Head Coach Carrie Forsyth wasn't shy when offering her prospects at the beginning of the 2007-08 season when the Bruins traveled to the Mason Rudolph Championship: "Not only is this squad loaded with talent, but there is a true bond of friendship and camaraderie among our players. It is fun to coach a team like this and our potential is limitless."

The Bruins, behind the outstanding play of their freshmen, promptly went out and won that tournament by 14 shots, vaulting from the No.3 spot in the national rankings to the No.1 perch. Although they finished third in their next event — the Fall Preview — they managed to retain their hold on the top spot, and through their first two events of the season were a collective 19-under par.

The Bruins' two freshmen are veterans of the junior circuit and have already bolstered the lineup. The three returning regulars boast 150 collegiate rounds and three "major" amateur victories among them. In addition, the two walk-on players are expected to compete for playing time all season.

Following are capsule summaries of the Bruins' personnel for the 2007-08 season.

THE JUNIORS

Tiffany Joh enters her third season of collegiate golf as one of the country's top players. Through two fall tournaments (six rounds) she was 12-under par with a pair of Top 10 finishes. According to Forsyth, she has elevated her game.

"She used to be a one-dimensional player. Her short game was suspect," said the head coach. "Now, her short game is light years better than it was when she started."

Joh tied for 22nd at the LPGA Safeway Classic in August, beating a pair of former UCLA All-Americans over the 54-hole event. She also advanced to the third round of both the U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links Championship and the U.S. Women's Amateur.

Last season, she won her first collegiate event — the Pac-10 Championship — to go along with the USWAPL title she won in 2006. She also set a school record for most rounds under 70, breaking the mark nine times.

"She's a two-time All-American, and she has a ton of ability and talent," said Forsyth. "I would not be surprised to see her win multiple events this season. She's that good, and continues to improve every day. When she's confident in her game, she's phenomenal."

An excellent student, Joh also earned All-Pac-10 Academic honors and has made the Director's Honor Roll six consecutive quarters.

Ryann O'Toole boasts 56 rounds of collegiate experience and has emerged as a team leader in her new role as captain. Last season, she improved her scoring average nearly 2.5 strokes en route to elevating her counter percentage 36 percentage points.

"Ryann tends to be upbeat in a lot of situations and she's very conscientious about her role as captain," said Forsyth. "She exhibits many admirable leadership qualities."

Last season, O'Toole recorded a pair of Top 10 finishes, each result featuring a sterling round under 70. She set a personal best by posting a 66 (-6) in the final round of the Las Vegas Collegiate to place seventh. She also carded a 67 (-5) in the second round of the ASU event to tie for sixth place.

"Ryann continues to improve," said the head coach. "We're working on her consistency."

Maiya Tanaka, a student at UCLA for two years before walking on to the team last season, will battle for the fifth spot all season, according to Forsyth.

"Maiya will have opportunities to compete for us," said Forsyth. "Her best attribute is her mental strength; she never quits on the golf course. She always fights for it. She's a very competitive player."

Tanaka placed 20th at the Pac-10 Championship, a huge accomplishment for a golfer who had not competed in two years and played just 19 rounds in the second half of the season. The result marked a personal best for her and secured her spot on the roster for future seasons.

"She appreciates and fights for every opportunity. She's a big asset to our team," said Forsyth.

THE SOPHOMORES

Sydnee Michaels got off to a rough start last season, making some necessary changes to her game. Still, she managed three Top 20 finishes before torching the field at the NCAA East Regional.

At the University Club in Baton Rouge, Michaels set a school 54-hole record with a 13-under par score of 203. Not only did she win her first collegiate event, she held off Duke's Amanda Blumenherst, the nation's top ranked player. She became the first UCLA player to win the NCAA Regional since Hannah Jun, also a freshman, in 2004. Her confidence restored, she is poised for a breakout season in 2007-08.

"I am really impressed with the changes that Sydnee made to her game over the summer," said Forsyth. "She is swinging well and making putts. [She] will be contending for many more tournament titles this season. If her game is sharp, she's hard to beat."

Michaels showed her potential in her first collegiate event, tying for 11th place. Later on in the season she tied for 12th at the "Mo" Morial. Following her East Regional performance, she tied for 21st at the NCAA Championship.

For the season, she recorded six rounds under par, four rounds in the 60s and a 94% counter ratio.

The Bruins' other sophomore, Lalita Boonnoppornkul, may lack tournament experience, but her diligence is admirable, according to the head coach.

"She worked really hard on her game over the summer, and I'm impressed with what I've seen so far," Forsyth said. "What Lalita lacks in competitive experience, she more than makes up for in heart and work ethic. She will continue to challenge the traveling roster and will definitely see some playing time this season."

Thrown into the fire early last season, Boonnoppornkul didn't cower. She posted a 74 (+2) in her second collegiate round, and she tied for 34th at the "Mo" Morial.

"She is a great person and teammate," said Forsyth. "She's an asset to our team and the players like her."

THE FRESHMEN

The Bruins' two freshmen — Maria Jose Uribe and Glory Yang — are battle-tested veterans of the junior circuit, and both are mature beyond their years.

Uribe, 17, won the U.S. Women's Amateur Championship in August at Crooked Stick. Most impressive was her refusal to be intimidated by the rowdy crowd favoring her opponent or the circumstances surrounding a major amateur event.

In the 36-hole final at The Amateur, she defeated Blumenherst, the reigning college player of the year, 1-up after the latter three-putted the 35th hole.

"Maria's strongest asset is that she brings a positive energy to the team," commented Forsyth. "She's also a great teammate."

Through two tournaments this season, Uribe was five-under par with a pair of Top 10 results, sparked by two sub-70 rounds. At the Mason Rudolph event, she fired a second round 66 (-6) and at the Fall Preview, she posted a final round 69 (-3). Forsyth has much respect for her game.

"Every aspect of her game is solid," said the head coach. "She has a well-rounded game: physically, a good swing; she putts and chips well and she has a sound mental game. She's the whole package."

Forsyth is also impressed with Yang, the Bruins' other freshman. Although she didn't play much over the summer, Yang managed to advance to the second round of the U.S. Women's Amateur Publiclinks after tying for fifth place in the stroke play competition.

"Glory is a much better player now than when she was recruited," recalls Forsyth. "She has a great putting stroke, a solid golf swing and she hits a lot of good shots."

In 2006, Yang recorded six Top 10 finishes on the junior circuit, highlighted by a victory at the Fidelity Investment Junior at Trump National.

Through six rounds this season, Yang was three-under par with a pair of Top 20 results, including a seventh place finish at the season opener in Tennessee.

COACH'S COMMENTS

Perhaps the most gratifying aspect of this year's team is its ability to execute, according to the head coach.

"I can tell these players to hit a certain shot, and they have it in their repertoire," she said. "Few teams that I've coached can perform to that level. It makes for a very coachable and fun team atmosphere."

"This team also gets along really well," she continued. "They're very upbeat. They're fun to be with. On top of that they have a winning attitude."

- The Bruins have set scoring marks for single round, 54 and 72 holes, and single season scoring average during Forsyth's tenure.

Carrie Forsyth, one of the country's top collegiate coaches, begins her ninth season as Bruins' head coach.

For the past three years, Golf Digest, the nation's foremost golf magazine, has ranked Forsyth's program among the nation's most balanced. Based on the growth and success of UCLA women's golf, Forsyth deserves much of the credit.

Last year, despite the loss of two All-Americans who were expected to return, Forsyth guided the Bruins to their third podium finish in her eight-year reign. The Bruins, with just four scholarship players, captured second place in the conference championship and came within a few birdies of winning their fourth regional title under Forsyth's guidance. The Bruins' participation in the NCAA Championship marked their seventh straight appearance and their regional result marked their sixth straight podium finish.

Two years ago, UCLA won four tournaments, including its third straight conference championship. The Bruins landed two more players on the NGCA 1st Team All-America list and a total of four players were selected to the All-Pac-10 squad. In addition, freshman Tiffany Joh was voted the 2006 Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year and senior Susie Mathews became the first player ever to earn Scholar All-America honors from the NGCA four straight years.

In 2004-05 UCLA won six tournaments and came within a few shots of winning its second-straight NCAA title. The Bruins won their second consecutive Pac-10 title and tied for first at the NCAA Regional. For the third time in four years, Forsyth was voted the Pac-10 Coach of the Year. At the NCAA Championship, the Bruins recorded their fourth Top 5 finish in her tenure.

Three players — Charlotte Mayorkas, Susie Mathews and Amie Cochran — earned All-America honors, and Mathews earned NGCA Scholar All-America honors for the third straight year.

Mayorkas finished her career as the only three-time first-team All-American in UCLA women's golf history. Overall, Forsyth has tutored nine different All-Americans, including five first-team selections.

Three years ago, Mayorkas, Mathews and Cochran each earned 1st Team All-Pac-10 honors, and Hannah Jun and Melissa Martin received Honorable Mention acclaim. Overall, 14 different players have earned all-conference honors during the Forsyth Era.

The Bruins began the 2004-05 season with a consensus No. 1 ranking—a first in the program's history. They won six tournaments, one shy of the school record set the previous season, won their second straight conference title and tied for first at the NCAA Regional Championship. At the 2005 NCAA Championship, they were runners-up.

In 2003-04, the Bruins enjoyed a magical season, and Forsyth orchestrated their success. UCLA won its last six tournaments, including the trifecta of the Pac-10 Championship, the NCAA West Regional crown and the NCAA title. That season, the Bruins won seven tournaments and set a school record for victories. Forsyth's program also produced four All-Americans, five all-conference selections and three academic All-Americans.

Statistically, the Bruins dropped their scoring average eight strokes from the previous year, while every player on the roster improved her stroke average.

UCLA set school records during the season for lowest average team score (291.5) and lowest team score in a single round (282). Mayorkas also set a school record for single season tournament victories (4), best scoring average (71.6), lowest single round score (65) and consecutive counters (35).

Mathews and Mayorkas also finished third and fourth, respectively, at the NCAA Championship, helping UCLA play the final nine holes in five-under par. Both players earned 1st Team NGCA All-America honors and ended their seasons ranked among the nation's Top 10 players. Senior Krystal Shearer also was selected as an Honorable Mention All-American by the NGCA.

In addition, Jun, who earned 2nd team All-America honors, won the NCAA West Regional title and was voted the 2004 Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year.

Mayorkas, who was voted Pac-10 Player of the Year in 2004, Mathews, Shearer, Jun and senior Gina Umeck each earned All-Pac-10 honors.

during the season.

In 2001-02, the Bruins saved their best golf for the NCAA West Regional tournament by tying for first place and winning the playoff to earn the No. 1 seed in the West. Prior to that event, the Bruins had recorded eight Top 10 finishes and placed second at the Pac-10 Championship. The Bruins also improved their team stroke average by three shots.

Three players earned All-Pac-10 honors, and freshman Yvonne Choe was named Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year after earning all-conference second-team honors. Three players also earned Pac-10 All-Academic Team acclaim.

Finally, 10 different players placed their on the national scene by placing fifth at the NCAA Fall Preview. When their season ended, the Bruins had improved their team stroke average by five shots from the previous year, and nearly every player had improved her stroke average.

Senior Amanda Moltke-Leth earned 1st-Team NGCA All-America and All-Pac-10 honors, and finished the season ranked sixth nationally. Moffat earned All-Pac-10 Honorable Mention honors and first-team all-conference academic honors. Finally, several players earned mention on the Director's Honor Roll.

Forsyth, 36, served as the head coach at Cal State Northridge from 1996-99, where she was named the 1998-99 Big Sky Coach of the Year. She guided the Matadors to a third place finish in the 1998 Big Sky Conference Championship and placed two players on the all-conference team. In her three seasons, the Matadors improved their team scoring average by 31 strokes.

In 1990, the former Carrie Leary entered UCLA as a walk-on player and earned a scholarship after her first year.

As a UCLA freshman, she participated in 11 of 12 tournaments, including lineups that won the Pacific-10 Conference Championship and finished second at the NCAA Championship.

She graduated with honors from UCLA in 1994 with a degree in Psychology and also served as the Bruins' student assistant coach during the 1993-94 season.

As an amateur, Forsyth competed in four U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links Championships and advanced to the quarterfinals in 1991. She also competed in three U.S. Amateur Championships and was an alternate qualifier for the 1992 and 1994 U.S. Women's Open Championships.

Forsyth, who is a member of the Ladies Professional Golf Assn., played on several LPGA mini-tours. She competed in the 1995 LPGA Tour Qualifying School.

Forsyth enjoyed a fine junior career before entering UCLA. She won over 30 events as a member of the Southern California Junior Golf Assn., including a third place individual finish in the 1983 Junior World Championship.

At Canyon High, where she graduated in 1989, she lettered four years on the boy's golf team and earned MVP honors as a senior.

She married James Forsyth on July 26, 2003, and the couple reside in the Santa Clarita Valley with their twin sons, Luke and Tyler.

and senior Bridget Dwyer earned Scholar All-America honors from the NGCA. Each player also earned Pac-10 All-Academic Team honors. Finally, nine different players earned mention on the Director's Honor Roll during the academic year 2003-04.

That season, Forsyth was voted Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the second time and also earned 2004 NGCA Coach of the Year honors.

In 2002-03, the Bruins tied for fifth place at the NCAA Championship and finished among the Top 10 in all 12 of their tournaments.

Mayorkas became the third player of the Forsyth Era to earn All-America honors. She also earned first-team all-conference laurels. Overall, UCLA boasted four players on the all-conference team.

In the classroom, two players earned Scholar All-America honors from the NGCA, and three players were named to the Pac-10 All-Academic Team. Also, six different players earned spots on the Director's Honor Roll names on the Director's Honor Roll for the 2001-02 academic year.

In Forsyth's second season, the Bruins began their streak of NCAA appearances by placing fourth at the NCAA West Regionals. At the 2001 NCAAAs, the Bruins tied for fifth place, and senior Laura Moffat tied for sixth place individually. Umeck and Martin recorded finishes among the Top 25 at the national championship tournament.

In the Fall of 2000, the Bruins won a pair of tournaments: the Hawaii Rainbow Fall Classic and the San Diego State Fall Classic. At the SDSU event, freshman Johanna Andersson won the individual title.

Honorees included Moffat, who earned Honorable Mention All-America acclaim, and Martin and Umeck, who were All-Pac-10 selections.

Forsyth's energy produced immediate results in her first UCLA season — 1999-2000. The Bruins won the Hawaii Rainbow Fall Classic a few weeks into the season and established themselves as a growing force

ALICIA UM

ASSISTANT COACH • 2ND YEAR • (UCLA '02)

Alicia Um, 28, a former four-year letterwinner for the Bruins, enters her second season as assistant coach under Carrie Forsyth.

"We are excited to have Alicia become our (first) full-time assistant women's golf coach," Forsyth said following Um's appointment. "As a former UCLA golfer, Alicia brings a tremendous amount of experience to the position. She is a very knowledgeable and experienced golfer who can help our players' development. She has also spent a few years in the business world and will bring her organizational and technological skills to the position. I am grateful to have her."

In the summer of 2006, Um was credited with gaining commitments of the Bruins' two current freshmen: Maria Jose Uribe and Glory Yang. Uribe won the 2007 U.S. Women's Amateur title and Yang advanced to the second round.

As a senior in 2002, Um earned All-Pac-10 Honorable Mention honors when she tied for 12th place at the Pac-10 Championship. She was a member of the UCLA team that won the program's first regional championship in 2002. That season, the Bruins finished 21st at the NCAA Championship. She also served as team captain for the 2001-02 season.

Um played three seasons (2000-02) for Forsyth and one year (1997-98) for Hall of Fame Coach Jackie Steinmann before graduating with a degree in Economics in March 2002. She was named to the Director's Honor Roll six times during her academic tenure.

In her UCLA career, Um made 37 starts, played 107 rounds and averaged 77.2. Her best season was her senior year when she averaged 75.7 in 32 rounds with three Top 20 finishes. She also recorded her career low round that season — a two-under par 69 in the third round of the Stanford Invitational.

Since her graduation and prior to her appointment at UCLA, Um worked in the hospitality and golf industries as well as for an information systems company. For the 2005 calendar year, she competed on the West Coast Ladies Golf Tour, qualified to play on the Futures Tour and participated in the LPGA

Qualifying School.

Um played three years at Newbury Park High School before spending her senior year at Westlake High and graduating in 1997. She won the 1996 SCGA Jr. Match Play Championship and played in the 1997 and '99 U.S. Women's Amateur Championships.

THE JACKIE STEINMANN AWARD

Named after UCLA's legendary Hall of Fame coach, the Jackie Steinmann award is given annually to UCLA's Most Valuable Player. Awarded since 2004 at UCLA's annual post-season banquet, it has been given to former UCLA All-American Charlotte Mayorkas two times and Tiffany Joh twice.

Steinmann retired in June, 1999 but has remained an important figure in collegiate golf. In addition to her coaching book, she still attends some of the Bruins' local tournaments and conducts numerous clinics nationwide.

Inducted into the Collegiate Women's Golf Hall of Fame in 1989, Steinmann coached the Bruins for 22 years and built UCLA women's golf into a nationally-respected program. In her tenure, the Bruins won 43 tournaments, three conference titles and the 1991 NCAA team title. She tutored 15 different All-Americans, three Academic All-Americans and numerous professional players.

Twice the recipient of the Rolex Gladys

Palmer Award for Meritorious Service, Steinmann was voted the 1996 NGCA Coach of the Year. She also was voted Pacific-10 Conference Coach of the Year in 1990 and '91. In 1989, she was selected as the LPGA Coach of the Year.

Currently, she lives in Rancho Bernardo and enjoys golf, gourmet cooking and keeping in touch with friends.

MASON RUDOLPH CHAMPIONSHIP AT VANDERBILT LEGENDS CLUB

SEPT. 15-17, FRANKLIN, TN

UCLA 3RD, 287-289-296—872 (+8)

For the second straight year Duke edged Georgia by three shots for the title in this annual season-opener featuring the nation's top teams. The Bruins posted three rounds of increasing scores, but unlike the previous season, they remained under 300 for each round. Considering that the Bruin were without two All-Americans who were expected to return to the lineup, their 13-stroke improvement from the year before was a major accomplishment. Tiffany Joh tied for fourth place at two-under par 214, freshman Sydnee Michaels tied for 11th at one-over par 217 and senior Hannah Jun tied for 16th at 219 (+3). Arizona's Alison Walshe won the event with a 54-hole score of 210 (-6), firing a final round 67 (-5).

DAYTONA BEACH FALL PREVIEW AT LPGA INTERNATIONAL

SEPT. 22-24, DAYTONA BEACH, FL

UCLA 3RD, 304-298-283—855 (+21)

Georgia avenged its season-opening runner-up finish by beating Duke by nine shots in a preview event to the NCAA Championship. UCLA finished seven shots behind the Blue Devils in third, and posted three rounds of improving scores, capped by a five-under par score of 283 in the final round. Not only was that the low round of the day, it propelled the Bruins six spots up the leaderboard. Joh was the catalyst, firing a final round 67 (-5), followed by Michaels, who posted a 68 (-4). Joh's score vaulted her 23 spots up the leaderboard and she tied for 10th place. Michaels improved 19 spots to tie for 24th. Ryann O'Toole tied for 18th place, moving up seven spots, and Jun tied for 24th at 223 (+7). Tennessee's Nicole Smith won the event with three-round score of 211 (-5) after posting a 69 (-3) on the final day.

STANFORD INTERCOLLEGIATE AT THE STANFORD GOLF COURSE

OCT. 20-22, PALO ALTO, CA

UCLA 18TH, 298-296-290—884 (+32)

Arizona shot out of the gate with a first-round score of 277 (-7), putting UCLA 21 strokes off the lead in 10th place after the first day. Improving scores allowed the Bruins to inch up the ladder and finally tie for eighth place, 29 shots off the pace. Vanderbilt erased Arizona's 16-shot advantage in the final round and posted a final round score of 275 (-9), while Arizona ballooned to seven-over par and took second place. O'Toole, who posted a first-round 69 (-2), tied for 17th for UCLA at 217 (+4). Joh and Michaels tied for 32nd at eight-over par 221, Joh finishing with a final round 68 (-3). Arkansas' Stacy Lewis and Arizona's Walshe tied for first place at 207 (-6).

LAS VEGAS COLLEGIATE SHOWDOWN AT ANTHEM GC

OCT. 30-NOV. 1, LAS VEGAS, NV

UCLA 5TH, 297-303-284—884 (+20)

On the final day, the Bruins rose six spots from 11th place to finish fifth after posting a four-under par score of 284. Joh, after posting a 75 (+3) in the first round, played the final 36 holes in seven-under par to capture fourth place at 212 (-4). O'Toole rallied from a second round 77 (+5) to finish with a final round 66 (-6) and place seventh at two-under 214. Jun fired a final round two-under par 70 to rise seven spots and tie for 12th place at 217 (+1). Texas A&M's Ashley Knoll won medalist honors with a 54-hole score of 209 (-7). Oklahoma State was the team champion at 855 (-9).

REGIONAL CHALLENGE AT PALOS VERDES GC

FEB. 12-14, PALOS VERDES, CA

UCLA 10TH, 315-307-299—921 (+69)

In their worst finish of the season, the Bruins placed 10th at the annual Regional Challenge, hosted by USC and Ohio State. Scores were high as Pepperdine won the event with a 30-over par score of 882, posting a tournament best 288 (+4) in the final round. The Waves were the only team to post three rounds under 300 for the tournament, and just nine rounds under 300 were recorded overall. Jun tied for eighth place at eight-over par 221. The Waves' Misum Cho and Javie Agojo finished first and second, respectively.

Hannah Jun completed her collegiate career as a three-time All-America and All-Pac-10 selection. She won two tournaments, including the 2004 NCAA West Regional title. She also was a member of the 2004 NCAA Championship team.

ARIZONA WILDCAT INVITATIONAL AT ARIZONA NATIONAL

UCLA 9TH, 296-316-300—912 (+60)

Arizona State defeated Duke on its intra-state rival's home course and the Bruins placed ninth in this annual desert shootout. No team broke par in a single round and just one individual — Duke's Amanda Blumenherst — recorded a 54-hole score below par. At 60-over par, the Bruins recorded their worst score in relation to par for the season, and ASU's winning score of 868 (+16) was one of the highest first place scores of the season. Jun tied for ninth place at 217 (+4) and Joh tied for 23rd. Blumenherst won the event with a 54-hole total of 210 (-3).

TEXAS A & M "MO" MORIAL AT TRADITIONS GC

MAR. 9-11, COLLEGE STATION, TX

UCLA 3RD, 304-305-308—917 (+53)

It was an all Pac-10 finish with Arizona State, USC and UCLA capturing the top three spots at one of Texas' top courses. Again scores were up, and despite posting a final round score of 20-over par 308, the Bruins produced a podium finish. Jun continued her consistent play, placing fourth at eight-over par 224. Michaels tied for 12th at 229 (+13) and Joh tied for 14th at 230 (+14). USC's Paola Moreno won the event with an even par score of 216.

PING/ASU INVITATIONAL AT KARSTEN GC

UCLA 2ND, 301-283-289—873 (+9)

UCLA rebounded from a first round (301, 10th place) to climb all the way into the runnerup spot by tournament's end. A five-under par 283 in round two vaulted them into fourth place entering the last day, and a solid 289 (+1) enabled them to climb two more spots as Vanderbilt and Texas A & M fell away. O'Toole played four-under par golf over 54 holes, including a second round 67 (-5), and tied for sixth place. Joh pulled out of a mid-season slump and tied for 11th after playing the final 36 holes in five-under par. Anna Nordqvist won the tournament with a score of 206 (-10), leading the Sun Devils to the team title.

PAC-10 TRI-MATCH AT TRUMP NATIONAL GC

APRIL 14, PALOS VERDES, CA

UCLA 89, USC 62, ARIZONA STATE 38

In a tri-match against two higher ranked Pac-10 teams, the Bruins earned a measure of confidence and respect that would reward them in the three most important events of the season. The match featured modified Stableford scoring, and the Bruins prevailed with an outstanding score of 89 points. Joh won individual honors with 25 points, holding off sophomore Maiya Tanaka with 23 points. Jun added 16 points, Michaels scored 12, Lalita Boonnoppornkul contributed seven and O'Toole added six. ASU's Anna Nordqvist placed third individually with 21 points.

PAC-10 CHAMPIONSHIP AT THE BROADMOOR

UCLA 2ND, 305-299-311—915

UCLA's bid for a fourth consecutive Pac-10 title fell 18 shots short of Arizona State, which won its seventh league championship. The Bruins and Sun Devils were the only teams to break the 300 barrier over the duration of the 54-hole conference tournament. More importantly, the Bruins finished ahead of USC, securing five points in the Lexus Gauntlet race and increasing their record margin of victory. In the end, UCLA finished six shots in front of a talented USC team that was expected to contend for the title. Individually, Tiffany Joh recorded her first collegiate victory, winning the conference individual title in a playoff with ASU's Anna Nordqvist. Joh sank a birdie putt on the second playoff hole to become just the third UCLA player to win Pac-10 medalist honors. She tied with Nordqvist at 218 (+2), posting a final round 74 (+2) in wet conditions. Michaels tied for 15th, Jun placed 18th and Tanaka finished 20th, her best individual result.

Sydnee Michaels won the NCAA East Regional title and established a school record score for 54 holes.

NCAA EAST REGIONAL AT THE UNIVERSITY CLUB

MAY 10-12, BATON ROUGE, LA

UCLA 2ND, 281-283-282—846 (-18)

A furious final round by Duke propelled the Blue Devils from eight shots back to a two-stroke victory over the Bruins. It was a heartbreaking loss for UCLA, which had improved immensely from its 69-over par 10th place finish in February. Still, the Bruins received one measure of triumph as Michaels captured her first tournament title with a record-breaking performance. Her scores of 66-68-69—203 (-13) established a UCLA 54-hole record. She also managed to hold off Duke's Blumenherst, who fired a final round 63 (-9) to finish in a tie for second with Joh, three strokes back at 206 (-10).

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP AT LPGA INTERNATIONAL

MAY 22-25, DAYTONA BEACH, FL

UCLA 3RD, 303-291-299-293—1,186 (+34)

Hardly anyone expected the Bruins to secure a podium finish, but they overcame a sluggish first round and withstood the pressure of the national championship tournament to record one of the most surprising results in UCLA golf history. In the end, they finished one stroke out of second place behind Purdue and Duke, which won its third straight NCAA title. Individually, Joh led the Bruins with a fifth-place result and Jun completed her career with an eighth-place finish, her best at the NAAs. Both players earned All-America honors for the second time. Michaels, improving with each round, tied for 21st.

Kay Cockerill, shown here with the Robert Cox Trophy, won the U.S. Women's Amateur Championship in 1986 and '87. In 1999, Cockerill was inducted into the UCLA Athletics Hall of Fame and remains the only female golfer ever inducted.

From its inception in the early 1970s, the UCLA women's golf program has enjoyed much success. Beginning in 1971 when the Bruins won the National Intercollegiate Championship to the 1991 national championship that UCLA won under legendary coach Jackie Steinmann, and continuing with the 2004 NCAA title won under the stewardship of Carrie Forsyth, UCLA women's golf has been synonymous with athletic and academic success.

The 1970-71 UCLA women's golf team won UCLA's first national championship in women's athletics by defeating favored Arizona State by 18 shots. The event, hosted by the University of Georgia, featured the two-player Bruin team of Janet Webber and Carol Ginder. Webber finished second individually, losing in a sudden-death playoff, and Ginder captured fifth.

A winning tradition was born.

The following year the Bruins competed in the Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women and participated in six AIAW Golf Championships until the NCAA incorporated women's athletics for the 1981-82 academic year.

Webber and Ginder played another four years for the Bruins with Ginder serving as player-coach during the 1974-75 season after Joann Martin, the Bruins' first coach, retired.

In 1977, UCLA hired an obscure, local club champion, who played golf when she wasn't working as a professional ski instructor. Jackie Steinmann quickly propelled the Bruins into the national spotlight by leading them to a ninth place team finish in the 1979 AIAW Championships. Playoff appearances, All-Americans and national rankings became the norm under Steinmann's leadership.

The transition to NCAA competition proved seamless as the Bruins competed in the inaugural championship at Stanford in Kay Cockerill, who won U.S. Women's Amateur Championships in 1985 and '86, was UCLA's first All-American.

1982 and placed seventh. Mary Enright was UCLA's top finisher, capturing 26th place.

The previous year, Enright had become UCLA's first USGA champion, capturing the U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links Championship at Emerald Valley GC in Creswell, GA.

A few months later, a scrawny freshman enrolled at UCLA as a non-scholarship player and finished her career as one of the finest players in school history. Kay Cockerill became UCLA's first female NCAA golf All-American and won consecutive U.S. Amateur Championships (1986 and '87), while also becoming the program's first golf Academic All-American.

In her final two seasons, Cockerill led the Bruins to a pair of Top 15 finishes at the NCAA Championship and placed fourth and sixth individually.

In 1999, she became the first female golfer to be inducted into UCLA's Athletic Hall of Fame.

The Bruin tradition of success continued after Cockerill's graduation. Kristal Parker, who played nearly 20 years on the LPGA Tour, earned All-America honors in 1987. She tied for 33rd place individually at the NCAAAs and led the Bruins to a 16th place finish that season.

In 1988 Valerie Pamard earned All-America honors after sparking the Bruins to a 13th place finish. Jean Zedlitz was UCLA's highest NCAA finisher that season, tying for 23rd place.

Zedlitz earned All-America honors in Jenny Park earned First-Team All-America honors in 1996 when the Bruins led the nation in putting.

1991 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP SUMMARY

UCLA won its first NCAA title in women's golf in 1991 at the Ohio State University Scarlet Course. The Bruins won five tournaments that season, one shy of the previous school record, and entered the tournament as one of the favorites to capture the team crown.

The Bruins overcame a six-stroke deficit on the final two holes to tie San Jose State after 72 holes.

The teams began the first-ever NCAA Championship sudden death playoff format, and on the first extra hole, UCLA's LaRee Sugg sank a 25-foot birdie putt to win the school's second NCAA golf team championship (the men won in 1988).

Individually, the Bruins' Christy Erb finished second to Arizona's Annika Sorenstam. Erb's 291 total was three-over par. Lisa Kiggins finished in a tie for 13th at 300, and Sugg tied for 16th at 301.

Kiggins, Sugg and Debby Koyama earned All-America honors, while each of those players plus Elizabeth Bowman was awarded All-Pac-10 honors.

1989 and '90. She tied for 24th place nationally, competing as an individual in 1989.

In 1990, the Bruins won their first Pac-10 title and placed second nationally. Current coach Carrie (Leary) Forsyth played in 11 of 12 events for this team as a non-scholarship freshman. Zedlitz and Elizabeth Bowman earned first-team all-conference honors and Christy Erb was a second-team all-conference selection.

In 1990-91, the Bruins won five tournaments, their second straight Pac-10 title and freshman Lisa Kiggins won the conference individual title. The Bruins also won their first NCAA team title and Erb captured second place. (See story, previous page.)

From 1990-97, the Bruins participated in the NCAA Championship eight straight seasons, capturing the title once and finishing in the Top 10 every season.

In 1995-96, Steinmann engineered a defining achievement for UCLA Women's Golf when the Bruins hosted the NCAA Championship at the La Quinta Resort in Palm Springs. That season, the Bruins enjoyed one of their finest campaigns, winning four tournaments and placing among the Top 5 in seven others. They posted 17 sub-300 scores, a school record at the time. The Bruins finished three shots behind Arizona for the NCAA title, but landed four players on the All-America team: Jenny Park, Kathy Choi, Amandine Vincent and Jeong Min Park.

On July 1, 1999, UCLA began a new era by hiring Leary (later Forsyth) as its second full-time head coach.

In eight seasons, she has guided the Bruins to seven straight NCAA Championship berths, culminating with the 2004 team title (see story below). She led the Bruins to victories in the 2002, '04 and '05 NCAA West Regionals, the 2004, '05 and '06 Pac-10 titles, and she has earned Pac-10 Coach of the Year honors three times.

Forsyth has tutored nine All-Americans: Amanda Moltke-Leth in 2000, Laura Moffat in 2001 Charlotte Mayorkas from 2003-05, Susie Mathews, Hannah Jun and Krystal Shearer in 2004, Amie Cochran in 2005 and 2006, Jane Park in 2006 and Tiffany Joh in 2006 and 2007.

Charlotte Mayorkas

In 2002, freshman Yvonne Choe earned Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year honors after finishing in a tie for fourth place at the conference championship tournament. In 2004, Jun was awarded the same honor after placing second in the conference championship. Jun became the first UCLA golfer to win the NCAA West Regional a few weeks later. In 2005, Joh was voted the conference's Newcomer of the Year.

Forsyth was named the 2004 NGCA Coach of the Year after guiding the Bruins to seven tournament victories including the conference, regional and national championships.

In 2005, the Bruins were in contention to win a second national championship, but ultimately finished as the runner-up to Duke. Three players, including Cochran, earned All-America honors and Mayorkas and Mathews earned first and second team laurels, respectively. In addition, the Bruins won the Pac-10 and NCAA West Regional titles for the second straight year and Forsyth was voted conference coach of the year for the third time.

The Bruins in 2006 earned their sixth straight NCAA Championship berth, won their third consecutive Pac-10 title (a first in the program's history) and captured four tournament titles. Four players earned All-America honors, one player earned Scholar All-America honors and two players were named to the Pac-10 All-Academic Team. In addition, senior All-American Susie Mathews graduated with a 3.56 grade point average in communications and became the first collegiate player to earn NGCA Scholar All-America honors four straight years.

The Bruins played the 2006-07 season without Cochran and Park, two All-Americans who were expected to return, and still managed to earn their seventh straight NCAA berth and finish third nationally.

Joh earned All-America honors for the second straight year and freshman Sydnee Michaels won the NCAA East Regional title with a school record score of 13-under par. Sophomore Ryann O'Toole earned a spot on the all-conference team along with Joh and Jun, who were first and second team selections, respectively.

2004 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP SUMMARY

The Bruins won their second NCAA title in women's golf with a lot of heart and hard work. The experts were ready to hand top-ranked Duke the title. The Blue Devils had won 10 of the 11 tournaments in which they had participated, including a 14-shot victory over the Bruins in the Fall at the Stanford tournament. More than a few people said Duke was the greatest team ever assembled.

In the Spring the Bruins got hot. They won the spring season opener, the Regional Challenge, by 32 strokes. After finishing third in their next event, they won every event that followed, including the Pac-10 and NCAA Regional championships. At the NAAs, they took the 36-hole lead and hung on while Duke faded and Oklahoma State ran out of holes.

A 24-hour rain delay on the final day helped. Entering the day with a seven-stroke lead, the Bruins watched their advantage shrink to nothing through the first nine holes.

Rain came and hope followed.

"We were definitely struggling when they halted play (on Friday)," said Coach Carrie Forsyth.

On Saturday, the rainbow appeared, and the Bruins erased the doubters by playing the final nine holes in five-under par. All-American Charlotte Mayorkas drained three birdies on the inward nine, including a 30-footer on the 71st hole, Susie Mathews added two birdies of her own to post an even par 72 and finish third individually at eight-under par. Gina Umeck tied for 16th with a clutch 73 in the final round.

In the end, the Bruins had won by three shots over Oklahoma State and by 11 over Duke.

Four Bruins — Mayorkas, Mathews, Krystal Shearer and Jun — earned All-America honors and Forsyth was voted the National Golf Coaches Assn.'s Coach of the Year. In addition, three players were named Scholar All-Americans: Mathews, Umeck and Bridget Dwyer.

Bel-Air Country Club: The Bel-Air Country Club, site of the 1976 U.S. Amateur Championship and 2004 U.S. Senior Amateur Championship, has served as UCLA's home course for more than 40 years. Located five minutes from campus, Bel-Air's original architecture was done by George C. Thomas, Jack Neville and Billy Bell Sr., with most recent changes by Robert Trent Jones. The Bruins play here frequently and enjoy privileges at the driving range. From the white tees the course measures 6,100 yards, par 74 with a rating of 67.0.

Brentwood Country Club: The Brentwood Country Club is located just 10 minutes from the UCLA campus. The course, which measures 6,120 yards and carries a 75.3 rating from the white tees, puts emphasis on accuracy and is often subject to strong ocean breezes. The course also boasts an excellent short game practice area. Brentwood and UCLA also hosted the 1994 Women's Pacific-10 Conference Championship. The Bruins play here on Tuesdays.

Hillcrest Country Club: Located 10 minutes from campus, Hillcrest is one of the area's oldest layouts. Opened in 1922, it was the site of the 1929 PGA Championship won by Leo Diegel. Hillcrest also hosted the 1932 and '42 Los Angeles Opens. The course features rolling fairways, numerous bunkers and large undulating greens, plus some of the best views of the Los Angeles skyline. Designed by Willie Watson, the course carries a 74.8 rating over 5,833 yards.

Los Angeles Country Club: Considered one of America's finest, the North Course is consistently ranked among the nation's Top 20 private golf courses. Both the North and South courses were designed by George C. Thomas, who also designed Riviera CC and Ojai Valley CC. Site of the 1983 Men's Pac-10 Championships, won by UCLA. The Bruins enjoy regular playing privileges here.

Mountain Gate Country Club: Sporty course that offers great vistas of Los Angeles. Severely contoured greens require a delicate putting touch. The Bruins practice here often. Measures 5,705 yards, is rated 72.9 from the red tees, plays to a par of 72.

Palos Verdes Country Club: Built in 1924 and designed by George C. Thomas, this course is one of the Southland's best kept secrets. Although short in length it tests every facet of a player's game, particularly around the greens. Its rolling terrain produces many uneven lies. Greens are fast and fairways narrow. Home of the annual Northrop-Grumman Regional Challenge. From the yellow tees it measures 6,116 yards with a rating of 70.4 and a slope of 131. Par is 71.

Robinson Ranch: New facility, featuring two championship courses —The Mountain and The Valley. The Mountain Course measures 6,508 yards and offers dramatic views and plenty of water, while demanding strategic course management and accuracy off the tee. The Valley Course meanders through untouched stands of stage and chaparral, California Sycamores and Coastal Live Oaks. This course hosted the 2003 Pioneer Bruin Classic.

TPC at Valencia: Designed by Chris Gray and two-time major winner Mark O'Meara, it is a big golf course requiring both length off the tee, precise iron play and bold putting. Running through oak canyons, river valleys and foothills, the course challenges players of every skill level. From the forward tees, the course measures 5,141 and plays to a par of 72.

Valencia Country Club: A classic Robert Trent Jones Sr. design featuring numerous bunkers, hidden water hazards and large, undulating greens. Prevailing afternoon winds can make this course play long and difficult. Signature hole is the par three third that features a long carry over water to a big, fast green, shaded by tall trees. From the red tees, this par 74 course is rated 74.4 with a slope of 133 over 6,000 yards. Coach Forsyth's home course.

Wilshire Country Club: Medium length course that boasts the city's best greens. A barranca runs through the course and comes into play on almost all the holes. Boasts an excellent chipping and putting area and a well-maintained range. Carries a course rating of 74.7 at 6,008 yards and a slope of 133. The Bruins play here on Wednesdays.

DAN GUERRERO

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR • UCLA '74 • 6TH YEAR

In five years as UCLA's Director of Athletics, Daniel G. Guerrero has presided over 14 NCAA team titles, more than 30 conference championships, and will lead the year-long celebration of UCLA's 100 NCAA team championships.

A former Bruin baseball player, Guerrero exudes the pride of a student-athlete who is now calling the shots at his alma mater. Declaring his current position his dream job, his goal is to help each sport at UCLA maximize its potential and contend for a national championship.

Guerrero is serving his third year as a member of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee and "The College Basketball Partnership," a group that includes many of the most influential people in the sport.

Last year, UCLA won its historic 100th NCAA team title when the women's water polo squad defeated Stanford to capture its third consecutive national championship.

Entering the 2007-08 academic year, 81% of UCLA's teams had qualified for post-season competition over the previous five years. In addition, 268 student-athletes have earned All-America honors in their respective sports.

In 2002-03, Guerrero earned numerous honors, including: 2002 UCLA Latino Alumnus of the Year (October); 2003 Cal State University Dominguez Hills Alumnus of the Year (March); and 2003 "Father of the Year" by the Father's Day Council of the American Diabetes Assn. (June). He also became the first athlete in any sport at Banning High School to have his jersey (No. 8 in baseball) retired, and on Sept. 10, 2002, the Los Angeles City Council honored him with Dan Guerrero Day.

In addition, the May 5, 2003 issue of Sports Illustrated listed him No. 28 among the 101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports. He was one of 28 people whose photo was on that issue's cover. He also served as a member of the NCAA Baseball Committee during the 2002-2003 year.

Guerrero received his Bachelor's degree from UCLA in 1974 and played second base for the Bruins for four years. In 1982, he earned his Master's degree from Cal State Dominguez Hills. He is married to the former Anne Marie Aniello and they have adult two daughters.

GLENN TOTH

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR • UCLA '76 • 31ST YEAR

Glenn Toth, who has served the athletic department as an administrator for more than 30 years, enters his 11th year in charge of the golf and tennis programs. In addition to his role as a sports supervisor, Toth has also seen duty as an assistant coach, and serves as a member of athletic director Dan Guerrero's senior staff.

A senior associate athletic director with a variety of responsibilities, Toth serves as the liaison with shoe and apparel sponsor adidas, having orchestrated both the original 1999 agreement and its renewal in 2005. Adidas supplies all Bruin teams, and represents the department's most lucrative sponsorship. In addition, Toth was the point person on the negotiation with International Sports Properties (ISP) which now handles the department's corporate relations, media rights and other external relationships.

Toth also has administrative responsibility for the athletic equipment room, which features six full-time staff members, and the sports medicine area/athletic training room, which employs 14 full-time staff and a student program. Toth also supervises the speed, strength, and conditioning area and its six coaches.

Toth graduated from UCLA in 1976 with a degree in economics and was hired shortly thereafter to work in the events and travel office. From 1978-84, he supervised the management of home athletic events and team travel. In 1982, Toth handled the logistics of UCLA's move to the Rose Bowl and at the same time became the athletic department's first marketing director. Promoted to Associate Athletic Director in 1984, he was credited with several award-winning football marketing campaigns and the creation of the department's corporate relations program.

A life-long golfer, Toth lettered in golf at Tustin's Foothill High School where he graduated in 1972. He enjoys scuba diving, hiking, and mountaineering, and also serves as a Reserve Captain with the LA County Sheriff's Department, managing the Search and Recovery Dive Team. His golden retrievers are Misty and Dottie.

The UCLA Athletic Department and the women's golf program sincerely thank Carl and Bette McBain for their generous support of UCLA Athletics. The McBains have established five athletic endowments: football, men's track and field, women's gymnastics, women's basketball and women's golf. In addition, the McBains generously gave their financial support for the construction and renovation of the J.D. Morgan Intercollegiate Athletics Center. They are Hoopsters members, and have named the Administrative Suite in the Morgan Center.

Carl was a three-year track and field letterman from 1938-41 as one of the country's best hurdlers. Some of his teammates included the late Tom Bradley, former mayor of Los Angeles, Kenny Washington, the first African-American to play in the NFL, and Baseball Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson, the first African-American to play Major League Baseball.

In 1940, Carl earned All-America honors and won the AAU national championship in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles. His time of 51.6 was the world's fastest that year and stood as the American record for 12 years. Although voted by national sports writers as most likely to win the Olympic gold medal in this event, Carl didn't compete because World War II caused the cancellation of the Games. He graduated from UCLA in 1941 with a degree in Psychology.

Four days after graduation, Carl married Bette. After serving as an officer in the Navy, he returned to campus and served as Administrator of Medical Research for five years on the UCLA Atomic Energy Commission. In 1952, Carl founded McBain Instruments, which manufactures mechanical, optical and automated instruments for industry and medicine. He still works several days a week.

If their financial support hasn't been enough, the McBain's legacy continued in another way: their grandniece, Melissa McBain, was a member of UCLA's women's cross country and track and field teams.

FRIENDS OF GOLF

The Friends of Golf (FOG) organization has been a fixture of financial support for the UCLA golf program and collegiate and youth golf nationwide for the last three decades.

The origins of this group come from former UCLA golf coach and GCAA Hall of Famer, Eddie Merrins. Under his stewardship from 1976-89, the UCLA golf program developed into one of the most successful in the country.

Merrins pioneered the FOG organization to aid in fund-raising activities for youth golf programs around the Southland. FOG was incorporated in 1981 as a non-profit organization and has drawn enthusiasm from many prominent professionals in the business and sports communities.

The annual FOG event is highlighted by an elaborate golf tournament and dinner held at Bel-Air Country Club. Luminaries such as Dinah Shore, Digger Phelps, Rick Pitino, David Wolper and Richard Crenna distinguished the tournament in 1991. Highlighting the 12th annual tournament was the legendary Jack Nicklaus. Each year, FOG honors a member of the PGA Tour which has enabled Friends of Golf to endow the Golf Scholarship Fund at UCLA.

The late, legendary golfer Byron Nelson, a two-time FOG honoree, called the annual event, "The best one-day golf tournament in the country."

Interview Policies

All non-competition interviews must be arranged through Rich Bertolucci (310-206-8141 rbert@athletics.ucla.edu) of the Sports Information Office. Players have been instructed not to grant any interview, in person or by telephone, not arranged by Mr. Bertolucci. Player telephone numbers are private and will not be released. Please do not expect players to be available if you have not made prior arrangements.

Interview Availability

The UCLA team practices at various local courses on specific days. Players and coaches are available when their schedule permits. Please call at least 36 hours in advance. Arrangements for tournament access must be made in advance with the host institution. Generally, access is not allowed at local golf courses where the Bruins practice. The best time to reach Head Coach Carrie Forsyth in her office is in the afternoon.

Travel Information

For security purposes, the UCLA Sports Information Office does not release to the general public any travel information for UCLA athletic teams. If you would like to reach a member of the UCLA women's golf team on the road, please contact the Sports Information Office.

The UCLA Golf Practice Facility

The UCLA golf practice facility is located on campus between Drake Stadium and the John Wooden Center at the north end of the Intramural Field. The Bruins use the facility at scheduled times. Please check with the Sports Information Office for practice times. This is also an excellent place for television interviews and photo opportunities.

Directions to UCLA

Take the San Diego Freeway north or south to Sunset Blvd. Proceed east on Sunset Blvd. and turn right on Westwood Plaza to the parking kiosk. Parking is available in Lot 4, which is just down the hill from Drake Stadium.
