lack of run support. Junior Charles Brewer served as the Bruins' third weekend starter, going 3-5 with a 4.52 ERA. Junior Gavin Brooks moved to the bullpen in his third season after having pitched in the rotation his first two years, going 0-4 with eight saves in a team-high 27 appearances.

Two weeks after the regular season, eight Bruins were selected in the MLB Draft. Junior infielder Casey Haerther led the crop as a fifth-round selection by the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim. Brooks went in the ninth round to the New York Yankees and Brewer was selected in the 12th round by the Arizona Diamondbacks. Rounding out the list included pitchers Brendan Lafferty, Garrett Claypool and Jason Novak, Decker and junior outfielder Gabe Cohen.

THE 2010s - 86-41 (.677)

2010 - 51-17, 18-9 Pac-10 (2nd Place)

UCLA had its most successful baseball season in school history in 2010, advancing to the finals of the College World Series for the first time ever. The Bruins totaled a school record 51 wins, established a program record with 43 regular-season wins and secured their third-ever trip to the College World Series (first trip since 1997). UCLA hosted postseason play for the first time since 1986 and an NCAA Super Regional for the first time since the NCAA adopted the current postseason format in 1999.

The Bruins opened the season in sizzling fashion, winning their first 22 games. In that span, UCLA helped open the inaugural Dodgertown Classic, defeating USC at Dodger Stadium by a 6-1 margin on Feb. 28. UCLA entered its first weekend of Pac-10 play, hosting Stanford, riding a 21-game win streak. The Bruins won their 22nd consecutive game in extra innings, breaking a 5-5 tie with a walk-off bloop single in the bottom of the 10th. Stanford earned an 8-4 win the next day (April 2), ending UCLA's historic streak at 22 games.

UCLA lost its first series of the season to Oregon (April 16-18), dropping the first two games at Jackie Robinson Stadium. Two weeks later, the Bruins hosted a critical three-game series against defending conference champion Arizona State. Hailed as one of the season's best matchups by numerous national college baseball outlets, the weekend series between UCLA and Arizona State failed to live up to its billing. The Bruins responded over the next three weeks by sweeping each of their next three Pac-10 series and winning 13 of their final 16 regular-season games.

Among the Bruins' most memorable highlights came in the series finale against USC. With two outs in the ninth inning, Brett Krill drew a two-out walk before Cody Keefer belted a walk-off home run to right field, sending the Bruins into a frenzy as they had earned their second sweep over USC since 2007.

The Bruins entered the final weekend of the regular season knowing they had clinched a playoff berth - the question remained whether or not UCLA had earned one of college baseball's coveted top-eight national seeds. The complete postseason field was revealed June 1, and the Bruins began preparations to face No. 4-seed Kent State that Friday. In addition, defending national champion LSU was designated as the Regional's No. 2 seed, and UC Irvine as the No. 3 seed.

UCLA swept through the Regional, defeating Kent State (15-1), LSU (6-3) and UC Irvine (6-2) to advance to the NCAA Super Regionals for the first time since 2007. The following weekend, the Bruins hosted Super Regional play at Jackie Robinson Stadium against Cal State Fullerton. After dropping the opening game to the Titans, 4-3, the Bruins had one of the most memorable games in program history. In Game 2, Tyler Rahmatulla hit one of the most clutch home runs in UCLA history. Trailing 6-5 with two outs and nobody on base in the top of the ninth inning, Blair Dunlap drew a walk. Rahmatulla followed, blasting a two-run homer to put UCLA ahead as the designated visiting team, 7-6. Cal State Fullerton tied the contest, 7-7, in the bottom of the inning, before UCLA added four runs in the 10th inning and held on for the win.

The next night, Rob Rasmussen became the hero for UCLA in the decisive third game. The southpaw struck out nine batters and walked one in a complete game, allowing one run and two hits in an 8-1 UCLA victory. The Bruins earned their first College World Series berth since 1997.

UCLA entered the College World Series as one of just three remaining national seeds to qualify for the final eight-team field. Bauer helped the No. 6-national seed Bruins defeated No. 4-national seed Florida, 11-3, in UCLA's opening CWS game. The sophomore right-hander surrendered three runs and six hits in seven innings, totaling 11 strikeouts and two walks, to help UCLA record its first-ever win at the College World Series. The Bruins scored in each inning except for the second in the win over Florida. Two nights later, Cole registered 13 strikeouts in a 6-3 win over TCU. In that victory, UCLA received home runs from Regis and fellow freshman Jeff Gelalich in the third inning to open a 5-0 cushion. TCU inched closer with a two-out, bases-clearing triple by Taylor Featherston, but Cole kept the Horned Frogs at bay, striking out Aaron Schultz to end the seventh inning and adding two more strikeouts in the eighth.

With a 2-0 start in the College World Series meant the Bruins got to wait three days before their next game. UCLA faced TCU on June 25, after the Horned Frogs knocked off Florida State, 11-7, two days earlier in an elimination game. TCU freshman left-hander Matt Purke limited the Bruins to two runs and three hits in 6.1 innings earning the victory, as the Horned Frogs won a 6-2 decision. Playing in 110-degree heat in an elimination contest the next afternoon, UCLA outlasted TCU, 10-3, to earn a spot in the finals of the College World Series. Bauer had another sensational performance for the Bruins, recording 13 strikeouts and two walks in eight innings, to earn his third victory of the postseason, his second in the College World Series.

The Bruins fell short in the best-of-three championship series against South Carolina. UCLA's offense mustered just one run and three hits in a 7-1 loss in Game 1 on June 28. Cole allowed six runs (four earned) and 11 hits in seven innings and was tagged with his second loss of the postseason. The next night, UCLA lost to South Carolina, 2-1, in 11 innings. The Bruins led 1-0 through seven, before the Gamecocks tied the ballgame, 1-1, in the bottom of the eighth. UCLA manufactured baserunners in the ninth and 10th innings, but could not cross the plate. South Carolina's Whit Merrifield lined a game-winning, walk-off single to right field in the bottom of the 11th, as the Gamecocks captured their first-ever baseball national championship.

At the College World Series, Bauer, Regis and Beau Amaral were named to the All-Tournament Team. Bauer went 2-0 with a 3.00 ERA in Omaha, collecting 24 strikeouts and four walks in 15.1 innings. Amaral led the Bruins' offense at the College World Series, posting a .375 batting average (9-for-24). Sporting a 51-17 final record, UCLA had finished its season 34 games over .500, the highest total over the .500 plateau in school history. The Bruins had established school and Pac-10 records for single-season strikeouts with 700 in 618.1 innings. UCLA's pitching staff led the nation in strikeouts per nine innings (10.2), as three pitchers ranked in the top 30 in that category. Additionally, UCLA finished the year ranked No. 2 in all major polls, marking the highest top-25 finish in school history.

2011 - 35-24, 18-9 Pac-10 (1st Place)

UCLA secured its first outright conference title in 2011 for the first time since 2010 and witnessed the continued rise of two of its top pitchers in program history. Trevor Bauer became the first UCLA ballplayer to earn the Golden Spikes Award, and Gerrit Cole was the school's first-ever No. 1 selection in the MLB First-Year Player Draft (June draft). Bauer followed Cole's selection as the No. 3 pick.

Much of the spotlight was directed at both Cole and Bauer during UCLA's 2011 campaign. Bauer was named the National Player of the Year by both Baseball America and Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball. In addition to winning the Golden Spikes Award, he was named a first-team All-America selection by every publication and captured Pac-10 Pitcher of the Year acclaim. He went 13-2 with a 1.25 ERA, totaling a conference record 203 strikeouts in 136.2 innings.

The Bruins opened the 2011 season ranked in the top five in virtually every major preseason ranking. After winning its first four games, UCLA struggled to maintain consistency through its non-conference schedule. The Bruins opened their Pac-10 slate at USC the final weekend of March and won their first four conference series (USC, Washington, Washington State and Arizona). After dropping consecutive weekend series against Stanford and Oregon State, UCLA got on a roll and worked toward winning the Pac-10 Championship despite having to gain ground in the standings.

During the first weekend of May, the Bruins swept a three-game series at Oregon. The following weekend, UCLA rebounded from a Friday night loss against Cal State Bakersfield and won the series with victories on Saturday and Sunday. The Bruins won two of three games each of the next two weekends against California and Arizona State, respectively. In fact, UCLA traveled to Arizona State on the final weekend of the regular season trailing Oregon State by one game in the standings. The Bruins won the first two games of the series, losing on Sunday, and Oregon State was swept on the road at Oregon. UCLA had captured a one-game lead in the conference standings, won the Pac-10 title in outright fashion and was awarded a Regional host the same day.

UCLA hosted the NCAA Los Angeles Regional for the second straight season. The Bruins were upset by San Francisco, 3-0, in their Regional opener on June 3, putting the team in less than familiar territory. UCLA had not fallen into the loser's bracket at an NCAA Regional since 2006. The following day, Bauer struck out 14 batters in his ninth consecutive complete game of the season, helping UCLA defeat No. 2-seed Fresno State, 3-1. Adam Plutko led the charge the next afternoon, scattering one hit in 7.2 scoreless innings to pick up the win as UCLA knocked off San Francisco, 4-1. That same evening, the Bruins took a 3-0 lead against UC Irvine in the fifth inning before the Anteaters rallied back with two runs in the fifth and two more in the ninth. UC Irvine won the NCAA Los Angeles Regional, ending the Bruins' season at Jackie Robinson Stadium.

Feeling mixed emotions, the following day (June 6) continued to produce positive headlines for the UCLA baseball program, as Cole and Bauer were selected No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in the first round of the 2011 MLB First-Year Player Draft. Cole was chosen by the Pittsburgh Pirates and Bauer was taken by the Arizona Diamondbacks. In all, UCLA had 11 players drafted in 2011, and all 11 Bruins signed with their respective pro organizations.

UCLA's pitching staff had once again topped the charts, totaling 572 strikeouts and a 2.44 ERA, the lowest mark in program history since 1969 (2.40). The Bruins ranked second in strikeouts per nine innings (9.8) and hits allowed per nine innings (6.61).

UCLA celebrated its 8-1 victory over Cal State Fullerton on June 13, 2010, sending the Bruins to the College World Series for the third time in school history.

UCLA has made 17 NCAA Tournament appearances, including in six in the last eight seasons. The Bruins advanced to the finals of the College World Series in 2010. That season's trip to Omaha, Neb., marked UCLA's third College World Series berth. Previously, UCLA played in the College World Series in 1997 and 1969.

Head coach John Savage has led UCLA to the postseason in five of his seven seasons at the helm. Savage is the program's only head coach to have led UCLA to postseason appearances in three consecutive seasons (2006-08). He coached the Bruins to the Super Regionals in 2007 and 2010. UCLA hosted an NCAA Regional at Jackie Robinson Stadium in 2010 and 2011 and the NCAA Los Angeles Super Regional in 2010. Prior to those years, the Bruins had not hosted postseason action since 1986.

Former head coach Gary Adams made 11 trips to the NCAA Tournament, including the Bruins' 1997 trip to the College World Series. In six games at the 1997 NCAA Midwest Regional (at Oklahoma State), the Bruins outscored their opposition, 72-24. UCLA closed the six-game stretch with five victories, routing host Oklahoma State 14-2 and 22-2 on the same day. Eric Valent earned Tournament MVP honors after blasting six home runs, and Theodorou batted .667 (16 hits in 24 at-bats).

Bruin Varsity Club

The mission of the Bruin Varsity Club is to connect the UCLA family of alumni athletes to the University and enhance their relationships with the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. We seek to uphold the tradition and legacy of UCLA Athletics through a united and engaged alumni community and to establish a culture of philanthropy and participation. Whether your collegiate athletic career ended last season or 60 years ago, whether you live in California or on the other side of the country, you are forever connected to the champions that are UCLA.

Members who pay their annual dues will receive the following Bruin Varsity Club PREMIER benefits and club card:

- Complimentary invitation to the annual Bruin Varsity Club Homecoming Tailgate Party and other sponsored events.
- One free admission to ALL regularly-scheduled UCLA home football games in a priority seating area. The option to purchase up to three additionally priority season tickets normally offered exclusively to donors in the blue section.
- One annual Olympic Sport Card Passes*
- Bowl Game Ticket Purchasing Opportunities
- Exclusive Bruin Varsity Club annual gift
- Invitation to sport specific reunions, receptions and other special events
- Ticket purchasing opportunities for otherwise limited UCLA sporting events
- Menotring and networking opportunities with other fellow Bruin Varsity Club members and current student athletes
- Subscription to Bruin Blue, a monthly UCLA athletics newsletter

*Excludes admission to men's basketball, NCAA Championships and/or special events.

* For more information please contact Courteney Cosso, Director of the Bruin Varsity Club, at 310-206-4458 or via email at ccosso@athletics.ucla.edu ****

Bruin Baseball Fund

The Bruin Baseball Fund, formerly known as the 10th Player Club, invites you to become a member of this meaningful and worthwhile organization. UCLA ADMINISTRATORS

GENE BLOCK

CHANCELLOR · 5th Year
Alma Mater: Stanford '70

Dr. Gene Block became chancellor of UCLA in August 2007. As chief executive officer, he oversees all aspects of the university's three-part mission of education, research and service.

A champion of public universities, Chancellor Block has set four major priorities for UCLA during his administration: academic excellence, diversity, civic engagement and financial security. He has called for UCLA to deepen its engagement with the Los Angeles region and to increase access for students from underrepresented populations.

Chancellor Block holds UCLA faculty appointments in psychiatry and bio-behavioral sciences in the David Geffen School of Medicine and in physiological science in the College of Letters and Science. He also heads a research laboratory on campus that is funded by the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

Previously, he served as vice president and provost of the University of Virginia. He holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Stanford University and a master's and Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Oregon.

Chancellor Block and his wife, Carol, have two adult children. The Blocks are avid Bruin fans and attend the competitions of various Bruin athletic programs.

DAN GUERRERO

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR · 10th Year
Alma Mater: UCLA '74

In nine years as UCLA's Director of Athletics, Daniel G. Guerrero has boldly placed his imprint on the school's highly-successful athletic program.

Guerrero, one of the most respected and talented administrators in intercollegiate athletics, has placed his mark on the program as the director of athletics at UCLA. He is the current president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and a member of the NACDA Executive Committee. He served as president of the Division I Athletic Directors Association in 2010-11. In June of 2007, he was named NACDA Division I West Region Athletic Director of the Year.

In June of 2010, Guerrero complete a five-year term on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee. As the Chair in 2009-10, he served on the NCAA Advisory Committee that resulted in the $10.8 million, 14-year NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament television package with CBS and Turner Sports, as well as the decision to create the "First Four" and the expansion of the Tournament to 68 teams.

In his nine eight years, Guerrero has clearly established a pattern of "image and substance" that few in his profession can match. UCLA stands as the No. 1 University in the nation for NCAA team championships (107) won, a number that continues to grow under his direction. In those nine years, UCLA teams have won 21 NCAA team titles (the highest total in the nation in that span) in 11 different sports, finished second 17 times and have had an additional 32 Top Five finishes. A staggering 172 teams (of 207 possible) have qualified for NCAA postseason competition and the football team has appeared in seven bowl games. The program has also won 46 conference championships in 15 different sports, produced over 460 All-Americans and featured four Honda Award winners, including the 2003-04 Collegiate Woman Athlete of the Year.

Guerrero came to UCLA in 2002 from UC Irvine, where he had served as UCI's fifth Director of Athletics for 10 years. Prior to arriving at UC Irvine, he was the Athletic Director for five years at Cal State Dominguez Hills (1988-92). He received his Bachelor's degree from UCLA in 1974 and played second base in the Bruin baseball program for four years. Born on November 10, 1951 in Tucson, AZ, he is married to the former Anne Marie Aniello and they have two daughters: Jenna and Katie.

JOHN JENTZ

SR. ASSOC. ATHLETIC DIRECTOR · 2nd Year
Alma Mater: BYU '92

John Jentz is in his second year as senior associate athletic director/chief financial officer for UCLA Athletics, having joined the department on June 14, 2010.

His duties include management of the department's $64 million budget and direct responsibility for the financial areas of Accounting, Purchasing, and Payroll. He also directs the Human Resources unit that includes almost 200 full-time coaches and staff and manages the Information Technology unit which supports the department network and more than 200 users. The 2011-12 season marks the first season in which Jentz will serve in an administrative role overseeing the baseball program.

He serves as the principal advisor to the Athletic Director with respect to long term programming and planning including assessing the resources available for the development of major capital projects.

Prior to coming to UCLA, Jentz spent over nine years at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He started as an assistant athletic director for sports administration in 2000 and was named the department's assistant athletic director for athletic business operations in 2003.

Jentz was promoted to associate director in 2006 where he was in charge of the day-to-day operations of the business office while also overseeing human resources, technical services, cashier's office, bowl and postseason travel as well as men's and women's rowing.

The Green Bay native was an assistant athletic director at Cal State Fullerton for four years prior to joining the staff at UW-Madison. At Fullerton, Jentz supervised eight sports and oversaw the athletic business office and ticket office for the Titans.

Before his time at Cal State Fullerton, he was an accountant in the business office at UC Riverside. He later managed development funds and also assisted in coordinating several athletic events, including the NCAA Division II Track and Field Championship.

Jentz began his administrative career at East Stroudsburg University where he supervised the ticket operations and event staffing while earning his master's degree (1993). A 1992 graduate of Brigham Young, John and his wife, Nancy, have five daughters: Kristy, Marin, Emma, Serena and Lindsay.

Nation's #1 Overall College Experience

10 SIGNIFICANT REASONS TO ATTEND UCLA

1. #1 in NCAA Titles (107)

1st ever to reach the 100 title milestone; 21 NCAA Titles in the last 9 years (#1 nationally) since Dan Guerrero became UCLA Athletic Director; #1 in Olympians and Olympic Gold Medals from 1984-2008; leader in producing professional athletes; nation's finest overall combined academic, athletic and career resources for student-athletes; the best is possible at UCLA!

UCLA: Simply The Best Overall University

UCLA 'Most Complete' Athletic Program

From Sports Illustrated on Campus in, April 2005: "UCLA has the most complete athletic program in the country."

Bruin Weather Helps Athletic Success

US Weather Service records for the Westwood area indicate the UCLA campus averages 334 'Sun Days' a year with an average year round temperature of 74 degrees.

'Dream College' Where Parents & Students Want to Attend

The 2011 Princeton Review survey of parents and future college students had UCLA ranked #6 nationally by parents and #7 by students as their 'Dream College' to attend. UCLA was the only public university in the top 10.

UCLA 'Most Popular' College for Applications

UCLA continues as the 'Most Popular' college for students to apply for admission in the 21st century. UCLA annually receives over 60,000 applications for 5,000 admission spots. It has been that way every year since 1999.

UCLA 'Hottest University' to Attend

Newsweek '08 College Guide: UCLA is selected as the 'Hottest University' to attend in the major college category.

UCLA One of 25 'New Ivies'

Newsweek magazine article in 2006 on the 25 'New Ivies' among colleges: "The nation's elite colleges include more than the top Ivies. A range of schools are getting fresh bragging rights like UCLA."

UCLA Campus Receives Most Media Attention

Scenic parts of the UCLA campus are utilized for more movies, television shows, and commercials than any other college. The UCLA name appears daily in more publications than any other school according to Newswatch Magazine.

UCLA Historic Accomplishment

UCLA is the only school with a No. 1 overall pick in the MLB (baseball), NFL (football), NBA (basketball) and MLS (soccer) drafts.

UCLA 'Most Interesting College'

The Kaplan Publication on 'Most Interesting Colleges', has UCLA #1 overall blending their 6 categories of Academic Facilities, Freshman Housing, Career Services, Highest Academic Standards, Hot & Trendy Universities and Best Value.

UCLA #1 Hospital in West Since 1989

UCLA was ranked #5 overall and again #1 in the West (every year since 1989) by U.S. News. The Ronald Reagan UCLA Medical Center, which opened in 2008, is a one million square foot facility. It has been labeled as 'the hospital of the future.'

UCLA in FB-BB Titles; Heisman-Wooden; Honda Awards

UCLA is one of seven Division I colleges to ever win a football and basketball national championship; UCLA is one of six colleges to ever win a Heisman Trophy in football and Wooden Award in Basketball; UCLA is #1 all-time with 4 Honda Female Athlete of the Year awards.

'Public Good' and 'Eco-Friendly' National Leader

Washington Monthly Magazine for 2010 rated UCLA #3 nationally among colleges in its contributions to the nation's 'Public Good' through Service, Social Mobility, and Research. The Sierra Club's 2010 list of top colleges committed to advancing sustainability on their campuses had UCLA #9 overall in having an 'eco-friendly' environment.

UCLA 'Coolest' School to Experience

Seventeen Magazine ranked UCLA as one of the '10 coolest schools' where you can get the best college experience. The criteria included professor's involvement, great shopping, campus safety and parties.

UCLA Has #1 Career Center

Business Week magazine has ranked the UCLA Career Center as #1 in the nation when blending opportunities for students for internships, part-time work, full-time jobs, and other needed services to prepare a person for today's job market.

Academic & Student Services (AS2)

Mission Statement: SUCCESS

“Student-athletes Understand that Character Creates Educational Self-Sufficiency”

The mission of the UCLA Academic & Student Services office (AS2) and its S.U.C.C.E.S.S. Program is to provide an interactive learning environment that emphasizes life-long learning habits, goal setting, teamwork, leadership and character. Centered on the idea of the self-sufficient, independent learner, the S.U.C.C.E.S.S. Program features academic counseling, academic and student support services, and student-athlete development programs that support and encourage student-athletes to reach their full potential academically and personally.

The AS2 team promotes a healthy balance between academics and athletics and embraces UCLA's "True Bruin" philosophy setting forth the ethical standards of integrity, excellence, accountability, respect and service. Our commitment is to assist student-athletes in their transition to the university, earning their UCLA degree, and develop their skills and confidence to be champions in life.

UCLA Community Outreach/ Wooden Academy

All UCLA head coaches stress involvement with the campus and the community. Whether it's volunteering at an inner-city youth clinic, speaking to children at elementary and middle schools in the area, or assisting in campus programs such as 'Marathon Kids' and 'I'm Going to College,' community service is an important aspect of being a Bruin. These outreach opportunities give student-athletes a chance to mentor youth, give back to the community and serve as ambassadors for UCLA Athletics.

Community Outreach

Bruin student-athletes, coaches and staff have the opportunity to participate in community service activities on campus and throughout the Los Angeles area. Examples of these events include;

- Marathon Kids
- Dribble for the Cure
- Mattel Children's Hospital
- Elementary/Middle School Visits
- Team Prime Time/Prime Time Games
- UCLA Lab School Jogathon
- I'm Going to College
- Adopt a Classroom
- Special Requests/Events

These outreach opportunities give student-athletes a chance to mentor youth, give back to the community and serve as ambassadors for UCLA Athletics.

Wooden Academy: Teamwork, Leadership and Character

The Wooden Academy is a comprehensive leadership development program designed to educate and support the standards of leadership for Bruin student-athletes. The pillars of the Wooden Academy are teamwork, leadership and character. The program is named after legendary Coach John Wooden, and strives to teach the values and principles of his Pyramid of Success. We believe that these skills will assist student-athletes in their pursuit to be successful leaders and teammates at UCLA, and as they prepare to be champions in life. Student-athletes will have the opportunity to participate in the Wooden Academy each year by attending seminars and learning practical leadership lessons from coaches, administrators and Bruin alumni.

The J.D. Morgan Center

UCLA's commitment to comprehensive academic support services and a desire to expand existing resources to best serve the Bruin student-athlete of today and tomorrow remains constant. In an effort to support this ideal, UCLA's J.D. Morgan Athletic Center underwent a major expansion that upgraded the former facility into a high-tech building for the 21st century.

The project increased office space for both administrative and coaching staff, improved the student academic support services, and provided a "state of the art" Athletic Hall of Fame exhibiting the illustrious Bruin history and highlighting current events.

Below are some highlights of the J.D. Morgan Center.

Student-Athlete Academic Learning Center

- 24 computers
- 4 walk-up computers for easy printing

Maximum Media Exposure

Over the past ten years, UCLA has had over 95% of its football and men's basketball games broadcast live on television. UCLA 'BruinTalk' covers all UCLA sports and runs weekly over UCTV, UCLA YouTube and Dish Network. Numerous other events are televised live over ESPN or Fox Sports West.

Live Olympic Sport Internet Broadcasts

All of UCLA's home events in women's basketball, volleyball, baseball, soccer and most matches in water polo are broadcast live at www.uclabruins.com. All road games in w. basketball and selected other road events are also broadcast live.

Award-Winning Website

www.UCLABruins.com is one of the most recognized websites in the world

Media Training

"Staged" videos and print interview sessions are used to help prepare student-athletes for dealing with the media

122	Current and former Bruins have been featured on 122 Sports Illustrated covers
13	Thirteen local newspapers cover the Bruins throughout the season
7	Seven local television stations cover the Bruins - KCBS, KNBC, KTLA, KABC, KCAL, KTTV & FSN Prime Ticket
3	The Los Angeles area is home to three local sports talk radio stations
